The Observer says: "The most unique parade probably ever seen on the streets of the city, was that of yesterday evening in which the Kohrasoon figured. There were nearly a hundred men in line, to say nothing of the goat. The costumes were gorgeous, and the arrangement of the line original. The victims were led through the streets with ropes tied around their necks, and tied to each other. The band headed the procession, and the camels, following the wagon from which hot sand was thrown, brought up the rear.

The parade attracted universal attention.

D. O. K. K. The D. O. K. K. held a meeting at Suz Temple at 8:30 and a number of knights journeyed across the burning sand. The camels were especially vicious and many were the kicks received, but the chivalrous Pythians finally succeeded in mastering the fiery beasts and rode triumphantly into the oasis.

The Kohrasoon is a gigantic success, and the court astrologer after carefully observing the stars, made out the horoscope, which promises long and prosperous life. The Arabs have folded their tents, but if you think they have "silently stolen away," listen for the wailing of the next victim when he starts on his trip with these bizarre Nomads.

Nearly a hundred Pythians took the D. O. K. K. degree. The order was instituted under most favorable auspices, and the first ceremonial was highly interesting.

"Suz Temple, No. 73, oasis of Charlotte, desert of the Carolinas" is the name under which the temple was instituted. Mr. D S Summey is imperial Nawab, and has jurisdiction over the Carolinas.

There is a likelihood of the Temple visiting Winston."

Incidents in Anson. A correspondent writing from Wharton in Anson county to the Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligencer, tells how the people are pleased with the Aberdeen and Concord road:

Mr. J E Hatboock has bought and is running a new reaper in this section and, as many of our people have never seen one before, it is difficult to make them believe but that it is the train running on the proposed Aberdeen and Concord road. One fellow has gone so far as to haul cox-ties to it. The post master sold another fellow a ticket and he demanded transportation to Cottonville and was last seen trying to catch the thing.

Meted the Pipe. Last Thursday evening during the electrical storm lightning struck the water main piping at the Cannon factory and melted the sprinkler pipe which ran along at a parallel. The sprinkler pipe could be shut off only in the second story of the mill and before the cock could be reached several spinning frames and rom yarn had received a good shower bath. No serious damage was done.

An Attempt to Break Jail. The prisoners in jail attempted to escape Wednesday night. Two white men named McDowell, United States prisoners, were the leaders. McDowell received a box from home Wednesday in which a number of small saws were secreted. Wednesday night they set to work with the saws and when Jailer Thompson heard the racket and dropped in on them they had one of the bars across a window cut about half in two, and had the blankets already to lower them to the ground when they should have made the opening.

They were of course relieved of the saws and thus ended their dreams of liberty.—Statesville Landmark.

Mr. Henry M Boat has brought us an egg similar to the one we noted some time ago when the hen laid the egg figurative of the political parties. Mr. Boat's hen indicated that all the parties are still blending till there's not much life.

To Fit Name to Sphere.

The Charlotte Methodist, published by Miss Mamie Bays and Mr. Will Bays, is enlarging its scope, and to make the name fit the sphere it is to be known hereafter as the "Wesleyan Methodist." Success to the enterprise.

Two Years in the Columbus Prison. Dr. Davidson Burroughs, the great cure all and free coiner, from Big Lick, Stanly county, was tried in Charlotte, Thursday, for counterfeiting. He was convicted and sentenced to two years in the Federal prison at Columbus, Ohio.

It will be remembered that Burroughs coined fifty-cent pieces and circulated them throughout Concord and Cabarrus in great numbers.

A Terrible Accusation. The Salisbury World tells of a very serious charge against Mr. J T Nelson of that place.

The charge is brought by the grandmother of ten-year-old Bessie Nelson, the step daughter of the accused, for criminal assault on Bessie. Nelson is in jail and declares himself innocent and only the victim of spite. If there is anything in the world more heinous than the crime, of which he is accused, it is a malicious charge against innocence, and the punishment should be equal on the one convicted.

Cyclone in No. 1. Ex-Sheriff L M Morrison was in the city last Thursday morning and reports a cyclone passing over his place Thursday night. The terrific wind blew down the smoke stack to his gin, lifted the engine room from its foundation and landed its frame upon the boiler. Nine of his twenty-five fine peach trees were blown down and uprooted.

