The UNCC golf team competed in its first and only fall tournament two weeks ago and finished a respectable fourth in a six team event.

Coach Floyd Kerr was a little disappointed that the team didn't finish any higher than fourth, but was pleased with many aspects of the tournament.

"We finished fourth, but we finished behind three real fine golf teams," explained Kerr. (The teams in order of finish were Furman, Appalachian, Wofford, UNCC, Presbyterian UNC-Ash.) "Appalachian was sixth in the nation last year in the NAIA, and they have everybody back this year. I think Furman has won the Southern Conference title for the past two years, so that shows they have a strong team.

"The tournament showed me a lot. I feel like by the time spring rolls around, we can play with any of those teams. We've got a lot of potential and the team picked up a lot of experience in this tournament."

Competing in the tournament for the 49ers, and the score they had for the 36 hole event, were Terry Mauney (73-78-151, good for third place), Danny Randell (80-78), Gary Moore (87-78), Chuck Little (83,85), Pat Whisnant (83-86) and Terry Owen, (81,86).

"The course played extremely hard," said Kerr. "The wind was a factor both days, and both the fairways and the greens were hard. All of the team totals were fairly high.

"I was especially pleased with the play of Randell. He's come a long way since last year. I played five sophomores and one freshman, so we shouldn't be in too bad a shape by the time spring gets here."

The UNCC cross country team held its first meet of the year Friday, under very unusual circumstances; only four guys ran for the 49ers. "We have six guys out for the team, but two of them are injured," explained Coach Harvey Murphy. "You are allowed to have seven runners in the meet and they count the five top finishers from the team. So we are starting with a disadvantage."

The six runners out for the team are Tom Anderson, Ed Frias, Mike Drye, Jim Griffin, Roy Chesson and Ray Moss. Griffin and Drye are the two injured runners.

"We only have two more meets scheduled," continued Murphy. "They are October 17 in Lynchburg and October 23 at St. Andrews. The biggest problem here with cross country is that we have no track program, and this is why most boys run cross country, to keep in shape for trach season. There aren't many boys who will run just cross country."

Claude Savage is a very familiar name to Charlotteans who keep up with high school athletics, but by the end of this winter, he should be a familiar guy to all UNCC students.

Savage, who coached wrestling at Harding High for five years and is currently assistant football coach at Myers Park high, has been selected to replace Coach Flemming as UNCC wrestling coach. Flemming resigned from the post in August.

"I think Coach Savage will do a good job and we were very fortunate to get him," said Murphy.

Savage will remain at Myers Park, but will take this on as a part time job. Instead of getting a full time replacement for Flemming, the Athletic Department decided to break his job down and fill the holes that way. Flemming's other head coaching job, cross country, will be taken over by Murphy.

Yes tennis feins, the tennis courts will soon be ready for use. Murphy informed this reporter that as soon as the courts are completely finished, the nets will go up.

"The workers told me that without rain, they would be ready for use next Wednesday (today). But we are going to make sure the courts are definitely ready for play. We need them very badly for classes and for the tennis team."

Anyone who is interested in coaching a girls football team please contact Coach Kerr in the athletic office. By the way, the girls are fielding five teams this year in the intramural league, two more than last season. The guys have 14 teams in their two leagues, five more than last season.

"The intramural program really looks good right now," said Kerr. "With so many teams, we are having a slight problem with scheduling. If the other intramural field was ready for play, it would be a breeze, but I think everything will work out okay."

Bowlers expect success for '70

by mike holland

Under the guidance of Coach Dean MacKay, this years UNCC Bowling Team appears to be headed for another outstanding season. Returning members of last years DIAC championship team, are standouts Danny Ewing, Jerry Hensley, Ron Gandy, and Steve Dendrick, all of whom finished among the top ten bowlers in the conference.

This year, however, UNCC will participate in the Southern Inter-collegiate League. This league, which is divided into two divisions, North and South, will include some of the largest schools in the Southeast. UNCC, which is in the Northern Division, will compete against Maryland, Virginia, UNC-Chapel Hill, and North Carolina A. & T. for division honors. The Southern Division includes South Carolina, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Appalachian, and Tennessee.

League competition is due to get underway November 1, and continue through March 20. Tournaments will begin on April 3 when the two division winners will square off to battle for the League Championship.

The UNCC Bowling Team presently consists of nine members. Coach MacKay explained, however, that the team could take up to as many as fifteen, with the top six men, along with one substitute seeing most of the competition.

He strongly urges anyone with any bowling desire or experience to try out for the team, as the Forty-Niners bowlers plan to continue their winning ways. Home lanes are located at North 29.

Chi Phi falls to Engineers

by don cousar

Wednesday, Oct. 7 was a cool day to have some fun--on the intramural football field. Chi Phi action and the Engineers proved it so. It was an action game as Mike Bingham ran and tossed to Tommy poteat for the Engineer's first TD. Bingham ran in the extra point. Quickly, Chi Phi quarter back David Nye led his team to score by hitting George Lloyd for a long gain and Pete Donahue for a TD. They missed the extra point here which proved a crucial mistake.

Next, the Engineers again scored on a 50 yd. run by quarterback Bingham. The extra point was missed. Immediately taking the kick-off, Chi Phi's Nye began to show his coordination. He passed to Johnny Johnson who ran broken-fild like O.J. Simpson for 30 yards before firing a touchdown pass to Pete Donahue--all in one 70 yd. play. George Lloyd ran in the extra point.

This tied the score at 13 all. This same combination of Nye to Johnson to Donahue and, in addition, to Lloyd--all in a single ply-scored another touchdown later but was called back on a holding penalty. The Engineers kept the pressure on as Bingham tossed to Don Hatly to score their favor 20-13. Right away Chi Phi roared back with Dave Taylor running a beautiful double reverse for 30 yds. to set Lloyd up for a 40 yard touchdown play; Lloyd ran hard the whole game. Without the extra point to tie the game, Chi Phi found themselves with 19 and were happy to see a long Bingham run called back as the film ran out. Final score: Engineers 20; Chi Phi 19. It was good to see plenty of smiles on these rugged faces--reminded me of the games we played in Vietnam.
