Commencement Marshals Named

Names of the marshals for the commencement exercises for the 1951 graduating class to be held on June 3 and 4 were recently released by the school office. Bennett Jackson Proctor was named Chief Marshal, and George M. Carter, Stephen E. Godfrey, Fred L. Prince, and Arial A. Stephens were selected as Marshals.

Marshals are selected on the basis of scholastic achievement. The names of the marshals chosen for this year's commencement have appeared on the Dean's List for three quarters this school year.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

In going back over the closing school year at Charlotte College, many events come to mind which mark it as an eventful year. The first and one of the most important of these events came about before the beginning of the fall quarter—the acceptance of Charlotte College by the American Association of Junior Colleges for membership in that organization. Early in the school year the students voted to accept the constitution worked out by the student council. The student government has operated under that constitution throughout the year. The assembly programs presented by the Assembly Committee under Charles Gamble and later George Lefler with Dr. Macy as faculty advisor have been outstanding. Several new twists have been given to the social events by Carole Hinson and her committee. The most successful of these were the skating party, the wiener roast, and the Christmas Dance. The masquerade ball was a novelty and calls to mind

WHERE ARE LAST YEARS GRADS?

In collecting the material for this graduation issue of the Collegian we had occasion to refer to the graduation issue of last year. It occurred to us that it might be interesting to find out where each of these former students is a year after his graduation from Charlotte College. With the aid of the office we were able to assemble this information.

The first three students on the list of last year's grads, Donald Caldwell, Lewis Camp, and Mary Camp are all at the University of N. C.

George Douglas is in the Army and is stationed at Camp Pickett, Virginia.

James Harbison, Jr. is connected with the local Federal Bureau of Investigation office.

Eugene Henderson is an aviation cadet in the Air Corps and is stationed in Texas.

Wayne Hooks is a student at Davidson College.

James Kilgo is at the University of N. C., where he is majoring in radio. He was recently elected president of the Carolina Communications Club, a student organization at the University. Those who were at CC last year will remember Kilgo was the president of the CC student body.

Ray Kisiah is also at the University of N. C.

Graydon Miller was a student at Catawba College until April 30 of this year when he was called to active duty by the Navy. Miller holds a commission as Lieutenant, J. G. At present he is stationed at Memphis, Tenn.

Barbara Murphy is continuing her studies at the University of N. C.

Ike McLaughlin is in the Army, stationed at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin.

James Phillips was at the University of N. C. until he was forced to leave school because of an eye injury. At present he is with the Beau-Nit Mills in Lowell, N. C.

Hugh Parker is a student at North Carolina State.

Robert Propst, Jr. is with the Home Security Life Insurance Co. in Gastonia, N. C.

Bill Proctor is at Davidson College where he was a member of the first string basketball team last season.

Paul Putnam is with the Engineering Department of the City of Charlotte.

Deane Richardson and Everette Weaver are both students at the University of North Carolina.

Newspaper Contest Winner To Be Announced

The award to the winning class in the school newspaper contest will be made at the commencement program on June 4. In the contest the freshman and sophomore classes each published an edition of the Charlotte Collegian. The two papers are being judged by local newspapermen and the results will be made known at the time of the awarding of the prize.

In last year's contest the freshman paper, of which Carole Hinson was editor, was judged as winner. A silver cup was awarded to the freshman class and was presented at last year's graduation exercises. Richard Meek was the editor of this year's Sophomore edition. Should this edition be judged the winner the cup will remain in the possession of that class as a two-time winner. The freshman paper this year was edited by Jo Ann Conrad. Should this paper be awarded the prize, the contest will continue next year.

Stephens to Head Sophs

In elections held on May 16 and 17 to select the Sophomore Class officers for 1951-52, Arial Stephens was chosen as President. Arial has been very active in student affairs during the year and was a candidate for president of the student body in the April elections.

Other Sophomore Class officers elected are Warren Blair, Vice-President; and Bill Huss, Secretary-Treasurer.
