A HORRIBLE AFFAIR

A man dies in the burning flames. Another narrowly escapes. Cause of fire not known for certain.
A horrible scene was presented to the people of Charlotte last night, when the residence of Mr. Robert F. Davidson, on North Pine street near Eleventh street, was burned.

ROLL OF HONOR

Of the Pupils of the Three Different Divisions of Our Graded Schools.
The following is the roll of honor of the Graded School for the month ending November 5, as furnished by the general Superintendent, Prof. E. B. Lewis:

SCHOOL NEWS

Western North Carolina in Line. Talks with Democrats in attendance upon the United States Congress from all parts of the ninth congressional district, indicate that there is an overwhelming sentiment in this part of the State in favor of making a straight fight for straight Democracy in next year's campaign, without combination, coalition, fusion or dickerings with any other party or parties whatsoever.

THE TWO-HEADED WOMAN

It takes a pretty tough case to get ahead of Capt. Will Slagg, conductor on the Winston train, but he found one that stopped him. It is thus told to the Winston Journal:
There was fun for the passengers on the train the other evening. One of the passengers was Millie Christine, the two-headed woman, and when the conductor came to this dual piece of humanity only one of the heads handed him a ticket. The conductor then demanded a ticket from the other. The manager, who was in the seat behind, mentioned to the conductor that as she was only one woman only one ticket was required. But the conductor did not see it in that light, so again insisted on a ticket.

SAFE BLOWN OPEN

It will be remembered that THE STANDARD some days ago said something about the postoffice being robbed of some money, though at that time it could not state what amount was stolen. Mr. E. H. Morris, postmaster at that office, writes to Postmaster Ramsey, at Salisbury, that $150 in cash was stolen and something over $170 worth of one and two cent stamps, so we learn from the Salisbury Sun. It will also be remembered that the car of the section master was missing, and from the Winston Sentinel we learn that it was found near Winsor, at Dutchman's Creek, four miles from the Winston Postoffice.

GEO. L. PIERCE COMES CLEAR
Telegraphs to His Daughters That He Had Gained His Case and is Now a Free Man.
Almost everyone will remember Mr. Geo. L. Pierce, a morphine eater who used to live in our city, and who was arrested at Forest Hill about six months ago on the charge of embezzlement in the State of Texas, and who was shot by one of our officers while he was trying to make his escape. He was taken to Texas for trial and his case is now ended. His daughters, who live at Forest Hill, have received a telegram from him saying that he has beat his case and is now a free man. We suppose Mr. Pierce will wind his way back to Concord, where his family now live.

A Union Officer With Us.
Mr. John W. Dees, a constable of Union county, spent Thursday in our city. Mr. Dees is up here looking for some parties that are wanted in Union county for resisting officers while under arrest. Mr. Dees has no certain clue as to where the parties are, but thinks that they are in this county somewhere. While here Thursday, he was employed by Mr. Sandy Smith to purchase cotton seed for him.

Change of Business.
Mr. W. T. Fisher, who has for quite a long while been conducting a grocery business on West Corbin street, near the Cabarrus Mills, sold out his entire stock to Mr. Jim Walters of Forest Hill. Mr. Fisher has not yet fully decided what he will do in the future.

SPINAL
Weakness easily cured by Dr. Miller's Nerve Tonic.

THINGS PUT TOGETHER

The postmaster general has issued an order barring from the use of the mails John Wedderburn & Co., the National Recorder and the National Recorder Publishing Co., of the city of Washington. The order is the result of charges made by patent attorneys of that city and also of other cities.

Madison county, N. C. has three murder cases on her docket for this term of court.

A negro woman purchased son carbolic acid in Asheville from a druggist and before she got out of the store she was seen to put it to her lips and fall to the pavement immediately. It is very probable that she will die.

The South the Finest.
At the recent meeting of the New England Cotton Manufacturers Association in Philadelphia, no paper attracted more attention than that by Mr. Arthur Parkinson, lead ing cotton manufacturer of Providence on "The Manufacture and Export of Cotton Goods."

Mr. Parkinson confessed that the South possesses advantages for cotton manufactures with which it is impossible for the New England mills to compete.

He said: "It is well-known that southern manufacturers with the present conditions can undersell or compete easily with the eastern mills on medium and coarse fabrics; and the future looks dark for New England."

"As a result of this continued competition in certain lines of goods for the home market, the prices are low, wages are low and tariff legislation cannot help matters, for the merchant and jobber will buy in the cheapest market, and that means that southern looms will be engaged ahead, and the New England mills must take what is left."

It is said that several of the New England cotton manufacturers who are now visiting the South are on the lookout for sites on which to build cotton mills. The Yankee has never been accused of blindness to business opportunities, and the fact that he sees in the South the best of all regions for the manufacture of cotton is a sufficient guaranty that he will take care to get his share of the advantages offered here.—Atlanta Journal.

Confesses Her Crime.
Mollie Traylor, the divorced wife of Charles Traylor, of Salisbury, who was tried and convicted at the last term of Superior Court at Monroe for forgery, has been arrested in Atlanta for robbing and setting fire to a dwelling, and has made a full confession of her crime. When asked about herself she gave the following account:

"I was born in Randolph county, Alabama, and my maiden name was Mary Catherine Yarbrough. My father was killed in the Confederate army at the battle of Seven Pines. My mother died in 1881. I was raised in DeKalb county, Georgia, and have relatives there now. We moved to Ocala just after the war. I married Obas Traylor, and afterwards separated from him. He is now living in Salisbury, N. C. I have told everything about the crimes I committed, and now I don't care what they do with me."

Luther B. Davis Dead.
At the time of pestilence or appalling accidents we hastily scan the names of victims to see if they belong to faces once familiar. The yellow fever at Biloxi numbers one victim known to most people of Cabarrus, and especially to those of No. 8 township. It is the name of Luther B. Davis, eldest son of Dr. J. B. Davis deceased.

Tom Johnson Caught.
Superintendent Blackwelder, of the chain gang, informs us that he succeeded in catching Tom Johnson, the negro who escaped a few days ago from the gang. He was in Salisbury, where his sisters live. Mr. B. Blackwelder brought him back last night, and he has been retained in his position. Mr. Blackwelder also informs us that he is on a hot track for two others that escaped from him. It is to be hoped that he will succeed in capturing every one of them.

White Caps About.
Two Girls Brought, Tamed and Feathered—Bloodhounds on the Trail.
Oakwood, Nov. 13.—The white caps maltreated two young girls here last night and the community is thoroughly incensed. The girls were named Ethel and May Roberts and were only seventeen and nineteen years of age, respectively. A white cap notice had been sent to the girls sometime ago warning them to leave the county and threatening them with dire punishment if they remained. They paid no attention to the notice and last night ten men went to the house where they were sleeping, awakened them, tamed and feathered and beat them horribly. One of the girls had her flesh cut to the bone with a cat-o-nine tails. Bloodhounds have been paced on the trail of the men.

Sale of Property.
On the 7th day of December, 1897, I will sell to the highest bidder the following property: One horse, one buggy, one one-horse wagon, some hogs, cows, farming utensils, a lot of corn, wheat, oats, hay, fodder, straw, stumps and all my household and kitchen furniture. Also a lot of chickens, turkeys and a good cook stove. The sale will be at my residence six miles east of Concord.
