

A professor dismissed his class

while students listened.

Some spoke.

Some sang,

One from the city came too.

The rain came, and we moved inside.