

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"THERE'S A CHIEF AMONG YE TAKIN NOTES AND FAITH HE'LL PRENT THEM."

Nearly Drowned.

A little negro was bathing in Mr. Jay Harris's fish-pond at Springsville, last Saturday, and while he was showing another little nig how to swim got into deep water and sank to the bottom. The other little fellow, when he saw that he didn't come up again, ran to a neighbor's house, several hundred yards distant, for help. Some one went and fished up the little fellow. When asked what he was doing all the time he was on the bottom he said he was just lying there holding his breath. It didn't seem to hurt him at all.

Brick Machines to Move.

The new factory at Forest Hill is such an immense affair that all the clay suitable for brick has been used up on the brick yards near the factory, and the brick machines will have to be moved. Mr. Chapman's will be moved near to the depot, just below the junction of the street railway with the Richmond and Danville road, and surveys are being made for a side track connecting with the street railway for the convenience of hauling the brick. Mr. Watson's machine is to be moved to the Means place, a mile above the factory.

A Fatal Accident.

Last Sunday evening in No. 4 township, at the house of William Patterson (col.), a fatal accident occurred, and one that, perhaps, has no parallel. Ida Phifer, a colored girl, aged six and a-half years, was playing around an old-fashion feed cutter. The knife was thrown back, with its sharp edge standing up, and the girl fell on it, inflicting a cut half way around the body to such an extent that the intestines fell out. The liver was even cut. Dr. Fitzgerald was called in, but medical skill could do nothing. Death occurred shortly afterwards.

A Bad Piece of Business.

News comes from Wrightsville of a piece of conduct that is very discreditable to the State Guard. A party of the "soldiers" took possession of a car, defied the conductor to collect their fares, and cut the coupling of the car while the train was crossing the trestle across the sound. They did not stop there, but snatched by ladies' hats and played ball with them. It is a great pleasure to state that none of the Hornets Nest Riflemen were in that gang. Our information comes from one who witnessed the scenes. That crowd ought to be wadded out of the State Guard.—Charlotte News.

They Got Him.

Our sheriff and deputy are hard to beat. On the 2d of July, Jesse Lindsay and another negro tried to murder a young white man near Trinity College. Lindsay afterwards bought a ticket for Concord. Some one at the railroad celebration at Asheboro, July 4th, heard of it and notified Sheriff Probst the following Saturday. Deputy John Probst got out a warrant, and, after looking around, found Jesse near Post's Mills and lodged him in our jail. On Sunday the constable from Trinity came here on the search for his man, though he didn't know he had been arrested.

School Charts.

Our excellent State Superintendent, Major Finger, who guards the people's interest so carefully, is out in a card again defending his position in regard to the use of expensive charts in our public schools. It seems that agents have been canvassing the State, this county among others, for a chart of thirty-six pages, on nine different subjects, necessarily not much on any one subject, for which is asked the sum of $16. Major Finger takes the ground that even if the charts were good (which he does not admit) the price is too high, as they pass through several hands at a large profit for each, as is the case with all agents who travel over the country with expensive turnouts. It would be much better to spend the money adding to the comfort of the school-houses, buying desks, etc. Arrangements have been made with the publishers to supply the books recommended by the State Board much cheaper than others, and inasmuch as charts cannot be used for any considerable time it is better to use books altogether.

This excellent advice, of course, does not apply to city schools, that have abundant means to invest in all the modern appliances, but to the majority of our county schools that have no money to invest in "fancy touches" by way of experiment.

From our own personal experience we would judge that such charts as these are said to be would be of very little use to the public schools of this county.

SHORT LOCALS.

No ball playing now. This week is a hot one. Several cases of typhoid fever reported. Everybody pleased at the crop prospect.

Many public schools are in operation at this time. Only a few young men in town. They are at Wrightsville.

Communion meeting at the Reformed church last Sunday. The Baptist church is being plastered and otherwise fitted up.

The young people had a pleasant party at Mrs. Bettie Johnson's on Tuesday night.

A visiting young lady regrets right much a report in circulation—"she's engaged."

Be sure to read the call for the stockholders of the Building and Loan Association.

A boy rolling a hoop on the streets caused a runaway Wednesday. No one hurt.

The street railway has secured the services of a competent and experienced engineer.

On the stockholders' excursion last week several parties were put off for "beating their way."