Mr. George Boat, who lives on Mr Morrison's place, says that he had just laid by a two-acre field of corn that was shoulder high, about one-third of which was broken off and ruined. Large trees were blown down. Wheat that was in the shock was scattered promiscuously over the field and badly damaged.

The Storm. It was a fearful looking cloud, a heavy rain and terrific wind that passed over this section Thursday evening about 8 o'clock. Trees and limbs were blown down about the city. No fatalities or serious damages have been reported to have occurred in this immediate community. A tree was blown down and fell on the house of Rev. Bakke, on Cobbin street.

In Salisbury a negro woman, wife of Roe Miller, was killed by lightning. She was in the yard playing with her children, behind the house of Miss Alice Pearson. When receiving the shock, she threw up her arms and fell back dead.

At Charlotte part of the electric power house roof was rolled up and dashed some distance away and the lightning almost enveloped the machine. The electric cars were delayed for a while.

At Lexington the Furniture Company's finishing house was blown down and completely wrecked, with a large amount of furniture in the ruins. Other damage was done in that section.

John Torrence, one of the negro excursionists, was punching at a "chum" with his fist, and missing his mark, plunged his hand through a car window. His hand was badly lacerated.

Working Negro Labor. A cotton mill at Charleston, S. C., has recently substituted negro labor for that of white. The press of the country has been severe in its criticism of this experiment, it being the only cotton mill in the South where negro operatives are employed. The News and Courier gives what it de clares to be the real reason for the change in the following stipulations:

"First. The owners of the Charles leston cotton mill preferred white labor. They could not get one-fifth of the white labor they needed in or about Charleston.

Second. The white labor they brought from elsewhere was very unsatisfactory, but they kept it for ten years.

Third. During those years the mill steadily sunk money, and was this year reorganized and recapitalized.

Fourth. It is wholly untrue that the negro labor was forced into the mill by a majority of Massachusetts stockholders.

Fifth. Ten years ago the then president of the company, a southerner and ex-Confederate sold or urged the directors to allow him to outfit the mill with negro help; and it is now only by necessity that negroes are used.

Six. The negro hands are proving entirely satisfactory and no change will be made, so long as they continue to give satisfaction."

There will soon be a mill in our midst that will work negro labor exclusively, as an experiment, but the factories now in operation in North Carolina will never be driven to hire negro labor to fill the places of the whites for the scarcity of hands, because our supply is greater than the demand in many instances, and in every particular our operatives are fully competent and reliable.

Beautiful eyes grow dull and dim as the swift years steal away. Beautiful, wifely forms so slim. Lose fairness with every day. But she still is queen and hath charms to spare. Who wears youth's coronal—beautiful hair.

Preserve Your Hair and you preserve your youth. "A woman is as old as she looks," says the world. No woman looks as old as she is if her hair has preserved its normal beauty. You can keep hair from falling out, restoring its normal color, or restore the normal color to gray or faded hair, by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor.

Dr. Woodrow Will Reagin. Dr. Woodrow has confirmed the rumor that he will resign the Presidency of the South Carolina College at the end of the session.

His reasons are that he is now past his three score and ten, when he thinks a man cannot be at his best as College president.

A Murderer Caught. Louis Mason, a desperate negro wanted in Atlanta for the murder of will Durant, a prominent citizen of that city, which occurred 18 months ago, was caught about a week ago and held at Greensboro until requisition papers could be obtained, passed down the road Wednesday night in charge of Chief of Police Tesqua, of Winston. A large reward was offered for Mason's capture.

The Negro Arrested at Salisbury Tuesday Night for Burglary is Labeled and Sent His Way Rejoicing. Dave DeBerry, the negro apprehended in Salisbury, Thursday evening, thought to be the one who made such a bold attempt at burglary and assault upon Mr. N S West, Thursday morning, was liberated from custody, having satis factorily proven that he was at Rock Hill, S. C., on the night of the crime.

Mr. West was doubtful as to the identity of the negro last night and this morning had no warrant sworn out.

From the fact that the negro looked suspicious and had in small satchel a pistol with three empty chambers, circumstantial evidence was very much against him.—Daily of 18.h.

