

THE CAROLINA JOURNAL

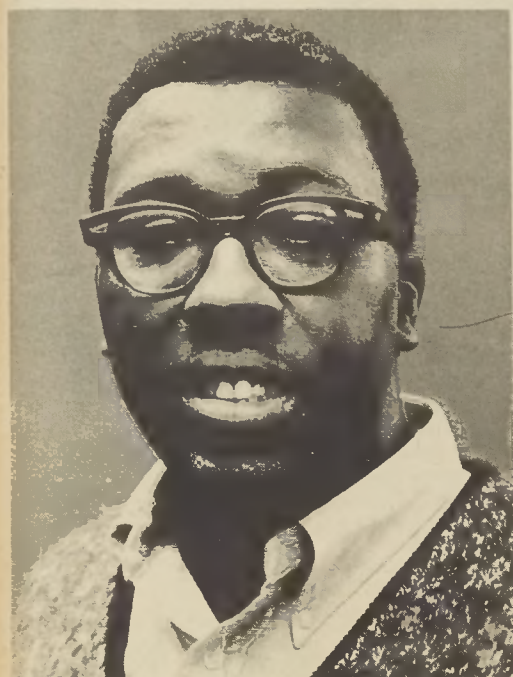

— Student Publication Of The University Of North Carolina At Charlotte —

VOL. IV

Wednesday, April 2

No. 22

Williams, Stewart, and Killian Vie for SGA Presidency for '69- '70

Independent Candidate Arthur Williams

Student Party Candidate F. N. Stewart

Hickok Runs for V.P.

By Gayle Watts

Filing for the offices of president and vice-president of the Student Government Association, which took place last Wednesday, March 26, has resulted in still competition for the presidency. Only one candidate, Alan Hickok, has filed for the office of vice-president and will be unopposed in the election, which began yesterday and will continue through Thursday.

Three men have filed as candidates for the office of president.

Arthur Gary Killian, a junior history major, sees student power as a major concern to students and consequently, an important issue in the campaign.

"By student power, I mean students need to be in the MAJORITY or evenly divided of the dorm life into what has been a commuter school. This will involve several things in itself," Mr. Stewart continues. "Housing regulations, parking regulations, dorm activities and related factors are a few of the problems concerning dorms."

A change he would like to see in the University complex as a whole is the separation and equalization of the University Union, Student Legislature, and Publications Board.

Mr. Stewart, a Student Party candidate, is planning to work for the conversion of the university lot at Lake Norman into a student-faculty recreation area. He also would like to see the student activity fee increased and the money given to the Union Programming so that more and better entertainment can be offered.

Independent Party Candidate Gary Killian

Campus Political Parties Hold Their Conventions

The University Party

By Marlene Whitley

Due to the absence of David Guy, party Chairman, the University Party of UNC-C voted Wednesday, March 26, not to submit a slate of nominees for Student Legislature elections.

With only a few members present, Tiff Shelton, acting chairman, called the caucus to order in the back of the Union for the express purpose of nominating members to run for legislative positions.

Bud Stewart and Gary Killian received recognition as possible *candidates for president. R. T. Smith, who acted in proxy, outlined Mr. Stewart's platform. Afterwards, Mr. Killian stated his viewpoints.

Both platforms centered around dormitories, restructure of the Constitution, and a "new campus life."

After a great deal of lively discussion, members agreed not to present a slate of candidates since the absence of Mr. Guy had left the party rather unorganized.

Because Mr. Guy has the roster of party members and the list of voting members, the party has no way of establishing a proper election. And as R. T. Smith commented, "It is unwise to go into this thing unorganized."

Instead, the University Party plans to meet again Wednesday, April 2 at 12:00 to discuss the possibility of endorsing a candidate.

All party members are strongly urged to attend!

The Student Party

By Sherry Drake

Representatives: Barbara Brenizer
Gordon Kay
Judge: vacant

JUNIOR CLASS

President: Rusty Sitton
Vice President: Sonia Mizell
Representatives: Dee Dee Vaughn
Carole Posten
Judge: Pete Donahue

SOPHOMORE CLASS

President: Gary Williams
Vice President: Gordon Lawrence

Representatives: Ed Wayson
Laura Jacobs
James Cutbertson
Judge: Thurman Willis

One of the three positions for representative for both the Junior and Senior classes and the position of senior judge were not filled. The party voted to leave the selection of qualified people to fill these positions to its Chairman, Phil Wilson since there was no one interested in filling these positions at that time. Anyone interested in running for these officers should contact Mr. Wilson.

Easter Sunrise Service At the Amphitheater

After lying dormant all fall and winter, the UNC-C Amphitheatre will be the scene of the celebration of the Resurrection with its own resurrection on Easter Sunday morning according to Eric Underwood, BSU president.

Underwood and ministers of neighboring churches of the area are serving as a committee to plan the service being billed as "A Unique Experience."

When quizzed about this the Journal discovered they really with faculty on all committees," he explains. He feels his experience at several other universities while in the Air Force offers him a broad basis of knowledge and he promises to "make UNC-C student government WORK."

(Continued on page 4)

Mr. Killian is presently a representative of the junior class and he says he has worked "to keep the administration from extending its bureaucratic nature into student life."

Other concerns of Mr. Killian's include changes in registration, forced regimentation by the administration, and interference of the security police in student affairs.

He feels especially strongly about the lack of parking facilities on campus and about privileges denied in the carpeted area of the Student Union.

F. N. Stewart, a junior philosophy major, sees next year as a time of change and hopefully, of progress. Of major concern to him is the opening of the dormitories in the fall.

"There are several things which must be done next year. One of these is the integration

"I would like to see two retreats each year as I think they can be of great benefit to the University," Mr. Stewart says regarding other goals. "I would also like to see the University come to the forefront in the community as we can be of mutual service to each other." He adds that there are other goals that he has in mind because "I'm a dreamer."

Arthur W. Williams, a junior economics major, is a transfer from Gaston College in Gastonia, N. C. where he was active in student affairs. He served as chairman of the Constitution Revision Committee.

"I have always been interested in campus politics and in law," Mr. Williams explains. "Now I would like to become active in student government here at UNC-C—a participant, not a spectator."

Alan Hickok, running unopposed for the office of vice-president, is a sophomore mathematics major. He has been active in student government as

(Continued on page 3)

On the Inside

Editorials - page 2
Oh yeah - page 3
Entertainment - page 4
"Crawling Arnold" - page 5
W.I.T. - page 4