THE REFORMATORY.

Two years ago, the Standard suggested the need and humanity of a Reformatory for the youthful criminals in North Carolina. We had articles from time to time on the subject. The State press, generally, commented on the suggestion—the most of them favored it.

About ten months ago the ministers of our town discussed the matter in its different phases, through the columns of the Standard.

A kind friend in Charlotte, a general in more ways than one, sent the Standard's first article on a Reformatory to Gov. Fowle for his earnest consideration. He considered the need of such an institution so great that he called attention to it in his annual message in a no uncertain tone.

Now, then, the Teachers Assembly (a power in the land) has undertaken a campaign on the issue, we may expect to see the matter as some more than a theoretical shape.

IN MEMORIAM.

Died in Concord, N. C., June 29, 1892, Samuel Campbell, youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Brown, in the fifth year of his age.

A remarkably bright, beautiful life, has been taken away from us. Little Sam will be greatly missed by his admiring friends, and the dear earthly home is so sad and desolate without him; but Heaven has gained a bright jewel, and our loss is his eternal gain. "It is well with the child," for that Divine Voice that said, "suffer the children to come unto me, and forbid them not"—has called the dear little boy to be ever with the Lord. God help us all to say, "thy will be done," and bless this great sorrow to the eternal good of the sadly afflicted family.

PASTOR.

ADJUTANT. Sun has this to say of the name of the Democratic candidate for Vice-President:

"The singular name of the Democratic candidate for Vice-President is attracting attention. It is pronounced in three syllables. 'Adlai' and is a biblical name. It means 'this just,' or, as some have it, 'my ornament.' Adlai in the Bible was the father of Shaphat, who was one of King David's officials and had charge over the herds that were in the valleys. He is mentioned in First Chronicles, xxvii, 29."

STANDARDISM.

The Hat is fencing Indiana. He brings Mr. Foster, of that State to take the place of Jas. G. Blaine, in the President's Cabinet.

Political excitement is just normal now. It is too hot to become excited.

"Adlai" is a popular name. "Grover" is a mighty easy word to spell and pronounce.

HOW NORTH CAROLINA FEELS.

To the Editor of the Morning Advertiser: If you have any influence whatever upon Grover Cleveland induce him, for sweet heaven's sake, to omit the subject of the force bill from his forthcoming letter of acceptance. Southern democrats want none of his lame platitudes now, acceptable as they might have been once. We are no longer afraid of the force bill. Time has taken the scare out of it, but it hasn't made us forget Grover's cowardly silence when we thought we needed his help. There are fifty thousand democrats in this state who hate him for the friends he has made, and will take Brother Dana's alternative, preferring "gentleman Harrison with a force bill in his pocket" to the devil.

A NORTH CAROLINA DEMOCRAT. Concord, N. C., June 25.

It may be true that there is a disgruntled democrat at Concord who would say, in ambush, that the South wants a force bill, but we dare say that the so-called "North Carolina Democrat" will not sign his name to the above.

The head "How North Carolina Feels" is doubtless a thought of the New York Advertiser, and it might be well to suggest just here that one Concord mugwump is not North Carolina by a jug full. [Who is this North Carolina Democrat? Trot him out.]

A Chicago man recently saved his life by carrying a roll of one hundred dollar bills inside his vest when a bullet came that way. Yet there are people who neglect so simple a precaution.

The Goldsboro Argus says that Congressman Grady has concluded to appoint to the clerkship at West Point Frank Oliver, of Mt. Olive, who stood second in the recent examination, rather than his own son, Henry Grady, who stood first in the examination.

SUPPRESSED BY LOVE.

For Forty Years a man Tracked the Murderer of His Wife. After a patient, weary search extending over a period of nearly forty years, Charles Hartley, of Oswego, N. Y., a few days ago at this point ended a period in his eventful life by arresting Allen Hartley, a cousin, charged with the murder of his wife two-score years ago, says an Ellenwood, (R. C.) correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer.

The man arrested is an old resident of this city. He lived here nearly twelve years. He married two years ago, and has been successful in the accumulation of a comfortable fortune. Four years ago he married a well known lady of this place. Back of it is a story tinged with romance and gilded by a crime so remarkable in its details that it furnishes a chapter in criminal history.

Allen Hartley is now an old man of nearly seventy. When his locks were raven and his beard was young he married a charming young lady, the belle of the small interior town in New York where both resided. Charles Hartley, the cousin, who yesterday, after such a lapse of years, caused the arrest of Allen was an unsuccessful suitor. Though denied all hope by the marriage of his cousin with the girl, he still loved, and this flame, kept burning through the years, caused the tracking down and arrest of the wife murderer.

Thirty-nine years ago next May, Hartley bade his friends a hasty farewell, and at the same time informed them that, with his wife, he was going West to seek his fortune. No one saw the couple leave the town, and finally murmurs of something wrong increased to open gossip. Charges of foul play were freely made, but there were none to prove them, and at length they died away.

When, later, the house in which the Hartleys had lived was being repaired, and there was found in the skeleton vault beneath it the casket of Agnes Hartley, the town went mad. But the murderer was gone and there was no trace. Chas. Hartley swore to hunt him down if it took a lifetime and his fortune. It required forty years of one and nearly as many thousands dollars of the other, but success has at last rewarded the long search.

An Indiana Man Succeeds Blaine as Secretary of State.

Washington, D. C., June 29.—The President today sent to the senate the nomination of John W. Foster, of Indiana, to be secretary of State.

What Pleases a Woman.

It pleases her to be called a sensible little woman. It pleases her to be called a well-dressed woman. It pleases her to be told that she is dangerously fascinating. It pleases her to be told that she inspires a man by her companionship. It pleases her to depend on some man and pretend she is ruling him. It pleases her to be treated courteously and with respect, and be talked to reasonably. It pleases her to be treated sensibly and honestly, to be consulted and questioned and not to be treated as a butterfly, with no head, no heart. It pleases her to be loved and admired by a man who is strong enough to rule and subdue her and make his way her way. To lead her and take care of her.

Drunkards to Be Reformed in Raleigh. An institute similar to the Keely Institute at Greensboro is to be established in Raleigh. Dr. Palmer, recently of the Keely Institute of Greensboro has arrived there and will in a few days establish the Biddell Institute for the cure of drunkards. The method of treatment is said to be similar to that of the Keely and the gold fluid is used. Three patients for the treatment have already applied and the institute will be in operation at an early date.

ITEMS OF GENERAL NATURE.

The census returns show that in the State of Virginia the surplus of women is only 39.

A bill to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy has been reported to the House. It is a modification of the Torrey bill.

A leather trust has been organized whose headquarters will be New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Chicago.

The One Supreme Issue.

The tariff is a very important subject, no doubt. So is silver. So is the civil service. So, too, is liquor prohibition. So is the personal character of the respective candidates; and so are their antecedents and peculiarities.

But there is another issue so much more vital, so much more important, so much more effective in its appeal to the intellect and the heart of the voters that while it remains alive, it towers above all other issues, actual or even possible, as the highest Andes tower above the sea beach below their base, or the poison of the rattlesnake surpasses in deadly menace the infection of the itch.

Shall the white people of the Southern States be subjected, through a Federal law, to the honor and the humiliation of negro rule?

Shall the destinies everywhere be controlled by Federal crookedness?

These are the two sides of this all-absorbing, all-shadowing question. Be it said that this is a trifle. Be it said that this is a farce, the qualification of the candidates a mere meaningless sign.

No more perilous issue was ever tendered to the American people by a Federal and Federal party. Seclusion itself was no more pregnant with mischief. Nothing else should be thought of until this supreme issue, framed by folly and proposed by madness, has been killed at the polls and put to rest forever.

Arrested at Newton.

A negro was arrested at Newton yesterday, supposed to be the scoundrel who committed the assault on Mrs. W. L. Klitz, near Faith, this county, about two weeks ago. Sheriff Monroe this morning received a telegram from the sheriff at Newton saying: "Am holding a negro filling description of the one who assaulted Mrs. Klitz. Come and identify him. Gives name, Henry Brooks." Deputy R. P. Roseman left on the noon train for Newton to secure him and bring him to Salisbury for identification by Mrs. Klitz.

Big Assignment in Greensboro.

Parties from Greensboro brought the news here today of the assignment last night in that city of Mr. Sample S. Brown, the largest dry goods merchant in the place. Mr. J. W. Scott is the assignee. The liabilities are thought to be over seventy thousand dollars, but the assets are not yet known. Mr. Brown has been conducting a mercantile business for a number of years. For the past few years he has dealt largely in real estate, and the depletion of some is thought to be one of the causes that lead to his failure.

Albemarle Cotton Factory.

The Stanley News has this tid of information: Mr. L. L. Lash, boss of one of the Concord knitting mills, was in our city last week looking after a site for a cotton factory. He says he will commence work on one at Swift Falls in the autumn of two weeks.

Mr. C. A. Blumke.

Mr. C. A. Blumke, who is interested in the local business, at that one will be placed upon the very day, as Mr. Lash has said the machinery you may look for at his command, and a building and site will not be long to him for here. Keep the ball rolling.

Supt. J. Blair President of the Teachers' Assembly.

Morehead City, June 29.—Supt. John J. Blair, of the Winston Graded Schools, was unanimously elected president of the Teachers' Assembly today.

They Have Their Tombstones Ready.

The Durham Globe tells this story: There are two old ladies in the suburbs of Durham who have already secured tombstones to mark their last resting place. They have their names, date of birth, etc., already engraved upon the stones, and all that remain to be done is to put the date of their death in the place arranged for it.

We knew an instance of a man having his coffin made many years before his death, and when he brought it to his home his wife cried as hard as her husband were dead and in the coffin, but the old man found use for the case while he yet lived. He used it as a receptacle for dried fruit.

These From The Wilmington Star. Ravachol, the French anarchist, now on trial for killing that restaurant keeper, pleads insanity. The general impression is that all the anarchists are insane, but the trouble is they will not admit it until they have killed some one.

War taxes in peace time are out of time and place. That seems to be a growing sentiment among the American people, and one not confined to Democrats by a long shot.

California is pretty far west, but she catches on. In feminine phrase "she is just too sweet for anything." She now comes to the front with an imitation honey, which makes the bees ashamed of themselves.

North Carolina.

Editor Messenger: Appropos of the North Carolina descent of Gen. Adlai E. Stevenson, I am surprised that no paper that I have seen has commented on the fact that there is an Adlai Stevenson living in Statesville, N. C., who, while unknown to popular fame, has a reputation that reached farther than that of his Illinois namesake. This Mr. Stevenson is known to botanists, mineralogists and archeologists the world over, is one of the most accurate authorities on those subjects, and possession of one of the finest private collections of Indian relics in this country. He has been for years in correspondence with the leading scientific men in these departments both in this country and in Europe, and classified collections have been made by him for temporary loan to European universities.

Mr. Stevenson is a gentleman of singularly modest bearing, with long silver hair falling to his shoulders and a face of sweet gentleness and dignity. He looks as if he had come out of an Old World picture, and the writer on coming out from looking at his museum remarked that the collector was even more interesting than the collection.

Wilmington, June 27, 1892.

WADSWORTH'S CHANCES GOOD.

How The Concord Southern Railroad Stands Now—There is no Doubt of it Being Built. We have today interviewed Capt. J. M. Odell, president, Mr. W. M. Smith, sec'y, and others of the Concord Southern Railroad Company and find them all in good spirits over the prospects of building the road at an early day provided the townships, through which it passes, will vote the assistance which they have been asked to give.

We stated sometime ago that this company had passed its visionary stage and had grown to be one of the live enterprises of the town, and now we know it to be one that will do more to build up the country between here and Wadesboro than anything else can.

There is now not a single township from Concord to Wadesboro but that has already had its election ordered or that will have the election ordered by the county commissioners on next Monday, and we are informed that there is scarcely any opposition to the enterprise in any township along the line.

This line will be the means of building up North Carolina College, at Mt. Pleasant, the sulphur springs at Big Lick, scores of fine mineral springs and a number of fine water powers in Tyson township, in Salisbury county, the female college at Ansonville, and will greatly improve the cotton market in Wadesboro, to say nothing of the immense quantities of valuable timber lands that it will develop.

This road when built will be a strictly home enterprise having been built by the people for the people and as there is no speculation connected with it every one will get his full share of the benefit.

The message sent informs us that as soon as the elections are over that active work will be commenced on the road and that it is now settled that if all the townships along the line vote for it that the road will be built and as there is no speculation connected with it every one will get his full share of the benefit.