We were shown this week some beautiful engraving done by Mr. Loesser. It was excellent work.

See the ad. of that excellent institution of learning, the University of North Carolina, at Chapel Hill.

Our Register of Deeds, Mr. John K. Patterson, is spending much time in adding. The tax lists are being "proved."

Union services were held in the Lutheran church last Sunday evening at 6 o'clock by Rev. J. H. Page. They will be held next Sunday night at the Presbyterian church.

Mr. John Fink, who keeps the nicest barber shop in Western North Carolina, has put up a fan that scares flies and cools "a fellow."

Carpenters are working on Mr. Coram Correll's new house on Bell Avenue. Mr. Sims' new house on the same street will be begun soon.

Mr. Bob Erwin, of Harrisburg, was kicked by a mule last week and painfully though not seriously hurt. He was clerking for Mr. R. F. Grier.

The electric lights worked rather badly for awhile, but ten minutes from Mr. Worrell set matters aright. They now shine out as brilliantly as ever.

Mr. D. H. Lowder, near Plyler's, is a good farmer. He had about 1,500 shocks of wheat and oats this season. Biscuit won't be scarce there.

Mr. Oglesby will soon put up new platform scales at Harrisburg for weighing cotton seed this fall. He is agent for the oil company in Charlotte.

Professor Sparks is to move his school from Albemarle to Monroe, having purchased the interest of Prof. Wright in the high school of that place.

The brick warehouse for cotton seed for Mr. R. A. Brown is being erected in the rear of his store by the Cotton Seed Oil Company of Charlotte.

Rev. Prof. Satterfield, president of Scotia Seminary, has invented a bedstead which for cheapness and durability is quite an invention. It can be folded up.

While the street railway builders are waiting on the dummy they are using horses to pull their flat cars in hauling ties, iron, etc. They will get there somehow.

The first bale of cotton was sold in New York last week for 16 1/2 cents. It was raised in Georgia. In this country we have just finished bragging about the first blooms.

Mr. Monroe Moose, one of the good citizens who live near Dry's Mill, was in town Wednesday. He says no rain has come amiss for them yet, and crops are fine.

Correll Bros. are fitting up their jewelry store nicely, and are having it beautifully papered in old gold. So you see they mean all they say in their new ad. this week. Read it.

Mr. William Yorke and Miss Cornelia Robinson, both of Cannonville, were married Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock by Rev. J. D. Newton, in Mrs. Henderson's parlor.

Brown Bros. have threshed their wheat. The product of about eleven acres amounted to 285 bushels. This is an average of nearly twenty-six bushels to the acre. Does farming pay?

The eight-year old young people had an ice cream party at Mrs. J. S. Fisher's Monday night. It is pleasing to see the young people put on the ways of their older sisters and brothers.

We heard a wagon drummer say he had sold at one time forty wagons to a man in Georgia to haul off his melon crop with. He had four hundred acres planted. This is a big business.

Some of the fancy "gingerbread" work on the court-house has been torn away, being rotten, and will not be replaced. Our taxpayers think they have no money to spend on fancy work.

The senior editor returns thanks to two of our most lovely young ladies (can't give names) for a handsomely arranged bouquet of beautiful flowers, which now grace our editorial desk.

Our Town Commissioners, in their meeting last Monday, contracted with Mr. W. A. Smith for enough crushed rock to fill up the hollows in Depot street, and this bug-bear will soon be in good condition. The crushed rock will be furnished at $1.75 per cubic yard.

The people of Croft, Mecklenburg county, turned out to hunt a panther said to have been prowling around that community. Later it was said to be a wolf. They haven't caught him yet.

A farmer's dog a few days since started to leave his master and follow a lawyer. "Come back here; shame on you!" exclaimed the lawyer; "stick to your profession." The dog really did look ashamed.

Mr. J. H. Snotherly, of Plyler's, writes: "While at school (Yadkin College) everything did not work right if I did not get THE STANDARD to read Saturday evenings. Many thanks for your valuable paper." Success to your paper.

Surveys will soon be made with a view to building the spur line from the depot to the factory at Forest Hill for the convenience of the large manufacturing establishment there. It will probably follow the course of the branch that rises behind the factory.

The Salisbury District Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church met at Norwood, Stany county, yesterday. Revs. Page, Sherrill and Hoyle, Messrs. Charles Montgomery, Lee Crowell and Joe Mabry attended as delegates from this place.