Young Folks Entertained. Misses Mar and Nora King gave a delightful party to their friends Friday evening and the jolly little folks had a grand time. PARTISAN MILLIKAN.

The New Marshall Has No Time for "These Fool Democratic Jailers." Mr. John W Bostian, of Albemarle, was in the city last night on his way home from Federal court at Charlotte and in a very genteel way spoke not in very endearing terms of Marshall Millikan, of Asheboro, who succeeds our friend Allison, of Statesville.

"When a prisoner has been sentenced by the Federal courts to a term in jail, he has been accorded the privilege of naming the jail in which he wishes to be confined, and quite naturally he always wants to return to his own county and people. [Dave Crawford and Collie Furner," says Mr. Bostian, "are Stanly prisoners and were sentenced to six months in jail. They wanted to return there and I asked Millikan to send them back. He at first consented to do so, but afterwards he asked his deputy marshal a question," which was:

"What kind of a sheriff have they got at Albemarle?"

"One of these fool Democratic jailers," said the deputy marshal.

"Well, then," said Millikan, "we will take the prisoners to Asheboro, where we have a Republican jailer. We will take them by Wadesboro, Laurinburg and Fayetteville." And so they did.

"Millikan is one of the great economical reformers, but he didn't fail to 'do' the government on this job. Instead of sending those prisoners back to Stanly, a distance of about 70 miles, he takes them in a round about way, a distance of 250 or more miles, to Randolph county, and will collect the ten cents a mile and transportation allowed for the transfer of each prisoner, in order to put them under the care of a Republican jailer."

Stanly has as good a jailer as there is in the State and this action on the part of the new marshal is a leader for a brilliant record.—Daily of 18.h.

A DARING BURGLAR.

A Negro Entered a Home On Georgia Avenue, Giving the Occupants a Great Scare and a Thrilling Experience—Shot Three Times. One of the boldest and most daring burglaries ever heard of in our quiet little city, occurred this (Thursday) morning at 2 o'clock at the home of Mr. N S West on Georgia avenue. Mr. West is a boss in the weave room of the new mill at Cannonville. He is of small stature but plucky to the core. He lives with his family in one of the Fetzter houses, the back door of which contains two panels of glass, one glass being broken out. The burglar entered through this door, putting his arm through the broken panel, and turning the key, which was in the lock.

Mrs. West and an infant child occupied the first room to the right, and Mr. West and his four-year-old son slept in an adjoining room. The burglar passed the first room and entered that of Mr. West. The negro was in the act of picking up the trousers of Mr. West when he awakened and raised up in the bed. As he did so the dastardly coward shot at Mr. West. The ball missed its mark, however, but came near striking the head of Henry Lee, the little boy, who was sleeping with his father. It struck the head board 2 inches above the child's head.

Mr. West had nothing with which to defend himself, but as he made for the negro he grabbed a chair and struck. The lick was warded off, and the two men clinched. A lively scuffle ensued. Mr. West held the man until they reached the back piazza, when the negro fired the second time without effect. The burglar then freed himself and as he bounded from the porch and was turning the house corner, he shot at Mr. West again.

Mr. West followed the man into the yard, but gave up pursuit and returned to his wife and children.

Mr. West says there were two men, one being on the outside, and that both were negroes.

The authorities were notified and were made to get blood hounds to put on the trail of the burglars, but none could be obtained at Salisbury or Charlotte.

Mr. West says that he will know the negro if he ever sees him again. Officers are on the burglar's trail and it is very likely that he will be captured.

Mrs. West was very badly frightened but when she had reached the hall, her husband and the negro were struggling on the piazza. She says that nothing is missing except a few cartridges that were in a vest pocket which hung in the hall, and a towel from the back piazza.—Daily 17th. PROVED AN ALIBI.

SHOTR LOCALS.

The last one of the large pine trees that stood on the old Virginia Dare property on Church street, has been felled.

Sunderland hall is now one of the prettiest buildings in the community. Mr. Ed. Correll, the painter, deserves the praise for making it so. He makes the colors blend to great effect.

