

Rioting And Debauch Follow Revolt Of Juarez Garrison

Remembrance of Order Restored Today With American Troops Guarding International Bridge And Border--Several Americans Killed.

The Mexican City Dazed After A Night of Looting And Drunken Frenzy--Firing in Streets--Disaffected Troops Will Resist Government.

By Associated Press. El Paso, Texas, Feb. 1.—While mutinous soldiers who seized Juarez last night were disarmed into small bands today and the frenzy of rioting had been displaced by a semblance of order, more trouble seems inevitable. The mutineers have split into small bands. Each has a leader. Today they declared themselves adherents of Emiliano Zapata, the rebel operating in south Mexico.

The claim they will fight any attempt made to capture them. In last night's rioting at least 8 persons were killed. Many more were wounded. Rioting parties of the mutineers went south from Juarez today and destroyed railroad bridges on which trains from the south and interior might reach here. It is declared that the Chihuahua and Torreon have declared themselves adherents of Emiliano Zapata, the rebel operating in south Mexico.

Remonstrances were made by the mutineers during last night's rioting. Saloons became special targets of the rioters. Some of the outlawed soldiers were seen with drink today. The mutineers have established a headquarters at the Mexican ends of the international bridges. They are refusing permission to Americans to cross. Members of the fourth United States cavalry are guarding the American approaches to the bridges.

The mutineers are in absolute possession of every public building. They have destroyed many public records. Various reasons are given for the uprisings. Some say they mutinied because some of their fellow soldiers had been ordered discharged; some say they rebelled because Madero has not brought about the reforms he promised; some say Pasqual Gzozco, their former chief and still the idol of the former rebels in northern Mexico is going to join the Zapata cause and that they are with him. None of them know whom they want for president but they all insist that "Madero must resign."

The train due from the south over the Mexican national line this morning did not arrive, presumably being held at Chihuahua, although all wires down between Juarez and Chihuahua, and attempts have been made at Juarez to molest the Mexican Northern railroad which also runs to Chihuahua but its wires are down south of Juarez. The Juarez jail is standing wide open. The mutineers are using the military barracks for headquarters. They are holding.

By noon nearly all of the residents of Juarez had fled to El Paso and many of the poorer families are camping in the open country on the American bank of the Rio Grande. Upon the various leaders met in El Paso to appoint administrative officers. Santiago Mestas was chosen provisional mayor.

A Night of Debauch

Daylight found Juarez, Mexico, dazed from the effects of a night of debauch following the revolt last night of 300 former followers of President Madero of Mexico. Desultory fighting practically had ceased, but intoxicated malcontents continued to stagger about the streets looting saloons, stores and private residences. Unconfirmed reports placed the casualties among Americans at two dead and three wounded.

Gen. Salvador Corranza, who seemed to be in command of a part of the disaffected garrison, asked permission to Emiliao Zapata, said he did not know. He added that he did not believe Gen. Pascual Orozco would attempt to subdue them and declared they would defend the town if attacked.

"We want Orozco for governor of Chihuahua," he said. "We admire Juan Gonzalez, former governor, because he had transferred his cabinet, but we want he will stay in Mexico City and we want Orozco to succeed him."

The revolutionists continued in possession of the custom house but an attempt was made to carry out the threat made last night to dynamite the vault and secure the government funds.

DETECTIVE BURNS IN WORDY TILT WITH COUNSEL

By Associated Press. Washington, Feb. 1.—Wordy hostilities between Detective William Burns and Attorney Haney, Senator Lorimer's counsel, were renewed today when Burns continued under cross-examination before the senate committee investigating Senator Lorimer's election. Burns had attacked the credibility of Charles McGowan, a witness for Lorimer who had testified relative to alleged conversations about the $100,000 jackpot fund to put Lorimer over.

Haney and Burns got into a wrangle as soon as the examination began. "This man has been insulting me," began Burns when Chairman Dillingham requested him not to interfere with discussions between counsel.

"You call him, or I will stop him," retorted Burns. "I'll do just as I please," the chairman answered. "Can't the witness protect himself?" flared Senator Kenyon as he turned toward the chairman.

"This man has been bullying everybody who has been on the witness stand," insisted Burns. "I don't propose to be insulted. If he keeps on I'll tell something about his reputation."

"Oh, I guess my reputation is all right," interpreted Attorney HETAOI. The committee decided the attorneys must cease using language which could be regarded as insulting.

