

TOWN AND COUNTY.

MR. SCHAFFER'S STATE.

Mr. Ruple Schaffer has been heard from at last, and is safe. He was in the water for fourteen hours, through the night, on top of buildings with hundreds perishing around him. His clothes, money, and all that he had were washed away. He has nothing left but the clothes he had on and one dollar in money that was in his pocket.

Lightning. During the storm that prevailed here for a short time last Sunday, Capt. Charles McDonald's barn was struck by lightning and one cow was killed. There was a lightning rod to the house that had in some way become broken or unjoined about four feet from the ground. The cow happened to be standing near this, and the fluid passed into her body and killed her instantly. Nothing inside the barn was injured.

A Cabarrus Boy. There are many people in Cabarrus, especially in Rocky River congregation, who will be glad to know of the fine reputation that Rev. Ed. Stack, son of Dr. Mack, the former pastor of Rocky River church, is making for himself. After graduating at Davidson College he took a theological course at Princeton, graduating there this spring. While there he led his class, carried off two medals out of the eight that were offered, besides winning a $600 scholarship. He has been invited to fill Dr. Miller's pulpit in Charlotte while he takes the European trip his congregation have generously given him. We wish our young friend and college mate much success in the Master's cause.

They Say. That our street railway is being talked about in a number of large places out west. Our progress, you know, is being admired.

That Fisher & Hall are regular dirt-movers.

That the hands are the happiest people in the world, singing and laughing merrily.

That the colored men strike not another lick when the town clock strikes the first stroke for six. If the pick is raised and ready to fall when the clock begins to strike the pick stops at once, for the hands are working just ten hours per day.

That so many at work now is a sad commentary on agriculture in this county.

Death of Mr. Stirewalt. We are sorry to have to announce to our readers that Mr. Jacob Stirewalt, whose illness was noted in our last issue, has since died. Being seized with a very severe attack of cholera morbus, it proved too much for even his wonderful constitution, and after a week's illness he quietly passed away Saturday morning about two o'clock. He was buried Sunday morning last in the family burying ground at Poplar Tent, where lie his wife and several others of his family. A large number of friends and relatives were present, and the funeral was preached by Rev. H. G. Gilland; Mr. R. S. Arrowood was also present, and offered a prayer.

The distinguishing trait of Mr. Stirewalt's character was his wonderful and untiring energy. His whole life has been one of almost unceasing activity. He never knew what it was to take a rest from his active duties. Just a few days before his death he ginned and marketed a number of bales of cotton himself, and when he was taken sick he was in Statesville attending to some business. He was in splendid health, but after eating a very hearty dinner he became sick, and with his usual tenacity of purpose, started for home, suffering very much on the way. From this attack he never recovered. Sometime ago, before the death of his son, the late Edward Stirewalt, about six years ago, he had given over into his hands the management of his large business. After his death, he being his only son, he resumed his business, and not only completed a large saw mill plant, then in course of erection, but also put up a splendid roller-mill, the best, and only one of the kind, in the county.

Mr. Stirewalt came of that good old German stock that has done so much for this country, and his family was noted for great mechanical skill. The family was originally of the Lutheran church, and Mr. Stirewalt himself was an almost life-long member of St. Enoch's Lutheran church. He was a consistent Christian, a kind and generous neighbor, and a man of spotless integrity.

He leaves three daughters—Mrs. Gresson, of Burlington, Mrs. Barron Pressly, and Miss Julia Stirewalt. All who knew Mr. Stirewalt sympathize with his family in their great loss.

SHORT LOCALS.

—Good seasons this week. —Glorious time a-coming. —Blackberries getting ripe. —The harvest is in full blast. —Lot of people "feeling bad." —The picnic season is at hand. —Huckleberries will soon be ripe. —Potato bugs are still in their glory.

—Some people complain of apples falling off.

—Trinity College commencement this week.

—Some are thinking of going to the mountains.

—The trains are still running on irregular time.

—Peaches and tomatoes on our streets this week.

—Dr. Harmon, the oculist, left yesterday morning.

—The Murr & Suther building is nearing completion.

—Mrs. Lizzie Coble, of Forest Hill, died Sunday last.

—The Odd factory closed down this week for three days.

—The little baby of Mr. Charles Montgomery is very sick.

—"Are you going to the encampment?" is the leading question.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bostick took boat in San Francisco this week for China.

—Three hundred extra copies of THE STANDARD were sold last week.

—Quite a number of Cabarrus teachers will attend the Teachers' Assembly.

