

DEDICATED TO GOD.

Splendid New Chapel is Completed.

The dedication of the Cannonville M E chapel, Sunday evening, was an interesting service and largely attended by people from all churches of the town.

The singing was inspiring. The local choir was assisted by Messrs T L Ross, J F Honeycutt, J A Blackwelder, E P Mangum, J C Fink, L D Duval and R P Benson of up town. Miss Maude Robbins, in her own inimitable grace and sweetness, sang a solo.

Dr. Payne, of the Presbyterian church, Rev. Simpson, Rev. J J R and Dr. Bays sat upon the rostrum.

The official board of the Central M E church occupied chairs around the pulpit; and Mr. L D Duval of the building committee read an interesting report. The cost was nearly $800; the present indebtedness is $238.50 and the assets $172.00, making a balance due of $56.50, which sum is guaranteed by several members of the church.

Dr. Payne delivered a fervent prayer, scripture read by Rev. Renn, hymn read by Dr. Bays, who made a few remarks.

Presiding Elder Renn then preached an instructive sermon from the 41 verse of the sixth chapter of 2nd Chronicles.

Esp. C G Montgomery then presented the chapel to the Conference and Rev. Renn, according to the Discipline, received it.

Six weeks ago there was a vacant spot in Cannonville near the cotton mills—today a splendid, neat and commodious chapel graces that spot. It is but an additional evidence of the indomitable energy of Rev. Dr. H W Bays, pastor of the Central M E church—He did the engineering and he did it admirably. The Standard congratulates the congregation upon its having such an earnest and untiring pastor, whose whole life seems given to church work. The congregation at Cannonville especially is to be congratulated upon its new house of worship.

The crowd at the dedication Sunday was too large to be seated.

David Dudley Field on Cleveland.

In November Mr. David Dudley Field announced that he would vote for Cleveland. Assuming that the candidates of the two parties were equally sincere and patriotic the distinguished jurist and publicist declared that his choice was determined by the policy which each represented. "In my view," he said, "Mr. Harrison represents paternal government; Mr. Cleveland constitutional government; Mr. Harrison industrial monopoly; Mr. Cleveland industrial freedom; Mr. Harrison holds, or his party holds for him, that the government should take care of the people; Mr. Cleveland holds, and his party holds, that the people should take care of themselves and their government."

In support of these definitions Mr. Field cited the McKinley act as a sufficient example. He declared that act to be the "most defiant venture of monopoly the country has ever witnessed." Even in its title it is deceptive in professing "to reduce the revenue and equalize duties on imports," while in fact it repealed the duty on articles the monopolists didn't care for and maintained excessive duties on articles they did care for. Mr. Field also took high ground against the constitutional authority of Congress "to lay a tax in name in order to prevent a tax in fact."

Plat Esting.

The amount of food consumed in some of the down town lunch rooms every day is something enormous. It is all the more incredible from the fact that it goes up in small lunches. One place consumes on an average for the midday lunch to business men 1,500 sandwiches, 15 cans of milk, 40 dozen pastries of various kinds, 83 pies and 1,500 to 2,000 oysters served in every style. Besides these some 800 persons get hot dishes of almost every description at the lunch counter. Gracious heavens! Eighty-five pies represent 240 pie eaters in one resort among hundreds of the kind. This is not considered a great place for pie eating—New York Herald.

We have a speedy and positive cure for catarrh, diphtheria, canker sores, sore throats, inflammation of the mouth and throat. A nasal injector free with each bottle. Use it if you desire health and sweet breath. Price 50c. Sold at Fetzers drugstore.

A GREAT GAME FOR BOYS.

Forty Years Ago "Peggy" Was a Popular Sport All Over the Country. The long list of fall and winter pastimes which are indulged in by the younger people and the sporting fraternity contains one which, although not so universally popular as many other sports, in many sections is fast gaining favor as an interesting outdoor game, and that is "peggy."

There are but very few men of today who cannot well remember the countless number of broom, hoe and rake handles and wheel spokes that were sacrificed in their earlier days for the purpose of indulging in this all absorbing game.

The game of today differs in but few respects from that of the middle aged man's barefooted and knickerbocker day. The paraphernalia of the game years ago consisted of a round piece of hard wood about five inches in length and an inch in diameter, sharpened to a blunt point at both ends, known as "peggy," and a round stick of about two feet in length and of the same diameter as the peggy.

The game was commenced by "cocking" the peggy in a groove in the ground, made by pounding the peggy into the yielding soil with the stick. The contestant licks enough to obtain first "licks" strikes the upturned point of the peggy with the stick, causing it to fly into the air.

He then endeavored to strike the flying piece of wood while in motion; whenever it happened to drop, the same operation was repeated until the player had three "licks." (In the last two, however, he was not allowed to "cock" the peggy, but he must raise it from the ground wherever or in whatever position it might be.)

The distance was then mentally calculated or measured carefully by strides, and the opponent was given a certain number of leaps to cover the distance.

Should he fall to do it in the required number, so many points (that is, one for each leap) were credited to the player. Should the leaper, however, fill the contract and cover the distance in the required number of jumps or leaps, then the player had gained nothing by his "licks," or inning. His opponent would then take his turn with the stick, and so on until either contestant had secured a certain number of points, varying from 100 to 1,000, the first one to reach the specified number being the winner.

In the game of today the "peggy" itself is made of a round piece of hard wood and shaped much like a cone. It is not longer than 2 1/2 inches and is nearly as wide in diameter. The stick used is round, but flattened at the striking end, and much resembles the head end of an ax handle. The flip, or start, is made from a flat rock or piece of marble. The same rules and requirements govern as in olden times, with the exception of measuring the distance instead of leaping.

The distance covered by each player is recorded, and the party securing the specified number first, generally 1,000 feet, is declared the winner.

There is considerable science brought into play in the game, especially in raising the peggy. The ends are so blunt that a growler might pound until he was tired without raising the "peggy" an inch off the plate.

Then, again, a player quite often in striking down fails to even hit the peggy. Each such failure counts as a "lick," and many times one contestant takes an inning and does not even stir the little joker.

One advantage in the game is that as many as desire can play, although not frequently more than two or three play in the same contest.—Boston Globe.

When Leather Was Money.

Leather was very early used as a currency, the Romans employing it for this purpose before either gold, silver or brass came into common use. History is full of references showing that leather was used by the ancients as a sort of circulating medium of exchange. It is said on good authority that so late as during the reign of Louis XII of France the country became so impoverished, and as a consequence money was so scarce, that little pieces of leather, with a small silver nail driven through each, were in general use as money. Some few specimens of this leather money are still in existence, but are only to be found in the possession of numismatists, by whom they are highly prized.—New York Advertiser.

He—These masked balls are very dangerous, you know. She—Dangerous? He—Yes. Our servant girl was almost killed the other night at the Milkmen's masquerade ball and had to be carried home. She—You don't say so? How did it happen? He—She impersonated a pump.—Life.

BOTANIC BLOOD BALM

Pure blood is what oils the machinery of life, eases every movement of the body, removes stiffness of the joints, drives out pain from the nerves, stimulates the brain, protects the liver and kidneys from irritation, enables physical exertion without fatigue, prolongs life, and makes men and women perfect in health and feature. Good blood and good brain are inseparable. Aim to keep the blood pure by using the only true blood remedy, B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm).

Miss S. Tomlinson, Atlanta, Ga., says: "For many years I have been afflicted with rheumatism combined with severe kidney troubles. Several physicians employed and numerous patent medicines resorted to without benefit. At last I began the use of B. B. B., and its effect was like magic. Rheumatic pains ceased my kidneys were relieved, and my constitution improved at once."

Z. T. Hallerton, Macon, Ga., says: "Three years ago I contracted blood poison. I applied to a physician at Macon, and his treatment came near killing me. I employed an old physician and then went to Kentucky. I then went to Hot Springs and remained two months, but nothing seemed to cure me permanently, although I temporary relief was given me. I returned home a ruined man physically, with but little prospect of ever getting well. I was persuaded to try B. B. B. and to my utter astonishment it quickly healed every ulcer."
