HITCHCOCK DEFENDS HIS SUBSTITUTE

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 25.—The struggle in the open senate over the administration's second great legislative measure, the currency bill, which was opened yesterday with a short statement by Senator Owen, the administration leader, was continued today when Senator Hitchcock, also a democrat, took up the defense of the substitute bill agreed upon by the opposition faction in the senate banking committee.

Although the bill presented by Chairman Owen had the approval of the administration in most of its particulars, many prominent democratic senators are admittedly open to conviction upon the vital points which split the senate committee.

A democratic caucus will take the subject up later and attempt to reconcile democratic differences and bring the party into accord upon a bill that will be acceptable to the house and to President Wilson.

The forces led by Senator Hitchcock, who spoke today, include all of the republican members of the senate banking committee. Many democrats are favorable to those features of the Hitchcock bill which include public ownership of the stock of the regional banks and a small number of those institutions.

The board of aldermen has granted a rebate of one per cent to all citizens who pay their 1913 taxes by December 15, which will give two weeks or more for the early callers at Mr. Wilson's office in which to secure the benefits of the one per cent discount.

This rebate was offered by order of the aldermanic board for the purpose of getting as much cash as possible into the city treasury in a short time in order that a note for about $15,000 constituting a temporary loan to the city might be taken up and funds also provided for general expenses.

He was recognized as Stover by a friend who verified his signature at the desk, but did not speak to him. Francis and the man believed to be Stover left the hotel before any inquiries could be addressed to them in person.

INDIAN SUMMER USHERED IN WEDDING DAY

At 4:30 This Afternoon Ceremony Was Performed Uniting Miss Jessie Wilson and Francis Sayre—An Impressive Ceremony

A TOUCH OF HOLIDAY ATMOSPHERE Carriages Began Rolling Up To White House Early—Full Description of Gowns Worn By Participants And of The Ceremony.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Indian summer weather ushered in the wedding day of Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, daughter of the president, and Francis Bowes Sayre.

Carriages began early rolling up to the White House portico and there was a distinct touch of holiday atmosphere everywhere. In the interior of the White House—a floral bower in itself—everything was quiet and in readiness for the ceremony at 4:30 o'clock.

Guests Great President. At the executive offices some of the wedding guests came early to pay their respects to President Wilson, Colonel E. M. House, of New York, an intimate friend; Cleveland H. Dodge, a Princeton classmate of the president; and John A. Wilson, a cousin, were among the first to arrive.

Mrs. Wilson visited the executive offices with guests, showed them the president's office and the cabinet room and walked through the south grounds, Charles W. McAlpine, secretary of Princeton University; Andrew S. Imbrie, Edward Powe, Prof. Osgood and Parrott and a score of long time residents of Princeton were early callers.

It became known today that the wedded couple will spend the greater part of their honeymoon abroad. It is thought they will sail within a week, though the time of their departure and destination is being kept secret.

After a long automobile ride members of the bridal party congregated at the White House again shortly after noon. The last floral piece to be placed in the east room was a huge mound of white chrysanthemums sent by the minister from Ecuador. It represented the highest mountain in Ecuador and was encircled by flags and the coat of arms of the South American republic.

The white vicuna rug presented by the minister from Peru was placed on the dais under the satin covered kneeling bench where the ceremony was to take place. That and the floral pieces from several diplomats were the only gifts visible in the east room.

The fact that the word "obey" was to be omitted from the service attracted some attention, but reference to the book of common worship of the Presbyterian church discloses that the word "obey" is not included in the Presbyterian form as it is in the Episcopal service.

NORFOLK-SOUTHERN BEGINS SERVICE ON DECEMBER 1

The Norfolk Southern will begin the operation of a regular passenger service between Charlotte and Raleigh next Monday, the first train leaving Charlotte from the Sixth street station at 7:25 a. m. for Raleigh.

This schedule is tentative. It is understood, the road planning to operate but one train daily in the beginning.

The following is from The Raleigh Times of Saturday: "Effective December 1 the Norfolk Southern Railway will put on two new trains, one leaving Charlotte and the other leaving Raleigh at 7:25 a. m. and arriving at Raleigh and Charlotte respectively at 1:30 p. m., this making a convenient half-day schedule between the two cities and will enable people living along the new railroad to come into the cities for shopping in ample time to get back home on the same day."

"Raleigh merchants may expect to see their customers from the west at 1:30 who can transact business and leave here at 4 in the afternoon."

Passengers from Norfolk when the new arrangement becomes effective, may leave the Virginia port at nine p. m., arriving in Raleigh next morning at 7:15, leaving for Charlotte immediately and arriving there at 1:30.

"Merchants of Raleigh and Charlotte will no doubt be entirely pleased with the new schedule as the line from Charlotte to Raleigh traverses territory rich in natural resources which is now being rapidly developed."

Washington, Nov. 25.—Although no application has been made to the state department for the extradition of former President Zelaya of Nicaragua the department of justice has been requested to cause his provisional detention.

Under what phase of law the detention is sought was not developed early today though it was regarded as possible by the officials of the state department that an application for Zelaya's detention is preliminary to the filing of a formal application for his extradition to Nicaragua and that only the arrival of the necessary papers is necessary to initiate the formal proceedings.

The Nicaraguan legation declined to make any statement or even confirm a report that Zelaya has been formally indicted in Nicaragua, though it is usual to observe such reticence until the arrest of a refugee has been made.

Corry M. Stadden, who was attorney here for the Nicaraguan government during the Zelaya regime, conferred with officials of the department of justice early today but said he was unable to learn much about the status of the case. He intimated that he could get certain information from the department by putting the government to the necessity of serving a warrant.

Say Oil Companies Are Separate. Meridian, Miss., Nov. 25.—The Standard Oil Companies of New Jersey, Kentucky and Louisiana are separate concerns and have no connection in their business relations, according to arguments of attorneys here in chancery today on a demurrer to an anti-trust suit filed recently by the state of Mississippi. It is charged in the suit that ninety per cent of the cotton oil business of the state is controlled by one set of men and these companies are named in the petition.

The companies demurred on the ground that they have been separate and distinct since dissolution of the Standard Oil Company. The state asks that the companies be ousted and demands large penalties for alleged violations of the state's anti-trust laws.

Henry Washington Colored, Shoots His Wife Twice. Henry Washington, colored, shot and perhaps fatally wounded his wife, Mary Washington, last night about 7 o'clock at his home, 301 Hill street, and then walked directly to Independence Square, where he handed over his pistol—an Iver-Johnson—to Sergeant Phifer, the first policeman he saw, and told what he had done. He was taken to the police station and locked up.

He fired twice, one ball taking effect in the woman's arm and the other entering her side and perforating her lung. She was taken to the Good Samaritan hospital as soon as possible after the shooting, but her chances for recovery are said to be slight.

Both Washington and his wife are rather young negroes. Henry admitted readily enough that he shot his wife in their own house, but will say nothing further about the matter than he had plenty of provocation for the shooting. He has borne a good reputation, it is said, up to this time. He will be held pending the outcome of his wife's injuries. He has retained Mr. D. B. Smith as his attorney.