—Two additional professors have been elected to the faculty of North Carolina College.

—Brown Bros' fine wheat has been cut. They are good for twenty-five bushels per acre.

—There must be a corner in eggs now—even if they are round. Fifteen cents a dozen.

—A large and beautiful egg light was put up over the square yesterday.

—The exercises at the W. C. T. U. entertainment, last Thursday night, were very interesting.

—The collection for the Pennsylvania sufferers at the union services last Sunday night amounted to $40.

—About one hundred and fifty colored girls from Scotia made it lively around the depot yesterday.

—The shares in the Building and Loan Association's new series have been considerably increased in number.

—Miss Grace King, whose picture we printed two weeks ago, is a sister-in-law of Mayor McDowell, of Charlotte.

—Some important matter will appear next week from Esquire Willeford, Secretary of the Confederate Association.

—The Miscenheimer suit against the Valley Mutual Life Insurance Company has been continued in the Federal court.

—Messrs. J. S. and J. B. Harris, of Springsville, sold their cotton, nearly forty bales, this week, for eleven cents a pound.

—The old frame buildings behind Dayvault's store are coming down, preparatory to the building of a large brick warehouse.

—Our farmers are complaining very much of the chintz bugs. As soon as the wheat is cut they move out to the corn fields.

—A large number of people were interested in the sale of the horse (?) at Brown's stable last Friday. About fifty gallons were sold.

—G. C. Goodman, Jr., hauled out on Tuesday seven full bundles of barbed wire. This is a big business. He is going to fence in twelve acres.

—A cat fish (according to the Charlotte News) eighteen inches long was found in the tender of a C. C. engine. It had been there for two years.

—Mr. Peterson showed us a nice picture, his workmanship, of the street railway hands as they were at work on the square. It was good work.

—Yorke & Wadsworth sold, one day this week, one hundred sets of harness to a man who owns but three horses—harness for factory looms.

—The thirteen year-old son of Rev. Mr. Gantt, of Mt. Pleasant, was thrown from a horse Thursday and badly though not very seriously bruised.

—The Piedmont Farmer is on our table. It is a very neat paper, and contains many interesting articles for our farmers. Success to you, brother.

—Read the town ordinances. Boys, the juvenvers must go. See Dr. Gibson's new ad.; also W. E. Loesser, the jeweler's. See Vaughan Bros' local.

—The store of Messrs. Bost & Flove, in No. 10 township, was upset by the severe wind last Sunday and considerable damage resulted. No one was hurt.

—Mr. Crowell, of Stanly county, a cousin of J. Lee Crowell, Esq., carried off the society medal at Chapel Hill. What's the matter with Stanly's boys?

—We publish on our first page an article from the Charlotte Chronicle which will interest many of our citizens who were under Gen. Barringer's command.

—One of our citizens asked another recently where he could find a good account of the flood. "In the Bible," was the answer. It seemed to be news to him.

—Dr. J. P. Gibson tells us that on his recent trip to Atlanta he saw only one piece of clover between Charlotte and Atlanta, and that was in North Carolina.

—"Tump" Snell, the biggest man in Concord, was on Petzer's water tank on Monday. The tank is so high that friend Snell looked no larger than a horse fly.

—Cards are out for the marriage of Rev. J. D. Newton, of the Baptist church here, to Miss Martha Mills, of Thomasville, N. C., June 19th.

—Mr. C. W. Swink bought Dr. Harmon's horse, buggy and entire outfit, excepting, of course, his stock of spectacles. Caleb is not an oculist yet.

—Mr. L. A. Bickle, Jr., has our thanks for the handsome invitation to attend the commencement exercises of Gaston College, Dallas, N. C., which take place next week.

—Mr. A. C. Scott, of Oppohoma, Miss., cousin of our Mr. A. C. Scott, has purchased from heirs, in this county, a tract of land of forty acres for $80. It is fine land, too.

—Twenty-eight carrier pigeons were received yesterday at the express office here from Philadelphia, to be turned loose some fair morning before sunrise, wind from the south.

—The STANDARD force is grateful to Mr. F. V. Snell for his kind remembrance in the shape of a big piece of ice. He knows from personal experience what a fellow needs in hot weather.

—About fifty railroad carts passed through town Friday and Saturday on their way from Black's Station, S. C., to Richmond, Va. They might have given us a "lift" with the street railway.

—Our worthy mayor, by a careless step at the express office, sprained his ankle badly Friday last, but was well enough to open court Sunday to try a disturber of the peace from Cannon's factory.

