SHORT LOCALS.

Hurry Your children Off to school. It is unkind to Keep them out. To Children, what your work is to you, is business. See That they go and go every day. Life is too short for boys and girls Monkeying around in idleness. Mr. Robt. Phifer is in the city. Harry Fryling is here on a visit. Two more arrivals at Hotel John-son—they are in for retailing spirit, 1891 is burning its last ember—December. Measles are still on top in Mt. Pleasant. Mis. Biggers, of No. 5, died Tuesday night of dropsy. There will be a number of busi-ness changes the first of the year. Albamarle Academy will close its session with a drama, "Among the breakers."

The thirteen lone spay still stand at the depot. They say there are ghosts around them. Throughout the world 35,000,000 die annually; but it is comforting that more are born. W. H. Thomas, a citizen of Union county, has moved his family to Forest Hill, where they work in the Odell mills. H. C. Crowell, of New London, and brother of Lawyer Crowell, spent a day in town. Useful, but not ornamental, are most people, if they live up to the mission of life. Geo. W. Thompson, the oldest living trustee of Wake Forest Col-lege, died a few days ago at the age of 88 years. St. John's Grange will, at an early day, celebrate its 19th anni-versary. This is among the oldest living granges in the State. G. O. Lentz, of No. 7, a fine horse-colar maker, was in town. He complains of a scarcity of leather, such as is used for making collars. It is said that the management of the Southern Inter States exposition cleared $17,000 out of their imposi-tion. Charlie Dry will soon take charge of the hardware store, in Albemar-le. The style of the firm will be Dry & Wadsworth. Rufus Beaver, of China Grove, was in town looking after Charlie Brucner's horse, that was stolen Thursday night. It was reported that Rev. Mr. Stuart, Sam Jones' assistant was dead. A Mr. Stuart died in Bristol, Tenn. but he was not the Rev. Geo. R. R. Two South Carolina students of North Carolina College have gone home to spend Xmas. They passed through Concord. It appears that Charlotte's barrooms are doomed, the County Commission-ers having thus far refused to issue license. Ed. White, after tussling with the grip, at home, about two weeks, has returned to town. White killed a fox, in commemoration of his vic-tory over the grippie. It is said that the new silver half dollar will be much more handsome than the old ones: It's not the looks we are after but the quantity. Having temporarily slipped out of the office, a plate of kraut was sent up for us to sample. Our devil pookook freely of it. At this writing his temperature is 112. Respiration, 42. The automatic weighing machine at the depot has been gutted. A sack of coppers was taken out. They dress the thing about every three weeks. Ain't the railroad company sharp? Quail shooting, by some, is a profitable business. A man killed ninety in a little over a half day and brought them to town. He sold them at 8 cents, or $7.20 for the lot. This fellow shoots 'em in a pile and not on the wing. As our museum is intended to encourage science and the liberal arts, it is not taxable. They have been trying to run the whole shebang on that basis, but there is either a hitch in the law or a cog missing in the sheriff's understanding. An exchange says: More boys are sent to devil by cross school teachers and cranky parents than any body dreams of. The keeper of the gates of sin have long ago learned that vinegar won't catch flies, and by using molasses they succeed in gather-ing in all those whom the vinegar has driven from the school house and the home. Rev. J. T. Abernethy, the pastor of the M. E. circuit (Snow Hill) Greene county, was shot by W. E. Grimsley for kissing Grimsley's wife. He and his wife were about to separate; and being concealed in the house when the preacher kissed his wife, Grimsley raised up and shot him in the face with bird shot. The Goldsboro' Headlight says that there is an old lady residing in Wayne county who is 93 years old, was never married, reads without glasses, can walk a mile without stopping to rest and is in excellent health. Isn't that a great and oron-ing consolation to the old maids and warning to fickle girls who contem-plate an early marriage. Rev. J. W. Thomas, pastor of the colored Methodist church, called to say that he wants the Standard to say that he greatly appreciates the kindness of the committee who al-owed him to preach in the school building at Coalburg. Now that the colored graded school occupies the building, the congregation has had to move to a room in Calvin Mont-gomery's house.

FOUR OF A FAMILY BURNED.

