

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature

of

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Eye will marvel at the accomplishment. It is a triumph of stage craft. Walter Burridge painted the scenery. Audiences are amazed at the fidelity with which Mr. Burridge has transferred to canvas the familiar things of life. Whether the stage at a theater at rehearsal, the apartment of "Everywoman" in Belgravia or Broadway, New York, with its mellow lights, his brush has wrought a wizardry not easily forgotten. Last of the quintette responsible for "Everywoman" is Hy Mayer, the famous cartoonist and magazine illustrator, who designed the striking costumes worn by the thirty-seven speaking or singing characters of the play. His was a difficult task as the period of the action and the whimsicality of the idea required absolute originality.

SPORTS

COOK OF ASHEVILLE IS ON THE GROUND READY FOR FLAG TO FALL

Manager Louis Cook of the Mountaineer team in the North Carolina baseball league has arrived in Asheville and the "fans" in the far western edge of the league circuit gathered for a "powwow" with the new "boss" and to look him over. They are evidently satisfied that Manager Cook is the right sort of a pilot and already Asheville has visions of transferring the pennant from the Twin City to across the Blue Ridge range of mountains. Here is what the Citizen of Asheville, says of Manager Cook and the meeting of the Asheville club members last week:

"Following the arrival of Manager Louis Cook of the local baseball team in Asheville Friday, he and Secretary Thomas M. Duckett got their heads together to compare notes and the stove leaguers didn't have a thing on aggregation of radiator league fans that gathered in the office of the secretary in the afternoon. Baseball talk and the prospects of the Mountaineers during the coming season pervaded the atmosphere and all who entered the office became infected with it.

"Asheville's new mogul is a pleasing fellow and appeared to be very well pleased with things as he has seen them here so far. He had just arrived from his home in Quincy, Ill., and one of the things that impressed him most was the mildness of the climate here. He stated that he had been running through several blizzards since leaving his home and the warmth in the atmosphere is very agreeable in comparison. He will remain in Asheville until about Tuesday or Wednesday when he will go to Mars Hill College to take up his duties as coach of the baseball aspirants of that institution. He states that there will probably be some promising material among the players who will try out for the rah-rah team and that it is possible that he may be able to land one or more good ones from the bunch.

"Upon his arrival Manager Cook announced that he had signed several more promising players for the list, already compiled by Secretary Duckett and at the present time the total number to report here for a try-out the first of April is 23. It is expected that from this bunch the best team that has ever represented Asheville will be picked. Of this number eight are old men who played on the team last year and it is expected that these, while not at all sure of their places, will form a nucleus about which a strong organization can be built. Manager Cook stated that he could not make a statement about what he expected the team to do before he could see the players in action but that according to the reports of the ability of several of the candidates he expects to build up a strong aggregation.

"Among the most promising recruits that have been signed is William Ryan, a left handed finger from Chicago. This man was signed upon the recommendation of Harry Wartsell, who was at his home in Asheville during the holidays and his signature was only obtained after much effort on account of the many flattering offers that have been made for his services. It is stated that the Indianapolis club of the American Association made a bid for his services but his friends prevailed upon him to come south and get a little more experience before trying his hand in the big ring since he has never played professional ball.

"Two other new men who have been signed by Manager Cook are Holland and Breakiron of Pittsburg. The former is an infielder who has been playing the short field position recently and the other is an outfielder who can also catch. Both of these men are expected to be valuable acquisitions to the local aggregation since it is stated that they are both strong bitters and speedy on the paths."

No man ever got a level head from butting in.

AVIATORS ENLISTED IN AERONAUTICAL RESERVE

By Associated Press. New York, March 3.—Forty-two expert aviators and balloon pilots have thus far enlisted in the United States aeronautical reserve, according to information which has reached the Aero Club of America from Albert B. Lambert of St. Louis, a governor of the club.

The organization is forming with the approval of the club and Mr. Lambert says he has also the endorsement of Secretary Daniels and of Major General Leonard Wood for the project.

The aviators who have joined the reserve have obligated themselves as ready to enlist in the United States military service in the event of war. Besides Mr. Lambert, who holds certificates as pilot for both aeroplanes and balloons, the aviators of the reserve include: Lincoln Beachy, Anthony Jannus, Fred C. Hilde, Earl Daugherty, John F. Gray, Glenn L. Martin, Hillary Beachy, Francis Wildman, de Lloyd Thompson, Grocer C. Bergdoll, Paul J. McCullough, William Piceller, Arch Freeman and others.