We know enough about the enterprise to state as a fact that if the townships vote for it that the road will be built at the earliest possible day for we have seen at least a half a dozen offers from reliable firms who will furnish any additional assistance the Company may need. This is pretty good news, fellow citizens.

SHORT LOCALS.

Have you registered?

Mrs. D. J. Postian is quite sick.

Considerable sickness is reported among the children near Harrisburg.

Mayor Mark Morrison of Harrisburg, spent the morning in town.

The weather cleared off magnificently, or words to that effect.

Mrs. Dr. C. C. Sapp, of Statesville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. J. Postian.

Gov. Holt will enter the campaign and do all he can for the election of Elias Carr.

Mark Morrison bought himself a new Waterbury watch. He, too, carries it in his pocket.

The North Carolina delegation to the Third Party Convention left Tuesday night for Omaha.

Let us all go to the lawn party at Forest Hill, Friday night. They always do things right there.

In all candor, The Standard believes that Mr. Cleveland is not near so unpopular as it was first reported.

Hiram Alexander, colored, one of Mr. D. F. Cannon's croppers in No. 2, heads the county so far as cotton blooms are concerned. He found one on the 29th and it was a rare one.

Dr. Joe Betts (dentist), who enjoyed his babyhood at Mt. Pleasant, while his father, Rev. A. D. Betts, preached there, has been visiting those scenes again.

Forest Hill congregation have given their pastor, Rev. H. M. Blair, a month's vacation at any time during the summer he may see fit to take it.

The ladies of Forest Hill church will give a lawn party on the factory lawn, Friday evening. No admission fee. Cake, ice cream and other delicacies will be served.

The Salisbury Herald, in speaking of a marriage says: The Herald learns from a gentleman who was in Marion yesterday that the citizens are more or less indignant over the affair.

Jno. W. Johnston didn't show us any cotton blooms, but he brought in a couple of cotton bolls, this (Thursday morning), as large as walnuts. They are at Swink's store, if you doubt it.

Invitations have been issued by Miss Grace Gibson for an entertainment at her home, Friday night. It is given complimentary to her visiting friend Miss Mattie McCaughin, a deservedly popular young lady, of Newberry, S. C.

The funeral services over the remains of little Sammy, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Brown, were held at the house, by Rev. Dr. C. M. Payne. A large number of people were in attendance upon the sad occasion. The hymns sung were those that were favorites with little Sammy during life: "Precious Jewels," "Gather them in" and "I will follow Jesus." The pall bearers were: Messrs. J. W. Cannon, Jno. A. Sims, W. L. Bell and J. Whit Burkhead. The floral offerings were very beautiful.

Tonight at the hour of twelve six months of 1892 will have been knocked off—how time does fly!

Caleb Bost and daughter, of Catawba, are visiting at Mr. Tin Bosts, of Bosts Mills. Bost is a native of this county.

Mr. W. M. Smith, has returned from a week's canvass of the proposed line of the Concord Southern.

The farmers who came into town today over the Monroe road were "cursing" its awful condition, and were enthusiastic in their wishes for the early completion of the Concord Southern, so they can abandon their travel over the dirt roads.

'The Intermediate' Set.

The party given at Miss Dusenberry's to the 'Intermediate' Set, was a beautiful success. The house presented a fairy scene with the pretty little ladies and gallant little men moving here and there under the many-colored lights. The young folks were so happy and free from care as merry birds, and then this room was thrown open and each little lady found her name tied with golden ribbon to a beautiful fan, and each little gentleman was presented with a little bouquet tied with ribbon of the same golden hue. The party separated at a late hour with many offerings of thanks to their kind and genial hostess, declaring that they certainly had had a nice time.

A Brilliant Entertainment.

An elegant, brilliant and most highly enjoyable entertainment was given Wednesday night, by the charming Miss Isabella Montgomery, complimentary to her fair and very popular visitors, Misses Laura Hammond, of Charlotte, Irvin Scales and Carrie Settle, of Greensboro.

An eye witness of the entertainment at the model home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Montgomery said of the entertainment and those who played their parts well: "Girls beautiful, men handsome, decorations lovely—yellow and white predominating—supper elegant, music superb and the whole evening without a blemish."

