 WHAT THE CHIMNEY SANG.
 Over the chimney the night wind sang
 And chanted a melody no one knew;
 And the woman stopped as her babe
 she tossed
 And thought of the one she had long since lost.
 And said, as her tear drops back she forced,
 "I hate the wind in the chimney."
 Over the chimney the night wind sang
 And chanted a melody no one knew;
 And the children said, as they closer drew,
 "Tis some witch that is cleaving the black night through—
 'Tis a fairy trumpet that just then blew,
 And we fear the wind in the chimney."
 Over the chimney the night wind sang
 And chanted a melody no one knew;
 But the poet listened and smiled, for he
 Was Man, and Woman, and Child, all three,
 And said, "It is God's own harmony.
 This wind we hear in the chimney."
 —Francis Bret Hart.

WORTH KNOWING.
 The gold beaters of Berlin, at the Paris Exposition, showed gold leaves so thin that it would require 282,000 to produce the thickness of a single inch, yet each leaf is so perfect and free from holes as to be impenetrable by the strongest electric light; if these leaves were bound in book form it would take 15,000 to fill the space of ten common book leaves.

TO RETURN FOR SUMMER.
 The fact that Miss Jane Scales and brother, Master Irving Scales, are to return to Charlotte to spend their second summer with their aunt, Mrs. Z. V. Taylor, will be pleasant news indeed to the 12-year-old set. Miss Scales and Master Scales are children of Mrs. Cobb, Mrs. Taylor's sister. Their home is in New Orleans.

CONFERENCES FOR VOLUNTEER WORKERS.
 The Young Women's Christian Association has been holding monthly conferences for volunteer workers. These meetings have been, not only interesting but helpful. Those who have attended them have obtained a good deal of information and a vast amount of inspiration. The March conference will be held tomorrow with Mrs. Hugh A. Murrill. The subject is "The City Problem," and the Extension Chapter will have the program. Everybody invited to attend. Volunteer workers means all women willing to help the association in any way, and all who are not, indeed, a special invitation is extended to the unwilling ones that they may become willing. The hour is three-thirty.

AN ATTRACTIVELY SIMPLE CREATION OF WHITE CREPON

Charming in its simplicity is this afternoon gown from a Parisian house. Built of white crepon, the only bit of color is in the belt of gold embroidery. The skirt is unique in its width around the bottom, just right for the tango.

MISS MILLER CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY.
 In celebration of her 15th birthday Miss Elizabeth Miller, the pretty and lovely young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Miller, was hostess yesterday afternoon to a number of her friends, mostly in the "teen" set. The elegant home of which Miss Miller is the youthful mistress, and only child, was fragrant with spring blossoms, in baskets, vases and mantel banks. The luncheon table was gloriously yellow, a big basket of butter cups filling the center. The charming young hostess received her guests in a pretty, stylish dress of the season-new crepe. In a guessing contest Miss Bess Durham won the prize.

The invited guests were Misses Margaret Bland, Ruth Crowell, Eugenia Hamilton, Katherine Scott, Bessie Durham, Margaret Cowles, Lorna Porter, Arabelle Johnson, Lelia Graham Marsh, Madeline McCann, Alwilda Van Ness, Marjorie Dance, Mary Wiley, Nell Alford, Mildred Patterson, Estelle and Katherine Hargrave, Augusta, Laxton, Helen Parker, Julia Hagood, Nancy Crockett, Donalds Hagen, Cornelia Dowd, Katherine Newson and Miss Alta Shelton and Miss Eva Cuthbert. The latter two are teachers at Queens College.

MISS CANSLER'S HOLIDAY VISITS.
 Miss Sarah Cansler, a student at Sweet Briar College, accompanied two of her classmates, Miss Jane Cruthers and Miss Carolina Obannon home to Louisville, Ky., for the spring holidays which began on the thirteenth and will last for 10 days. Misses Cansler, Cruthers and Obannon will leave within a few days for Danville, Va., to be guests of Miss Mary Rodes, one of their classmates at Sweet Briar.

GLOBIOUS HAIR
 Always Attracts—Use Parisian Sage. Thin Or Faded Hair Becomes Abundant and Radiant With Life.

Girls and women of all ages want to be charming, beautiful and attractive—it's their birthright—but unsightly, thin and lifeless hair destroys half the beauty of a pretty face.

