Seven Groups Perform At JAM-UP, April 30-May 1

by charlie peek

The Chambers Brothers, Delaney and Bonnie and Friends, and the Goose Creek Symphony are three groups headlining this year's UNCC Jam-Up weekend on April 30 and May 1.

Other groups appearing will be Chairman of the Board, Ace Trucking Co., Moose, and Dawn of Creation. The Social Committee has tried, in this schedule, to present a program to satisfy a wide range of musical tastes: rhythm and blues, rock and soul, and acid rock.

The two-day concert will be held in the Amphitheater starting at 7:00 p.m. on both nights. Tickets for UNCC students and their dates will be $3 for Friday night alone, $4 for Saturday night alone, or $6 for admission to both nights.

SGA Positions

Sutton, Wayson Run For SGA President

Charlie Sutton and Ed Wayson announced their candidacy for Student Body President on Monday, April 5. Stan Patterson announced he is seeking the Vice-President's position and, thus far, is unopposed in that race.

Election date for the SGA positions is set at April 19 and 20. Alan Hickok also indicated that if the new Student Constitution receives its final amendments in time it may be on the ballot for the student's voice.

Campaign statements were solicited from the candidates and are printed below:

SUTTON

"Perhaps the most important question for any candidate to answer is, 'Why are you running?' and so I wish to answer in part now and in greater detail during the campaign.

Ex-Peru President: Latins Still Need U.S. Aid

by joe h. mccorkle

Exiled Peruvian President Belaunde-Terry spoke here Monday, April 5th, citing the need for harmonious relations between the U.S. and Latin America.

Belaunde was ousted from office by a military coup in 1968. Of the coup, he said, "I didn't follow advice.... When it's quiet in the palace, you should double the guards!"

The ex-president felt that by talking to American college students, he could re-establish contact with the universities, get new ideas, and help show the need for better relations with Latin America.

"Cordial relations are essential. Our future is linked to your way of living." Belaunde believes that foreign investments, particularly from the U.S., are needed to help develop Latin American countries, but he feels the aid should come in the form of equipment and technical know-how.

All Alone With A Song?... not really. Charlie Byrd, folk and classical guitarist, had his quintet and an admiring audience to share his songs in the Parquet Room on April 1, 1971.

Library, Fine Arts: May Openings?

by charlie peek

UNCC's new library complex and Fine Arts building are expected to reach completion by mid-May according to Silas Vaughn, Director of Administration.

Both projects must undergo a rigid week-long inspection near the end of this month. During the inspection, a "punch list" of things yet to be done to the building itself will be made. Vaughn expected that two or three weeks would be used to correct the items on this list.

Furniture for the library is expected to arrive May 20th. Plans after this, particularly concerning the library are quite flexible.

The library authorities have not yet decided exactly how they will move their vast collection of books, collections, and other paraphernalia into the new building.

Moore Has More Space

As of April 5, 1971, the Housing Office reports that 29 spaces remain available in Moore Hall for the next academic year and none available in Sanford Hall. Students desiring a room in Moore Hall can contact the Housing Office immediately for an application form. There are no single room assignments being made this year, except that Resident Assistants (formerly Personnel) will have single rooms.
