LOCAL ITEMS.

—January has five Sundays.
—This year has fifty three Sundays.
—A new store has opened out for business at Harrisburg.
—A magistrate's court was held before Esq. Hill on Wednesday.
—Mr. Pleas Motley is at his place of business again fully recovered.
—Easter comes early this year, viz: on the 1st day of April.
—Our livery stables were filled up Tuesday with droves of horses and mules.
—A referee's court was held before Probate Judge J. C. Gibson, on Thursday.
—Master John York left this week to attend the Davis Military School at La Grange, N. C.
—Mr. Milton Rogers of No. 4 Township, was taken quite sick on Monday. Medical aid was called in at once.
—Sheriff Propat made his full settlement with the State on the 17th. He was the 42nd sheriff who had settled.
—Mr. Jno. B. Patterson has completed his new dwelling near the old Lutheran church. It is quite convenient and looks splendid.

—We are requested to state that there will be a congregational meeting held at the Lutheran church next Sabbath morning at 11 o'clock.
—The western Conference of the Lutheran Synod of North Carolina, will convene at St. John's church on Saturday before the 6th Sunday of this month.
—Prof. J. C. Moser, a graduate of N. C. College, Mt. Pleasant, will remove from Conover, where he has resided for several years, to Hickory at an early day.

—Curiosity, "first cause of all our ills," drew "many a one through dirt and mire without remorse" to the magistrate's court before Esq. Hill on Saturday afternoon.
—The sale of the advertised personal property of the Phoenix Gold Mining Company was sold at the court house door on the 14th, and was bid off by Col. Means for Capt. Thies.
—Our brother of the Hornet should not be surprised at our return to the press. Memory is ever carrying us to the days that are past. 'Tis naught but human that we return to our first love.

—Rev. Mr. Cox, of the Tennessee Holston Synod, has accepted a charge in Stanly county, and has moved to his new home. He will serve this people as a member of the Lutheran Synod of N. C.
—Barber Johnston, who for years has hung out the sign of a tonsorial artist in our town, Joe Smart and several other colored citizens started Tuesday on a prospecting pilgrimage to California with the intent of either preempting or purchasing government land.

—Rev. G. D. Gourley who was pastor of the reformed Church here about '81 or '82, and also taught school, will be remembered by many as a staid, quiet, intelligent and pleasant old bachelor. We learn from good authority that the ears are out for his marriage to Miss Emma G. Bell, of Middletown, Conn.
—No one can appreciate the kind words of welcome and the good will of our next door neighbor, "The Times," more than does THE STANDARD. We return to it a cordial hand shake, and may it under its present management continue to brighten the homes and fire sides of its many readers with its presence.

—Saturday evening a dilapidated individual, of the genus tramp, passed a counterfeit silver dollar on Mr. Jno. Best, at Dove Bost & Co., by purchasing a nickel's worth of cheese. Through Mr. Frank Smith, on whom he had tried to pass a "new" quarter at Gi son's Drug Store, the transaction was found out straight. John and some friends found their man at the depot, searched him and recovered the ninety five cents, but found nothing else of the value of the 25 cents.

—Spring, astronomically, begins March 21st. It is some weeks off yet.
—We have had a general conglomeration of weather since New Year's day.
—Mr. Caleb Cline's youngest child died Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.
—And now the goose bone man comes to the front and tells us we will have an open winter.
—The egg product is immense, and the prices keep down at the same old summer figures.
—Mrs. Elizabeth Rumble of South Rowan has been quite sick with typhoid fever, but is now convalescent.
—The pet bear performance on the street Saturday attracted the attention of the average small boy in particular.

—Rev. Paul Barringer, of the Reformed Church, gave us a call Saturday expressive of his best wishes for our success.
—The water courses were very much swollen after the snow melted, and every one from the country talked about the mud.
—The Clipper, a new news sheet edited and published by H. H. Crowson, Hickory, is on our table. We wish it success.
—There is very little wood coming into town, and that sort of country trade would be quite eagerly sought after by our town folk.
—Mr. J. F. Williford has moved to the residence on Corbin street, next to Mr. George Patterson's, known as the Maj. Yorke house.

—A gentle reminder to the old bachelors is not inappropriate that this is leap year, and lassies have the prerogative of popping the question.
—A. G. Lentz bought a seven months old pig from Mr. Crawford Goodman on Tuesday that weighed 165 pounds net. This is good for a pig.
—Mr. Jno. P. Allison has greatly improved the old York lot on Corbin St. by remodeling the two old dwellings on it. They are now neat two story houses.
—Rev. J. T. Kilgo, of the S. C. Methodist Conference is dead. If we remember rightly Rev. Kilgo served the churches of Concord circuit just after the war.