If your hair is not attractive, is falling out, streaky, full of dandruff, too dry, or if the scalp itches and burns, don't delay—use Parisian Sage. Rub it well into the scalp. It will go right to the hair roots, nourish them, and stimulate the hair to grow strong and luxuriant. Parisian Sage removes dandruff with one application and cleanses the hair of dirt, dust and excessive oil.

Parisian Sage gives the hair just what is needed to make it soft, fluffy, thick and gloriously radiant. It is sold in fifty cent bottles only by R. H. Jordan & Co. and at all drug and toilet counters. Look for the trademark—"The Girl with the Auburn Hair." Accept no substitute.

DR. PLATO DURHAM DELIVERS ABLE SERMON AT TRINITY

Presiding Elder Plato Durham preached the evening sermon yesterday at Trinity Methodist church, on account of the physical exhaustion of Bishop John C. Kilgo, who has preached two sermons each day in the church since the beginning of the meeting and besides taken a leading part in the open-air service at Independence Square each evening at 8 o'clock. The fervor and intense zeal with which the bishop has thrown himself into each service have caused many to wonder that he has not had to take a rest before this.

Dr. Durham was at his best last evening and for an hour the congregation sat with riveted attention on the face of the speaker as he eloquently discoursed on Repentance, Faith and Confession, which he described as three necessary things the sinner must experience on his way to God.

Mr. Durham laid emphasis on the fact that, in spite of all the progress and advancement made in the natural sciences, there has been no change in the sciences themselves and no overthrowing the proof that there remains but one way to God, through faith in Jesus Christ, with repentance and confession. The natural laws of the universe have not changed an iota since Adam, he declared. Men have developed new ideas in farming and applied scientific principles in many new ways, with astonishing results, and often with results that incline the mind to wonder and sometimes to doubt, but there is today in operation exactly the processes that were put into operation at creation.

"Just so," said the speaker, "there is no new way to God. He is the same, yesterday and forever and the manner of approach to him will never change. Through the three steps of repentance, faith and confession, the sinner must come to God, or come not at all. He took up each of these phases of the Christian's experience and developed from it an argument in favor of his premise first laid down that struck the listener as unanswerable.

CHILDREN LEARN THROUGH SEEING
 Educators Agree That Sense of Sight is Greatest Possible Help to Learning.

Somebody has said that the eyes of a child are able to give to the young brain all the knowledge that it needs. Pictures are what the child really needs. Where words will mean nothing to them, they will instantly grasp the meaning of a picture and the thought expressed is permanently photographed on their minds.

Children soon learn to love the Bible which is now being distributed by The News, for it is literally filled with pictures from cover to cover. These are not ordinary embellishments such as are usually found in so-called illustrated Bibles, but each picture is specially drawn with a thought behind it—it is the dominant idea being to make plain the particular verse which the picture accompanies. Think what this means to the "grown-ups" as well as the children!

Educators all say that pictures are the best possible help to learning, and none of us are too old to learn. Even though one may not be affiliated with a church society, he will be interested in the educational advantages offered in this Great Book of Books. Look for the educational certificates on another page of this issue and learn how you may have one of these magnificent Bibles for your very own. You will surely never have another opportunity like this. Take advantage of it at once.

WHAT MOTHER SHOULD SAY.
 (New York World.)
 After listening to some advanced opinions on "sex dependence," "old fashioned ideals of marriage," and other related feminist themes at the Church of the Messiah Men's Club, a woman speaker appears to have caused a sensation by saying: "I wonder what the mother of this young woman would say if she could hear her daughter uttering such sentiments?"

The applause which greeted the speaker's anti-feminist remarks indicated a deplorable lack of progressiveness on the part of the audience. But what would mother say, anyway? Mother, indeed, was not "advanced," she knew nothing about eugenics or equal suffrage, and was unconscious that she was a political defective and an economic delinquent. She never clamored for "self-expression" for she had never heard of it.

But must it be assumed that mother would be opposed to feminism now? Would not the scales have dropped from her eyes by this time? The tango and the slit skirt have dispelled certain illusions as to the inherent conservatism of mother's principles. She, too, was a daughter in her day, and it is not hazardous presumptions that she might be one now as to the advocacy of advanced ideas of sex rights and sex responsibilities.

Comb Sage Tea In Lifeless, Gray Hair
 If Mixed with Sulphur it Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant. R. H. Jordan & Co.
