

JUST UP AND KISSED HIM.

A young lady in St. Joseph, Mo., met a young farmer on the street the other day and took him in her arms and kissed him before he knew that was going on.

"I never saw the young man before, and I knew he was a stranger before I kissed him; but I couldn't help it. When I turned around my eyes met his, and he looked so good, so noble, and so true, that I wanted to kiss him. I didn't think; there wasn't no time to think. I only knew that I had met a real man, and I wasn't sure that I would see another one."

If this is to be a fad with the new women, what are the innocent and good men to do? They will be afraid to walk the streets without some kind of a protection, and handsome married men will be kept in a perfect state of agitation.

The thought of being caught un-armed out on the highway by a new woman in bloomers is horrifying. It is. Why not muzzle the new woman?

HER WORDS INDICATE GREATNESS.

Mr. John H. Mills, in his parting remarks, as he retires from the Baptist Orphanage, refers to his services in a modest way, and his losses and success as editor of the Biblical Recorder, losing $1,500 with but 1,100 subscribers and running it up in six years to 3,200. He edited without any charge or compensation the organ of the Oxford Orphanage. He concludes as follows:

"I cannot express my gratitude to hundreds of good people who, by prayers and kindness, have given me cheer and comfort in my work. I am trying to forgive those who have misunderstood me and endeavored to harm me, and during life will feel a deep interest in the happiness of individual orphans."

"The value of the work I have done will be estimated by the lives of those whom I have been able to influence. Whatever may be my future I pray for grace to say: 'I worship Thee, sweet will of God, And all Thy ways adore, And every day I live I long To love Thee more and more.'"

It is said that when whiskey crazes and delirium sets in, that the patient sees snakes and believes the devil is after him. The latest case from Durham, where the patient thought the Republicans were after him to kill him, will necessitate a revision. It may be that Durham's whiskey is unusually bad—substituting, in its wild effects, Republicans for snakes and the devil.

There are ten thousand more men at work in the Birmingham districts of Alabama today, than there were at this time last year, and the calamity howler will find it a serious matter to convince these men that times are worse or that this prosperity is fictitious. To them it is a joyful reality, hard work for hard money and plenty of both. The furnaces and mines are running just as briskly over the country as they are in Alabama, and the only despair and depression apparent is that which exists among the croakers who croak for political purposes only.

A PECULIAR BRIDEGRROOM.

Married Forty-Eight Hours and Would Not Kiss His Bride for $300—She Sues for Divorce.

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 6.—After a month of married life, Mrs. Ethel Madison has brought suit for divorce from her husband in the Wyandotte County District Court. She alleges in her petition that she only lived with him two days and that the 48 hours thus passed were simply a foretaste of the future punishment. She says she tried to be a dutiful wife, that she wanted to kiss and fondle him, but that he spurned her advances. He told her he would not permit her to kiss him for $500 cash. This occurred within five hours of the time of the wedding ceremony was performed. Mrs. Madison is a very pretty woman. The marriage was a romantic affair, the two agreeing to it on the spur of the moment. The heart broken woman asks to be divorced from Madison and given $25 a month of his salary.

Wants to Whip the Church.

RARRIAGE, N. O., September 6.—There is much talk among the church people by reason of the statement of Dr. Cyrus Thompson, the new president of the North Carolina Farmers' Alliance, in a public speech "that the church stands on the side of human slavery." The religious papers and not a few secular ones are attacking Thompson. The editor of the Caucasian, Senator Marion Butler's paper says: "Dr. Thompson does not make an assertion unless he knows what he is saying. He attacked the organized church and not christianity and he will whip if there is a contest. The truth is on the side of what he said."

A Live Letter.

The following letter has just come into our possession. We give it verbatim et litteram:

"LAW OFFICE OF D. L. RUSSELL."

"WILMINGTON, N. C., August 14th, 1895.

"DEAR SIR:—You are one of the friends in various parts of the State to whom I have concluded to write with regard to the Republican nomination for Governor. I think my nomination would be very acceptable to the Populist Party. It would insure successful fusion in 1896.

"I have many reasons for wanting to be Governor, not the least of which is the fact that Democratic Politicians would rather have any other man in the State. They know that, with Russell for Governor, Democratic influences will not prevail in the executive office. Neither abuse nor flattery nor the power of their newspaper press nor the blandishment of what they call 'society' would avail them.

