Walder Wins Class Election

By Chip Wilson
Carolina Journal Staff Writer

John Walder defeated Danny Klocke in the race for Freshman class president in elections held Tuesday and Wednesday.

Students also voted for legislators from the four residence halls, two apartment areas and undeclared majors, in a light turnout.

Walder, a Greensboro native who currently serves on the Scott dorm council, said his victory came about by 'running the best campaign I could.'

One of the activities of his campaign included an address to the 4th house of Sanford dorm, made up of freshmen women. That visit helped achieve his margin of victory over Klocke, according to one supporter of Walder who lived there.

'We encouraged those girls up there to vote—big time. There are 80 girls up there who said they would vote for any guy who is good looking.'

In the race for Holshouser representative, Mike Harris edged Lee Floyd 37 to 32. Scott representative Rick Barger won by 20 votes over Reggie Nelson—57 to 37.

Two dorm representatives slid to their wins without competition. John Gordan II of Moore Hall and Sharon Chisholm from Sanford Hall had few voting against them with margins of 89 to 11 and 34 to 8, respectively.

In an election with few votes cast, an even lighter turnout in the Phase II and III balloting reflects in the victory of Jan Hobbs over Terry Brown. The count there was 10 to 7.

'The turnout is disappointing,' said Hobbs, who estimated that 470 students in the amphitheater area could have voted. 'I hope to get students more involved in campus activities, as thier representative.'

Few commuters appeared at the polls to elect thier legislators. Out of a field of 11 candidates, Barry Brown lead four other victors including Mike Derby, Holly Dixon, Phil Fleming and Jim Johnston.

Undeclared majors affirmed their support of Baker Smith III as their legislator, by a margin of 5 votes to 2.

Purgason Takes Court Balloting In Landslide

The top vote getter of the 1979 student court election surpassed eight contenders earning the top position again, while voters ousted the acting chief justice in elections held Tuesday and Wednesday.

Polly Purgason, who was first elected to the court last year, led five winners with 68.3 per cent of the vote. Out of 480 ballots cast she received 328 votes.

Other winners following Purgason were Denise Davis with 53.7 per cent or 258 votes, Bo Matthews with 51.4

per cent, Stephanie Cato with 51.2 per cent, and David Clark with 47.7 per cent.

Shock appeared on the faces of observers when ballot counters announced that Judy Marothy, acting chief justice, fell behind Clark's 229 votes with 211 votes, putting her in sixth place and off the court.

Marothy, who was first elected in the fall of 1979, was elected Lt. Justice in the spring of 1980 and took over the chief justice's seat in the beginning of this semester when then-Chief Justice Mike Dunn stepped down from the post.
