STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE OF BLACKS IN SOUTH AND LARGE QUANTITIES OF EASY-OFF FOUND UNDER GOVT REQUEST....

Rumors are flying in Washington this week over President Nixon's new policy on busing. At last week's conference on busing, federal funds were reportedly donated to several southern states to implement the new plan.

Last week a truck jack-knifed on Highway 58 near Selma, Alabama and an entire truckload of Easy-Off-Oven Cleaner was spewn all over the highway.

Also near Selma, the Federal government has reportedly expropriated a large amount of land near that city and has barred access to civilians.

Yesterday, Hotpoint announced the signing of a large government contract for 800 specially equipped range to be earmarked for delivery near Selma.

In addition, Selma residents have noticed that a mysterious stench floats in from the south around eight o'clock in the evenings and have contacted air pollution authorities to investigate its source.

Merchants in Selma have reported that mysterious men in uniforms come into town at night and get drunk, paying for their liquor with oddly shaped gold nuggets.

And furthermore, Chambers of Commerce all through the South report the mysterious disappearance of large numbers of Black youths, mostly of school age.

The President's new plan has received enthusiastic support from a growing majority of Southerners.

McCulley hangs self

Former Journal editor Michael McCulley today hung a full-color portrait of himself, painted by him, and donated by him to the school, in the restroom of the University Center.

Speaking at dedication ceremonies over the third stool, McCulley stated: "I hope this brings an end to dull, drab bathrooms at this school. We need some culture and art in these special places. Nearly one-quarter of our lives is spent in solitary communion with these cold seats, and I hope this small dropping for mankind proves to be the beginning of a trend."

McCulley, a starched, died-in-the-wool, radical, left-winged pervert, hung the portrait and proceeded to gracefully step into stool number three, erroneously left unflushed by the Sanitation Committee of the Chancellor. Further comments are unprintable, even in this rag sheet.

This story, and people like this, are full of pure bullshit, grade A, number one type bullshit...

WHY IS THIS MAN LAUGHING?

THE FALL OF BYZANTIUM

ZIP, North Dakota - (CPS) - Wire correspondents here report the fab four Liverpoolians, The Beatles, will appear here April 8 to open the Zip Spring Concert Season at Abdella's Grill.

Homer Farkle, concert chairman, said, "We signed an agreement with them hippies yesterday in Fargo. We're durn proud of this event, as it'll be the first time we've had long hair music in our concert series."

The SGA announced plans at their weakly meeting that in about two weeks a Sperm Bank will be set up for students and University citizens. The committee working on the project said in a report: "We think this is a service the students have long needed. We plan to open easily-accessible night depositories in Moore and Sanford

Halls soon."

The Sperm Bank, initially called First Sperm National, will operate around-the-clock, "just like sperm do," said one committee member. Easy withdrawals are planned, and a special feature of the Bank will be its Long-Term Lay-a-Lay Away Plan. SGA President Patterson said he would be the bank's first depositor, but plans to wait for the next full moon when he normally changes his training pants. "I plan to give the best of myself to UNCC and its future," Patterson noted, quickly leaving the meeting to check on his other pet project, a girl by the name of Loosey Laydown, a freshman student from somewhere near the Outer Banks.

THE POTTED PSALM

WASHINGTON - (CPS) - A research team from the American Medical Association (AMA) has released startling new findings which are expected to reverse the association's anti-marijuana stand.

After a year of research, the AMA has announced that "only seven per cent of the brains of Amerikan pot smokers have turned to cream cheese."

Earlier, the AMA had maintained the cream cheese rate was significantly higher, according to research commission chairman Dr. Pink E. Lee. "We're ready to admit we over-reacted in our original statement, and grass research will be higher on my priority list henceforth," Dr. Lee said. The AMA has estimated at least 173 million Amerikans smoke cannabis regularly.

In a related development, the Kraft Dairy Co. has offered to purchase the brains of deceased pot smokers for use in their production.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON - (CPS) - A thorough investigation has proved beyond a reasonable doubt that the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) are in fact responsible for causing the nation's problems.

SDS planted 170,000 of its top revolutionaries in offices from Bangor, Maine to Elko, Nevada to create the appearance of nationwide trouble. Government and union officials alike have been crediting SDS with the problems all along, providing they're not so dumb after all.

"We're not so dumb after all," said Vice President Agnew. "We knew good Americans wouldn't cop out on us like that. It's just those effete assinine pseudo-Panther SDSers stirring up trouble."

A CPS investigation into the circular files of SDS Comrade Mark Rudd has shown that there would have been no problems were it not for a substantial effort by SDS which discovered and taught the SDS members how severely oppressed they were.
