Extracts From a Letter.

A young man of this city, writing from Tyler, Texas, says of the crops through Arkansas:
"From Memphis, Tenn. to Little Rock, through Arkansas, everything is completely dried up. The corn crop in Arkansas will make about 60 per cent. of the average. I heard one farmer at Lonoke, Ark. say that he had good land, but he would not make more than one bale of cotton to 9 acres this year. In fact, the farmers have raised nothing—have not even raised an umbrella since last May, having had no rain.
"In Little Rock I met Bob Lawrence, of Salisbury. He is doing a successful grocery business in town and farming twelve miles out.
"I said they raised nothing in Arkansas, but before thinking—the Democratic majority was elected about 30 per cent. in the State election last week. The people are Democrats from the word go—all the laboring classes are for Bryan and silver.
"The crops in this part of Texas are better than further up the country, but not more than a half crop will be made anywhere in the State.
"Evangel at Pearson, so well known at home, is conducting a successful meeting here. All the business houses close from 11 to 12 o'clock during the day service.
"Talk about free silver Democrats—there is nothing else in this section of the country, although I am of the second money following.
"From all indications Bryan and Sewall will sweep Republicanism and Populism off the earth. Tom Watson, my Georgia friend, is not in it out here although he has been over the State.
"Business is at a standstill until after the Presidential election."

Pockets Lightened.

While Capt. Tom Ross was wedged in the team at Vance park he felt somebody's hand at his pocket. He turned quickly and grabbed the man, who, however, tore himself loose and escaped.
On the train from Davidson College this morning Rev. Dr. Nelson, the Methodist preacher at that place, had his pocket picked of $12.
A King's Mountain man was going about the Southern train yard this morning proclaiming that his pocket had been picked of $67.
Mr. Will Rankin lost $20.
A Monroe man reported at police headquarters that he had been touched for $8.—Mecklenburg Times, Sept. 18th.
[A man was telling how adroitly he was relieved of all the money he had ($7) in Greensboro yesterday. Verily, the pickpocket is reaping a harvest out of our political gatherings.

Two Great Men.

"Out of the way, fellow, and let me pass!" shouted the man in the light buggy.
"Get out of my way yourself!" replied the man on the load of hay.
"I am here, anyway?"
"Who are you, anyway?"
"I am the judge of the Superior Court."
"Judge of the court? Well! An of you was to die they couldn't get no other one, could they?"
"Yes."
"Oh, they could? Well, I guess, then, I'm the only one in the hull township that knows how to make a good ax handle."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

if a few could look ahead a few months and see what was coming from those apoplexy, weakness, loss of appetite, wasting of the flesh and energy you wouldn't wait for disease to get a grip on you. You would begin right away to tone up your constitution with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It doesn't work miracles; but it does what other medicine can't do and what doctors say can't be done—until they see it done right under their noses—cures consumption. Not always, but in a large majority of cases, in advanced cases which have been given up as hopeless.

The "Discovery" is not called a "consumption cure"; it is a blood-maker. It gives energy to the blood-making organs to create new blood, full of healthy corpuscles. This rapid supply of pure, rich red blood drives out all diseased blood from the system. Consumption is one of these; scrofula, splenitis, eczema, erysipelas, catarrhs of the eye, or skin, or blood diseases. They must be driven out of the blood. You can rely on the "Golden Medical Discovery" to do this every time.
It is not a patent medicine. It is the perfected result of 30 years' practical experience by one of the best medical authorities in this country.—Dr. R. V. Pierce, Chief Consulting Physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.
Dr. Pierce's 1000 page book, "The People's Common-sense Guide to Health," is for sale at 25 cents a copy. It is a grand treatise on the great amount of labor and money expended in producing it. It is now being printed absolutely free on copies, the recipient being required to mail to him, at the above address, 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, and the book will be sent post-paid.

POPULISTS IN SESSION.

Nominations Made at Their Convention—The Sheriff's Place Left for Future Deals.
The Populist convention of Cabarrus was called to order by Mr. A. F. Hileman and Dr. S. A. Grier was made temporary chairman and Mr. O. A. Pitts and J. H. Dorton were requested to act as secretaries. The different editors were invited to assist. The organization was made permanent.
M. H. Caldwell, chairman of conference committee, made a report and a number of resolutions were offered and adopted when the following resolutions were made:
For Coroner—M. C. Walter, unanimous.
For Surveyor—M. G. Lentz, of No. 7, by acclamation.
Cotton Weigher—R. W. Biggers, unanimous.
Treasurer—G. E. Kestler, by unit vote.
Register of Deeds—W. M. Weddington, by unit vote.
County Commissioner—J. L. Stafford, on 2nd ballot; E. P. Deal, on 1st ballot.
For House of Representatives—A. F. Hileman, by unit vote.
For the Senate—John A. Sims, unanimous.

