Search On For Administrators

By Frank Cox
Carolina Journal Staff Writer

A search is being conducted to find applicants to fill two vacant positions of Vice Chancellor of Student Affairs and Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs.

The positions were vacated when Dr. Douglas M. Orr, formerly Vice-Chancellor for Student Affairs was named Vice Chancellor of the new division of Research and Public Service, and Dr. Phillip E. Hildreth, former Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs was returned to a teaching position as Professor of Biology.

The search to fill these positions is being conducted by committees made up of faculty, staff and students appointed by the Chancellor.

The search committee for the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs position is headed by Dr. Harvey Murphy, Chairman of Health and P.E. Dr. Murphy says that the committee is just now getting started on its search for applicants. At the present they are awaiting applications responding to ads place in the Chronicle of Higher Education.

The applications will be reviewed and the committee will make their recommendations to the Chancellors Office. The Chancellor will then make his recommendations to the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina, who have the final word in the hiring process.

Dr. Murphy said it will probably be July 1 before a replacement would be able to take office after one has been selected. This is due to both the long application and hiring process and the fact that most professional people will be under contract to their present employers until the end of the fiscal year.

Until the replacement is found and able to take office, Chuck Lynch, dean of students, will be serving as acting vice chancellor for student affairs.

The search for a new Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs is being carried out in the same way as the one for student affairs. Dr. Joseph Spence, chairman of the creative arts is chairperson of the committee.

UNCC CPA's Best In UNC System

By Teresa Skipper
Carolina Journal News Editor

The College of Business Administration received news this month that UNCC students scored higher on last May's Certified Public Accounting (CPA) exam than any of the other schools in the UNC system.

"It's a very fine record for the students. The students have done well before but this is the best yet," said Accounting Department Chair Thomas Turner.

The students passed 52% of the parts attempted on the exam, the national average is reported to be 15%.

Besides scoring high as a group on the examination, UNCC students David Scott Wilkerson and Michael H. Lippman scored one and two respectively in individual scoring.

Although UNCC scored higher than any other school in the UNC system, Wake Forest scored the highest of all of the schools in the state with 65.3%.

Business Offers Uptown Courses

UNCC is expanding its educational opportunities in the uptown Charlotte area by offering 12 short courses and seminars during the fall semester.

Taught by faculty from the College of Business Administration, the courses offered this fall are scheduled during the noon hour or just after work for the convenience of employees in the uptown area.

Courses are scheduled at three different locations, the Mutual Savings and Loan Building, the Southern National Bank Building and the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Staff Development Center.

Heading the course offerings is a series on organizational behavior from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. in Room 514 of the Mutual Savings and Loan Building at 300 S. Tryon St. The courses are $75 each or $250 for all four. Course titles and dates are: Leadership Style and Decision-Making (Mondays, Sept. 8-22), Developing Your Management Career (Mondays, Sept. 29 to Oct. 13), Conflict Management in Organizations (Tuesdays, Oct. 21 to Nov. 4) and Effective Management of Group and Intergroup Relations (Tuesdays, Nov. 11-25).

Other courses offered at the Mutual Building are: Use of Marketing Research in the Small Business (Tuesdays, Sept. 9 to Oct. 14), Market Strategy for the Small Business Manager (Mondays, Oct. 20 to Nov. 24), Financial Management for the Non-Financial Manager (Wednesdays, Sept. 10 to Dec. 3), and Strategic Planning (Thursdays, Sept. 11 to Dec. 3).
