

Currie "rah rahs" UNCC cheerleaders

(continued from page 4) we could do toward this in student government. Sure it may be a small thing but it has to be worth something. Better communication would not only make you more aware as a student but it would make student government a better organization as a whole and a stronger organization.

I would like to inject some personal thoughts at this point. Not only do I want to see a better relationship like that above but I would like to see us in student government in the future create a better working relationship with branches of the commuter life.

When I say this, I refer to Residence Life, clubs and organizations, etc. It has been my experience that many times in student government we need one of these branch's help and in turn they may need our help.

I feel it is beneficial to all if we as separate branches of campus life can work together instead of against each other which sometimes is the case. The important thing in the end is the student derives the benefits.

One other thing my committee is working on is the problem of dorm elevators. This ought to bring out much interest from the dorm students. I urge once again make your views concerning this problem to your floor leaders or resident advisors and those in Residence Life.

Meanwhile, my committee will do all it can. I feel eventually we will see some type of results concerning the investigation.

I would like to say something about a problem concerning other committees on campus. These committees have a problem of getting student representatives. It is imperative students take an interest in these committees because they do deal with functions that are vital to the University.

I urge all students to take an interest in these committees and if there are openings to get involved. It will be a great experience for those students who choose to do so. I would also like to praise the Evening Program Information Center that is open to students at night. This is of a great benefit to students at night and I'm sure is of a positive benefit to the rest of the University as well. All students should try and utilize the service and not let it go disbanded.

Another problem which has arisen lately is the lack of support for cheerleaders. We, as students of the University, have a responsibility to support the athletic program because it is a vital part. When I say athletic program, this includes cheerleaders. Let's get behind our cheerleaders this upcoming season. It will make it a much more exciting and enjoyable season. You will be surprised at the difference it can make.

Another thing that speaks good of the University is the new

William A. Davis Park that is dedicated in Dr. Park's memory. It especially says something for the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity which helped in plans for construction of the park. This is something we as students should be proud of. Until next time, I'll continue doing my best for you.