The negro excursion train from Charlotte to Greensboro, contained seven hundred passengers, every one of which was packed to its utmost capacity. Hard times don't cut any figure with the ordinary negro when there is an excursion on hand.

Prof. D M Stallings, principal of Sunshine Institute in Rutherford county, has gone to Chapel Hill to attend the summer school at the State University, after spending several weeks in the county with relatives at his old home in No. 10 township.

The Odell Manufacturing Company, Thursday, shipped by express a bale of bags weighing 2,389 pounds to a house in Virginia. This is not an infrequent occurrence. Mr. Caldwell, the agent, couldn't toss the bale of bags about like a 400 pound bale of cotton.

Powerful saline and other drastic purgatives should be strictly avoided, except in extreme cases. When an aperient is called for, take Ayer's Pills. They restore natural action by imparting strength and tone to the bowels, and their use is always attended with good results.

Collie Turner, who was caught selling liquor at the picnic at the Falls in Stanly county on Easter Monday was convicted at the Federal court in Charlotte, and sentenced to jail for six months. Dave Crawford received a similar sentence for retailing at Albemarle.

Miss Julia E Painter, the accomplished daughter of Rev. Dr. Painter, of Roanoke College, has received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, from Pennsylvania College, the first woman from Virginia to receive this degree. She will occupy the chair at Elizabeth college at Charlotte.

At the first indication of disorder, the deranged or feeble condition of the stomach, liver, or bowels, should be promptly rectified by Ayer's Cathartic Pills. These Pills do not gripe, are perfectly safe to take, and remove all tendency to liver and bowel complaints.

Rev. H N Miller was in the city today on his way to Mt. Pleasant, where he will make his future home, having been elected Principal of Mont Ammon Seminary. He has secured the services of Mr. Frank Brumley to assist him in getting out his paper, the "Southern Lutheran."—Daily of 17.

Mr. John M Young is very unwell. He has had several chills within the past several days. Mr. B T Ballard, the night operator at the depot, is working for Mr. Young and Mr. Y C Caldwell is substituting for Mr. Ballard. That depot is evidently a very unhealthy place, as every member of the force has been or is sick.—Daily of 17th.

Statesville Landmark: Sometime ago Mr. L C Caldwell ordered a marble statue for the grave of his little son who died recently. The statue was ordered from Italy and through some misunderstanding of the order, it was found, when it arrived a few days ago, that the statue of a girl had been sent in stead of a boy. Another order has been made.

The electrical phenomena last night presented some attractive views in the south, south-east and south-west. The flashes of sheet lightning were very rapid and were like great search lights thrown on the heavens, while the currents would sometimes shoot upward and sprangle out in the most sportive manner as if playing joyously among the clouds that were arranged for their special pleasure.

TO SAVE HER FATHER.

A Negro Girl Receives a Load of Shot Intended For Her Parent. A shooting affair occurred in No. 4 township last Thursday afternoon, in which a young negro girl and her father were shot, but not seriously. The particulars are about as follows.

Tom Long, an old negro living on the plantation of Mr. Frank Ienhour, in No. 4 township, had denied Bill Coleman, a young black negro, the privilege of paying attention to his daughter Sarah, and on Wednesday night ran Coleman off the place. This move aroused the thirly nature of the buck neg o for blood and on Thursday while Tom Long and his daughter were working in the field, Coleman appeared with a shot gun and leveled it on the old man. The daughter seeing the perilous situation of her father, jumped in front of the gun and received nearly the entire load in her stomach. A few stray shots struck the old man. Neher was seriously hurt, however. Coleman has gone to parts unknown.

Death Calls Her Away. Mrs. Alexander Louder, daughter of Mr. Rufus Honecutt died Tuesday night the 15th, at the home of her father in No. 7 township from lingering consumption.

Her funeral was presch-d by her pastor Rev. C O Lyster, at St. Stephens church where the remains were laid to rest awaiting the resurrection to that life to which death is unknown.

The bereaved have our sincere condolence.

Hawaii to be Stuck on to us. Hawaii is about to become annexed to the United States. The treaty seems practically made and are on about the same lines with the treaty in the days of President Harrison, that the Cleveland administration withdrew. It is believed that the treaty will meet with the necessary support in the Senate.