A VERY BAD ACCIDENT.

A Young Lady's Ankle Broken and the Bones Protrude Through the Flesh.
Miss Hatte Carr, a young lady of Poplar Tent, Cabarrus county, was escorted to the city by a gentleman friend Thursday to hear Bryan. They spent a few hours with friends in the city and then started home. As they were near Newell's, the horse attached to their buggy became frightened and ran away. Miss Carroll was thrown out and struck the ground with violence. Her right ankle was so badly crushed that the broken bones protruded through the flesh. She was conveyed to the home of Mr. Frank S. Neal, where her injuries were attended to by Dr. Will Pharr, of that neighborhood and Dr. Mienheimer, of Charlotte. It will be some days before she will be able to leave Mr. Neal's home.—Charlotte Observer.
[Miss Carroll is the daughter of Mr. S. L. Carroll. Her many friends in this city learn of the terrible accident with regret.]

Notice of Seizure.

Noticed under Concord, N. C., on the night of August 31, 1896, the following property for violating the Internal Revenue Laws of the United States, to wit: Two small bay horses one two horse wagon and harness, about 15 gallons of whiskey and four empty kegs, supposed to be the property of Jacob Harpell.
Notice is hereby given to any one claiming said property to give notice in the form and manner prescribed by law and the undersigned at his office in Asheville, N. C., within 30 days from the date hereof, or said property will be declared forfeited to the Government of the United States.
By S. M. L. ROGERS, Collector of the District of N. C.
R. D. HARRIS, Deputy Collector.

The Presbytery at Hickory.

The fall meeting of the Concord Presbytery was held in Hickory last week by Tuesday until Friday, in the Presbyterian church at that place. Rev. J. A. Ramsay, pastor, Rev. W. C. Alexander, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, was elected moderator and presided over the meetings. There was a large attendance and harmonious meeting. There was an impetus in the work of home missions and colored evangelization. Rev. C. A. Monroe, of Lenoir, the present chairman of Home Missions, was appointed an evangelist to superintend this work for a part of his time.
Candidates A. K. Pool and J. E. Sumner were examined upon all four parts of trial and were licensed to preach the gospel.
The narrative upon the state of religion was encouraging, indicating a steady and healthy growth.
The Presbytery adjourned to meet again in Stateville on October 27th.
The only casualty reported is that Rev. K. S. Arrad, once a resident of this city, but now living in Ireland county, was relieved of $21 by the pickpockets while listening to the speech of Hon. Wm. J. Bryan.
The delegation from this city returned Friday night.

Admitted by 20,000.

The Charlotte Observer says: "Capt. Keeler and his men, the drum corps, were the centre of attraction on Trade and Centre streets yesterday after the Bryan speaking. They won the admiration of the 20,000 people that saw them."

SHORT LOCALS.