—The lecture of Dr. Francis, of Cincinnati, Monday night, on the stellar system, is said by a lady who heard him to have been one of the most eloquent and scholarly addresses she had ever heard.

—The Charlotte Daily News has finished its first volume, and is as lively and frisky as ever. We are glad to know that our former townsman is succeeding so well, and wish him continued prosperity.

—The Federal Court is in session in Charlotte this week. Judge Dick presiding. Esquires W. G. Means, H. S. Puryear, P. E. Means and Deputy Collector George Means were in attendance from this place.

—It was reported and currently believed that the Mark Morrison who is delivery clerk at the postoffice in Charlotte was our big friend, now of Harrisburg. This is a mistake. The 3-M's is good a Democrat as ever.

—Monday was a black day for prohibition. Raleigh, Goldsboro, Monroe, Durham, Shelby and Cleveland county all went "wet." Wakeboro is the only one that went "dry," and that only by a majority of eighteen.

—Bell Avenue is on a boom. Mr. Will Bell is now having a nice house built, Mr. Coram Correll is hauling materials for one, and Mr. Sims will soon build, besides others. This will be a great improvement for that part of town.

—The Cambria Iron Company, of Johnston, Pa., telegraphed the street railway company that they could not furnish rails for the road as contracted for. Their $10,000,000 plant was completely destroyed by the flood.

—We are glad to learn that Miss Annie Cannon brings back with her from Peace Institute the Bauman medal for vocal music, which was won in a contest in which several participated. We congratulate her upon her deserved success.

—When Bob Keester gets his piccolo, and John Young his violin, Bob Ridenhour his bass viol, and John Reed his harp, you might just as well lay down your work. There is going to be such sweet music that work is out of the question.

—Wheat must be improving vastly in this county; it is getting so snaky it can run on it before it is cut. Mr. George Goodman found recently a snake lying on top of his standing wheat. The lying was done by the snake and not the man, either.

—Mr. Jackson, the civil engineer and contractor who was here some time ago and made a bid for the contract of building the street railway, met recently with a most distressing accident. In a blast some fragments struck him and put out both eyes.

—Coored people from far and near were here Wednesday attending the commencement of Scotia Seminary. They were well dressed and well behaved. The closing exercises were interesting, and reflected credit upon teachers and pupils.

—Here's what the Landmark says: "A large number of persons here will regret to learn that Miss Fannie Stafford will not be of the faculty of Statesville College after this term. She has very many friends and admirers in this community and deserves them all."

—Mr. Joe Blume, who was so badly injured some time ago by being burned, asks us to say that he has opened a carpenter shop behind Dove, Bost & Fink's store, and will appreciate it very much if those who have work in his line will carry it to him. He will take supplies for his work.

—The little boy, two years old, of Mr. Starnes, the miller at Mill Grove, was playing around in perfect health Friday evening last, and went to bed as usual. He was suddenly taken sick and died about 3 o'clock in the morning. From the spotted appearance of his body after death it is supposed there must have been some kind of congestion.

—Stokes Lodge, A. F. and A. M., Monday night elected the following officers for the ensuing year: L. M. Archey, W. M.; D. D. Johnson, S. W.; J. D. Bacon, J. W.; H. C. Her-ring, Secretary; J. C. H. Burkhead, Treasurer.

—Mrs. Isaac Faggart died this week at the age of fifty-one years. She was a consistent member of St. John's Lutheran church, where her remains were buried. At the same place the little boy of Jefferson Shoe was buried.

—We were glad to see upon our streets this week our former townsman, M. H. H. Caldwell, Esq., who, with his wife, is visiting friends in this county. He reports the North Carolina contingent in Knoxville as prosperous: "There are so many that they propose at an early date to organize an Old North State club."

—Our congratulations are extended to Rev. Wright G. Campbell, pastor of the Lutheran church here, on his appointment as chaplain of the Fourth North Carolina Regiment. It is especially complimentary, as there were several other divines urged for the place. We are sure no better selection could have been made.

—Mr. Billy Fisher, whose home is about three miles south of town, died Monday and was buried Tuesday in the Lutheran cemetery at this place. Mr. Fisher was one of the oldest citizens of our county, being near eighty-seven years old. He was for a number of years a member of the church, and every one knew him as a good old man.

—Our military boys are very much "done up" over the resignation of Capt. Robert S. Young, which has been handed in to Col. Anthony, of Charlotte. The captain has won many compliments for the high degree of efficiency to which the company has attained under his command, and the members are very anxious for him to retain his position.