"I would like to hear from you and have your views about things in general. Yours truly,

A Little Boy Kills Himself.

William Miller Huff, the 5-year old son of John G. Huff, a prominent citizen of East Bend, Yadkin county met with a sad death last Saturday while in the room alone. The little fellow found a loaded pistol in the bureau drawer. He took it out and was playing with it when it was accidentally discharged, the ball entering the abdomen and coming out in the small part of the back. He suffered intensely until 3 o'clock in the afternoon when he died. After the accident he ran to his sister and told her that he had shot himself but that he did it accidentally. He then call for each member of the family, saying that he wanted to kiss them all goodbye before he died.

CAPT. A. D. COWLES INSANE.

He Attacks the Proprietor of the Carolina With a Hatchet, and Then Threatens to Kill Himself.

DURHAM, N. C., Sept. 7.—Captain Andrew D. Cowles, of Statesville, who has been at the Carroll for a month became insane today about 4 o'clock p. m. He picked up a sharp hatchet which was being used by some carpenters who were at work making some changes in the office of the hotel, and made an assault on Alphonso Cobb, clerk of the hotel. Young Cobb ran. Cowles then started toward Mr. Howell Cobb, proprietor of the hotel, with the hatchet drawn. Mr. Cobb picked up a lamp and struck him squarely in the face with it, thereby dazing him. The carpenters and employees of the hotel rushed to the rescue of Mr. Cobb, and rushed at Cowles with such weapons as lay at hand, and Cowles ran in the wash room and shut himself in. The police were called by telephone and once to work to disarm the man at once; but he stood just inside the door and threatened to use the hatchet on the first man that came in reach. A crowd of at least three hundred were soon on the ground, and great excitement prevailed. After many futile attempts to get hold of the man, the hatchet was lassoed and jerked from his hand. He was seized and taken to the station house and locked up. While in the wash room Cowles kept gouging at his head and throat with the hatchet trying to cut his throat. Doctors Manning and Carr have been attending him, and doing all they can for his relief. He has been drinking heavily for some time and was arrested about a week ago for being drunk. He took up the idea that the Republicans had determined to kill him and he said he would sell his life as dearly as possible. He is in a highly excited state, but will be sent home tomorrow morning, if able to go.

Turned Over, Sneezed and Died.

Miss Mattie Jane Gardner died very suddenly and unexpectedly last night, at the home of her father, on Clarkson street. She was employed at the Charlotte Cotton Mills, but had been complaining of feeling badly for several days past. Dr. Petree, who attended her, thought she was taking malarial fever. He called on her last night and was sitting by her bedside talking to her. She had just told him that she felt well and had eaten and enjoyed a good supper. All at once she turned over on her side and sneezed. A stillness ensued and Dr. Petree discovered that she was dead. She came here about a year ago from Chesterfield Court House, S. C., and her body was sent there for interment.—Charlotte News.

Chapter of Accidents.

Mr. R. V. Caldwell, of No. 4, has had a chapter of accidents at his home recently. He had a fine horse tied down and die. He had just returned from the springs and he got sick on the road.

Dead lay the horse. Mr. Caldwell said he has a big hog that will weigh 500 pounds; the hog came up, it seemed, to take a last look at the horse. While viewing the remains, a large Jersey bull came up and ran his horn into the hog. The hog turned upon the bull and out a big gasp into the bovine, whereupon the bovine again ran his horn into the hog's side just behind the fore leg. The wound reached the hollow.

Both, however, survived, and Mr. Caldwell will kill this fall the biggest hog in Cabarrus county.

Mr. Leroy Thayer, who owns and manages a drug store at Tatum, S. C., spent a few days with his parents last week.

Cotton should bring a good price this year for the yield will not be large, especially in this section. At this day it seems like a "yarn" to hear people tell of having sold cotton years ago at from 20 to 25 cents per pound. As those times seem likely not to return and as it is said that cotton can not be profitably raised for 5 cents, all farmers ought to begin to build up their lands which have been worn out to a great extent by raising this once money-making crop.

What will we call this "fusion" now being talked? True, it is yet in an embryotic state, but the actions and words of men who have stood high in the councils of the Democratic party, are favorable to its birth. Suffice it to say, we don't want our drinks mixed. The word "fusion" is not to be found in our political vocabulary.
