MILITIA AND REGULARS TO MANEUVER AT GREENVILLE, S. C.

Members of the National Guard in the city are interested in the information that the biennial maneuvers between the regular troops and militia of several Southern states will take place this year at Greenville, S. C. The information has not been given out officially as yet but it is understood that the order is already made that the event will be staged at Greenville. The last biennial encampment and maneuvers of the kind took place at Anniston, Ala. in 1912, and for several years prior to that, at Chickamauga, Tenn. It is likely that troops will be taken from North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee and maybe from Virginia. One regiment is usually designated from each state, although more than one regiment may go. It is usually the custom not to have the whole force in camp at one time, but to so arrange it that several regiments will be encamped in succession to each other on the field. The object of the encampment and maneuvers is to bring the militia in contact with the regulars and to put them through exercises and maneuvers as near as possible under circumstances that would prevail in case of war. Officers of the regular line are always present to direct the operations of the troops and to instruct the militia in the routine of camp life, the handling of arms, etc. The maneuvers are considered to be of the greatest advantage to the raw troops. While it is not known just what states will be represented at the encampment, it is likely that the states named above will be represented. The encampment will probably last two months and will likely take place in the months of July and August. There will be probably from 7,000 to 10,000 troops in camp at the same time. The regular troops at the encampment will be probably from Fort Oglethorpe, Fort McPherson and other Southern army posts.