ELON PUTS IN CLAIM TO STATE BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Elon College, March 3.—All the newspaper talk about the state basketball championship strikes this scribe as a little premature. Wake Forest has defeated Guilford College and put Guilford out of the race, as he has already defeated Carolina two out of three and Carolina took two from Guilford. Carolina is also out of the race, as Wake Forest has taken two from her.

A. & M. College is also out of the race, having lost two games to Wake Forest and been defeated by every other team in the state. Trinity College has broken even with every team in the state, including Wake Forest, and has a perfect right to dispute the championship with the Baptists.

The Elon quit has broken even with every team in the state also and thinks it is entitled to claim both games from A. & M. College. Coach Quak gave notice of his claim when the game was played, the referee having refused to call the game when the time was out and A. & M. team having scored their winning goal when all was confusion over his failure to do so.

But granting that the game should finally be awarded the Aggies, even then Elon will have perfect right to dispute the state championship with both Wake Forest and Trinity. Just as soon as the field is cleared of dust the matter will be taken up with the proper parties for the settlement of this engaging theme. Whichever of these three teams shall gain the final victory and the championship will have nothing to boast of, because the concluding contest will be an interesting one and close also.

NEW YORK ROWING ASSOCIATION FORMED.

By Associated Press. New York, March 3.—Organization of the "New York Rowing Association" was announced here today. Delegates from 16 boating organizations of the greater city signed articles of organization and nine other associations are expected to seek membership, so that practically every rowing organization of importance within a radius of thirty miles will be connected with the movement.

The new organization will take over the management of the annual Memorial Day regatta on the Harlem river.

PLAIN TRUTH THAT'S WORTH MONEY

Using Foley's Honey and Tar for a cough and cold is just practical common sense. It is exactly made to stop a cough and check a cold and it prevents lagrippe, bronchitis or pneumonia. F. F. Mounahan, Monomonic, Wis., says: "I am exposed to all kinds of weather and I find Foley's Honey and Tar Compound always fixes me up in good shape when I catch cold or have a bad cough. I recommend it gladly." Refuse substitutes. Bowen Drug Store.

CASE FROM GEORGIA TO BE HEARD SOON.

Washington, March 3.—The supreme court has set April 6 for hearing the application of the state of Georgia for an immediate injunction to prevent the Decktown Sulphur, Copper and Iron Company from operating its smelter so that sulphur fumes will injure Georgia farmers.

SPRING HATS

Those new shape Soft and Stiff, Black and Colors. "Dilworth" $2.50 and $3.00. Stetson $3.50.

"SOROSIS" PUMPS

Colonial Patent and Dull. Also Flat and Cuban Heels, all Leathers and White Canvas.

H. C. Long Company

33 East Trade Street. - Charlotte, N. C.

PHILLIES' MANAGER THINKS HIS TEAM HAS GOOD CHANCE

(Wilmington Dispatch.) Manager Charles Dooin of the Phillies views the coming season optimistically, notwithstanding the grabbing of three of his best pitchers by the Federal League. With an even break of luck, and at least two of his four promising recruit pitchers delivering first company goods, he hopes to relieve New York Giants of the pleasant little duty of scrapping with Connie Mack for the world's championship next fall.

Here to train are four "rookies," Jacobs, Gaddy, Halsip and Tin-Cup, the Indian. If two of these develop into the pitchers they promise to be, Dooin thinks the Phillies have a good chance to bring home the bacon. "Pat" Moran, who made the Chicago Cubs famous several years ago, training the pitchers who won so many pennants for the Windy City team is now with the Phillies. If the recruits have anything "Pat" can be depended upon to bring it out.

JUST RIGHT FOR BACKACHE AND RHEUMATISM.

Foley Kidney Pills are so thoroughly effective for backache, rheumatism, swollen, aching joints, kidney and bladder ailments that they are recommended everywhere. A. A. Jeffords, McGrew, Nebr., says: "For the last few months I was troubled with pains in my back and the druggist recommended Foley Kidney Pills for my ailment. I have not yet taken all of one bottle and my old trouble has entirely disappeared." Bowen Drug Store.

ACADEMY

Today, Matinee and Night. The Greatest Colored Show On Tour. The Smart Set. With Salem Tutt Whitney and all the Old Favorites. In the New 3-Act Musical Comedy The Wrong Mr. President. Seats Now On Sale. Balcony and Gallery Reserved for Colored People. Prices, Matinee, 25 and 50 Cents. Night, 25c-50c-75c-$1.00.

