GOME AND GONE.

BY T. F. WATSON.

Long ago the two Walked under the sunset red— Will you love as I love you?
I will love you better, she said.

A young day pledged its best, Gave it, and then grew old; A hand drew from the west All its glory of gold.

Oh, Giver, let her stay There she has proven her worth

Oh, call her not away, I need her here on earth. A star ran down the sky

And entered into a room: A soul went forth to try
The trail it made in the gloom.

He and another gentleman were in a buggy coming to town, when they were run into by a shoulder, dislocating the latter, and badly disfiguring the former. His companion escaped unhurt.-Charlotte Chronicle.

Delegate J. L. Bryan, of Wilkes county, created a sensation in the House today by loudly refusing to occupy the seat which was assigned to him between two colored members. All other seats having been taken no other could be furnished him, and he left the hall in disgust, and his seat has been vacant all day. He openly declared that he will not occupy that seat and will quit the Legislature first. He is a well known Regublican politician of Wilkes county.-Raleigh correspondent of Richmond Times.

The necessity, at times, for medical treatment is as evident and pressing as any other necessity, and it is for this reason that we would earnestly caution our readers against the use of any but the most approved remedies. Irreparable injury is often done by placing confidence in medi-cines which, although new and preteatious, are often worthless. It is the almost inevitable failure of these compounds that throws discredit upon pharmacy and medical science in general. Physicians are now of the opinion that many diseases are the result of a morbid inheritance or contagion, and that the only rational and effective way of curing these complaints is to produce a radical change in the vital fluid. The prevalence, for example, of scrofula is the most prolific cause of consumption. A specific that expels the hereditary taint of scrofula from the blood is, therefore, a preventive of consumption. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla has repeatedly proved itself such a specific is a

PREVALENCE OF ILL-HEALTH.

A distinguished physician has reon the most satisfactory and reliable vidence, that "the faithful use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla will thoroughly eradicate scrofula." He further asserts: I have used it as an alterative and od-purifier, and must say that I estly believe it to be the best bloodmedicine ever compounded." This tes-imony, which has been re-affirmed by hundreds of others, should be sufficient to induce all who are of scrofulous habit o resort, without delay, to the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Another malady very prevalent in the United States is catarrh. This is also a blood disease, and one of the most stubborn with which physicians have to contend. We have been repeatedly as-sured, however, that the persistent use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla effectually expels from the system this most disgusting and dangerous complaint. In a word, the way to health is through the purification of the blood which nourishes the whole system. Try Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
