

Geology Class

was a fight between Earl Yandle and a steak down there, but with the help of Elton Hunsucker's pocket knife and one of Dr. Hech's geologists' hammers, he finally got it down.

The next morning at 6:30 (or was it 5:30?) the class ran over to Ducktown to see some copper mines and to hunt for specimens on the ore pile. Returning by Hiawasee, they enjoyed a fine meal and went on to Cherokee. Except for a minor skirmish between Nancy Elliott and a squaw whose papoose she tried to bring home as a souvenir, they crossed the reservation safely. Everybody had a fine time, even those who slept all the way.

Fraternity Activities

The Keymen fraternity members and their dates had a wiener roast May 20 at the recreation area of the Midas Mineral Spring Water Company in Long Creek.

The fraternity has made tentative plans for a formal dance which is to be held at the Carmel Country Club near the end of the quarter.

Letter To Students

We would like to express our appreciation to the students of the College for electing us to the student council. We are resolved to do our best and to work together for the betterment of the school. However we know our jobs are not going to be easy. We need the cooperation of every student in order that our goals may be attained.

Alumni Of The Month

Here's a toast from old C. C. To those of you who used to be Striding through our halls of learning,

Holding high the brightly burning Torch of young ambition.

Time is short since you were here, Though each day has seemed a year Since off you went, in aspiration To a higher education,

Of your own volition. Faces now so seldom seen Often flash upon the screen Of mellow memory, softly glowing With a constant gleam of knowing Now your proud position.

Here's to you, old C. C. grads, All you lassies, all you lads! Though we call your names not loudly,

In our hearts we call them proudly, Without one omission.

Thither, yonder, where you stand As you hold within your hand, Yours at last, that precious sheep-skin,

From us won't you read a line in:— Just "A.M.-accomplished mission."

To Have

To have the personality of Deane
Or a teacher's esteem
Or a cat's cream
Would be a dream
Or a nightmare!

To have the looks of Mr. Turner
Or the voice of a crooner
Or the fun of a spooner
Would be a boomer
Or a rang!

To have a sweetheart's admiration
Or a nice long vacation
Or a bobby socker's infatuation
Would be a sensation
Or a flop!

Graduates To Be Feted

The members of the 1950 graduating class will be the guests of Miss Bonnie E. Cone, Director of the College, at a banquet to be held at Chez Montet at 7:30 P. M., Saturday evening, June 3.

The invocation will be by Dr. Roy E. Hoke. Dr. Herbert Hechenbleikner will toast the graduates, and Paul Putnam will make the response. The toast to the ladies will be made by Mr. Frank Eller; Miss Carole Hinson will make the response.

Ray Kisiah will be the toastmaster for the evening. Special guests will include: Mr. H. P. Harding, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Garinger, and Mrs Roy E. Hoke

Davis Honored

William Brandon Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Davis of 1316 E. 7th Street, was graduated magna cum laude from Catawba College yesterday.

While studying for two years at the Charlotte College Center of the University of North Carolina, Mr. Davis was editor of the College newspaper. He entered Catawba College in 1948 and received the Bachelor of Arts degree, magna cum laude. He has been awarded a scholarship at Emory University and will enter the school next Fall to continue his studies into the field of philosophy and religion, working toward a master's degree.