It is claimed that 25,000 people were in Greensboro to hear Bryan Thursday.
Mr. Stafford Goodman says that a good rain is badly needed in his section of the county.
Pickpockets did considerable devilment in the rounds of Mr. Bryan through this State. In almost every city some one was touched.
The family of Mr. S. A. Hamilton will move in a few days into the house on West Depot street that is now occupied by Dr. Smoot.
It can never be repeated too often: When money is plenty, work seeks the man; when money is scarce, the man, in vain seeks work.
The house recently vacated by Mrs. Moss, on the corner of West Depot and Spring streets, will be occupied by Dr. J. E. Smoot.
"Haven't time to talk about anything but handkerchiefs, linen towels, table linen, etc.," say Cannon & Fetzler in their advertisement today. Read it.
The front top wall of the old Phifer store room has been torn away, preparatory to putting on another story, which will be done at once.
An inquisitive Irishman wants to know if, when we get free silver, they will bring it to us or compel us to go after it?—Republican Exchange.
Rev. B. F. Davis, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, who suffered a severe attack of typhoid fever, is able to be on the streets once again. His many friends were glad to see him.
Mr. Jesse Cornelius, of Mooreville, a brother to Merchant C. E. Cornelius, has accepted a position with Little & Cornelius, and is now at his post of duty in the store.
The members of company G that went over to Charlotte Thursday returned to the city Thursday night. They report having had a great time, although the trip was a brief one.
Dr. N. D. Fetzler has had placed in the drug store a handsome plate glass wall pocket, in which he will display his fancy articles in delf and china wares. The doctor is strictly up-to-date.
The Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, will convene in Salisbury on Wednesday, November 18. Preparations are beginning already for the entertainment of the ministers.
Mr. Henry A. Castor, of No. 4 township, a brother to Mr. Elam Castor, of this city, has a stalk of cotton on his plantation that bears 125 green bolls. It wouldn't take more than a couple of acres like that to make a bale or two.
His many friends will be glad to know that Mr. John Hatchett, who now lives at Memphis, Tenn., will again be a resident of this city. In January he will become bookkeeper at Cannon & Fetzler, to succeed Mr. H. I. Woodhouse, who will go to the new bank.
The rostrum on which Mr. Bryan spoke at the depot Thursday morning was handsomely decorated with flowers, and the ladies are to be congratulated upon the tasteful manner in which the stage was dressed. The presence of both ladies and flowers adds greatly to the significance of an occasion like that.
The Monroe Journal says a remarkable thing happened during Union court. A man came to town, went before the grand jury, had witnesses subpoenaed and reported himself for breaking some law. The grand jury found a true bill, and he submitted and paid the costs.
About two months ago the Winston aldermen refused to issue liquor license. They afterward reconsidered and issued license for 60 days to allow the saloon men time to close out their stocks. The 60 days expired on Saturday. The alderman denied to adhere to their decision not to grant license.
No people suffer so much from physical disabilities as those whose business requires little or no muscular exertion. The lack of exercise causes the liver to become sluggish and the result is constipation, indigestion, biliousness, and Sick Headache. To prevent this take Simon's Liver Regulator; it keeps the liver active and makes one's condition as comfortable as those who have much exercise.
The Fourth Regiment Drums arrived home this (Saturday) morning in splendid shape and are strong in their praise of the royal treatment at the hands of friends along the line of march and the good citizens of Charlotte. They are proud of the trip and do not carry any worse for the wear. The corps made a happy bit and good impression in every town and village.
Mr. E. N. Mercer, of Wilson, N. C. will be for several weeks a resident of this city. Mr. Mercer is a traveling roof painter and goes in his own car from place to place, but on account of the intense agitation of the money question and closeness of coin, he had to suspend business and Concord being such a delightful city in that dwell, Mr. Mercer, his wife and daughter will spend some time here. They are stopping at Mrs. Henderson's, on West Depot street. Mr. Mercer says "the bottom has fallen out of business since the first of September."

BRYAN'S DAY.

THE DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE HERE.
He Addressed 2,500 People at the Railroad Station From the Platform Erected for Him—A Word on Free Silver and a Word to the Laboring Man.
Over two thousand people gathered in this city to hear that peerless advocate of the people, William Jennings Bryan, the Democratic nominee for President.
The hour was late, but the people cheerfully waited, unmindful of Old Sol's scorching rays, their favorite herald of prosperity, and when his special train arrived they yelled until they could sympathize with him in his hoarseness.
Amid the waving of hats, handkerchiefs, umbrellas and a general hurrah, he was escorted to the stand and introduced by Chairman A. B. Young. For a few moments pandemonium reigned supreme and considerable persuasion was necessary to quiet the people.
On beginning his remarks Mr. Bryan was so hoarse that he was heard with difficulty, but as he proceeded his wonderfully rich, strong voice penetrated to the very outskirts of the crowd, raising the enthusiasm of his hearers to at least 100 degrees in the shade.
Mr. Bryan said:
"Gentlemen and ladies, fellow citizens: I saw some of Concord's people in Charlotte, and it gives me great pleasure to see so many of them here now. As I have but a few moments I see no better way of using them than giving you a few of the questions asked the advocates of free coinage and their answers. Very few converts are made by public speaking, but when friend talks with friend and neighbor runs against neighbor, they compare arguments and many votes are changed.
I wish to tell you some things that you may use in this way:
The advocates of the gold standard appeal to that inherent sense of honesty planted in the breast of every man by speaking of silver as depreciated currency, as a fifty-cent dollar. Let us see if this is true. I know of no better way of illustrating this than by the price of butter. In my native town out in Nebraska we buy our butter from a firm. This man goes out and engages all the butter he can, to be furnished the year round at the same price—25 cents, I believe, is the price we pay for it. Now in the Spring, he finds that he has more butter than is needed to supply the customers and so what does he do? He simply places his butter in the market and sells it at a reduced price—at about 15 cents per pound. Now it is the same way with silver. When the mints were open to silver it was worth $1.00 per ounce, but when the mints were closed to silver the supply exceeded the demand and it naturally sank, not in purchasing value, but as bullion measured by the gold standard.
The fallacy of their argument lies in their measuring silver bullion, which is excluded from the mints by gold to which the mints have never been closed.
Then they tell you that our mints will be flooded with foreign silver. We will examine this. Foreign countries need all the silver they can obtain to maintain their own commerce. France, England, Japan, Mexico—all the nations of the world demand their share of the money metals. Today France has more silver, per capita, in circulation than we have, and that at a less ratio—15 to 1. And yet silver bullion is higher there than in our own country. Surely no one can afford to export silver to this country when it is worth more in that country than in this.
Then they tell you that all the marketable silver will be thrown on the market. That all the spoons and silver plate will be thrown into the crucible and converted into bullion. Would anyone do this unless the value of the bullion exceeded that of the plate? Of course this cannot be.
They come to the wage-earner with the argument that free silver, by increasing the currency, will decrease the value of your wages without increasing them. The gold standard has starved the consumers of your labor. Starve the consumer and the factory must stop.
This is a manufacturing town. I wish to speak a word to these operatives. You believe free coinage to be to your interest. Your ballot is your own. Your employee did not give you your vote—do not let him take it from you. (Great applause.)
I want just one more word. Your vote is your own. It is your privilege to use it as you see best and to your best interest. Thanks for your kind attention." And again the crowd went wild. As he stepped off the platform there was a tremendous rush for the train. As he ascended the rear platform of the rear car men clutched at his hand—handcuffs seeking to give him a farewell shake and the word of "good luck to you." Amid a wild hurra the hero departed. The attraction was gone—in five minutes the crowd had dispersed.

