GAROLINA Volume VII, No.1 September 2, 1971

$14,000 Asked by charlie peek

journal photo/wilcox Nature's Nightime Beauty ... Silhouetted against the moon's reflection in the campus lake, two unidentified lovers seem to be held in immovable suspension.

Resident Administrators Replace Glover, Jones

by bill holder

itor

5

rjed

rue. e us

His

but ind

ion

ion

nd

vas

in ing

red ult

of

on,

ok.

his

cts

be

us. 2n, ce xt to il,

er

e

A "living-learning" concept has resulted in new residence hall advisors at UNCC. Miss Maran Beam, a native of Iowa, and Dick Day have replaced Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Glover.

Part of the "living-learning" philosophy is to employ fulltime educators with at least a master's degree to administer the dorms.

At Sanford Hall Miss Beam sees herself as "getting the kids involved in activities that they would like to have."

Examples of possible activities sponsored by the dorms would be informal lectures, discussions, or movies dealing with art, poetry, drugs, birth control...." she said.

None of the activities sponsored by either dorm would require mandatory attendance.

style" by the administration. The "six" view the denial of their admittance to the dorm as a result of their suspected drug use and type of friends.

A new feature to dorm life is the Resident Advisors, which replaced the old personel assistants. A Resident Advisor is placed on each floor for conselling purposes and to give aid to new students.

With the removal of the personnel assistant, which was a

(continued on page 7)

ANIMAL FARM

Black Student Union

Expands Budget, Programs

A budget request totaling over accepted as a part of the total $4,000 is being submitted to the Student Legislature by the Black Student Legislature by the Black Student Union. The money, according to Humphrey Cummings, presidentt of the Union, is to be used for several day-long observances and to bring black lecturers to the campus.

According to the Black Student Union, the budget is being submitted in the belief that 1) Black people in America and hence at UNCC are of a special culture that has been relegated inferior status in the total society, 2) This culture is worth preserving, expanding, and enhancing as a part of the total experience of all citizens professing a liberal education and 3) That to the extent the Black "sub" culture is, via education and exposure, adjusted with, and national (American) experience to this extent is friction minimized and cooperation and goodwill maximized.

Over $600 in the proposed budget is slated for a Martin Luther King, Jr. Birthday Observance. This event is to be declared a "WORKING HOLIDAY" where efforts would revolve around working toward solutions to the problems to which Dr. King dedicated his life.

The Union plans to bring Rev. George Leake and Mayor Pro Tem Fred Alexander to speak at UNCC on Afro-American Unity Day.

The organization also plans a Black Liberation Week and a Black Arts Festival featuring speakers and plays, during the fall and spring semesters.

Due Fall '72

New Dorm Underway

Soon – Vaughn

UNCC plans to increase its and features the same concept of residence hall space by fifty small group residential housing percent.

Bids were received July 22 on a new residence hall that would house an additional 500 students. Similar in concept and design to the two existing residence halls, the 12 floor high-rise unit is planned for occupancy by the fall semester of 1972.

The new dormitory will be served by two high speed elevators small group residential housing incorporated into the design of the UNCC residence halls occupied in the fall of 1969. Rooms will house two students, with four rooms grouped into a suite.

Each floor housing approximately 50 students each will be paired with another floor and will be served by a central lounge, study and typing rooms. Individual telephone facilities are planned for each room.

Modifications in the lower two floors will provide for increased student lounge areas, additional laundry and kitchen facilities, and separate rooms for music listening and recreation. The building will be fully air-conditioned. Architect for the new facility is Leslie N. Boney of Wilmington, who was also the architect for the existing residence halls. "I was particularly well pleased with the number of bids that were received and that the project came well within the cost estimates," Boney stated. A total of 43 separate bids on the project were received. Apparent low bidders were: General Contractor, Kirkpatrick and Associates of Greensboro; Elevator Contractor, Otis Elevator Company of Charlotte; Plumbing and Heating Contractor, Dick and Kirkman of Greensboro; and Electrical Contractor, Hensely-Mosley, Inc. of Charlotte. Silas M. Vaughn, UNCC vice chancellor for business affairs, stated that the University has submitted the low bids to the State Property Control and Construction office in Raleigh and to the Office of Housing and Urban Development in Atlanta for their review and approval.

Police Degree Approved

39 Enrolled

Law enforcement officers will now be able to get a degree in their field at UNCC.

A program in law enforcement and police administration has been approved by the North Carolina Board of Education.

The Board allocated $43,980 for the program from funds authorized by the North Carolina

General Assembly. After two years at the University, they can receive the Bachelor of Science degree with a major in law enforcement and police administration.

Dr. Seth H. Ellis reports that 39 law enforcement officers are already enrolled at the University in other curricula, such as psychology, sociology and political science; however, since the program has been approved, they will be able to transfer into the new curriculum.

601 Degrees Granted

UNCC has increased its alumni by about a third due to commencement exercies held May 30 in the Charlotte Coliseum.

601 students received degrees, of which 23 were graduate degrees. A total of 1,106 students have graduated since the institution became a campus of the University of North Carolina in 1965.

Coming Up...

Next week's special issue: a focus on the SGA Presidency -Power debate. Read "The Greening of a Campus."

Also comin' up: results of the UNCC Drug Survey taken last year; a critic's report on Dick Banks; the first report on "The Power and the Glory," a look at a University department's hierarchy and growth.

Read them. Naturally, they're in your JOURNAL.

-- The Editor

ZPG Opens

Abortion, Office

The New York chapter of Zero Population Growth has announced the opening of a free

The housing situation at UNCC this fall is critical. There have been holdups in construction of the new dormitory while enrollment has increased sharply. Over forty-five hundred students are now enrolled at the University while the on-campus housing is still limited to a thousand. The dormitory administration has added new rules and regulations to dorm life. Girls must now sign to go in the boys' dorm and the boys must do the same to visit the girls'.

Lon Weston, director of housing, justified the new policy. "The purpose is to keep strangers out of the dorm. During the summer we had some trouble from a stranger harassing girls and we don't want that sort of thing to happen again," he stated.

Six students are not living in the dorms this year that had previously planned to. They are the now notorious UNCC SIX which were given notification last spring of their "incompatible life

Abortion Referral Service.

Any woman up to 24 weeks pregnant will be given the names of several facilities and/or doctors in the New York City area. ZPG will make a direct appointment if necessary.

The service, open from 10 to 5, Monday through Friday, can be reached through the following telephone number: 212-489-7794.

Since the liberalization of New York's abortion laws numerous profit making referral services have opened. These services charge up to $200 for abortion information. This price does not include the price of abortion.

The ZPG service, staffed by volunteers, is able to give out this information free.

Early abortions can be obtained for no more than $175. Later abortions from $350 to $500.

The mailing address for this Abortion Referral Service is 353 W. 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10019.