—The days will now increase at the rate of seventy five seconds every twenty four hours, and will continue at this rate until July 21, the longest day of the year.
—We call attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Walter & Sathers. This is one of our busy, growing grocery firms. Go and see them when you want anything in the grocery line.
—Mr. D. Luther Bost moved into the Mrs. Heilig dwelling lately occupied by Mr. Boshamer, and Mr. Boshamer is now occupying Mr. J. P. Allison's house opposite Mr. D. F. Cannon's.

—One of the students at the Scotia Female Seminary (colored) died last Sunday morning. She was from the Indian Territory. This is only the third death, we have been told, that has occurred there since its foundation.
—On Monday last a dog, evidently attacked with rabies, made its appearance at Mr. David Alexander's in South Rowan, and bit his dog and one of his hogs. Alexander succeeded in killing the dog before more damage was done.

—The Concord Cornet Band reorganized Thursday night, and will again go to work with a vim to bring forth soul-stirring music. A few years ago the C. C. B. was not only a source of pride to Concord and Cabarrus, but to the State. With the musical talent and ability of its members, old and new, it will soon become as of yore.
—One of our young Bilesville friends dropped into to see us Tuesday and reports that place still on a boom. The winter weather has not stopped the noise of hammer and saw. The mining company are busy and their prompt payments of wages to employees makes all things lively. The company is now putting-up a Stamp Mill. A half dozen new houses have been completed this winter.

—As the little white flakes began to fall Monday evening the heart of many a youth and maiden throbbed with delight in the bright, joyous anticipation of happy moments, gliding over the snowy mantle that soon would cover mother earth.
—Morning brought but disappointment; the pure white flakes had ceased to fall, and the continuous drip, drip, drip from the eaves told of rapidly disappearing snow, and "bright expectancy overthrown."
—Our Register of Deeds is quite a pouly fancier, and prides himself (very justly, too,) that by care, attention and good grub, he beats the town in Plymouth Rocks and White Lehighs. His wonted equilibrium was in some degree upset, and his usual pleasant expression was ruffled last Saturday morning when he found that some unknown admirer of his domestic fowls had come as a thief in the night, and without the fear of God, or the registrar, had foully appropriated to himself five of his prettiest, plumpest pullets.

—Capt. J. M. Odell has gone to Texas on a visit to his son, James T. Odell.
—An old lady by name of Miss Wagstaff died at Mr. J. Harris' last Saturday, and was buried at Poplar Tent church on Sunday.
—Col. Means left for Washington Monday night. He is one of the delegates from this State who met at the Capitol to urge the repeal of the Internal Revenue Tax. The Colonel will also visit New York City before his return.
—We learn that Mr. Robinson Holdbrooks, son of Mr. D. G. Holdbrooks, has been very low with typhoid fever, at his brother in law's, Dr. Lafferty's. At one time his death was momentarily expected, but at this writing he is slowly recovering.
—Dr. V. C. B. Means, Assistant Surgeon of the United States Navy, and an honored son of old Cabarrus, is once again in the land of his childhood. He has just returned from a voyage around the world, and will spend a fortnight among the "loved ones at home."

—On Sabbath last a Sunday school was organized at Miss Mollie Fetzer's school room on Spring Street, for the purpose of gathering together those children who do not regularly belong to the other schools. This is a laudable work, and should receive cordial support from every one by contributions for the purchase of a library.
—We do not know whether Dr. Lafferty anticipated the coming down on us of the remnant of the great north western blizzard, but in any event he received this week a regular "slicker" coat, such as the cow boys out west wear, and that is what they call it. It is warranted to be perfectly water proof, and it looks to us to be of the same material as a sailor's tarpaulin, or the cover of an old war ordinance wagon.
—A couple of our colored citizens were arraigned before Mayor Means for some little racket in the corporate limits. The fine of $5.35 was imposed on the guilty party. Not content with this little reminder of the stringency of the law, the same party fined before the Mayor was up before Esq. Williford on a writ of trespass and another five dollars and half the costs imposed. A second party charged with aiding and abetting in the trespass was fined one dollar and half the costs.
—We were especially requested to discuss the condition of our streets and side walks on last Saturday, but it seemed to us that the incessant drizzle and freeze of Thursday night and Friday, and then the thawing up put it out of municipal power to remedy the evil, and although found that "First it was slippery,
Then it was sloppy,"
we refrain from tackling the city fathers on this subject until they give us more light.
—The body of a negro boy, apparently 16 or 17 years old, was found in a ravine about 200 yards from the Thunder Struck bridge on Wednesday last by Mr. Henry Stowe. The place where it was found is usually a dry hollow, but at that time water almost covered the corpse. Mr. Daniel Boger, our informant, was not really certain but he and others that visited the place and saw the body, supposed it to be the son of Jim Hamilton who lives on Mr. Brown's farm. The boy ran away some time ago on account of some difficulty, and it is supposed that he was trying to get back stealthily to his father's and froze to death.
—The latest concerning the dead negro boy found on Wednesday is that he was found by Marks of a struggle were found near where the body was first discovered, and one shoe some distance from the body. His neck is said to be broken and the bone above and below his eye is crushed in. An inquest will be held and an examination made. The deed is thought to have been committed Monday.

