SEPTEMBER 10, 1896.

THE CONVENTION AND ITS WORK.
Whatever may have been the things and dashes of the troubled political waters in the process of purification as experienced and lamented in the Democratic household, as they periodically occur in any considerable body of free and independent thinkers, the county nominating convention on last Saturday was a model of patient, good humored, jolly enthusiasm.

If there were elements in the convention spelling for a row and ready to sow the seeds of discord, it was soon found that the convention was a field in which those seeds would not grow.

For the aspirants who came out of the convention unendorsed, it is impossible to feel otherwise than a little depressed, but time will heal all, and it is to be hoped that each will yet realize after all that it was best for themselves. We think we know each one to be too true to Democracy and too magnanimous in character to know or feel any disloyalty to the entire ticket.

If there was any unfairness in the rivalry, we are not aware of it and we believe the contest was as clear as it is possible to have.

The nominations were such as to have the party united and strong for victory and not to be humiliated, should undignified and shameful combinations compass the defeat of the ticket.

Mr. C. D. Barringer's sterling qualities as a citizen are such as to carry force. He is a man of the people and for the people. He has the advantage of knowing and being known by the people of Stanly county and therefore has a good start for the Senatorial race.

Mr. M. F. Nesbit is well known to possess every essential qualification of a most worthy citizen with an abiding zeal for Democratic triumph and will make a good and clean canvass. We have no fears for the good, sound judgment and the pure, able, and trustworthy services of the nominees for our legislative work.

for which he is nominated and as an official as well as a citizen, is so far as we have ever heard, unimpaired and unimpeachable.

It goes without saying that Mr. C.
W. Swink is a good and safe man and needs no comment at our hands.
Mr. W. H. Bost was nominated for cotton weigher under circumstances very unexpected, though so frequently done as to have a name for such drift. It is termed "dark horse." It is sometimes due to joking and sometimes to sharply drawn lines of favor and disfavor.

We have not had the pleasure of an acquaintance with Mr. Bost but hear him well spoken of as a man.
Mr. J. H. Long is true as the compass that he follows and will be sure to get there.

Mr. John C. Wadsworth is rather smiley and jolly to look seriously at a dead man but will doubtless exercise due gravity and fill the office of coroner to a "T."

The county affairs can hardly be put into hands more true and tried as substantial, conservative and yet progressive leaders than are found in Messrs. L. J. Foil, J. S. Harris and M. L. Brown. Now let all whoop for the nominees and land them safe on the 3rd of November.

We are in possession of a note from the esteemed President of North Carolina College, in which he is happy in the realization of much of his hopes for a favorable opening of the institution. He is impressed with the earnestness of the young gentlemen at college, and with a body of co-laborers forming a facility the peer of any in the land, no fear need be felt that the work of the college will not sustain its highest prestige as an educator for our young men.

WHAT SHALL WE DO ABOUT IT?
It is wonderful how positive so many of us feel in respect to the effects of the Indianapolis convention.
There is no doubt that its platform expressed what the gold standard men at Chicago would have liked, so far as the leading issues were concerned, but it has always seemed to us that it took but a short time for every gold standard Democrat to make up his mind to "slide in the ship" or not, and, while the Indianapolis platform is a strong document from the gold standard view, we see nothing to change a man who had made up his mind to vote for Bryan.

We thought that the chairman had hit the centre when he said they would make a home for Democrats unilaterally opposed alike to the free coinage of silver and Republicanism as it is and always has been on other issues. It is to be admitted, though, that by some it is to be used to effect the defeat of the Democratic ticket.
It means like the Indian's gun—it shoots two ways. It has at least temporarily drawn the fire upon itself to the relief of the minds of many who had grown frantic in their blame of the administration for all the ills to which we are subject.

Whatever be the effects and however much we regret the inability to unite on the ticket opposed to Republican policies that we believe have led to all the great evils of which we complain so much, we may be asked "What are you going to do about it?"

Unfortunately the great financial question does not divide our voters by the same line drawn before, but by a line drawn at acute angles to the old line and therefore it cuts the old political hemispheres by confused lines.

In the midst of all this boiling and threatening to bolt, this fusion and trying to fuse, wonder if it would not be a good time to stop criminating and recriminating and let the term consistency and true Democracy and true anything else rest awhile to gather new strength, or find a new set of definitions.

FIRING BIG GUNS.
The Scientific American gives an account of marine drill and target firing by some of our bravest vessels during the latter part of August. They played a canvas target twenty-five feet high and fifteen feet wide and sailed past it at the rate of about eleven knots per hour, at a distance of two thousand yards or nearly one and one fifth miles. Most of the shots came so near that they would have struck an ordinary vessel. The "Italgiah" sustained her proud record by demolishing the target almost at her first shot. Upon firing the thirteen inch shells the sea would lash like a little storm and the concussion was so great that a two thousand pound anchor lying on the bow seemed to leap forth from the vessel and was lost in the sea. Gunners were made temporarily deaf.