Every one sympathizes with Rev. Mr. Payne in his recent afflictions. Now he is called upon to mourn the loss of his little daughter, Meachlin, who died yesterday morning at the age of five months. She will be buried this morning at Lexington, N. C.

Professors D. H. Hill, Jr., and W. A. Withers, lately elected to chairs in the Agricultural and Mechanical College of this State, are both natives of Mecklenburg county, and both received their diplomas at Davidson College. They are both estimable gentlemen, and are worthy of the honor bestowed upon them.

All who remember Mrs. Bruton, the wife of Rev. D. R. Bruton, pastor of the M. E. church here, nearly twenty years ago, will regret to hear of her death, which occurred at her home in Reidsville, N. C., last Sunday morning. All who knew her speak of her as a good Christian lady.

Last Sunday nineteen carloads of watermelons passed through the Richmond and Danville railroad. On Wednesday two hundred cars are reported as having passed through, each car carrying 3,000 melons each. It seems that the Northern man shows the same weakness as the "coon."

We are glad to get any kind of local news these dry times, but we especially enjoy those that are nicely put up in paper bags. Sheriff Probst and Mr. M. H. Goodman each gave us this week some excellent grapes. These are the first of the season. Mr. Goodman's were of the Hartford variety.

A negro from near Reidsville, N. C., applied for a position in the mail service as route agent. A letter came from Johnny Breesmaker, the Postmaster-General, a few days ago, notifying him of his appointment. It found him in the penitentiary, he having in the meantime got into some mischief.

Judging from what returned Black Boys say, going to the encampment must be like Lord Chesterfield's experience in fox hunting. After his first hunt with some friends he expressed himself as having enjoyed it very much, but was very much surprised when invited to go again. He said he didn't think any one ever went twice.

Capt. Charles McDonald had his fine wheat threshed Wednesday. One field of 5 acres made 34 1/2 bushels to the acre. Another field of 6 1/2 acres yielded 19 1/2 bushels. Can anybody beat that? This was done on land that was cleared in 1780, and was so poor at one time that the corn crop gathered from it was carried in a hamper basket.

The families of Messrs. J. W. Cannon, George Lore and P. B. Fetzer enjoyed a pleasant picnic at Post's Mills, Tuesday of this week. The little folks, of whom there were about twenty, enjoyed hugely wading about in the water. Several fell in, a boat overturned and spilled several, but as it was in shallow water this only added to the fun.

Railroad men tell a pretty good thing on a hog owned by Peter Glass. Peter lives along the Richmond and Danville line, about 5 miles north of Concord, and he owns a hog that is working off its superfluous flesh daily in chasing the watermelon trains. Every time a watermelon train comes along the hog puts out after it, and goes squealing along at his level best gallop until the train leaves him out of sight. For all his running, he hasn't had a watermelon yet. Peter ought to turn him into some neighboring patch.—Charlotte News.

There are some farmers in the country who pay special attention to the raising of turnips, a crop that answers many wants. The work required to raise an abundance of turnips is less perhaps than that needed in the culture of most other crops, and besides quite a nice table vegetable that can be preserved and fed all during the winter to stock. Let the farmers try this and see how much corn and roughings can be saved. This is "shade farming," but good so far as it goes.

J. L. Hartzell and Robert Cannon spent Sunday and Monday at Misenheimer Springs. About twenty-five people are there.

People You Know.

Mr. Elam King was in Charlotte Tuesday.

Mr. W. M. Worrell came back to Concord Wednesday.

Miss Ettie Gibson returned from Winston Wednesday.

Col. Paul B. Means visited the encampment this week.

Miss Clara Harris has returned from a visit to Winston.

Miss Belle Hall, of Charlotte, is visiting Mrs. C. T. Troy.

Miss Daisy Groner has returned from a visit to Charlotte.

Mr. Ed. McDonald, of Charlotte, has been here several days.

Miss Maggie Bessent is on a visit to friends in Davie county.

Esquire H. S. Puryear went to Asheville Tuesday on business.

Miss Elva Pharr, of Charlotte, visited Miss Lily Patterson this week.

Mr. Charlie Fetzer and family, of Reidsville, have been visiting in town.

Mr. R. B. Hunter, of the Mecklenburg Times, spent several days in town.

Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Bikle, of Dallas, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. G. W. Means.

Mr. Jerry Dreher, of Mt. Pleasant, a recent graduate of that place, was in town yesterday.

Dr. Herring and Mr. Q. E. Smith came home Saturday night from "the war" at Wrightsville.

Miss Mamie McDonald and Miss Daisy King, of Mecklenburg county, are visiting at Mrs. Virginia Erwin's.

Mr. John Ritchie, of the Cabarrus Black Boys, returned Tuesday night. It takes a mighty good excuse to get off, they say.

Mrs. James Boylen (nee Miss Luke Blair) and Miss Anna Blair, of Wadesboro, are visiting Dr. D. D. Johnson's family.

Mr. Alex. McDonald, ex-register of deeds for Richmond county, spent Saturday night and Sunday at the St. Cloud. What for?

Miss Annie Swygert, who has been visiting Miss Essie Fisher and other school-mates, left Wednesday night for her home in Columbia.

Dr. D. G. Caldwell, of Tulin, the surgeon of the Black Boys, returned from the encampment Monday night. He reports an enjoyable time.

Mrs. Charles J. Harris and Mrs. Jay B. Harris, of Springsville, left for the latter's former home in the Valley of Virginia on Tuesday.

Messrs. J. M. and W. R. Odell were both sick a day or two this week and unable to give their personal attention to their business.

Mr. James C. Gibson and family are spending some time in Yadkin county. Mr. Gibson very seldom leaves his office, and his friends in the court-house will miss him much.

Capt. W. A. Barrier, of Charlotte, and one of the most prominent teachers in the State, passed through town Wednesday morning on his way to Mt. Pleasant.

Rev. W. A. Lutz passed through Concord Wednesday on his way to Severn, S. C., where on Thursday he officiated at the marriage of Mr. J. Mc. Deaton, of Enochville, N. C., to Miss Carrie Morgan. To this young couple THE STANDARD wishes all the good things of this life.

Mr. Hunter's Lectures.

Mr. R. B. Hunter, of the Mecklenburg Times, who has been sent out on a lecturing tour by the Executive committee of the State Alliance, has been in our county nearly all the week, and his lectures have been much enjoyed by our people. He lectured at Mt. Gilead on Tuesday, at Poplar Tent Wednesday, at St. John's Thursday, and at Sossamon's to-day. We wish his lectures could have been postponed until later, as our people are just now in the midst of laying by their crops.

Miss Leah Blackwelder began teaching a select school near St. John's church last Monday. Much success is wished her.

Miss Jennie Blackwelder left last Saturday to visit friends and relatives around China Grove. She will remain about four weeks.

Prof. P. E. Wright came down to see us Monday. Says he has come down on a pleasure trip, and will probably stay a week or more.

Your correspondent would like to ask some more learned heads than his if Job was not an "old-field" school-teacher, for he thinks that if he was not he certainly missed his vocation.

North Carolina College has adopted a uniform to be worn by its pupils next year. Judging by the description of it, which was given your correspondent, it must be a very beautiful one.

Work is now going on rapidly at the Female Seminary, and the building is taking stupendous proportions. Your correspondent saw on last Saturday a cut of the seminary as it will be when completed, and he can candidly say that it will be a magnificent as well as commodious edifice, and such as will be an ornament to this place. The architecture is the latest and most improved.

Mrs. Margaret Barrier died Sunday night after a couple of years illness. The funeral was to have been preached at the Lutheran church, but owing to some trouble in getting the coffin, the procession reached town too late, and they proceeded to the Lutheran cemetery, where the burial services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Wise, and her body laid to rest to await the final resurrection. "The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord."

Geo. E. Ritchie, President. J. F. Willeford, Sec. and Treas.

The Board of Trustees of North Carolina College met Wednesday to arrange some business relative to the election of some new members of the faculty.

Some Gold.

Mr. Charles Muse, of Flowe's, in No. 10, is always hunting gold; it is his business and it pays him. The soil of No. 10 has much free gold, and a number of parties having been making a splendid living at "washing." Two weeks ago Mr. M. found a nugget which he sold Dr. Flowe for $26. Many fine specimens have been found in that section, some much finer and larger than Mr. Muse's recent find.

Hotel Arrivals.

The following are the arrivals at the St. Cloud Hotel for the week ending July 18th, 1889:
