

A wreck occurred on the Carolina Central road Wednesday, at Laurel Hill, four miles below Hamlet. The train, when it reached Laurel Hill, consisted of an engine, two box cars full of hands who had been at work on the lower part of the road, several other box cars and a passenger coach. The cars containing the hands were next to the engine. These were derailed at Laurel Hill, and fortunately for the men within that they were, for none of them would have been left to tell the story. As the train was speeding along toward Hamlet the engine became derailed, throwing the whole train off the track. The first four cars next to the engine were telescoped. The passenger coach ran some distance off the rails. Mr. F. H. Rahm, who was one of the passengers, was giving in his experience yesterday at the Buford. He said it was one of the most complete wrecks he had ever seen, and that the riding on the cross ties was about the roughest experiment he had ever tried.

Engineer Martin and the fireman jumped from the engine as "she" went over. No one was hurt, but the wreckage of the train was complete—Charlotte Observer.

A Countryman Tells Tale. Thursday being a cold disagreeable day, and all the merchants gathered around their comfortable store fires, a countryman from Montgomery county told the following tale in the presence of quite a number of citizens in the store of Mr. J. A. Blackwelder, on West Depot street, a STANDARD reporter being one of the attentive listeners: "It was a cold, rainy day last Wednesday (January 20) when I hitched up my ox to the sled and went several hundred yards from the barn for a turn of wood. After loading the wood, I told Bill to go long, and he marched right off, but did not draw the sled. When we reached the house I found that I had put a pair of raw-hide traces on Bill and when they got wet they stretched. I tied the traces to stout sappling and then proceeded to put Bill in his stall. The next day when the sun came out, it dried the green hide traces, and in doing so it drew the sled and wood right up to my back door."

This beats the usual rainy day items.

Check Misappropriated.

Mr. Charles A. Dry, of the firm of Dry & Wadsworth, furniture dealers of this city, was somewhat disturbed several days ago on receipt of a check from a New York firm for the amount of $571.04. It was all a mystery to Mr. Dry, he not knowing the firm from whom the check came and receiving something for nothing. An investigation was instituted, when it was found that the check was meant for Wadsworth & Co., a large mercantile establishment at Concord, N. H. The check was forwarded to New Hampshire and today Mr. Dry received a receipt for the check, accompanied with a card of thanks for the prompt investigation. The letter was misdirected to Concord, N. C., instead of Concord, N. H.

Borrowing Parents.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Gillian B. Kewler, near St. John's, is shrouded in sorrow and sadness today. Their little 4 months old infant, so bright and cheerful only Thursday lies a corpse in some mysterious way the child has been pulled away, and it is thought that the baby smothered, having been found cold in death Friday morning. The grief-stricken parents have the tenderest sympathy of all their many friends in the loss of their dear little babe.

SECRET LOCALS.

Nine persons fell on the sidewalk of Atlanta Wednesday night, receiving serious injuries. The cold wave struck a certain man unprepared and as a consequence a Concord merchant got an order for nine comforts at once.

The Charlotte Observer: Mr. Jno. C. Leslie, of Leslie & Rogers, has entirely recovered from his recent accident, and is able to walk without a stick.

We learn with regret from Dr. R. S. Young of the serious illness of Hon. M. H. Pinnix, of Lexington. The chances of recovery are said to be very much against him.

Mr. Gus. Morrow, a former student of Newell's High School, spent Thursday night in the city. He will become a pupil at Crescent Academy, where he will take a business course.

Newton Bonds, an aged citizen of No. 4 township, died Thursday night of pneumonia. The remains were buried at Mt. Olivet burying grounds.

To lose the senatorship by votes and a drygoods store by fire, both in one month is pretty bad luck even to John Wanamaker. If he had votes instead of drygoods, to burn, it might have been different.

Mrs. Mary Ritch, mother of Mrs. R. L. Young, Mrs. Dave Murr, of his city, and Mr. M. L. Ritch, of Salisbury, celebrated her 80th anniversary last Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Murr, on Spring street.

The small-pox scare in Greensboro is about over, although the attending physician, Dr. Richardson, is very much puzzled over the case and seems to be reluctant about giving out any positive opinion.

Ten donations to the Humane Society of Charlotte Thursday amounted to $90. In such contributions one can see that the givers expressed their sympathy for the less fortunate in the most substantial way.

Mrs. T. W. Mason died at her home in Northampton county Monday the 25th. She was the wife of Hon. T. W. Mason, who was the candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the Democratic ticket in the late election.

Martin Biggers, a young man 22 years of age, died at the home of his father, Mr. R. W. Biggers, in No. 9 township Thursday, of consumption. The young man contracted the dread disease while in the far West several years ago.

A young lady recently went into a certain store where shoes are sold and addressing a new clerk, said: "I want a pair of shoes, large and comfortable. Two will do." New clerk (glancing at her foot), at the same time talking to the head clerk, "Mr. —, the lady wants two shoes, large and comfortable; where is that box of sizes?"

The Southern Building and Loan Association, with headquarters at Knoxville, Tenn., has gone into the hands of a receiver. Concord people had no stock in the association, therefore lost nothing. Many of our citizens at one time had stock in the Covenant Building and Loan Association with headquarters at Knoxville, but have withdrawn and deposited same with our local and home enterprises.

Receipts for cotton sold in this city and delivered at the cotton platform for the year 1896 exceeded the year 1895 1,700 bales. The total receipts for the month of January, 1896, were 748; for the month of January, 1897, 577, a comparative decrease of 171 bales. Cotton is coming in very slow at present.

Mr. J. B. Sherrill, secretary and treasurer, has just issued from his office (The Times) the proceedings of the twenty-fourth annual convention of the North Carolina Press Association, held in the city of Wilmington July 15 and 16, 1896. The report is complete in every detail and is a handsome piece of workmanship.

The United States Senate is filling up with young men, but unfortunately they are not men, calculate either by their ability or their experience, to a first great honor upon the most exalted legislative body in the world. B. tier, of North Carolina, is the youngest, 33 and P. C. Kenner, of Pennsylvania, is 36 while Kenner, of Delaware, and Pritchard, of North Carolina, are just 40.—Asheville Citizen.

T. D. Rasmussen, a distiller in Rowan county. The worm of the still was taken out on Thursday when the men were prepared to start up the steam-escape in the worm was clogged. As there was no way for the steam to escape, the most natural consequence was an explosion. The still was blown up, blowing a hole in the boiler, and the distiller, was badly hurt. The fireman received slight injuries.

At a meeting of the Cabarrus Light Infantry Friday night, the question of going to Washington was freely discussed. There were about thirty members who signified their intention of going provided arrangements could be made for a leave of absence from their respective occupations. One member unable to be present, wrote an excuse to Capt. Caldwell in which he said: "If you go to Washington I certainly will go with you, and if you go to Cuba I will surely follow you out to it."

COURT ADJOURNED.

Twenty-two to the Chain-Gang, One to the Penitentiary and one to the State Asylum. No Civil cases Taken Up.

January term of Cabarrus county Superior Court adjourned Friday evening, when the criminal docket was cleared of the longest list of offenders known to our courts. The jurors and witnesses and other attendants were glad to be released of duties that are associated with court business.

As a result of the two weeks work, twenty-two men have been sent to the county chain gang, which will, in amount aggregate to about twelve years labor.

Henry Yorke was the single prisoner sent to the penitentiary. He was convicted of manslaughter and was sentenced for twenty years.

Henry McGane, the originator of the saying "date de hammer," has been pronounced insane and application has been made for his admission to the Asylum at Goldsboro. Henry is a harmless sort of offender, but has been an occupant of the prisoners' bar in nearly every court for several years.

The court did some excellent work in cleaning the records and it is hoped that the punishments of the few will check the masses who may be inclined to commit crime.

The civil docket was not taken up, therefore all pending cases were deferred.

A Good Idea. Dr. Gregory is practical if anything. Sunday when the Raleigh paper arrived here with the heading, "small pox in Greensboro" he was wrathful and at once wrote to Senator Soles at Raleigh to introduce a bill, prohibiting all telegraph operators from transmitting a message saying there were contagious diseases anywhere unless said telegram was endorsed by a health officer.

In this way he contends that exaggerated reports will not be sent out, and he is exactly right. Of course he does not desire to suppress anything, but it is a well known maxim and truth as well, that a lie travels much faster than the truth and once it is hard to counteract. Had such a law as this been in effect no scare would have been raised anywhere about small pox. Not a man so far as we could ascertain, left here for fear of taking the disease, but because of the danger of quarantine. No man wants to be kept up for 10 or 20 days. It is a good idea, this one of Dr. Gregory's and we hope it will be made a law.—Wesboro Record.

Rowan Gets Two More. The petition of citizens of Rowan county requesting the appointment of two extra commissioners for the management of that county's affairs, was approved by Judge Starbuck, who last Thursday appointed J. A. Fisher, Populist, and W. C. Rose, Republican, to fill the places. The commission papers were drawn up today and will be forwarded tonight.

No Destitution Here. "During all the cold, severe weather, there has not been a call for relief from any case of destitution that might exist in the city." So says Chief of Police Byger. "And this is so remarkable, because we have fewer loafers and deadbeats here than any town I know of. Everybody manages to provide for himself and family, except an occasional case of prolonged sickness and then the physicians and good women take care of them, and they make no demands upon the city."

How many towns the size of Concord in the State of North Carolina or any other State can boast of such record, and how much credit is due to the fact that Concord is a "dry" town?

A Runaway. Some little commotion was caused Friday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock, when the horse of Dr. White, the Indian, ran away on Church street. The beast shied at something near the Reformed church and made a dash down the street, turning in the lot at Parnell's shop, where the buggy struck the stable, breaking the shafts and the bed and damaging the wheels. The doctor was thrown several yards from the vehicle, but was not seriously hurt. His long flowing locks were caught up by the breeches, floating gently upon the crisp wintry air.