The torpedo experiments also showed the fearful consequences of naval warfare in this progressive period.

It is hard to conceive of a busier man than Wm. J. Bryan is now. He is on the go making a set speech wherever he has time to sit, and a standing speech where he has not time to sit. His young vigorous manhood serves him well. Most of our statesmen of reputation equal to his own are past the age to endure it. It has the happy consequence of giving more of our home staying people a chance to see him, and increases more enthusiasm for our ticket. We hope there will be no box cars or other obstructions to a view of his car next Thursday a week from 10 to 10:30 a. m. If Concord can't all see Mr. Bryan we will convince him that he is seeing most of Concord.

Through the kindness of Mrs. R.
A. Brown the editor and his wife enjoyed a much needed outing recently in which many parts of Concord not seen before, were presented as a panoramic picture before our eyes, and Concord was seen as it is, a situation of business life and push rather than a noget of clustering, objectless beauty. In this restless ongoing and upbuilding of our town, Mrs. Brown takes the liveliest interest and we have no doubt she imparts much of that indomitable energy observed in her husband, "Boss" is to be congratulated.

REV. TOM DIXON'S FINANCIAL
It is not surprising that all patriots should be deeply interested in the triumph of these theories of government which they think would be most conducive to national prosperity and individual happiness, and we cannot conceive of a well informed and patriotic character indifferent on the great issues of the day, but that men lose their balance and degrade the cause they favor, and humiliate those that might be useful in the cause is apparent. A fine example of this evil is shown in the report of the Rev. Tom Dixon's somewhat sermon in New York. It is to be hoped that the report as THE STANDARD has clipped it is an exaggeration, and we would not admit it in our columns but for the fact that it seems that such is often the vein of a discourse from a Northern pulpit. Happily the mania of politico-religious har-angues has not yet infested our Southern theologians and we fondly hope it never will.

THE STANDARD does not mind being read out of the party occasionally. As the Charlotte Observer says, it is not hospitable in the band wagon this year, but we are in it all the same whoever to the contrary notwithstanding, and in the language of the little brother in the family, "I have as good a right here as you."

GETS IT IN THE NECK.
Riotous Scenes in Tom Dixon's Church in New York—He Rants on Bryan and Free Silver and is Called a Liar—Says the Democrats Are Dead and in Hell—War if Bryan Wins.
Rev. Tom Dixon is at the front again. He made a political speech from his pulpit in the Academy of Music, in New York last Sunday, and there were riotous scenes. He made a vicious attack on Bryan, and his congregation hissed and howled, throwing books and called him a liar.
The Herald illustrates the riotous scene. After endorsing McKinley and gold, and paying a compliment to the Populists, saying that they are honest, he said: "When the Chicago Convention met, the Democratic party was dead and in hell. By a miracle the leopard changed his spots and gave up every principle that it had fought for one hundred years. This was done for the sole purpose of making a President and the spoils of that office. No reform movement ever entered the mind of democracy and came out anything but a failure. The leaders of the Democratic party saw that it was dead and its only chance was to sue on the new party and use it.
Democracy sold itself for sixteen pieces of silver. The only chance for the Populists in the South is to support an independent ticket with Tom Watson on it."

Mr. Dixon then declared in favor of McKinley in the following words: "I believe that with such a crisis as now confronts us it is the duty of every patriotic citizen to vote a straight Republican ticket. I voted for Cleveland, and now before God, acknowledge my sin."
Then Mr. Bryan and his party were discussed by Mr. Dixon in a way that created the utmost excitement.

He said:—"The proposition of Mr. Bryan and his followers to pay the bonds of the United States, upon which one hundred cents on the dollar was raised, in coin worth only fifty-five cents is downright rascality."

Several persons shouted: "That's false!" "You are wrong!" "Shut up!" and many of those present hissed. For a moment Mr. Dixon hesitated and seemed stunned, but soon recovered himself and exclaimed:—"If the government does that it goes into the bonco steering business."

He was again interrupted by loud and prolonged hissing and shouts of "That's not right!" "You don't know what you are talking about!" One gray haired man arose and exclaimed, "I won't stand this any longer," and rushed from the building. He was followed by fifty others, who cried "Shame!" as they left the room.

Mr. Dixon became nervous and turned very pale, but was reassured by applause that overcame the hisses.
It was evident that the majority of those present held the same views as Mr. Dixon.

"What Mr. Cox and his followers propose to do," resumed Mr.
Dixon, "is to permit me to pay $1, 000 that I have borrowed with $500." Again the hissing began and some one shouted "Liar!" Men and women from all parts of the hall arose and left the room, many of whom hissed as they went out.
This episode seemed to clear the Academy of nearly all who opposed Mr. Dixon's remarks, for there was no more hissing.

Mr. Dixon resumed talking again by saying that Mr. Bryan and his followers proposed to permit the insurance companies to pay widows and orphans in a depreciated currency. Here a man shouted, "I am going to vote for Bryan!" and several persons exclaimed "Good!"
"That's right!"