Attorney Haney wanted to know if Burns had given the information on which an Associated Press dispatch of January 21, 1912, announcing his work on the case had been based. Burns said he had not.

Senator Jones took exception to a statement in the dispatch that Burns had reported to the committee and that his services had been dismissed with only to be continued by the Chicago Tribune.

"I never heard about it," declared Senator Jones, "and as I understand it, counsel for the committee were never told by the Burns people that they had evidence against McGowan and then the services were discontinued. Isn't that so?"

"No, we knew about it," replied Attorney Haney. "Then I am sorry to hear it," returned Senator Jones.

Case May Go to Superior Court

Unusual Points of Law Involved in Case of Absconding Member of Greek Firm—Constable Sued For Alleged Neglect.

A case involving several unusual features has grown out of the absconding of Ernest Cappias, who with Pete Pappas, a fellow Greek, who until a few weeks ago, operated a candy and fruit store on East Trade street. Ernest decamped one night in December with about $500 of the funds of the firm of Cappias & Pappas, leaving Pappas to face the creditors.

Zimmerman & Co., Moody & Co., and R. H. Field & Co., represented by Mr. J. A. Bell, secured judgment aggregating about $300 against the defunct firm and Squire S. H. Hilton, who granted the judgment also granted an execution of the judgment, which was put in the hands of Constable Will E. Austin.

Lombay & Co., wholesale banana dealers, through their attorney, Mr. C. W. Tillett, jr., also secured judgment against the firm for about $200. Squire J. Watt Hood, before whom the case of Lombay & Co., was heard, also granted an execution of the judgment which was put into the hands of Sheriff Wallace. Both officers went to perform their duty. When Sheriff Wallace went to the establishment on East Trade street to post the legal notice required in such cases he found Constable Austin driving the first tack in a similar poster.

Then came Mr. D. B. Paul, representing the remaining partner of the firm Peter Pappas, who claimed the personal property exemption. This Constable Austin, who was executing the judgment in favor of Moody & Co., R. H. Field & Co., and Zimmerman & Co., was about to grant the partner of the absconding Cappias, according to the requirement of the law. At this juncture the first creditors, Moody & Co., Field & Co., and Zimmerman & Co., filed a $500 justified bond, according to the advice of their counsel, and objected to exempting the personal property of Peter Pappas, the remaining partner.

The law in cases similar to this one specifies that the personal property exemption shall be made in an insolvent co-partnership unless one partner objects. The statute however does not make provision for the case in question. It is said, because the partner, Ernest Cappias, has not raised objection, but is still in a sense a partner in the business; and the case furnishes some unusual features.

Peter Pappas, the remaining partner, has, through his counsel, Mr. D. B. Paul, brought suit against the constable for refusing to make the personal property exemption. The case will come up at the next term of civil court.

Earth Shock Caused Near Panic

Savannah, Ga., Feb. 1.—The residents of Montgomery, a residential section, fifteen miles from Savannah with a wide water front, were given a bad scare yesterday afternoon shortly after 5 o'clock by an earthquake shock. The quake was not very severe, but it was pronounced enough to make people run from their houses into the open. No damage was done, the shock only making the houses quake perceptibly but not enough to be harmful.

News of the quake reached Savannah last night and created considerable uneasiness for a little while among those who heard of it.

Much Interest in Last Night's Bout

By Associated Press. San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 1.—Great interest attached to last night's 20-round draw battle between "Harlem Tommy" Murphy, of New York, and "One Round" Hogan, of San Francisco. The decision was well received by the crowd. From the start Murphy showed a desire for inflicting and the referee was kept busy forcing the men apart.

Murphy hit well in the clinches but refused to take any chances at distant fighting. Hogan's favorite blow was a stiff left which he landed nearly every time Murphy came into a clinch.

In the eighth round Hogan sent Murphy to the ropes and the New Yorker plainly was in a bad way. In the ninth Murphy was against the ropes when the bell rang. Murphy landed the greater number of blows and did the more telling work in the close fighting but at no time was the local boy in apparent danger.

In the tenth round Hogan caught Murphy a hard right on the eye and a second later was bleeding at the mouth from a hard left. In the 18th Murphy rushed matters and had all the better of the round. His punches carried a sting while those of Hogan had lost their force.

