Mr. John Johnson, a young man, man who was employed at the Cabarrus cotton mills, was removed from this place to his home at Greenville, S. C. He has had a hard spell of malaria fever, and is quite feeble.

The latest reports from the boiler explosion wounded indicate that Mr. Safrit is steadily improving but that Mr. Boat is weaker and feverish. The greatest fears are entertained for the result of his condition.

A SAD STORY.

The Father of the Girl Whom Ed Goodman Harried Writes a Card.

THE STANDARD has already published the fact of the runaway wedding and separation of Ed Goodman, of this county, and the daughter of Mr. A. H. Newsom, who makes a statement in Saturday's Salisbury Herald:

"On the 7th day of September Ed Goodman, of Cabarrus county, stole my daughter who is under age, took her to his county and obtained license under false pretence. It was the persuasion of Thomas Foil and wife that induced my daughter to marry Goodman, who is a scoundrel, rogue and tramp. He made false representations to my daughter. She soon found out that she was fooled and desired to have him but he forced her to marry him against her will. He carried a pistol with him and kept it under his head and threatened my daughter's life. He abused her after marriage and left her in a strange country by her lonesome. She would not live with him and said she would take her clothing and come home. He cursed her and told her to take the clothes but only gave her a part of them. He is inhuman and brutish. Such wretch is not worthy of anybody."

"My daughter in now a fit subject for an asylum. Trouble and sorrow are in store for us all. She is ruined and disappointed for life and I entertain but little hopes for recovery. Her mind is wrecked, perhaps forever."

These are substantially the facts. Mr. Newsom warns other young girls not to make the same mistake as his unfortunate daughter. He compliments Register of Deeds Woodson for his care in issuing licenses and condemns the action of Register of Deeds Weddington of Cabarrus county.

In conversation with the Herald Mr. Newsom said he was going to indict Goodman for larceny and abduction and the Cabarrus Register of Deeds for issuing the license. Had his daughter desired to live with the man who so basely betrayed her he would have said nothing. Since she came home her condition is only slightly improved. Her mind comes and goes, she being at times rational and then raving. His story is indeed a pitiful one.—Salisbury Herald.

Rev. McCullough Has Accepted.

It will be remembered that some time ago a call was extended to Rev. H. A. McCullough, of Leesville, S. C., to the pastorate of the St. Andrews Lutheran church at this place, to succeed Rev. J. D. Smeal, who returns to his former pastorate of the Union church in Lexington county, S. C., immediately after the fourth Sunday in October, when his time will then have expired. We regret much to lose Rev. Smeal, who has endeared himself to the community and to his own people, but there is a hearty welcome for Rev. McCullough, who is to some among us, having accepted the call, and will enter upon the duties of this, his new charge, about November 1.

Mr. John Taylor Done With 'Em.

Mr. John Taylor, of No. 2, came in to-day and subscribed. He said he had been reading Populistic and inflaming stuff and he's disgusted with the whole shab bag. He said he voted the Populist ticket last fall, but can't do so any more. "I am back in the Democratic party," said he, "and I feel better. My eyes are open. I can't stand this putting negroes into office. It is nothing but a game of politicians into whose hands they want us to play blind-folded."

Mr. Taylor has done a big thing. It is hard for a man to voluntarily acknowledge himself as having been wrong—but it takes a man to make such a confession.

Setting Up the Barrier Estate.

Mr. Chas. Duls, executor of the late Captain Barrier, has about settled up the estate. His trip to Virginia last week was to dispose of the property there, which he did. Saturday he sold half an interest in the Barrier plantation near the city to Mr. T. J. Davis for $500. crops reserved; also two lots on Tenth street. The money from the sale of all property belonging to the estate, goes to the Theological Seminary of the United Synod of the Lutheran church.—Charlotte Observer.

[Capt. Barrier, it will be remembered, was a native of Eastern Cabarrus, being the eldest child of the late Daniel Barrier.]