—We hope those who got last week's STANDARD on Tuesday will excuse us in consideration of the fact that we could not go to press at our usual time on Thursday evening, as we wished to give full accounts of the commencement at Mt. Pleasant, and were late getting the last reports. WE TREAT ALL OUR READERS ALIKE, and do not send out some papers Thursday evening and different ones on Friday morning.

The City in 1795. The people that lived about the year 1795 were great drinkers—of water. Concord, when but a child yet, had three public wells within fifty yards of each other. Signs of one can be seen where the excavation is being made at Allison's corner. One night ten or fifteen "young Americans" concluded to have some fun, so the story goes, and they filled this well half full of goods boxes. The "city" authorities then completed the job by filling with dirt. "Them" were glorious times!

Unfortunate Man. To an observer of humanity in all its phases, the blessings of this life seem very unequally divided. Tuesday morning Mr. M. V. Honeycutt, of Enochville, drove into town in company with Mr. Henry Overcash, who has not walked a step in four years. Sitting down, Mr. Overcash shows no sign of any weakness, but all the same he cannot use his legs nor his hands without one hand assisting the other. He weighs nearly two hundred pounds and is twenty-eight years old. Paralysis has been coming on for about fifteen years. But with all this affliction, Mr. O. makes an honest effort to support himself by means of making shoes. And from the smiles he wears, and the good, hearty laughs from his very soul, one is led to believe that he enjoys life more and is happier than most well people.

Historical Relics. In excavating for the street railway in the old square some interesting relics are being discovered that carry us back to the Auld Lang Syne and remind us of the troublous times that preceded the late Civil War. The stump of the pole was found upon which floated gaily the flag raised in the 1860 and Everett campaign in 1869; also the stump of the pole upon which was erected the great flag for Breckenridge and Lane in the exciting campaign that resulted in the disruption of the Union. This is the pole upon which floated afterwards the first Confederate flag that ever waved in this county—the emblem that led thousands in a great struggle. This was the flag under which such men as Gen. Dargan, Col. Ham Jones, Gen. Rufus Barringer, Col. John M. Long and others spoke to our people on the great issues of the day. Here it was that Col. John M. Long unsheathed his rusty sword and cast the scabbard away, vowing that it should never be sheathed again 'till this county was free.

There was also found the stump of an old oak tree that was cut when the town of Concord was decided upon and her streets were being laid off in the year 1793. Another discovery was made which cannot be classed with relics—a vein of gold-bearing ore. We are afraid to publish more of this vein at present, as we are not yet ready for such great crowds as looked to Lower Carolina recently.

What an Old Man Told Us in Ten Minutes.

Cabarrus county, while only in its ninety-seventh year, has a history full of interesting facts. In her youthful years she put on, but little style, rather seeking to be like her good, old, substantial, home-made citizens. We are told by one of our oldest citizens that the first jail in this county was located where Elam King's residence now stands. It was not a magnificent building either, being built of logs and like a double barn. It had some large holes in it, in fact a man could crawl through some of them and escape, but they (jail-birds) had better sense in those days than to escape, being more law-abiding. This jail afterwards became the kitchen of George Kultz, of whom it is said that he gave the ground for the old Lutheran cemetery, and he was the first one to be buried in it, and the same thing happened, it is said, with the former owner of the present town cemetery—facts sufficient to make some people superstitious enough to refuse a donation or sale of land for such purposes.

Returning to the jail subject, this old citizen said: "There was a Mr. Hudson, who had but one fault and that was that he would fight any and everybody for the least provocation. He was placed in jail for an offense of this kind, and while there a man came along, seeing Mr. Hudson in jail, remarked, "Dog-gone you, you are right where you ought to be, you old scamp." Mr. H. climbed up to one of these holes and crawled out and down, gave the fellow a gentle flogging and then returned to his berth in the country's airy and hol(e)y prison." Our prisoners could not be insulted.

Photographs. Mrs. F. A. Archibald is quite sick. Mr. M. J. Freeman is at home on vacation.

Mr. Smith Patterson was in town Thursday.

Mr. C. G. Heilig, of Mt. Pleasant, was here Tuesday.

Mrs. T. J. Wilson returned to her home in Winston Tuesday.

Sam Pemberton, Esq., of Albemarle, was in town Monday.

Misses Lillian and Abbie Matson left yesterday morning for Indiana.

Miss Addie Yates, of Charlotte, was visiting Miss Ada Rogers last week.

