

MONEY.

NO. 17.

There are in circulation in this country $1,600,000,000 of which are hundred-cent dollars. Now, suppose that we cut one standard middle in two, then every dollar in circulation will become a fifty-cent dollar...

be diminished in amount or value, prices will be affected accordingly. Thus it will be observed that even if the standard be cut down one-half, it is still not known what the effect on prices would be.

One Hundred Hands Out. The Vance Cotton Mills of Salisbury have discontinued the night running. By this nearly 100 hands were thrown out of employment.

He is Here for Mends. Mr. James Parker, of Concord, is in the city securing hands for the new cotton mill, the Buffalo, at Concord.

Allowed One Side. The Lexington Dispatch says that the county commissioners Tuesday allowed all the claims of the State witnesses in the Shemwell-Payne case, but did not allow any of the claims of the defendant's witnesses.

Jumped Up Again. Only about thirty-five bales of cotton were upon the market today. The price early Thursday morning was 8:55, but late in the day had fallen off 15 points, and remained at 8.70 until this afternoon when it jumped up to 8.85 again.

A Free Pass. As a reward for his saving the wreck of the vestibule train last week by informing the agent of a misplaced switch, the Southern has given Rev. W. H. Bryant a pass over its system for five years.

By the Democratic Route. Since the Populists have been pulling the reigns during the past year, every day you can hear some good old farmer who put the blame of the low price of cotton in 1894 upon the Democrats...

An Eavesdropper Frightens Ladies. A black negro boy exists in this city who for a year or more has upon different occasions caused alarm to several white ladies of the city by appearing at their room windows and watching them while they would disrobe.

The person who is accused of perpetrating such deeds is known. He is 16 years of age, and is somewhat of a brayado in his eavesdropping, and bears the general reputation of being a mean negro.

Bees Walked Off. Mr. Charles Dry, who recently returned from Alabama, tells a story on some good farmer down in Stany who has a large number of bees, and seems to have had considerable trouble in keeping them in their hives.

It should be remembered that credit as well as money helps to determine prices. In fact, price is the money or credit value of a commodity.

IN THE WRONG BED.

A Statesville Man Awakes to Find Himself in Charlotte. Mr. O. A. Withers lives in the eastern part of the city. Last night he sent his two young sons upstairs to bed. They came running down in a few minutes saying that there was a man up there in bed.

No answer. The intruder was sleeping the sleep of just. Mr. Williamson shook him again and again, and finally got him to open his eyes.

Gone to Cuba, or elsewhere, is what Frank Brumley and Joe Fisher said as they left town with a gun each. These two rods couldn't hit a barn door in a Cuban riot.

A missionary meeting was held at Rocky River church Saturday night last, October 5, to which Mr. Will Davis and his sister, Miss Louisa Davis, had been in attendance.

Ministers had better be careful how they quote scripture and explain it to those members they think need it. THE STANDARD told, Wednesday, how a warrant was hanging over a colored Baptist Divine for alleged insult in quailing and explaining to one of the sisters a certain passage.

The Landmark of Tuesday noted that Calvin Eller, who was tried in Ashe county last week for the murder of his cousin, Roy Latham, was convicted of murder in the second degree.

The case is a peculiar one, and Calvin Eller is either a cold-blooded murderer with heart as insensate of feeling as adamant, or is innocent. He talked freely when approached by this editor, and his expressions seemed frank and truthful.

Mr. O. H. Armfield, of Statesville, who was of counsel for Eller, says he believed Eller guilty before the trial, but during the trial his demeanor was such that he was compelled to believe in his innocence.

Mr. C. H. Armfield, of Statesville, who was of counsel for Eller, says he believed Eller guilty before the trial, but during the trial his demeanor was such that he was compelled to believe in his innocence.

LOCALS.

Miss Alice Sims is assisting her father at the sheriff's office in issuing tax receipts.

Mr. Lee Kindley was down from near Mooresville with cotton. The Concord market is at the top.

The little four-year old girl of Mrs. Sam Johnston, of the Poplar Tent section died Wednesday night.

A fence is being put up around the Baptist church on Spring street, which will greatly enhance the appearance of the church property.

Rev. V. B. Stickle, of Enochville, was in the city to-day (Saturday). He was on his way to Trinity church.

Some one in Salisbury has lost a pocket knife in the shape of a beer bottle. The loss was a very sharp one and no doubt has been keenly felt.

Mr. B. L. Corriher, of Enochville, was in to see us. He is one of the good old time farmers, and says although the cotton crop is short he is content with the result.

Gone to Cuba, or elsewhere, is what Frank Brumley and Joe Fisher said as they left town with a gun each. These two rods couldn't hit a barn door in a Cuban riot.

Prof. T. P. Harrison, Ph. D., has been elected to the chair of English at Davidson College. He is a student of John Hopkins and stands high in intellect and scholarship.

Rev. M. D. Giles, of Mt. Pleasant, was in the city. Mr. Giles is the pastor of the M. E. Churches of the circuit of Mt. Pleasant. He will teach the public school above Mt. Pleasant this winter.

When the band began to play on the streets Thursday night, several people thought it was a contingent of Buffalo Bills Wild West show, but they were disappointed when Belfont struck up on "Maggie."

Wednesday, October 23, is President's day at the Atlanta exposition. Many will go from here, not altogether because they are admirers of Grover the Great, but through curiosity and because it is a great day.

One hundred and thirty bales of cotton were marketed here Wednesday, some of which brought as much as 8.85. The farmers had some spending money and the merchants enjoyed a very good trade.

Mr. William J. Alexander, of Woodleaf, N. C., a native of No. 5 township, this county, has been on a visit to his brothers in No. 5 for several weeks. He reports cotton in his section a two-third crop and corn a splendid yield.

