THE CROSSED FINGERS.

He swore that her kiss was the first he had had; But his fingers were crossed! He'd kissed his mother, when he was a lad! Yes, his fingers were crossed! He vowed that not only he'd never had a taste Of quivering lips, but that no other had ever been clasped by his arm, Then in haste His two fingers he crossed!

She listened to all of the bluff he had said; While his fingers were crossed! She laid on his bosom her wise little head. While his fingers were crossed! She answered so low that the famed "little bird" Who peddles sweet secrets could scarcely have heard As she breathed "Oh, my love, I believe every word!" But her fingers were crossed! —London Tit-Bits.

THINGS TO KNOW.

Five is the great sacred Chinese number. Aquatic birds are more numerous than land birds. A camel, when in want of water, moans continually. Each German regiment has attached to it a chiropodist. A bee, for all its industry, energy and the innumerable journeys it performs, will not collect much more than a teaspoonful of honey in one season. Most costly tomb in existence is that which was erected to the memory of Mohammed. The diamonds and rubies used in the decorations are worth £2,000,000. Shoe pegs were introduced in 1818. Germany's first history was written in Latin in 1595. Improved Order of Red Men was founded in 1772. A good camel is able to cross the desert at the rate of 100 miles a day. In Quito, Ecuador, it is usual to uncover one's head when there is a flash of lightning. Bombay, where the average temperature is 80.3, is the hottest of the world's great cities. Phenician sailors rounded the Cape of Good Hope in 500 B. C.

The game was the best of the season and the pitching of Thompson featured, he striking out 14 Jrs. The same teams will play next Friday morning. In the Jr. League yesterday afternoon the Athletics defeated the Americans in a one sided game by the score of 19 to 7. The Athletics play the Nationals Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock and if they win this game, they win the championship.

HOW AMERICAN WOMEN MAY KEEP FACES YOUNG

"The American smart woman ages early, far earlier than the English women," says Christian Miller, F. C. L., the famous English health expert. She adds that our climate "so exhilarates that you over-exert yourself and grow old before you know it. That same exhilarating air dries the skin. The skin that lacks moisture grows pale and withered looking and soon forms wrinkles." "The American complexion" is best treated by applying pure mercolized wax, which causes the faded, lifeless cuticle to flake off in minute particles, a little each day, until the fresh, young skin beneath is wholly in evidence. Every druggist has this wax; one ounce is sufficient. Spread on at night like cold cream, washing it off next morning. For wrinkles dissolve an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint whiskey; bathe the face in this. Immediately every wrinkle is affected, even the deeper lines. Both treatments are remarkable facial rejuvenators.

100 Women Delegates At Rock Hill

Special to The News. Rock Hill, May 18.—With more than 100 delegates present from every section of the state the twenty-sixth annual session of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church began yesterday morning. Following the administration of the holy communion and an address by Bishop Curry, of Charleston, the business of the meeting was entered into. The annual address of the president, Mrs. A. R. Heyward, of Columbia, was read. The address was a most interesting one, giving as it did a comprehensive review of the work of the organization and also telling of work that should be taken up in the immediate future. There are now 27 senior auxiliaries, 27 junior organizations and 17 baby organizations. The membership is approximately 1,500. After the address the reports of the various officers were read, showing that a great amount of work had been accomplished during the year just closed. The remainder of the morning session and the afternoon session were taken up with the reports and the discussion of a revision of the constitution. Late in the afternoon the visiting delegates were taken for an auto ride over the city. This morning the entire body went over to Yorkville on the morning train and breakfasted with the Thompson orphanage at that place, an invitation to breakfast as guests of the orphanage having been extended yesterday afternoon. The delegates returned to the city at 11 o'clock and the business session was immediately resumed. There will be an afternoon session and a night session. This afternoon a reception is being given at Winthrop college in honor of the visitors. On Sunday there will be three services, all of a devotional nature. The afternoon service will be for children only.

Fined $25 for Contempt Of Court

R. A. Hatley, white, was fined $10 and the costs by Recorder Smith for being drunk. He "talked back" to the court and the recorder placed upon him an additional fine of $25 for contempt of court. Hatley has been up before several times on the charge of drunkenness. Henry Neal, colored, who was arraigned yesterday morning charged with the larceny of several billiard balls from the pool room of Gus Kleto and Will Demos, Greeks, on East Trade street, was sentenced to 90 days on the roads this morning. The case was continued yesterday and when new evidence was presented against the defendant this morning, his attorney entered a plea of forcible trespass in that case and another of the same kind.

Charlotte Dressed A La "Squaw."

—Mr. I. Freed of New York is in Charlotte on business connected with the firm of Freed Co.

The Indian reservations out west receive rations from the government on certain days. These days are called "Rations Days." They are gala days, the squaws arraying themselves in all of their beads and brightest colors for "Rations day." An old Sioux Indian who was in Sioux Falls when Roosevelt spoke there several years ago, seeing the city bedecked as Charlotte now is for the 20th of May, remarked to the writer: "Sioux Fall look like squaw on rations day." If the old chief could see Charlotte at present a vision of "the squaw on rations day" might come before him.