Mr. Monroe Melchor and Mr. John Barnhardt, of Pioneer Mills, were in town Tuesday.

Messrs. Pemberton, Brown and Boston, of Albemarle, passed through town yesterday.

Miss Maggie Bessent returned Tuesday from a visit to Jerusalem, Davie county, N. C.

Mrs. J. J. Fray, of the Concord Female Academy, left Wednesday morning for Raleigh.

Dr. Jesse Y. Fitzgerald is here, and in a few days will be ready to practice his profession.

Mrs. Christian and Miss Lillie Wright, of Montgomery county, are visiting at Dr. Lilly's.

Rev. T. W. Smith, returned a few days since from an extended tour on the insurance business.

Lee Overman, Esq., of Salisbury, was here on his way from Mt. Pleasant, Friday of last week.

Miss Ella Belle Shirey, one of the State's most successful teachers, spent Monday in town with friends.

Mr. West Kestler has been for some time in Tennessee acting as agent for Mr. Stricker's scouring brush.

Mr. J. M. Hendrix, acting mayor of Mt. Pleasant, and Jonas Peacock, of the same place, called on us this week.

Miss Ada Rogers attended the marriage of Annie Blackmer to Mr. Ballou, of Tennessee, Tuesday of this week.

Miss Laura Smith, daughter of W. M. Smith, Esq., has returned from Hagerstown, Md., where she has been at school.

Hon. Kerr Craig, who has recently resigned his place as Collector of Internal Revenue for this district, was in town Friday last.

Dr. Register, of Charlotte, and Dr. Sam Montgomery, of Monroe, were here this week attending Dr. Lilly, who is quite sick.

Miss Grace Henderlie, of Marion, Va., the efficient music teacher of Mt. Pleasant Female Seminary, left Friday evening for her home.

Rox, C. W. Robinson, of Monroe, passed through town Saturday on his way home from Mill Hill, being called to that place by the sickness of his uncle, Mr. Stirewalt.

Dr. R. L. Abernathy, president of Rutherford College, spent several days in town with friends and former pupils. He lectured in the Court House Tuesday night to a small but appreciative audience.

Miss Lina J. McDonald, who has so acceptably and efficiently taught in one department of Concord Female Academy during the last term, left Friday afternoon for her home in Shelby. Her many friends wish her a pleasant vacation.

Death of Mrs. Odell.

Our readers will be sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Rebecca Kirkman Odell, wife of Capt. J. M. Odell, of Forest Hill. This estimable lady died about four o'clock yesterday morning after a lingering illness of several weeks. She was about fifty-five years of age. The funeral will be conducted this evening at four o'clock at the Methodist church, by Revs. Hoyle and Page.

Mrs. Odell was well known to our citizens, having lived here, with the exception of a few years, since 1869. She was a consistent and devoted member of the Methodist church, and was thoroughly identified with the benevolent and charitable organizations of our town. The mourning household here our deepest sympathy.

Special Rates. The Richmond and Danville railroad offers special rates to the semi-centennial of the Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Va.,—full rates there and one-third regular rates on return. Parties from this section desiring to attend the Teachers' Assembly at Morehead City, June 15th to 30th, can procure return tickets from Charlotte for $8.15, or Salisbury at $7.15.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Poplar Tent Items. Fine rain this week. Corn and cotton are growing nicely.

Those who threshed wheat last week say it turned out well.

The flux is getting more prevalent in this section. Mr. Daniel Davault has been quite sick with it.

Mrs. Gilland and Mrs. Dobbin, of Poplar Tent, who have been visiting at Mrs. Dr. Henderson's, returned Monday evening.

Mr. G. L. Fisher, who has been keeping bachelor's hall this spring, says he has never yet been lonesome. There is a very pretty girl living near. We say no wonder.

There was a moonlight picnic at Mr. C. C. Caldwell's Thursday night complimentary to Miss Essie Fisher, who recently graduated from Lutheran Seminary near Baltimore.

Albemarle News. Refreshing showers are falling almost daily now.

Mrs. J. C. Caldwell attended the commencement at Chapel Hill last week.

Mr. Will Bingham and wife, of your town, were visiting at Mrs. J. A. Lilly's.

Several of our teachers and their friends are going to Morehead next week to attend the Assembly.

A new County Board of Education was chosen last Monday.—M. L. Barnhardt, Dr. W. D. Pemberton, and J. L. Peck.

An election on the new railroad, to run from Salisbury via Albemarle to Wadesboro, was ordered by the commissioners.

