Magazine For Students

Writer's Club Magazine

On May 24, 1957 the Writer's Club of Charlotte College released its first publication of Owl Tracts. This first edition initiates a long line of literary work designed to: "uphold the highest ideals of a liberal education." The magazine's material ranges from poetry to short stories. All subject matter was compiled and edited by members of the club.

Owl Tracts has now become an established campus publication which is to be released every quarter. Building on its foundation of this year, Owl Tracts is a literary magazine which will give the best to the friends and student body of Charlotte College. This is the closing of a year but it is the beginning of an avenue for the college to broaden its scope and influence. The entire Writer's Club hopes that the student body favors their work and welcomes all enthusiasm and interest.

At the final meeting of the club, officers for the coming year were elected. Those who will lead for '57-'58 are: pres.—Ronnie Shumate, vice-pres.—Hal Kellams, sec-treas.—Mrs. Dorothy Macallister, and historian—George Killough.

The Honorable Luther H. Hodges

News For Next Year

The 1957-58 editions of the Charlotte Collegian will be offered to members of this year's graduating class at a reduced rate, Mr. Fred Collins, incoming business manager of the Collegian, announced last week. Mr. Collins stated that the increase in the list of advertisers this year enabled him to make the offer.

This special rate is good to any member of the present graduating class, providing he subscribes before the beginning of the new school year. Mr. Collins said that he was not prepared to quote the exact figure of the rate at the (See NEWS, p. 2, col. 4)

The Honorable Luther H. Hodges, Governor of North Carolina, will deliver the main address at the Charlotte College commencement exercises. The chairman of the Board of Trustees of Charlotte College, Mr. J. Murrey Atkins, will preside. The exercises will be held in the Central High School Auditorium.

Miss Bonnie E. Cone, director of Charlotte College, will award diplomas to the largest graduating class in the history of the school. The forty seniors will hear the invitational given by Dr. W. B. H. Corky, a member of the faculty.

Governor Hodges' address will be followed by the giving of awards by Dr. Elmer H. Garinger, superintendent of Charlotte City Schools. The governor will be introduced by Mr. Robert Lassiter, a member of the State Board of Higher Education.