Over 100 invitations were issued. The following ladies and gentlemen were present:

Misses Ada and Fannie Rogers, Carrie Feltzer, Lizzie Bost, Lizzie and Fanny Young, Willie and Isabella Richmond, Rose Harris, Nanette Cannon, Claude Fie her, Esther Ervin, Ada Craven, Grace Gibson, Lillian Hill, Mary Reed, and Misses Virginia Sinclair and Mary G. Morrison, of Charlotte; and Messrs. Frank Robbins, J. B. Harkey, J. F. Parker, C. R. Montgomery, Joe Goodman, H. L. Cannon, R. L. Patterson, Chas. Harris, F. L. Smith, C. L. Smith, Sam Ervin, R. L. Keeler, Jno. Reed, R. S. Wheeler, J. Y. Fitzgerald, W. C. Foust, and Messrs. A. M. Sinclair, of Charlotte and Jno. Patterson, of Salem.

Nashville, Tenn., June 29.—A special from Murfreesboro, Tenn., confirms the rumor of the lynching of the negro rapist, Tom Lylard, at Woodbury. Last night, about 11 o'clock, the mob, well organized and orderly, went to the Woodbury jail where Lylard was confined, and demanded the keys from the jailer. Meeting with no resistance they secured their man, and taking him to the bridge over Stone river hanged him therefrom. His neck was broken, and he died without a struggle.

Reformatory School Committee.

A committee was appointed by the Assembly to carry on aggressive work in favor of the establishment of a reformatory school by the State. The members of the committee are: Capt. C. B. Dixon, Dr. B. F. Dixon, Prof. J. A. Holt, Hon. H. A. Gudgeon, Dr. R. H. Lewis, Prof. J. B. Brewer, Josephus Daniels, Esq., and Lee S. Overman, Esq.

Miss Clara Oehler, after a month's visit in Rowan, is again at Mrs. J. S. Fisher's. Her many friends are glad of her return.

A prominent and admirable gentleman of Forest Hill, has shaved off his beard. He's been down street and many enquire "who is that stranger?"

Durham Globe: In attempting to catch a frog in the Yarn Farm froggery, Colonel Starrettel fell in and was drowned. He will be fished out in a day or two.

Durham Globe: W. G. Vickers has been unfortunate man. He is today called upon to bury his infant daughter, which makes the tenth child he has laid away to rest. He has the sympathy of his many friends in this sad hour.

A Clever Trick.

Several years ago the postal department was greatly annoyed by the large number of registered letters opened and their contents removed, and could get no clue to the thief. Neither the envelope of the registered letter nor the outside envelope was in any of the cases mutilated, and what made the matter worse, robberies of the same kind were reported from several postoffices at once.

The non-mutilation of the outside registry envelopes showed that the robberies were not committed while the letter was en route, so the department set detectives to watch several postoffices at which letters had arrived apparently robbed.

Finally a detective saw a registry clerk moisten the several stamps on a registered letter remove them, and with a very sharp knife cut a slit where the stamps had been, take the money from the envelopes, and then replace the stamps over the slit. That was the secret. A professional thief had put the clerk on it, as well as about a dozen at different postoffices, for a small rake off. When the stamps were carefully replaced a person could not tell that the envelope had been slit.

A Pretty Marriage.

A large crowd gathered at the Methodist church Tuesday morning despite the inclemency of the weather. At 9:15 Miss Lena Fields, one of Kingston's fairest daughters, began the grand and inspiring strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal party came down the aisle to the altar. The decorations were exquisite. Before the altar was the usual arch and just before that were the matrimonial gates, tied with ribbons. Miss Cora Fields looked very charming as she came down the centre aisle with a basket of beautiful flowers and untied the ribbons and opened the gates. She was followed by the ushers, Messrs. Herman Grainger and Arthur Harrell, and Messrs. Henry Griffin and W. R. Miller, and Messrs. Harry Overman and A. L. Griffin. Then came Mr. Charles S. Mangum, the brother of the groom, as best man, with Miss Capitola Grainger, as maid of honor. After them came the bride and groom, Miss Lola Griffin and Mr. Ernest P. Mangum. Rev. B. R. Hall, of Goldsboro, performed the ceremony in a loud, clear voice, offering the usual congratulations at its conclusion.