The cotton crop for this year is estimated at 6,560,000 bales against 9,901,000 for last year, which will average a two-third crop. Up to the time of going to press Cabarrus marketed 125 bales of this year's crop to-day.

Mr. William Russell, 75 years of age, arrived in the city this (Thursday) morning on his return trip from the Atlanta Exposition. He is a native of Stanly county. He reports having seen sights that he had never, in all his born days, dreamed of seeing.

To remove the constipated habit the only safe treatment is a course of Ayer's Pills, followed by a laxative diet. Most other cathartics do more harm than good.

Some men try advertising as the Indian tried feathers. He took one feather, laid it on a board and slept on it all night. In the morning he remarked: "White man say feathers leap so; white man d-- fool."

$10,000 DIFFERENCE.

Eight Thousand Versus Twelve Thousand-Nineteen Dollars and Fifty Cents More for One Bale. Even though there is not more than a two-third cotton crop in Cabarrus this year there will be ten thousand dollars more money than compared with last year.

Estimating last year's crop at 12,000 bales, which brought an average of 5 cents, the entire crop when sold put sixty thousand dollars in the county. Compare this year's two-third crop—eight thousand bales at 84 cents with the twelve thousand of last year at 5 cents and we have just seventy thousand dollars, or ten thousand dollars more money than in 1894.

The difference on one bale will show you what an item 84 cents cotton is to that at 5. For instance, last year Bob Russell sold a bale weighing 520 pounds at 5 cents, which in turn fetched him $26. This year he sold one the same weight at 84, bringing him $45.50, just $19.50 more for the same amount of cotton.

The shortage of this year's crop, compared to the low price of last year, is almost a blessing to the cotton raiser.

A Good Man Gone. Rowan lost one of her most valuable citizens in the death of John Henry Green, of Franklin township, this morning at 2 o'clock.

Two Lives Saved. Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial bottles at Feinert's Drug store. Buffalo Engine Starts Up. Buffalo Thread Mill added another one to the great volumes of smoke that arise in all parts of the city from the immense stacks at the different mills. The engine was fired up and the boilers tested this (Saturday) morning. The machinery not being all placed and in proper fix for running, manufacturing will not begin for another week.

Buffalo Bills Show No Good. Buffalo Bill's Wild West was in Salisbury on Friday. A reporter saw it—he saw the poorest show that has ever passed through the country. The newspaper reports and the advertising matter sent out are terrible exaggerations.

McDONALD-HOOK.

A Brilliant Scene in the First Presbyterian Church of Charlotte. The marriage Thursday night at the First Presbyterian church of Charlotte, when Miss Ida Miller McDonald and Mr. Chas. C. Hook stood before the altar and promised to "love, honor and cherish" each other "until death do them part," was a brilliant affair. The Observer, in its account of the event, says of the ceremony:

"Mendelssohn—old but unrivaled in its inspiring effect and grand harmonies—was the march chosen by the bride and played by Miss Addie Williams. As the first notes sounded through arch and aisle the ribbon girls, little Misses Alice Cowles and Lizzie Falson, dressed in dainty white china silks, entered and stretched the ribbon along the seats on either side of the middle aisle.

Following them came the attendants, Misses Mary Steele and Lois McDowell led the bridal procession following them closely, in pairs, Messrs. Dobbins Holmes, of Wilmington, and Chas. Adams; next, Misses Bessie Sanders and Fannie McAdair, and after them Messrs. Russell Robbins and Duncan McDonald, brother of the bride.

The groom, with his best man, Mr. W. H. Trawt, entered from the vestibule on the right, and waited at the altar for his bride. As the attendants arranged themselves about the pulpit, Miss Daisy McDonald, sister of the bride, and maid of honor, came down the middle aisle, her coming heralding the approach of the bride. The latter came a few minutes after the arm of her father, Mr. Edward McDonald, her beauty being enhanced ten-fold by the inspiration of the hour, and the becomingness of her bridal array. As she neared the pulpit her betrothed stepped forward and took her hand, placing it on his arm, and the two stood before Rev. Dr. Preston, and were, by his pronounced man and wife, by his own beautiful language.

The hush which followed the benediction was broken by a glad burst of sound—a triumph of love and harmony—the BIDAL CHORUS from the "Rose Maiden," which was sung by Medaema G. H. Brockenbrough, R. L. Gibson, F. P. Smith, E. L. Martin, A. L. Smith, H. S. Bryan; Miss Nan Dowd; Messrs. D. F. Summey, F. H. Andrews, B. F. Powell, E. L. Martin, Walter Scott, W. H. Powell and O. M. Norwood. The blending of so many fine voices in so beautiful a selection was grand in effect. The audience lingered to hear the last notes of the climax and finale and then left, those who were bidden to the wedding reception following the bridal party to the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. John Walter Miller on North Tryon street where the reception was held.

Mr. and Mrs. Hook are both well known in this city, the bride once having lived here, and the groom having frequently visited here since his residence in Charlotte.

Dr. Miles' Nervine strengthens the weak, builds up the broken down constitution, and permanently cures every kind of nervous disease. "About one year ago I was afflicted with nervousness, sleeplessness, creeping sensation in my legs, slight palpitation of my heart, distressing confusion of the mind, beriberi loss or lapse of memory. Weighted down with care and worry, I completely lost appetite and felt my vitality wearing away. I was weak, irritable and tired. My weight was reduced to 100 lbs. In fact I was no good on earth. A friend brought me a bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine. Before I had taken one bottle I could sleep as well as usual. My appetite returned, and I was greatly relieved. When I had taken the sixth bottle my weight increased to 170 lbs. My nerves steadied completely. My memory was fully restored. My brain seemed clearer than ever. I felt as good as any man on earth. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a great medicine. I assure you." August, Mo. Walter B. Summerville.