"If Bryan is elected two million more men will be idle, and, added to the one million idle men caused by the present administration, we will then have in this country three million idle men. Will these men starve? No, they will fight for bread, they will pillage, burn and murder. What will Mr. Bryan do?
He will turn the army and navy on these men. The starting men will fire on the flag, and war will follow."

HONOR TO CLARA BARTON.
Who Has Set Sail on the Steamship Umbria for New York.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—When Miss Clara Barton and the members of her staff left Constantinople, after their great work in relieving the suffering Armenians in Turkey, their departure was made the occasion of a grand display by the representatives of all governments located there. Bunting was lavishly displayed in her honor, and an escort, composed of many craft, accompanied Miss Barton's vessel out of the harbor.

A cablegram received here announces that Miss Barton sailed for New York today on the steamer Umbria. Friends of the American National Red Cross are endeavoring to arrange a proper reception for the travellers upon their arrival in New York. Upon Miss Barton's arrival at her home in Washington it is understood that a grand reception will be given her by residents of the nation's capital in honor of the great success which has attended the extraordinary work of herself and corps during their sojourn in Turkey.

Heilig and South Rowan News.
Mr. Wm. Misenheimer lost a fine colt Sunday night.
There was no preaching at Lower Stone Sunday. The pastor was assisting Dr. Clapp in a communion service.

Messrs. Boyden Miller, Wm.
Misenheimer and John Brown have put up a new cotton gin and are ready for ginning. This new gin is located on the public road, one mile east of Lower Stone, near Mr. Miller's.

Dr. C. Banks McNairy and Miss Lillie R. Nussman went drifting toward Mt. Pleasant early Sunday morning, when they spent the day.
This young doctor is located near Faith, this county, and is held in the highest esteem by his many patrons.

Master Frank, son of Robert Crooks, who lives near China Grove, is now staying with Mrs. Jane Fisher, better known as Aunt Jane Fisher.

Mr. John Miller, who is employed at New London in the woodshop, came home Saturday and spent Sunday with his old friends.

Mr. John Brady, who has been clerking for Messrs. Klutz & Rendleman in Salisbury, came home last Friday.

—Sheriff Sims is in Raleigh in attendance upon the meeting of the Populist and Republican executive committees.

TOURNAMENT AT SAUNDERS.

Gallant Knights Crowned the Lovely Maids—Miss Carrie Emerson, Queen of Love and Beauty, Miss Johnson, Maids of Honor.

A very interesting feature of the season in No. 3 township, was a tournament given at Saunders, Wednesday, September 2.

A large crowd was present to witness the sport. At 4 p. m. the knights entered the contest and did some very good riding, considering the practice they had. Following is the list of riders, their non-deplumes and the number of rings taken by each: J. L. Johnson, knight of "Hi Can," 8; W. B. Morrison, "White Cap," 8; Baxter Johnson,
"Tulin," 7; J. S. Archer, "Coddie," 7; N. J. Archer, "Cabarrus," 5; Will Stenhouse, "Can't Make it," 2. The ties were ridden off and the successful knights crowned the following young ladies: Mr. W. B. Morrison, Miss Carrie Emerson, "Queen of Love and Beauty"; Mr. J. L. Johnson, Miss Annie Johnson, first maid of honor; Mr. Baxter Johnson, Miss Edna Johnson, second maid of honor.

WATSON AND GUTHRIE.
The Two Candidates Will Be Here
Saturday and Will Deliver Speeches Everybody, Democrats, Populists and Republicans, will be here Saturday next, September 12, to hear the speeches of Hon. Cyrus B. Watson and Major Wm. Guthrie, the Democratic and Populist candidates for Governor. The speaking will take place at the court house, either inside or on the beautiful lawn. Judge Russell, the Republican candidate, has been invited, but has "taken a sneak" and left the State. All silver advocates, and those not favorable to free silver should hear these two speakers. Let everybody come.
Bring your families—provisions will be made for the ladies. A large crowd is expected.

Items From Cold Springs.
We are glad to announce that the case of Mr. Mike Lefler is improving.
There is hope for his recovery.
Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Earnhardt spent Tuesday at Mrs. Earnhardt's father, Mr. D. C. Faggart.
Mrs. Bancum Cox, who has been very sick with typhoid fever, is improving.
Mr. J. Homer Barnhardt, of Cold Springs, has gone to Durham to enter Trinity College.
Mr. H. Sidney Barnhardt picked 270 lbs of cotton one day last week.

South Carolina primaries were held Tuesday which involved the nomination of a United States Senator in place of Senator Irby.
The great struggle was between Governor Evans and General Earle.
Returns indicate the nomination of Gen. Earle. As Senator Tillman took a hand in the race the sitting down will be on Mr. Tillman with a weight about as heavy as that on the Governor, and as the reform issue was said to be in jeopardy it may be implied that South Carolina would like reform that did not have so much Tillman in it.