Miss Lena Fields played "Then you'll remember me" softly while the ceremony was being performed. At the conclusion the party drove to the depot and took the train for Chapel Hill, the home of the groom. On Monday evening an elegant reception was given at the home of Mr. C. M. Griffin.

The presents were very numerous, handsome and useful.

The groom is superintendent of Concord graded schools. He is a graduate of the University and has had several years of experience as a teacher. He is a sociable, Christian gentleman, the son of the late Dr. A. W. Mangum, professor of moral and mental philosophy in the University for fifteen years, and one of the ablest and undoubtedly the most eloquent Methodist minister in North Carolina.

Miss Griffin is the daughter of our townsman, Mr. C. M. Griffin, and was one of Kingston's most pleasant and accomplished daughters. She has special musical talent. The Free Press extends congratulations and wishes them happiness in their changed life.

North Carolina Delegates off to Omaha.

The Raleigh correspondent of this morning's Charlotte Observer says the following is a list of the North Carolina delegates to the Third party convention at Omaha, all or nearly all of whom got off last night: First district, M. G. Gregory, Robert White, M. G. Bryan and J. C. Andrews; second district, W. P. Exum, J. M. Cutchin, A. B. Nobles, G. L. Taylor; third district, J. C. McMillan, W. D. Smith, E. M. Robertson, J. H. Hines; fourth district, G. W. Smith, J. P. Bell, Eli Godwin, W. A. White; fifth district, T. J. Oldham, W. R. Lindsay, W. D. Smith, J. B. Smith; sixth district, W. H. Odum; seventh district, H. A. Forney, J. M. Parks, "Ped" Thomas, H. M. Leazer; eighth district, L. N. Durham, A. G. Thompson, W. W. Teague, R. A. Cobb; ninth district, J. G. Yancey, A. M. Parker, W. H. Malone, W. A. Robertson.

Correctly Informed.

She—I understood that you and Nellie are married and happy. He—Yes; that is, she's happy and I am married.

This Gay Remark to a Bride Causes Death in Texas.

San Antonio, Texas, June 29.—Jordan Bennett was shot through the body by John Good at Alpine yesterday. Bennett returned the fire and wounded Good in the hip. Bennett will die. The trouble between the men arose over the marriage of Bennett to Miss Josie Darling Monday.

Good met the couple yesterday and remarked, "Well, Josie, you've got a man at last." The bridegroom immediately reached for his pistol and Good shot him.

Graduated With Distinction.

The Norwood Vidette says this of a Stanley young man: Mr. Geo. C. Barnhardt, son of M. L. Barnhardt, of this place, arrived home from West Point, N. Y., Saturday evening. His many friends were glad to greet him. He has completed his 4 years course at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. He graduated with distinction in a class of 22. He has been commissioned as 2nd Lieutenant in the U. S. Army. His post of duty has not as yet been assigned him. He will remain at home on furlough until October 1st.

Col. Johnston's Views.

Col. Wm. Johnston, who is at all times liberal in his views on political questions and office seekers, and to a News reporter this morning that he could not see how a southern man could hesitate for a vote to which of the presidential nominees he should support. Col. Johnston says that Cleveland has the people with him as was proven at the Chicago convention and that most of Harrison's strength is with those he has elevated to office, and a few second hand politicians. Col. Johnston says that Cleveland shall have his vote from the fact that a true Southern man cannot with any degree of self-respect, vote for Harrison and his force bill.

The Index of Real Estate.

In the autumn the new and greatly needed index of the deeds, mortgages etc., in the office the Register of deeds, will begin. It will be a voluminous affair, covering 60,000 names each way it is estimated, and filling ten large volumes. Each man will be twice indexed so as to show the name of the maker of the paper and the person to whom it is made. The work will be done by register Mial. A good deal of the material is already prepared. The cost of the index will approximate $1,500, it is stated. The greater part of the old index is useless. It is all very cumbersome. Many names will be dropped in the new index, where settlements have been made. The new index will be solely of real estate, and not of personal property.

Correctly Informed.

She—I understood that you and Nellie are married and happy. He—Yes; that is, she's happy and I am married.

Cures Others

Will cure you, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which represent dealers will recommend, and respectably upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equaled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the latent hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. Jarnum, 33 William St., New York City.

Will Cure You