SILVER MEN IN CHARLOTTE.

Bryan Speaks to an Immense Crowd—Governor Carr and Ex-Senator Jarvis There—North Carolina State Guard in Camp.
Special to The Standard.
CHARLOTTE, Sept. 17.—This city is booming with life. There is a sprinkling of the military all through. The dress parade of the North Carolina State Guard, which was being reviewed by Gov. Elias Carr, was somewhat spoiled yesterday evening at Latta Park by a heavy rain storm. The boys were dismissed too late to get in dry places and the consequence was that the Governor and boys got wet and all had to seek shelter. The Concord boys seemed delighted with the march and hope that it will be repeated next year.
We met Governor Carr and Ex-Governor Jarvis—both are enjoying the best of health. We asked Governor Jarvis of the probable effects of the election of magistrates and commissioners in the eastern counties. He shook his head with words rather gloomy. It is one of the wonders of this campaign that nothing is said about.
We expected to escort Mr. Bryan to hotel quarters last night but he went to bed in his Pullman and we were wired to "go and do likewise." Cabarrus is well represented here, as is almost every other place within close range.
Mr. Bryan was "out with the larks" this morning, and was escorted in magnificent style from his train to the Vance Park. He mounted the platform at 9 o'clock and was introduced by Governor Carr.
The great assemblage was so eager and impatient for Mr. Bryan, that the Governor could not be heard. Mr. Bryan spoke for 33 minutes. At the beginning the distinguished man told the crowd if they would be quiet he would make himself heard. He referred to the declaration of the Democrats at Chicago, and then the Declaration of the Mecklenburg Independence. While touching upon independence, he said that the United States was able to attend to her own finances. Here in Charlotte, as elsewhere, is a veritable horde of the new for the enemy. There is no fault to find against other nations, but we can't submit to foreign financial despotism. We are more than 100 years old and fully capable of our own methods. We are now united more than at any time since the war. The Republican platform does not assent that the gold standard is a good thing. Gold standard advocates never fought an open fight. The Republican platform pledge 2-year sticks whenever foreign powers will help to furnish them yard sticks of metal red hot or from a refrigerator. But the sticky measure is not like a yard stick unless it be a metal capable of great expansion and contraction. Then the buyer would have it red hot, but the merchant would have it taken fresh from a refrigerator.
His speech was full of food for thought and considerable conviction. The crowd was immense and he could only be heard when he turned toward you. His voice is a little husky from hoarseness, but strong, and his whole manner and appearance is impressive. He has the art of articulation and justification that gives his flowing words all the power conceivable. His tone is a gigantic task and is telling on his splendid method.
His escort numbers several hundred. Col. Julian S. Carr is conducting the party.
On board the Bryan special among others were Col. J. S. Carr, Clement Manly, Hal W. Ayer, Chas. D. Melver, Geo. S. Powell, T. J. Allison, Evangelist W. J. Caffo, J. H. Hale, Marshal O. J. Marjell, J. M. Pearson, Lee S. Overman, R. L.