The Mother and Three Children in Almost a Hopeless Condition. About 12:30 o'clock on Wednesday last, the same day of the night on which Mr. Cameron's barn was burned, a very distressing burning accident occurred at the home of S. N. Lashley, living in the same neighborhood of Statesville. On that day and about the time named, Mrs. Lashley was engaged in putting a boiling pot upon the fire when her dress caught fire and but for the fact that she had on a thick woolen under shirt she would have been burned to a crisp. In her efforts to extinguish the flame she was burned terribly about the hands and arms. Her finger nails were burnt off and the skin is now sloughing off her hands. Her three children, two boys and a girl, the eldest about twelve years old, James, Dick and Alice, went to her rescue and used their best en-deavors to save their mother. They were also burned in a terrible man-ner about the hands. Dick Lashley is now at the resi-dence of C. G. Ross, in Durham, and is unable to feed himself, his hands being in such a blistered and burned condition.—Durham Sun.

NEWS COMES FROM THE SOUTHERN part of the county to the effect that there is pain and aches in the house of John H. Long, the County Sur-veyor. Last Monday Esq. Long's son, Murray, about 15 years of age, while going to the spring with other school boys, was tripped, and in the fall one leg was broken between the knee and ankle. On the following day Surveyor Long was running his saw mill, and in moving some logs the Surveyor got a big toe divided up into two pieces. Verily this family is now in rags. Child Burned to Death. Last Friday, near Smith's ford, the three year old son of Robert L. and Lottie Hartsell, was burned to death. The child being left in the house while its mother went for a bucket of water, its clothes caught fire. It immediately ran to meet its mother, and she ran to it, but failed to reach it in time to save its life. Fully two-thirds of the sur-face of the child's body was burned. Death came to its relief on Saturday, about twenty-four hours after the accident occurred. The child's father is a brother of Mr. J. L. Har-sell, of this city.

ITEMS FROM GILLESBORO. Times are very good here now. A gold mine makes times lively. Hon. Jesse R. Forbes, state senator elect of Coahon county, Ohio, left here for his home last Saturday. He had been superintending the Barringer mine, and having a new pump put in. He made many friends during his short stay here. Sam and Cope Culp bagged 15 rabbits the other day in a few hours, and they were monstrous big ones, too. The news is very flattering about the Roanoke and Southern Railroad. No one seems to object seriously. We hope the subscription will be voted and the road built. The Gladstone Milling and Mining Company is receiving a good patronage. I am sorry that the editor lost his items. Can't see what he was dreaming of. However, we will excuse him this time. Rev. G. H. Cox, of Mt. Pleasant, marries more couples than any other preacher. He came from Mt. Pleasant to Gladstone to marry Charles Barringer and Miss Maggie Culp. The reporter at Gladstone prom-ises not to tell on the editor any more when he sees him pass by en route for Norwood. Miss Mattie Doby, of Jackson Hill, is teaching school at the Eddy school house near here. GETTING TOUGH. Rev. J. T. Abernethy, the Snow Hill minister, who was shot by W. T. Grimsley for kissing Mrs. Grimsley, met the injured husband on the street yesterday and both opened fire with revolvers, four shots taking effect about Abernethy's face and one in Grimsley's thigh. Great excitement prevails in the Snow Hill section. Both were arrested. Aber-nethy resigned his pastoral charge immediately after the former diffi-culty. THE ABSENT CASHER. United States District Attorney Charles A. Cook, who arrived from Wilmington yesterday, was seen by your correspondent today in refer-ence to reports that he had instituted some criminal proceedings against Cashier Bowden and perhaps other persons connected with the wrecked First National Bank at Wilmington. Mr. Cook says he has issued no pa-pers against Bowden. No one knows yet where the cashier is. It is said that even his family does not know whereabouts. The Sheriff of New Hanover has levied upon all his property at the instance of the Wil-mington Savings Bank.—Raleigh man.

Circumstantial Evidence

LANDS TWO YOUNG WHITE MEN IN TO THE PEN. Jas. Stutts and Giles Williamson, of Montgomery County, go to the Penitentiary for four years, for having Attempted to Wreck a Train. Col. Frank Page, brother of Rev. Jesse H. Page, formerly pastor of the Central M. E. Church, owns a rail-road in Montgomery and Moore counties—the "West End and Aber-deen railroad," twenty five miles long. On the 16th day of October, 1890, a passenger train with many passen-gers from the State Fair at Raleigh, was nearing Candor, a small town in Montgomery County. It had been raining and the wind having blown severely, the engineer was running only eight miles to the hour. The glass of the cab was dimmed by rain drops to such an extent that the engineer could scarcely see twenty yards ahead of him. Without a particle of warning, the engineer saw a log across the track—he reversed the engine and blew brakes. The pilot of the en-gine knocked the log from the track. Twenty feet from this was a cross tie, but not yet had the engineer suc-ceeded in stopping the train. Fifty feet from this was a log cut wedged shape, with the point turn-ed towards the coming train. The engineer believing that his end had come, still held on to his post. When the engine struck this last wedge it was pushed ten or 15 feet across the ties, but finally got under the pilot, which stopped the train without derailing the cars. The escape from a fearful wreck is almost miraculous. SUSPICION POINTEO To two young men, Jas. Stutts and Giles Williamson, aged 25 and 21 respectively, one of them married. They were placed in jail. And the case was postponed from one court to another, by the defense. The case came on for trial at Troy last week. The defense was repre-sented by M. S. Robins, Brown and Blair and Col. Jordan. Solicitor Long was assisted by Shaw and Soales. The young men were found guilty. Out of consideration of the facts that they had been in jail for 14 months and were young men, Judge Armfield sentenced them to the penitentiary for 4 years each.

ANOTHER MAN That was in the scrape has not been caught. As several lawyers were going from Troy to Albamarle, on Satur-day evening, a gentleman told them that there was a man in the neigh-borhood who knew all about it. And he said he saw the obstructions and begged the parties to remove them, and they promising to do it and forcing him to leave, he did leave. It is gratifying that the guilty parties will pay for their diabolical sport. GAVE UP THE CONTENT. The whiskey license business in Charlotte is about settled, so far as the County Commissioners are con-cerned. It was expected that the battle would be revived this morn-ing, but it seems that after reflect-ing over the proceedings of the past week, the liquor men concluded that there is no use in further trying to find a hole in the armor under which the present board of commissioners are enconced, and they withdrew from the field. It was a hopeless case from the start, for three of the five commissioners are set in their views not to grant license to any man who cannot prove a good moral character, and as they hold that any man who expresses a desire to sell whiskey cannot have a good moral character, it is theirs to say to him nay, no matter who he may be. This fact finally dawned upon the liquor men, and they gave up the fight.—Charlotte News.

A SMART DOG. Mr. F. Minnaugh, the popular Patton avenue merchant, owns a very smart dog. When Mr. Min-naugh is short on apples or other fruits, he orders the dog, Frank, a fine setter, to go to a neighbors store and bring what he wants, and he does it. He was bragging upon the intelligence of Frank a few days ago to a lady friend, who is a very strong prohibitionist, and said he could give Frank a note to Hill & Shank's meat market and the dog would go and get his dinner. The good lady doubted this, and Mr. M. wrote the note and told him where to go and for what. The dog took the note, listened attentively to in-structions and started off, and to the disgust of Mr. Minnaugh trot-ting directly to Frank O'Donnell's bar room. The good lady thinks even the dogs are being corrupted.—Asheville Citizen.

THE SINGING SCHOOLS. The singing school by G. P. Jones, in the basement of the Presbyterian church, is very successful. The number of pupils is about 50.