Steel Corporation Files Answers In Government's Suit

By Associated Press. Tipoff, Feb. 1.—While throwing bombs from an aeroplane into an Arab encampment near Tobruk in Crete, Captain Monte, an Italian military aviator, was seriously wounded today.

Outposts of the Italian force at Tobruk which was occupied by the Italian expeditionary army in October, have been subjected recently to a number of harassing attacks by the Arabs, whose position and strength were not known to the Italian commander.

Captain Monte today made a flight with another military man who acted as observer, into the desert and discovered the Arab encampment. He threw several bombs among the enemy who responded with rifle fire. The aeroplane was struck four times by the Arab bullets, one of which hit Captain Monte, wounding him severely. He was, however, able to return to camp with the assistance of his companion and both landed safely, bringing valuable information.

Only Two Mills Fail To Open

By Associated Press. Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 1.—Only two of the textile mills in this city failed to open their gates this morning. The opening of operations returning to work was the largest of any day since the strike began nearly three weeks ago. The streets leading to the mills were guarded by soldiers.

Edwin Hawley, Noted Railroad Magnate, Dead

By Associated Press. New York, Feb. 1.—Edwin Hawley, president of the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad, and one of the leading railroad magnates in this country, died at his home here today after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Hawley had been a sufferer from nervous indigestion for some time. For the last few weeks he had been confined to his house, at 19 East Sixtieth street. Frequent reports of his condition were serious, were denied, and only yesterday Mr. Hawley said that he hoped to be down town within a week or so. His death came at 4 o'clock this morning.

Among the companies of which Mr. Hawley was a director were the Colorado & Southern Railway, Colorado Fuel & Iron company, the Hannville & Terre Haute Railway; the Minneapolis & St. Louis, the Iowa Central and the Hocking Valley railroad.

Early in the winter Mr. Hawley suffered an attack of grip and returned to work before he had sufficiently recovered.

He suffered a relapse and his physician told him that he would have to take a long rest. Since then Mr. Hawley has been confined to his house and recently he began to suffer from indigestion. Early this morning Mr. Hawley was seized with heart failure and death soon followed.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral. Notwithstanding his illness, Mr. Hawley kept in constant touch with his business affairs and occasionally received visitors at his home to discuss matters of sufficient importance.

The constructive work of Mr. Hawley in the railroad field has been compared with that of the late Edward H. Harriman. With his associates Mr. Hawley controlled the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Iowa Central, the Minneapolis & St. Louis, the Missouri, Kansas, & Texas, and Hocking Valley, the Toledo, St. Louis & Western and other lines. Recently he was asked to undertake the readjustment of the affairs of the Wabash railroad.

Next Move is For Government to Fill Replication—Examiner Will then be Appointed to Take Evidence.

By Associated Press. Trenton, N. J., Feb. 1.—With the filing today of answers of the United States Steel Corporation, its subsidiaries and individual defendants named in the government's suit to dissolve the corporation because of alleged violations of the anti-trust laws, all the defendants concerned in the case have been heard from. The next move is for the government to file a replication, after which the United States court will appoint an examiner to take evidence.

Besides the steel corporation, its subsidiaries and some of its directors, the following also filed their answers today: Andrew Carnegie, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Edmund C. Converse and William D. Palmer.

All the answers, with the exception of that of Mr. Palmer, who is president of the American Steel and Wire Company, of New Jersey, were made public last night and are published today. They are a general denial of the government's allegations.

Palmer's Answer. Mr. Palmer in his answer says he was president of the American Steel and Wire Company when he sold all his stock in the company to the United States Steel Corporation in 1901.

He admits that the sales department of the American Steel and Wire Company in July, 1908, entered into agreements with the Wire Rope Association, the Rubber Covered Wire Association, the Horse Shoe Manufacturers Association and four other manufacturers' associations named in the government's suit. He states he was told by the attorneys that the agreements were legal, but that in 1909 when the steel corporation learned of their existence the American Company withdrew from them at the request of the steel corporation.

Mr. Palmer denies that the agreements were in restraint of trade or that they tended to monopolize commerce, but on the other hand were intended to benefit the producers and consumers, in as much as they sought to regulate to a reasonable extent only production and price.

The iron and steel business, Mr. Palmer said in his answer, depends on the law of supply and demand in the United States, and abroad, and is "largely" regulated by this law. He further says that the parties to these agreements acted as regulators, preventing "excessively low, ruinous prices and excessively high prices."
