SGA Challenges University Senate

number of Senators appointed by the Chancellor increases, so shall the number of Student Senators and the number of Senators appointed by the President of the SGA increase.

-The students have a minimum of two judges on the University Court.

Hickok then read a statement from the Faculty Executive Committee stating; "It is the sense of the general faculty as interpreted by the Executive Committee that students on this campus be self-governing, and that ratifications on the UNCC Constitution to preserve this self governing feature may well be in order."

The Ways and Means committee, from which nominations of students to run in the University Senate had no report.

Miss Whitley, Ways and Means Committee chairman stated that when the committee it was with the understanding that the committee would screen the candidates and ask questions of them.

She further added that when the committee met, all the candidates were accepted, and no questions were asked.

"As the chairman, I do not have the right not to present the candidates, however, I will not present the candidates," said Miss Whitley.

Stan Patterson, a member of the Ways and Means committee read the list of candidates and moved that they be submitted as nominees. The motion was tabled.

In old business, an amendment to a SGA bill on the number of absences that a SGA member may have from legislature and committee meetings. The bill allows 2 absences from legislature with proxy and two without, and 7 absences with proxy and 3 without from committee meetings.

Ed Wayson introduced a resolution calling for the meetings of the University's Architectural planning committee be announced 1 week prior to the meeting and that future destruction of the natural environment also be announced 1 week prior to the action.

Stan Patterson introduced a petition to the administration that they (the administration) reply to all actions concerning them in student legislature.

Both the resolution and the petition passed the legislature.