EX-CORNERACKER

Writes an Interesting Letter, and Talks About Flogging. A young man, Henry Furr by name, ran a horse race last Saturday evening near Esq. McEachern's and was thrown violently against the iron hinge of a gate post—but Furr's head is done up in a rag. The next alteration in our mail route will make Clear Creek post office the terminus, giving us three mails a week instead of two. Flowe's Store will also be swung into line with us, thus giving us direct mail facilities from here to that city. They were all down on the branch picking cotton. Boyd, little son of Robert Gourley, had just picked up a rock with some gold in it. Mrs. Willie Gourley remarked that if she could find a piece worth a dollar she would pick no more cotton that day. She did not expect to find any thing of the sort; but in less than ten steps from where she stood, in the row she was picking on, lay a rock, and she found it. The rock was be-tween the size of a hen egg and a sledge hammer, but resembling neither. It had gold in it to the tune of somewhere near twenty dollars. There is a rich vein here, and ye that love to root in the dirt in quest of the precious metal, would do well to in-vest a few thousand in it. Mr. W. B. Small killed his pig pig some days ago. It weighed 545 pounds. He sent it to Monroe, but not having made any previous ar-rangements to sell it in that market, had to bring it back home. In fact, they say Monroe is all run down at the heel and is not able to buy a pig. Dr. R. J. Caldwell moved to Mooreville last week, and Mr. Lane Black has moved into the doctor's house here. This has been a good year. The cot-ton crop is the only thing that lag-ged. Think of the abundance of fruit, grain and vegetables, and persimmons and "warnits." We can just shut our eyes and start in any direction and we will find something to eat. If it is served up properly there is nothing better to eat than the Mongolian fruit of the pumpkin vine—but law, we don't have to eat that if we don't want to. Persim-mons are good in pudding, and walnuts go well between meals. Acorns are pretty tough, but to keep up appearances, Gen. Jackson eat them and went on about his business with-out a murmur. Esq. H. C. Cook begins teaching a public school today (Monday) in Mecklenburg, with Robert Klutts as assistant. It is very plain that the Standard man will never again aspire for the emulous position of school master, else why should he go at them so red eyed? He knows if he were a teacher, and was to brandish the war club over his scholars with such gloating rapacity, as one might infer he would do, from his recent article on "Flogging," that the parents would all be mad at him and the children all scared at him. We do not deny that the Standard is a hummer and all that sort of thing, but might it not be mistaken when it says a man who does not flog is a crank? We have taught contin-uously for eighteen years, and have never taught a term without having to whip some, but usually very little; yet it does not go to prove that every teacher must flog because another one did? I wish to be un-derstood when I say I do not believe in too free an exercise of the rod. A man may be compelled to resort to methods of correction in the school room that he does not like. Some children are whipped at home for the most trivial offences. That is not instruction. If children are properly instructed, as a rule they need little thrashing. Those chil-dren who get a licking for every mistake, are invariably the meanest children on earth; those that get along over the "thorny path" of childhood without knowing the stimulating sensation of the chas-tening rod are good children—usually good for nothing. There seems to be a happy medium for us to observe, then, in the exercise of a prerogative that should be held as one of the most sacred duties of parent and teacher—not too much nor too little, but give it to them every time they need it. H. T. B.

THE SCHENCK'S ACQUITTED. The following is a telegram sent the Standard Tuesday morning, by the Western Union, the monopolistic old kuas, delivered it at 6 p. m. Greensboro, N. C. Dec. 15, '91. In Schenck-Fife matter, Doctor Schenck submitted; Judge Schenck and David Schenck Jr. were acquit-ted by Jury. Doctor Schenck fined a penny and cost by Judge Brown. M.

TAXES. Strictly Business. The taxes are due and must be paid. The school taxes are due on the 31st of December, and the State taxes on the 1st of January. CERTAINLY BUSINESS.

The end of the year cometh—obligations hangeth—many patrons have seen me not—come in friends—every little helps—this is not an idle call, but one made by necessity. Yours forever, JIM COOK.

Notice of Dissolution. On the 1st of December, the firm of J. O. Witherspoon & Co., of Coddle Creek, was dissolved by mutual consent. M. F. Nesbit of the firm dis-posed of his entire interest in goods, notes, accounts and all other property belonging to the firm do-ing business at Coddle Creek, to J. O. Witherspoon, B. W. Pressly and J. D. Miller, doing business under the firm name of J. O. Witherspoon & Co., who become responsible for all liabilities of the old firm. M. F. NESBIT, B. W. PRESSLY, J. O. WITHERSPOON, T. D. MILLER. Dec. 7, '91. I beg of my friends, who have so liberally patronized the old firm, that they give to the new firm the same patronage. I feel that such will be given. With thanks for the favors so liberally given. I am Very Respectfully, M. F. NESBIT.