Beats His Wife.

The Charlotte Observer of Sunday says: "William Daniels, white was locked up last night for being drunk and abusing his wife. She was best black and blue. Daniels, it will be remembered, kept a boarding house opposite the city hall."

THE STANDARD fears this is the one that lived in Mt. Pleasant. My Lord! has he come to this?

How They Are.

The latest reports from the boiler explosion wounded indicate that Mr. Safrit is steadily improving but that Mr. Boat is weaker and feverish. The greatest fears are entertained for the result of his condition.

TRUE BILLS BY GRAND JURY

Against Brown and Satterfield—The Principal and Escorting Clerks of the Fred Douglas House Must Stand Trial for Fraud in Connection With the Assignment Act.

RALPHIGH, Sept. 28.—This afternoon the grand jury of Wake Superior Court returned a true bill against S. P. Satterfield, principal clerk of the lower house in the last legislature, and J. W. Brown, endorsing clerk, for fraud in connection with the much talked of assignment act. Three witnesses were before the grand jury, these being Chief Clerk Batchelor, of the Department of State; State Librarian Ellington and R. L. Smith, member of the lower house from Stanley. Miss Daisy Branson, of Atlanta, was sworn as a witness but did not appear, being at Atlanta. There are seven counts in the indictment against Satterfield. One charges that he willfully, knowingly, corruptly and fraudulently delivered to Brown the assignment act, the same never having been passed by either house, but which had been tabled prior to the date when thus delivered. Another count charges that Satterfield violated the true intent and meaning of his oath by delivering for enrollment an act which had never been passed, and that that fact was well known to Brown. The other counts set forth the offense in different forms. The bill against Brown has several counts, and finds that he corruptly, fraudulently and knowingly enrolled the bill, which had never passed. Capias will be issued for both Brown and Satterfield, and they will be regularly taken under it and brought here and required to give bond to the sheriff for their appearance at the January term of court. Failing to do this, they will go to jail.

A Surprise Wedding.

Probably nothing more surprising has happened in Concord in a long time than the happy occasion that took place Monday night just before train time at the Presbyterian manse, when a brief love affair was wedded for future happiness by making the two participants as one, Mr. W. A. Caldwell having been married to Miss Margaret Barnhardt. It was a quiet affair and only very few intimate friends of the groom knew of what was going on.

In the presence of a few friends who had been apprised of the event, Rev. W. C. Alexander in a short, but impressive ceremony married the couple, immediately after which they left on the south bound train for Atlanta to take in the Exposition.

Mr. Caldwell is a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Caldwell, and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Barnhardt, all of this city.

The best wishes of a large circle Ninety-Three Dollars and a Valuable Coat.

Mr. H. T. Yow, a resident of this city and for five months past an operative in the Odell mills got on a pretty good "jag" Monday night and was being piloted over the city by a certain colored man. Mr. Yow had in his possession when leaving his home about 9 o'clock $93 in cash, principally bills, and a small valise, but when he returned in the wee small hours he was minus both money and valise.

Policeman Fisher was on to Yow and the negro, and if the money is not returned, some one may have to answer for a robbery. Yow is altogether ignorant of what became of his money, valise or himself, so goes the story.

of friends to go with the young couple not only to Georgia's metropolis, but all through life.

"Squire Wolfe Throws Out the Gamut to Cotton-Pickers.

The yellow negro cotton harvester, Joe Redfern, on "Squire C. H. Wolfe's" place, near the city, is still mending his record. A few days ago he picked in nine and one-half hours 409 pounds, averaging 451 pounds per hour. The following day he picked 388 pounds. "Squire Wolfe wants to know who has one that can beat him. He throws out the challenge.—Charlotte Observer.

[This simple ain't so. No man in this country can pick 400 pounds in a day. This writer was regarded a good farmer years ago and the most he could pick was ninety three pounds and then only at a backache cost.]