Later—Such opposition to the annexation of Hawaii is found in the United States Senate that it is believed that it will lack the necessary two third vote. If the Japs want to wear Queen Lil's old clothes they may do so for all that meet American's care.

Mail Carrier Miller in Jail. On Monday last several young men at Cannonville chased a dog that succeeded in killing the dog. Miller was very much displeased because of the death of his dog and on Wednesday evening his grief was unendurable, so he tanked up on corn whiskey, got his pistol and went for the boys who had slain his "purrp." He did not succeed as well as killing the boys as the boys did his dog, but he fired some very close shots at one Ed K-e-ler. Miller carried the mail on the Mill Hill route, but was unable to make the trip Thursday on account of being unable to give bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at court. He is in jail robering up.

Workmen have begun on the second story of the bleachery Messrs. Brown and McAllister are hurrying the work through.

Washed His Cradle. On Tuesday last, Simpson Lefler, who lives in No. 9 township, near Cold Springs church, was busy cradling his wheat in the harvest field, and becoming thirsty, laid his cradle at the butt of a large, dead tree and went to the spring for water. When he returned, a woodpecker entering a hole at the top of the tree, attracted his attention. While gazing intently at the bird the tree fell down and washed his cradle to pieces. Mr. Lefler himself barely escaped being caught beneath the falling tree.

A Young man who had heard of the terrible hurricane that passed over Salisbury, Thursday night, says that "two people were killed, one colored woman and a horse and cow."

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

W L Bell Elected Secretary—Wilmington Selected For the Next Meeting. The State Funeral Directors' Association held their final session here this morning and adjourned to meet in Wilmington, June 15th, '98. F H Vogler, of Salem, was elected president of the association and W L Bell, of Concord, secretary. This morning the association went in a body to the store of Mr. John W Brown and examined the embalmed body of a negro tramp who died here early in May. The body embalmed May 12th by Mr. Henry Brown and is in a perfect state of preservation. No odor whatever could be detected. Messrs Harry, of Charlotte, and Brown, of Asheville, exposed some of the arteries in the body and demonstrated how the embalming was done—Pres-Vin'or.

A Head-On Collision. Tuesday evening about 8 o'clock when the strong wind was blowing dust and gravel in every face that was on the streets, little Miss Jennie Gibson and Master Robert Young were riding their wheels rapidly up Main street from the race track, holding their heads down to escape the dust and gusts of wind. Mr. E L Frezza was coming down the street, and as the two met in the front of Marsh's drug store, the wheels of Mr. Frezza and Miss Gibson ran together with considerable force. Both riders were knocked from their wheels, but fortunately neither was hurt. A hundred or more people were on the street, and the hairs on their heads rose to that uncom fortablely excitable stand at the instant crash, fearing that one or all had been seriously hurt.

Two Lives Saved. Mrs. Phoebe Thomas of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her recovery, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery saved her life. Mr. Thomas Eggers, 139 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else then bought a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at Fetzter's Drug store. Regular size 50c, and $1.00.

Brothers Fight. "How good and how Pleasant it is for brothers to dwell together in unity" but how dangerous and unpleasant it is for them to fight and chunk rocks at one another on the streets. Bob and Troy Bost, two negroes, engaged in a scrap on the National bank corner Wednesday evening, each getting the best of the other in his particular way. Troy Bost, who is a mere boy, is noted for throwing rocks at people, and is considered a mean one, was sent to jail in default of bond, while his brother Bob was fined $5 and liberated.

While the rocks were flying promiscuously through the air, one came near landing on Mr. P M Misenheimer's head and barely missed the large plate glass in the bank. 'Twas a warm time.

What the Issues Will Be. With the unprecedented record of pardoned criminals on the part of Governor Russell; with the injection of politics into our educational institutions, as evidenced in the turning out of part of the faculty of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and as further evidenced in the attempt to eject the officers of the charitable institutions (happily frustrated by the uprightness of our judges); with the declaration by a member of the State board of agriculture that it is the purpose of the pie-hunters to abolish all offices they haven't got the ability to fill, etc., etc.—should there be any doubt in the minds of Democrats as to what the issues shall be in the next State campaign.—Charlotte Observer.
