The UNCC Safety Department has announced its training programs for March and April. They are "Cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR)," "Multi-Media First Aid," "Defensive Driving" and "A New Way to Lift."

The CPR class is offered twice, March 12-14, 1:30-4:30 p.m. in Cone 7, and March 19-21, 9 a.m.-noon in Cone 7-9. The American Red Cross certifies the program which includes basic life support measures of artificial respiration and artificial circulation which can be used in cases where breathing and pulse have stopped. Rescue techniques for choking will also be offered.

The American Red Cross also certifies the "Multi-Media First Aid" course offered March 28 in Cone 7, 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. The class will instruct the student in the basic first aid principles of controlling bleeding, artificial respiration, poisoning, shock, etc.

The "Defensive Driving" course offered April 23-26, 9:30-11:30 a.m. in Cone 5-6 teaches the principles of accident avoidance driving. This class is certified by the National Safety Council.

On April 18, 10-11 a.m. in Cone 5-6, the North Carolina Industrial Commission sponsors the "New Way to Lift" seminar. This course teaches the basics of lifting and handling of objects for the prevention of back and muscular injuries. Films and demonstrations will be included in the program.

To register for any of the above courses, call 597-2449.

For eight weeks during the summer, your goal will be to see, touch and become intimately acquainted with traditional and modern Africa in a way seldom possible for a westerner. During a period of time that may prove to be the most profoundly enriching of your life, your challenge will be to take the first step toward becoming an insider in another culture.

Your entry point will be on a grassroots level: living with and sharing in the daily lives of people in an African village community. You will be asked to lend not only your heart, but also your hands, your arms, and your determination. You may be building a school or clinic, promoting health education, working on an agricultural project, or helping a community preserve its cultural, musical or artistic traditions. This will not be an easy experience, but an intensely meaningful one.

Did you know that as a student you can "work in Britain" for any six month period of the year? Why work in Britain, you may well ask? Firstly, you will be working with foreign people in their own environment but without too many language problems. Secondly, Britain has a rich cultural and historical heritage—a good setting in which to work and travel. It also has the added advantage of being within easy reach of Europe.

Through the Student Exchange Employment Program (SEEP), run by the Council on International Educational Exchange (CIEE) in New York and sponsored in the UK by the British Universities North America Club (BUNAC) it is surprisingly easy for American students to obtain permission to seek employment in Britain for any period of up to six months, at any time of the year. The cost of the program is $35, and this is your only outlay apart from the air fare and funds to support yourself until you find employment. Almost 700 American students participated in this reciprocal program last year.

If you wish to find out more about the program, further details are available from the Center for International Studies, Denny 116, 597-2407.