Window Fell on His Head.

Master Emerson Davis, the little 3-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Davis, accidentally knocked a egg from underneath a window sash, which fell on the little fellow's head and right seriously hurt it. He was at home and alone, his parents having been at the church, only a few yards away.

Mr. Goodman and His "Oregon."

On Saturday last Mr. Jim Goodman, of No. 4 township, purchased an Oregon horse. He managed the animal very successfully until reaching the cemetery, when the horse began bucking and pawing, and finally worked his halter off. The horse ran loose in the McDonald wood until this (Monday) morning, when it was caught, brought back to town and took a new start.

A SERIOUS CHANGE.

A Prominent Citizen of Davidson is Accused of a Crime.

Mr. Philip Sowers, who is in town today, telling of a grave sin committed at the door of a prominent citizen of Davidson county.

The alleged year old daughter of Matthew Brown who lives on Addis Fitzgerald's plantation just across the river, claims that her father's landlord forced her to submit to him. This she states was last July. At the time of its occurrence she told her mother of it but they agreed to say nothing to her father about it fearing that bloodshed might result. Last week Mr. Fitzgerald and Brooks had some disagreement which resulted in the former authorizing Brooks to leave his plantation. On Saturday the young girl told her father of the whole affair which had occurred in July and he immediately applied for a warrant for Fitzgerald's arrest. This is the version of the affair as told by Brooks, and it may be investigated by justice over his objection. At the least, circumstances appear very damaging against Mr. Fitzgerald. Mr. Fitzgerald claims that no violence was used and that nothing involuntary appeared on her side. He is 56 years of age and possesses considerable means and has heretofore borne a splendid reputation with his neighbors. He is the father of Dr. Fitzgerald, of Monroe, and is known in Salisbury. The warrant was served this morning, but he has not been able to hear anything further from it.—Salisbury Herald.

Nov Men, See How You Eered.

The Reidsville Review, a most excellent weekly, says editorially: "Three of the most amiable, kind and appreciative members of the newspaper fraternity in this State are: Messrs. Henry Blount, of the Wilcox Mirror, Tread R. Manning, of the Henderson Gold Leaf, and A. Roscowder, of the Goldsboro Herald. Their friendly and fraternal feeling is proverbial and their courtesy upon all occasions is knightly. The editor of the Review has been made their debtor overwhelmingly recently for gracious and gratuitous complimentary notices, entirely uncalled for and wholly undesired."

The Chalk Camp Picnic.

The chalk camp has done No. 11 to make a dollar worth of good in the very excellent manner in which they have approved their hosts, and the people are not slow to see the benefit. Ever since the gang has been within our borders many kind acts of hospitality have been shown them.

Many boys have they been the receivers of whole cartloads of antibles, but it remained for the oxman to be capped last Saturday evening.

Word had been secretly passed that the gang was about to take their departure. Then as a last token of appreciation of their services they were given an ovation.

Or, in other words, Mr. Barnhardt had been notified to have the gang at headquarters early; this being done, then came the surprise. Just about 5 o'clock Mr. Martin Boat and several other gentlemen, drove up in a wagon, loaded with every thing to satisfy the inner man from pound cake upwards.

Then was a time when shot guns were unnecessary to keep them there.

After an hour or so of feasting, each one was given a cigar to take taste out of the mouth. There was enough left for a royal good breakfast, Sunday morning.

No doubt but they will long remember this and I know the people of Southern No. 11 will long remember their services.

Superintendent G. F. Barnhardt and his guards also participated in the feast and greatly appreciated the hospitalities of those who donated for the occasion, and the courtesy shown.

Birds Scarce.

Countrymen say that quail are scarcer this year than in many previous years, and offer as a reason, that there were more than the usual number killed and trapped last year, besides thousands of the birds being froze to death during the severe cold spell of last winter. This is very discouraging news to the sporting men, those who revel in the luxurious bird supper as well as the hunter who levels on them with a gun. But then here and opossums are plentiful.