—MARRIAGES:
"Love reigns o'er the mountains, he rules o'er the deep,
And he governs the heavens above,
And none may presume to dispute the decree
Of this powerful deity, Love."
At the home of the bride's parents, by Rev. S. L. Keller, on Thursday morning the 19th, Mr. A. S. Daywalt, of Concord, to Miss S. Janie Misener, of No. 8 Township.
Not being able to be present at the serenade of welcome on their arrival here, the editors of THE STANDARD extend to the genial, popular salesman their most cordial congratulations, and trust that to him and his fair bride, life may ever be bright and pleasant as a summer day.
"And full of roses, with no stinging thorns."
Mr. Charles F. Faggart was married on the 18th to Miss Laura V. Krimminger, Rev. Mr. Smith performing the ceremony.
On Wednesday, the 18th, at the home of the bride's mother, Rev. T. W. Smith officiating, Mr. D. V. Krimminger was married to Miss Mattie A. Platt.

—Messrs. Hartsell & Lentz's tannery is a mass of ice. They have been compelled to abandon yard work until the weather moderates.
—C. D. Barringer, Esq., passed through our town on last Wednesday. He is now a resident of No. 1 Township, near Pioneer Mills. We wish him much success in his new home. The "Squire" is one of our best men and deserves abundant success.
—Mr. Jacob House, living near this place, has reached a good old age, being past 95 years. Mr. H. is entirely blind and is very hard of hearing. He served in the war of 1812, and consequently draws a pension from the U. S. government. We have been informed that he is the only survivor of the war of 1812 in the county. His general health is good.

—EDITORS STANDARD: Mr. Henry Roseman wishes me to make a correction that appeared in the Standard last week in regard to the stealing in South Rowan. Mr. Henry Roseman is not connected with the party in their stealing, is an honest, industrious young man, and lives here in Cabarrus county near Mt. Pleasant.
—G. F. BARNHART.
[Our information of the Rowan thieving came from two good citizens of No. 5 Township. In justice to Mr. Roseman we publish the above card.—EDITORS.]

TO THE FARMERS

We advocate none but a judicious and economical use of commercial fertilizers. If in addition to what manure you can make on the farm, you need a commercial fertilizer, 'tis best judicious and economical to buy that guano that gives best results, provided you can buy at the right prices. We are in a position this season to offer the farmers of Cabarrus and adjoining counties the

NAVASSA GUANO & ACID
(a goods that has given entire satisfaction wherever used) at prices never before heard of. We not only refer you to the analysis given by the State Chemists of North and South Carolina and to the reputation of the Navassa Guano Company for making standard guanos, but what is better, to every Farmer who has ever tried it in this county, and by this verdict we stand or fall. In a short time we will hand you testimonials from Cabarrus men. In the meantime don't fail to get our plan of co-operation, prices, &c. We claim to be working for the interest of the

FARMERS,
and we are able to prove to you that we don't save to the Farmers who bought their fertilizers in Concord last season many dollars, and we propose to save you many more this. If there be any doubting ones, come and we will convince you that this is no idle talk.
And now in regard to your

PRODUCE,
let us say first we want to buy more of that this season than ever, and we guarantee the HIGHEST MARKET PRICE, either cash or barter. We propose to make some changes in our business, and in order to give us the necessary room, &c., we offer you our remnant stock of clothing (and we have some good suits that were bought this season) at your own prices. We are going out of the clothing business, and positively they must be sold at some price. Also our stock of hats and caps must be reduced, and in these you can get

GENUINE BARGAINS!
You will find the best stock of coarse shoes (nothing ever gave better satisfaction than our box-toed brogans) and ditchers boots guaranteed water proof. Also real bargains in dress goods, plush goods, jerseys, breakfast shawls, &c.
Miss NANNIE ALEXANDER is still with us, and in order to make room for a large Spring trade of millinery has reduced the prices on her goods 50 per cent.

We thank you for the liberal patronage bestowed on us last season, and hope by strict attention to business, ever studying the wants of our customers, to merit a continuance of the same, and in addition to making ours the Farmers' Store for 1888, we will strive to make it the Farmers' Home.

Respectfully,
Bell & Sims,
AGENTS.