Prof. Julius Hathcock was in town yesterday. He has recently closed a flourishing school at Fork Academy near Norwood.

The feather renovators are in our midst. They have "rigged up" in a room back of the store-house formerly occupied by C. Spence, and with red-painted carts they are scouring the country for feathers. Wonder what will come along next?

Bitesville News. Mrs. Starrett has been quite sick for a day or two.

A very rich deposit of gold has just been laid to view.

We are glad to hear of Concord's progress. Hope she may continue to grow.

Mrs. H. C. Crowell is confined to her bed by sickness, and our doctor is off on a visit.

A death occurred near here on Monday evening, but as we failed to get particulars we cannot report it properly.

Our village will not be complete until we have a good hotel. No one desires to take in the transient customers.

Married, by Rev. F. S. Starrett, June 5th, Dr. R. W. Ivy, of Bitesville, and Miss Verona Parker, of Palmersville. The marriage took place at the residence of the bride's mother. We wish them a pleasant journey through life.

DART. Good rains and fine crops.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Quay's little baby died on last Sunday morning.

Mr. J. P. Query, of Concord, came out last Sunday to see how "she" (?) was.

J. P. Morrison has a calf fifteen months old that has a calf, and gives one gallon of milk per day.

Miss Alice James, of Mallahala, S. C., has been spending a few weeks with Mr. J. E. Caldwell's family.

Miss Emma Black returned home last Saturday from Clarksville, Va., where she has been teaching for some time. We are glad to see her looking well and hearty.

Miss Fannie Stafford came home last Saturday from Statesville, where she has been teaching since last September. Miss Mamie Fuqua came home with her and spent Sunday.

The Y. P. M. Society met in the Alliance hall at Rocky River church last Saturday night, with about seventy-five out of a hundred and fifteen members present, and just had a splendid time. Every thing went on nicely so far as could be seen, but after the society had adjourned they found that some cowardly person, or persons, who were devoid of principle or any thing else that is decent, had taken advantage of the darkness and went the rounds among the buggies, taking taps off of wheels, cutting up saddles, valves, &c. They have some young bloods spotted, and if it can be proved all will not be well with them.

Mr. Robert F. Grier and Miss Bessie Caldwell were married on the 12th, at 3.30 o'clock, by Rev. Mr. Anderson, at the residence of Mr. J. E. Caldwell. Mr. Grier is a high-toned gentleman and one of the first families of Mecklenburg county, and has plucked one of the most precious flowers from the "City of Roses." Miss Bessie is every thing that can be said of a Christian lady, and to know her was to love her. She has many friends in this and Mecklenburg county who will join us in wishing her many blessings of this life that God may be pleased to give her. They received a great many valuable and useful presents. They left on the Carolina Central the same evening at eight o'clock for Wilmington and Wrightsville. Will return some time next week. We wish them a pleasant time and a safe return to the "City of Roses," where they will, we hope, remain for a long, long time.

Hotel Arrivals. The following are the arrivals at the St. Cloud Hotel for the week ending June 13th, 1899:

J. B. Ross, J. B. Sherrill, G. B. Anderson, G. E. Shorey, C. E. Wolf, S. B. Rhinehart, E. H. Smith, Miss E. Black, W. M. Love, W. R. Burgess, E. M. Andrews, Misses Mary and Grace Andrews, Miss Estes Wright, E. P. Dennis, R. B. Gunn, R. L. Abernathy, L. M. Sumner, H. C. Perham, J. Y. Fitzgerald, A. L. Rankin, H. S. Chadwick, C. G. Hellig, W. B. Smith, T. M. Arrington, S. M. Shimes, John Fralry, J. C. Black, J. Ayers, R. P. Yarcin, G. E. Lithwick, G. A. Smith, A. M. Sinclair, F. F. Rogers, J. B. McIntosh, W. C. Whitener, F. F. Rogers, Lewis D. Larker, John F. Heins, L. A. Coulter, Mrs. J. B. Harris, J. S. Harris.

The following are the arrivals at the Morris House, H. McNamara, proprietor, for the week ending June 13th, 1899:

E. Haynes, C. P. Warwick, D. M. Flowe, B. M. Wedding, H. W. Ludwick, R. C. White, J. P. Morrison, J. Dove, D. P. Conard, H. L. Myers, Alfred Beck, W. A. Elliott, R. F. Smith, J. J. Cross, C. A. Kinley, A. Harris, H. C. Irwin and son, J. L. Laffer, G. C