A Suggestion.

The county commissioners will meet next Monday and it has been suggested to THE STANDARD that if the proper authorities would put a high fence around the court house lot and secure the safety of stock, the Oregon horse men might rent the beautiful pasture for grazing purposes on their next trip to Cabarrus. The county is hard up, and surely those men would not want it for less than what it now fetches—$5. Twenty years rent would pay for the fence—a plain one, says the man.

SECRET OF BEAUTY

is health. The secret of health is the power to digest and assimilate a proper quantity of food. This can never be done when the liver does not act its part.

Do you know this? Tutt's Liver Pills are an absolute cure for sick headache, dizziness, sour stomach, malaria, constipation, torpid liver, biliousness, jaundice, bilious fever, biliousness and kindred diseases.

A DISCOURTEOUS LAWYER.

Had Not Act Like a Gentleman From North Carolina.

In Kentucky an unfortunate merchant's bankruptcy confronting him, and to save a portion of his property he invoked the name of his wife and the assistance of a friend. The creditors insisted proceedings to recover certain property, and in the course of the proceedings his friend, a native of North Carolina, was put upon the stand. All went well, says the Louisville Post, until the witness was subjected to a rigid cross-examination by a lawyer, himself a native of North Carolina. The witness went blundering along at such a rate that his lawyer felt it necessary to interfere and tell him that he was not required to answer questions which would criminate himself.

After the close of the case, which resulted disastrously for our accommodating friend from North Carolina, he expressed indignation at the humiliation to which he had been subjected. "I was never in my life treated with so little courtesy," he said. "The opposing counsel did not set at all like a gentleman, sir. I expected entirely different treatment, especially as I learned that he was from North Carolina, and he knew I was from that State. No, sir, in the old days no North Carolinian, sir, would cause another North Carolinian the slightest embarrassment because of so paltry a matter, nor would he seek to set interrogatories to make his contradict himself. No, sir, it is unpardonable, sir, and all for the purpose of increasing the dividends of a few Yankee clients whom he never saw. I am convinced, sir, that your lawyer never came from North Carolina at all, sir; he must have come from somewhere else."

Cotton brought nine cents in Monroe Tuesday.

The amount of goods damaged by dust during a year will exceed the cost of a street sprinkler.

Ransom Meyers, white, about 50 years of age, died at the county home this (Wednesday) morning. He had cancer of the stomach and had been sick for about three weeks.

"For years," says Capt. C. Moeller, "I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else in the medicine chest, to regulate my bowels and those of the ship's crew. These pills are not severe in their action, but do their work thoroughly."

There were 55 bales of cotton on the market today, the price for which was 8.65. A few bales brought 8.75. The decline was about 10 points, but indications are that the price will rise again within a few days.

Ayer's Balmoparilla is not a secret preparation. Any physician may have the formula on application. The secret of its success as a medicine lies in its extraordinary power to cleanse the blood of impurities and cure the most deep-seated cases of blood disease.

A correspondent writes from Winston, that Monday night's frost damaged, if not ruined, all tobacco in the field in the Piedmont section, which is a heavy loss to the farmers, as much fine tobacco remained uncut.

There were fifty-one applicants in the law class which was standing the Supreme Court examination for license Monday morning. Thirty-two of them were from the University law school. There were no negroes and, strange to say in the day of "new women," there were no female applicants.

A very interesting and sensational crime of years ago is about to come to light. The only information THE STANDARD could obtain would criminate parties, therefore we withhold it from the public for a day or two, to await developments, when, if found to be true, will be revealed a mystery and a crime.

Pretty Engines.

On Sunday afternoon two brand new locomotive engines passed down the southern, bound for the exposition at Atlanta. One was a consolidated bog engine and the other was a compound engine. They were built and sent out by the Richmond Locomotive Works and were the prettiest engines ever sent over this road.
