

Dr. Colvard Receives the Parker gift. Pictured here (l to r) are Dr. Cone, Mr. S. I. Parker, Mr. Francis Parker, Mrs. Rufus M. Ward, and Dr. Colvard.

Parker Family Gives Film

BY GAYLE WATTS

A documentary film on the Nuremberg trials has been presented to the Atkins library by the family of the late Judge John J. Parker.

His son, Francis I. Parker of Charlotte, and daughter, Mrs. Rufus M. Ward of Spartanburg, together with his brother, S. I. Parker of Concord, presented, in addition to the film, the 42 volume set of the transcription of the trials.

Beginning with the invasion of Czechoslovakia, the four-part film includes scenes of the German concentration camps and the bombing of Pearl Harbor as well as scenes of the trials. Part of the footage of this film is captured Nazi film which was used as evidence against the war criminals on trial at Nuremberg.

The late Judge Parker of Charlotte was a judge at the trials, and these materials were presented to him for his services at the trials.

Dr. Nish Jamgotch of the History-Political Science Department saw the film at the presentation ceremony and feels that each person should familiarize himself with this chapter in man's history.

"Personally, I make it my business to probe the Nuremberg documents at least once a year. It's a sobering experience -- a poignant reminder of the cruel depths to which men have reduced themselves in the name of human good. Any person who exempts himself from this part of the human story is guilty of self - righteous deception," he said.

Mr. Jim Ramer, head librarian, is extremely pleased to receive these gifts for the library. "The late Judge Parker, a most distinguished jurist, was long a friend of this institution.

The film is interesting and valuable in itself, and marks the initiation of a development that we are going to emphasize at this branch of the university -- a concerted effort to extend research facilities to visual and vocal aids," Ramer said. He says the aim now is for one showing of the film open to interested persons. At least one copy of the film is de-back up this original reel before other showings are scheduled, since the film is over twenty years old.

In accepting the gifts, Chancellor Dean W. Colvard said that one of the major roles of a university is to preserve and transmit knowledge and that the gift of these materials would enable UNC-C to perform this function. He said that the memorial is even more dramatic because "one of the homefolks was involved in one of the great international trials of all time."

Mr. Francis Parker said that his father knew Charlotte College, although UNC-C did not exist in his time. "He was dedicated to and interested in higher education, and I know he would be pleased to know that this film was being preserved so close to home."

Election Probe Resolution Passed

BY SANDY CAUDLE

Larry McAfee, Chairman of the University Party, introduced "a resolution leading to a full investigation of the Student Government Elections Committee" at the Student Legislature meeting on October 31.

According to Larry, "Everyone at the Legislature meeting seemed to agree that something had to be done. I think most everyone seems to like the bill."

Now that the resolution has been introduced and passed, it is up to the Student Government Executive Committee to make a full investigation of the Conduct and organization of the Elections Committee and submit a full report to the Student Legislature no later than Monday, November 28, 1966.

SP Organizes, Looks Forward

BY SANDY CAUDLE

The first meeting of the Student Party for the 1966-67 term was held November 2, in room 209 of the University Union.

Since the chairman and vice chairman elected last spring were unable to fill their new offices, the chief item on the agenda was a re-election. Bill Shuford was chosen chairman by acclamation. Carlene Crumpley defeated Kay Troutman in the election of vice chairman. Linda Johnson, elected last year, is the Secretary-Treasurer.

(Continued on Page 4)

Who's Who List Includes 28 Students Here

Twenty-eight students have been selected to represent this school in the 1967 edition of Who's Who Among Students In American Universities and Colleges.

These twenty-eight were selected on the basis of their leadership and scholarship ability as well as degree of personal honor. They join a select group since students picked for Who's Who are generally recognized to be among the best of the college and university students in America.

Students chosen from this campus are:

Susan Goshien Ades, a junior psychology major from Charlotte. Mitchell Petrick Borden, Jr., a junior Business Administration major from Charlotte.

Sandra Jane Brantley, a junior History major from Kannapolis. George Miller Britton, a junior Psychology major from Charlotte. Mary Jean Burns, a junior Spanish major from Charlotte.

Martha Braswell Caton, a senior History major from Concord. Joan Freeman Chesnut, a senior Political Science major from Charlotte.

Ellison Clary, Jr., a junior Political Science major from Charlotte.

Betty Ann Craig, a senior Spanish and political science major from Charlotte.

George Anderson Elam, a senior psychology major from Charlotte. Larry Lewis Garner, a junior psychology major from Robbins. Jacqueline Culp Garrett, a junior history major from Charlotte.

Sally Lavelle Hagood, a senior sociology major from Charlotte. Charles Allen Honeycutt, a senior French major from Charlotte.

Betty Mayo Hudson, a junior English major from Charlotte.

George Franklin Jones, a senior business administration major from Charlotte.

Mary Earleen Matry, a junior English major from Charlotte.

Scott Anderson MacMillan, a senior Spanish major from Charlotte.

Celia Owen Meyer, a senior Spanish major from Gastonia.

Betty Kilpatrick Moore, a senior biology major from Charlotte.

Susan Rone Osborne, a senior English major from Charlotte.

Brenda Dellinger Schaeffer, a senior biology major from Charlotte.

Lutisha Ann Schenck, a senior math major from Rockwell.

Nickolas Mark Stavrakas, a junior math major from Charlotte.

Harry Parsons Stokely, Jr., a junior English major from Charlotte.

Francis Michael Thomas, a senior political science major from Charlotte.

Walter Augustus Yarbrough, a junior chemistry major from Charlotte.

Van Dinh Speaks Today In Ballroom At 11:30

Frosh Fill Posts

Pictured are the officers which the Freshmen elected last week. From left to right they are Carol Haywood, representative; Suzette Phillips, representative; Louise Napolitano, representative; Bucky Weston, class president; Charlie Brown, class vice-president; Diana Clark, representative; and Steve Patterson, representative. Weston and Phillips are independents. All the others belong to the University Party. Robert Pliner took the picture.