ACADEMY

Wednesday, March 4th. One Night Only. The Yiddish-German Players. From New York City. With Mr. Jacob Shirkowitz and his Entire Company in the Dramatic Success God's Justice. Seats On Sale at Hawley's. Prices 25c-50c-75c-$1.00.

PLAN FOR INDOOR TRACK GAMES.

By Associated Press. Kansas City, Mo., March 3.—Hannes Kolehmainen and Melvin Sheppard of New York are among the 200 athletes who will compete here next Saturday night in the annual indoor track games of the Kansas City Athletic Club. Four Missouri valley conference schools—the University of Nebraska, the University of Missouri, the University of Kansas and the Kansas State Agricultural College—will send big squads. The University of Oklahoma and the Oklahoma Agricultural College also will be represented. Sheppard will meet Osborne, a Northwestern College half miler in a scratch 800-yard run. Kolehmainen will compete with the best college runners in a three-mile race.

It requires a lot of magnetism to get things coming your way.

It's all right to bank on the future, but you can't check against it.

Mothers Listen!

When the weather is pretty you are anxious to get baby out into the open air, it is good for him. Now you want a real nice looking gocart. Well there is none better than a Junior Tourist—especially if the baby is a year or more old. These Carts fold at one stroke and are easy to carry from place to place. They are very durable; look neat and wear longer. Outside of a Block there is nothing better than a Junior urist.

Lubin Furniture Co.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Smart Set." The Smart Set Company with Salem Tutt Whitney and all the old favorites will be seen here at the Grand Opera House this afternoon and evening. The new two-act musical comedy "The Wrong Mr. President."

"The Yiddish-German Players." "God's Justice" is the title of the play to be given here at the Academy of Music tomorrow night by the "Yiddish-German Players" which are now on their first tour of the South and meeting with great success in every city visited.

"Everywoman." To five men is the amusement world indebted for the production of "Everywoman," the peculiar dramatic spectacle, which Henry W. Savage will disclose at the Academy of Music for two days, Friday and Saturday, March 13-14, though several hundred others labor long and earnestly in its behalf, each one contributing his several portion. First of all, of course, the author, Walter Browne. He was a New York newspaper man, a soldier of fortune who had looked upon the seamy side of life in many lands and under diverse circumstances. "Everywoman" was his life's work. He died on the morning of the day of the first performance. Henry W. Savage is the producer. But for Mr. Savage's keen dramatic instinct it is doubtful whether poor Browne would ever have found a manager brave enough to invest thirty thousand dollars which was required to mount the play. Other managers had read the manuscript and had handed it back, but Mr. Savage scented its value and spared no money to make the production lavish. George Marion was the stage director. Those who witness the fourth act scene with the roistering crowds on Broadway, New York, at midnight on New Year's night will be glad to know that he is the author of "Everywoman," the peculiar dramatic spectacle, which Henry W. Savage will disclose at the Academy of Music for two days, Friday and Saturday, March 13-14, though several hundred others labor long and earnestly in its behalf, each one contributing his several portion. First of all, of course, the author, Walter Browne. He was a New York newspaper man, a soldier of fortune who had looked upon the seamy side of life in many lands and under diverse circumstances. "Everywoman" was his life's work. He died on the morning of the day of the first performance. Henry W. Savage is the producer. But for Mr. Savage's keen dramatic instinct it is doubtful whether poor Browne would ever have found a manager brave enough to invest thirty thousand dollars which was required to mount the play. Other managers had read the manuscript and had handed it back, but Mr. Savage scented its value and spared no money to make the production lavish. George Marion was the stage director. Those who witness the fourth act scene with the roistering crowds on Broadway, New York, at midnight on New Year's night will be glad to know that he is the author of "Everywoman," the peculiar dramatic spectacle, which Henry W. Savage will disclose at the Academy of Music for two days, Friday and Saturday, March 13-14, though several hundred others labor long and earnestly in its behalf, each one contributing his several portion. First of all, of course, the author, Walter Browne. He was a New York newspaper man, a soldier of fortune who had looked upon the seamy side of life in many lands and under diverse circumstances. "Everywoman" was his life's work. He died on the morning of the day of the first performance. Henry W. Savage is the producer. But for Mr. Savage's keen dramatic instinct it is doubtful whether poor Browne would ever have found a manager brave enough to invest thirty thousand dollars which was required to mount the play. Other managers had read the manuscript and had handed it back, but Mr. Savage scented its value and spared no money to make the production lavish. George Marion was the stage director. Those who witness the fourth act scene with the roistering crowds on Broadway, New York, at midnight on New Year's night will be glad to know that he is the author of "Everywoman," the peculiar dramatic spectacle, which Henry W. Savage will disclose at the Academy of Music for two days, Friday and Saturday, March 13-14, though several hundred others labor long and earnestly in its behalf, each one contributing his several portion. First of all, of course, the author, Walter Browne. He was a New York newspaper man, a soldier of fortune who had looked upon the seamy side of life in many lands and under diverse circumstances. "Everywoman" was his life's work. He died on the morning of the day of the first performance. Henry W. Savage is the producer. But for Mr. Savage's keen dramatic instinct it is doubtful whether poor Browne would ever have found a manager brave enough to invest thirty thousand dollars which was required to mount the play. Other managers had read the manuscript and had handed it back, but Mr. Savage scented its value and spared no money to make the production lavish. George Marion was the stage director. Those who witness the fourth act scene with the roistering crowds on Broadway, New York, at midnight on New Year's night will be glad to know that he is the author of "Everywoman," the peculiar dramatic spectacle, which Henry W. Savage will disclose at the Academy of Music for two days, Friday and Saturday, March 13-14, though several hundred others labor long and earnestly in its behalf, each one contributing his several portion. First of all, of course, the author, Walter Browne. He was a New York newspaper man, a soldier of fortune who had looked upon the seamy side of life in many lands and under diverse circumstances. "Everywoman" was his life's work. He died on the morning of the day of the first performance. Henry W. Savage is the producer. But for Mr. Savage's keen dramatic instinct it is doubtful whether poor Browne would ever have found a manager brave enough to invest thirty thousand dollars which was required to mount the play. Other managers had read the manuscript and had handed it back, but Mr. Savage scented its value and spared no money to make the production lavish. George Marion was the stage director. Those who witness the fourth act scene with the roistering crowds on Broadway, New York, at midnight on New Year's night will be glad to know that he is the author of "Everywoman," the peculiar dramatic spectacle, which Henry W. Savage will disclose at the Academy of Music for two days, Friday and Saturday, March 13-14, though several hundred others labor long and earnestly in its behalf, each one contributing his several portion. First of all, of course, the author, Walter Browne. He was a New York newspaper man, a soldier of fortune who had looked upon the seamy side of life in many lands and under diverse circumstances. "Everywoman" was his life's work. He died on the morning of the day of the first performance. Henry W. Savage is the producer. But for Mr. Savage's keen dramatic instinct it is doubtful whether poor Browne would ever have found a manager brave enough to invest thirty thousand dollars which was required to mount the play. Other managers had read the manuscript and had handed it back, but Mr. Savage scented its value and spared no money to make the production lavish. George Marion was the stage director. Those who witness the fourth act scene with the roistering crowds on Broadway, New York, at midnight on New Year's night will be glad to know that he is the author of "Everywoman," the peculiar dramatic spectacle, which Henry W. Savage will disclose at the Academy of Music for two days, Friday and Saturday, March 13-14, though several hundred others labor long and earnestly in its behalf, each one contributing his several portion. First of all, of course, the author, Walter Browne. He was a New York newspaper man, a soldier of fortune who had looked upon the seamy side of life in many lands and under diverse circumstances. "Everywoman" was his life's work. He died on the morning of the day of the first performance. Henry W. Savage is the producer. But for Mr. Savage's keen dramatic instinct it is doubtful whether poor Browne would ever have found a manager brave enough to invest thirty thousand dollars which was required to mount the play. Other managers had read the manuscript and had handed it back, but Mr. Savage scented its value and spared no money to make the production lavish. George Marion was the stage director. Those who witness the fourth act scene with the roistering crowds on Broadway, New York, at midnight on New Year's

DAY BY DAY WITH THE DEYS

BY CLARE VICTOR DWIGGINS

IS YOUR GRANDFATHER IN? MRS. DEY? WE WANT TO BUY HIS FARM. MR. CHUBBLEY, HERE HAS TO LEAVE ON THE NEXT TRAIN.

OH YES, HE IS IN. I'LL CALL HIM.

MAMA, WHAT'D YOU THINK? A BUYER FOR GRAMPA'S OLD FARM!

WHAT! NOT THE SWAMP! WELL I SWAN! THEY AINT ALL DEAD YET!

GRAMPA! HERE'S A GENTLEMAN WHO'S CALLED TO BUY YOUR FARM!

CANT SEE NOBUDDY - I'M SKK A-BED!

BUT HE HAS TO LEAVE ON THE NEXT TRAIN!

WELL, LET HIM LEAVE - LET HIM LEAVE!

GOODLE IKKLE BOO!

Copyright, 1914, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.