Bryant Park Picnic Attracts Large Crowd

Approximately 250 persons attended the first Charlotte College picnic of the present school year. Miss Raney, faculty advisor of the Social Committee; Johnny Craig, chairman; and Kanela Maydanis, assistant chairman, were in charge of the festivities, which were held at Bryant Park from 6 to 8:30 P. M., on October 19.

Hot dogs, beans, slaw, potato salad, and chili were consumed by the ton, and gallons of Coca-Cola washed them down.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle and Dr. and Mrs. Wheelock watched over the proceedings to hold everything down to a dull roar.

The only tragedy to the outing was the fact that someone forgot to bring any mustard. This was, of course, a calamity, but the unforeseen occurrence didn't seem to harm the appetites of the ravenously hungry crowd.

Johnny Craig said that plans were underway to hold a similar outing next spring.

Many of the students brought dates. The married men brought their wives. And children!

It was very cold and very dark when the last of the picnickers stumbled their way to their cars.

Everyone ate and ate and seemed to enjoy the calorie-free holiday. Except somebody forgot to bring any mustard!

More mass hysteria: Fred Collins, Leigh Winslow (next spring), and Judith Mauldwin (Dec. 21). Must be fear of Sputnik.

And speaking of the satellite, I have heard from reliable sources that the message was decoded. Seems it was saying, "Winston tastes good, like a cigarette should." And the Russians are planning to send some horses up on the next one. It will be the first herd shot round the world.

Add to the "likes" department: Reid Leath, Johnathon Winters, and Bob Cummings. Also Jack Lemon, undoubtedly the best actor in Hollywood.

Ann McRorie doesn't have a car, but she never needs a ride home.

The "Strange One" sure was, but it was a good picture.

Charlie Gallant is a Captain in the Air National Guard. Says when he is flying a jet over a new airfield and identifies himself the control tower people always think he is kidding. Don't blame them... "This is Captain Gallant..."

Another day, another dollar, and the 1958 Detroit models are more luxurious than ever. There isn't much driving involved—just push a button. This, of course, suits Robert McKathern just fine, because now he can play bridge while on his way from one card party to another.

Don't forget to support the Owls in basketball this year. They play on Saturday nights, so bring a date.

Faculty Dinner Plans Underway

Plans for the annual faculty Christmas dinner are underway, Miss Raney told the Collegian Monday. The dinner is to be held at the home of one of the professors and is for all members of the teaching staff, their families and their friends. Further plans will be announced at a later date, Miss Raney said.

French Club Meets—Elects New Officers

Le Cercle Francais, the French Club, held its first meeting of the year on October 9th. Officers were elected, and plans for a later meeting this month were discussed.

The club were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Pierre Macy for the next meeting. A program of informal group study of the history, customs, and culture of the French people was given for this meeting.

Officers for this year are John Ballard, president; Frank Griffin, vice president; Ann Hunter, secretary; Jack Lannin, financial and program chairman. Dr. Macy is the advisor.

vember dance will be formal.

Refreshments are served by the Social Committee. No admission price is charged, and all students are invited to bring non-college dates or guests.

Christmas Dance Date Undecided: Announced Soon

The date and place for the 1957 Charlotte College Christmas Dance have not been definitely decided upon, Miss Kanela Maydanis, acting Chairman of the Social Committee, informed the Collegian last Friday. She said that there were conflicting dates which prevented a definite time being set.

In years past, the dance has been held in the Central High School gymnasium three or four days before Christmas. Last year it was held in a building near the Catawba River. The dance has always been formal—evening dresses for the women and dark suits for the men.

Miss Maydanis said that the committee should be ready to announce the time and place by the second week in November.

Other dances this school year will be held Nov. 16, Valentine's Day, and during the spring, with perhaps one being held toward the end of school. All except the No-