Rock Chinking.

Friday night a number of young boys were playing at the old time hide-and-seek pastime in the yard of Judge W. J. Montgomery, much to the annoyance of Mr. J. E. Redman, who is conducting a writing school in the old Besant school house. He addressed the little fellows in a very rude manner and without authority ordered the boys out of the yard. This riled the feelings of the boys and a general battle took place in which stones, sticks and other missiles were used freely on both sides without serious results. The scholars at the writing school overpowered the small boys and it was some time before the irritated pupils could be made desist their rock chinking. As a natural consequence the mayor had a hearing Monday morning.

A Provoked Clergyman.

Rev. Dr. J. G. Mason, a native of Jonesboro, Tenn., who is now a pastor of a church at Metuchen, N. J., was in the city last week, and was landed here by some misunderstanding. He was very much provoked, too. The reverend gentleman was traveling on a clergyman rate ticket, which was void on the vestibule, although the passenger came from Jacksonville Friday without any kick on the part of the conductors until he reached Charlotte. He was put off at this point, and after demanding his valise, which was checked through to Washington, he discovered it to be badly used up, the lock being broken off and otherwise damaged. The gentleman was very much mortified, not only at being put off and treated very discourteously, but because he would not reach his home and congregation next Sunday morning, very much to his displeasure. He did not blame the conductor that put him off the train, but his heart was turned against the agent at Jacksonville, who told him that there would be no trouble.

In a Pitiful Condition.

Mrs. Calvin Mings, whose husband is now in the county home of Cabarrus, is in a pitiful condition at her home on Park street. She is in a dying condition with consumption and has neither money nor food in her house. She has several little children and a subscription is being raised today for her relief.—Salisbury World.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Calhoun, of Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it. Get a free trial at Fetzler's Drug Store.

"Good Lord—How 'bout Dis?"

Standing on the platform at the depot Thursday, two colored men stood talking in earnest conversation when the train, bearing Mr. Bryan and escort, rolled in, and being the great mass of humanity making such a rush and humming together, one said to the other: "Good Lord, how 'bout dis? Is all these people gwine ter vote for dat man? He'll be 'lected right 'ar."

Who Can Beat It?

On Wednesday last Messrs. Edwards and G. M. Sherrill, two young brothers of Mr. M. D. Sherrill, of this city, who live in the Mill Bridge section of Picking county, broke the record on plowing cotton. For nine hours the young men tried themselves and when weighing time came Ed had plowed 321 pounds and his brother Gip 316 pounds—All those who know what cotton-plowing is, will know what a good day's work these young men did.

Ashlyn Lowe's Narrow Escape.
Wednesday afternoon while the colored servant girl and two children of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Lowe were playing on the lawn in front of the Lowe residence on west Depot street, the horse, which is very gentle and playful, came upon the group and stepped upon Ashlyn, the little six year old girl, bruising her limbs badly. The horse stepped upon her twice, and strange to say, neither broke or fractured a bone. The child is alright now.

CURED AT 73 YEARS.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. No other medicine shows such a record. Here is a veritable patriarch, 73 years of age, with strong, healthy, and active mind and body. He took the New Heart Cure and is now sound and well.
SAMUEL O. STONE.
Grand Lake, Mich., Dec. 28, 1894.
I have been troubled with heart disease 15 years or more. Most of the time I was so bad I was not able to go out alone. I had severe palpitation, shortness of breath and could not get any rest. I had consulted all the physicians I could find for me to advise keeping quiet. In August last I commenced taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. I had not used four bottles in all and am feeling as if I were a young man. I have now a good appetite, sleep, and am able to do all my usual work. I will send you a receipt of my physicians bill for me to advise keeping quiet. In August last I commenced taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. Fifty Years Ago.

This is the stamp that the letter bore which carried the story far and wide. Of certain cure for the blood-sore that bubbled up from the patient's life. And his sarsaparilla, that all now know, that was just beginning its fight of fame with its cure of 50 years ago.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is the original sarsaparilla. It has unequalled a record for cures beyond by any blood purifying compound. It is the only sarsaparilla honored by a medal at the World's Fair of 1893. Others imitate the remedy; they can't imitate the record:
