

Cures

"Cures talk" in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla, as for no other medicine. Its great cures recorded in truthful, convincing language of grateful men and women, constitute its most effective advertising. Many of these cures are marvelous. They have won the confidence of the people; have given Hood's Sarsaparilla the largest sales in the world, and have made necessary for its manufacture the greatest laboratory on earth. Hood's Sarsaparilla is known by the cures it has made—cures of scrofula, salt rheum and eczema, cures of dermatitis, neuralgia and weak nerves, cures of dyspepsia, liver troubles, catarrh—cures which prove

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier. Sure liver ill; easy to take, easy to operate.

For Mothers!

It is a fact that the health of a child is almost entirely dependent upon the health of the mother. It gives tone to the general system, and puts her in condition to do their work perfectly. That makes pregnancy less painful, shortens labor and hastens recovery after child-birth. It helps a woman bear strong healthy children.

Wine of Cardui

has also brought happiness to thousands of homes barren for years. A few doses often brings joy to loving hearts that long for a darling baby. No woman should neglect to try it for this trouble. It cures nervous cases out of ten. All druggists sell Wine of Cardui. $1.00 per bottle.

For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, to the Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. LOUISA BARKER of Jefferson, Ga., says: "When I first took Wine of Cardui, I had been married three years, but could not have any children. After a month I had a fine girl baby."

THE ATLANTA (GA.) JOURNAL

Daily 85 a Year—Weekly 30 Cents a Year.

The Weekly Journal is a large paper, containing ten pages of seven columns each.

It is filled with the Latest News of the day, both domestic and foreign. Owing to its own leased telegraphic wires, which are used for another purpose but to bring the latest news to its editorial rooms. The Journal is prepared to get all the news up to the latest moment.

In addition to the news, it contains many special features than any other southern weekly. Among other things it has a weekly letter or sermon from Rev. Sam Jones, a contribution from Hon. John Temple Graves, letters of travel, biographies of distinguished men, and many other attractive features.

The Weekly Journal is beautifully illustrated by its own artist. In fact neither energy nor money is spared to make it the Great Southern Weekly.

CALENDAR FREE.

And the price is only Fifty Cents a Year. To every subscriber sending fifty cents for a year's subscription and a two-cent postage stamp extra (to pay postage) a beautiful lithographed calendar for 1898 will be sent free.

Address THE JOURNAL, Atlanta, Ga.

John W. Sims, formerly of this county, committed suicide by shooting himself in San Francisco, Monday evening. He left a note saying he had killed his wife at Caldwell, Mecklenburg county, June 20, 1895, had been sent to the State hospital at Morganton and shortly afterwards had escaped.

The murder is well remembered here. Without any provocation, he put a pistol to his wife's head and blew her brains out. He was brought to Charlotte, and put in jail here indignation ran high against him but he was pronounced insane and was never tried for the murder.

A year ago he escaped from the institution and the next heard from him was his suicide in San Francisco.—Charlotte News.

Further Business.

In addition to the business of the county commissioners at this month's meeting, which was closed Wednesday evening, it was ordered that Mr. J. M. Caldwell, of No. 2 township, as supervisor, open public road as it originally ran at the colored Baptist church near the Coddle Creek bridge on the Salisbury and Charlotte public road.

All the bonds of the county officers were unchanged except Cotton Weigher Biggers, one of his bondsmen, Mr. Allen Byger, having died during the past year. The name of Mr. M. J. Corl was presented by Mr. Biggers and accepted by the board to take the vacant place.

Wanted in Mecklenburg.

Deputies Will Propst and Charley Cook caught a man named J. Frank Watts today (Thursday) in No. 4 township, who is wanted in Mecklenburg for bigamy. From the warrant it seems that this is a very aggravated case. Some officer from Mecklenburg county will come and get the prisoner as soon as notified.

In conversation with the officers about going to jail, he made the expression that he "would die and go to jail before he would go to jail," but nevertheless the officers escorted him to his cell without having the least bit of trouble.

No Suit is Brought.

Engineer Robert Smith, whose name is in this county, was in the city this (Thursday) morning. Mr. Smith is a son of Mr. W. H. Smith, who was killed on the railroad between here and Harrisburg several months ago. It has been stated quite often that a suit had been brought against the Southern for the killing of Mr. Smith, but such is not the case, no efforts having been made at all. Mr. Robt. Smith thinks it very improbable, too, that any such action will ever be taken.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank, most sincerely, all of our friends, who were so kind to us during Herbert's illness and burial.

J. H. Bradley and Family.

J. M. Murr, a constable at Jenny Lind, Ark., was lynched by miners as he was taking one of their men away under arrest Sunday night.

Successful Farmer.

Rev. S. D. Steffy, pastor of St. Johns church, called on THE STANDARD today for the first time in four weeks having been so absorbed in his pastoral work that he did not see Concord in all that while. He reported 3,300 pounds of seed cotton from two acres of parsonage land, and he says they are not large acres either. Last it be thought, though, that he has turned farmer, he says that Mr. L. A. Ridenhour did the working of the crop. This reminded us of why we never succeeded well at farming. We should have gotten some one to work the crop.—Daily of 9th.

Oyster Supper at St. Johns.

The ladies of St. Johns church will furnish oysters and other refreshments from 11 o'clock, p. m. on the 23rd inst. The proceeds will go to the general treasury of the church with a view to some needed improvements.

These splendid people have a way of having a good time for patrons at some period during the holiday week and they are not going to come short this year.

All are invited and we envy those who can avail themselves of the enjoyable occasion.

Good for No. 7.

Mr. Jno. A. Harkey, of No. 7, gave us a pleasant call Wednesday and reported three porkers weighing respectively 225, 230 and 408 pounds. Mr. Harkey said he was not bragging at all, but he was showing the "day of the land" in No. 7. B. Ing asked what stock of hogs he has, he said "the Chester-Tod and Berkshire. You should see the immense quantity of lard we got from that 408 pounder."

Graham Gets a New Trial.

The decision of the Supreme Court in the case of the State vs. J. L. Graham for arson is that the court erred in admitting as evidence, in the Newton house burning case, the fact that a former house occupied by him had burned with Graham's furniture heavily insured. This means that Graham will get a new trial.

A New Meat Market.

Mr. Sol Levy, who is now running a meat market in Salisbury, will open a market in this city at the first of the year in the Castor building, next door to Ould Mercantile Company. He has rented the building already, and fully intends to get started by the first of the year.

Set a Thief to Catch a Thief.

President Diaz, of Mexico, is credited with the invention of an ingenious method of ridding the country of bandits, including train robbers, which is working like a charm. A desperado of more than common intelligence was captured about two years ago, and the President interviewed him in prison several times. The bandit told him that the want of occupation was the root of the whole trouble. The President said: "I will test you. You shall be liberated, and I will appoint you chief of police in your native district. You are to guard all trains and to protect passengers at the way stations. You can appoint your own subordinates from your followers. You will be rewarded for maintaining good order in your district, and held responsible for all lawless acts by whomsoever committed."

There has not been a robbery in that district (which was formerly a dangerous one for tourists to pass through) since that appointment was made. The system has been extended, and now the solitary uniformed policeman on the platform of nearly every small station in Mexico is an ex-robber. He is known and respected as a superior person by the peons and loafers, who know that he will permit no petty thieving. He, in turn, knows that he is closely watched by a superior officer, who is in the employ of the chief ex-bandit.—Philadelphia Record.

Back From the Wedding.

Mr. S. J. Lowe and Miss Sallie Belle Erwin returned Thursday night from the Bouleware-McDowd wedding, which took place that evening at the home of Mrs. Louise A. Watt, at Steel Creek. Miss Erwin was one of the bride's maids for the pleasant occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Bouleware passed through on the vestibule on their way to New York and other Northern cities. They will return to Rock Hill, S. C., where Mr. Bouleware is employed in the Rock Hill Savings Bank.

Statesville Landmark: White flint rock is being shipped by the car load from Lincoln county to a glass factory in New Jersey. It is said the farmers get a good price for the rock and are glad to get their lands cleared off it.

TRAYLOR IS GONE.

There is no longer any doubt of his leaving.

There is no longer any doubt of the departure of Mr. C. A. Traylor from this city with the intention of making his stay a permanent one.

The World today talked with the gentleman to whom Mr. Traylor confided that he would not return, and the gentleman stated that he knew for certain that he would not be seen here soon again.

The amount of his bond is $1,200 and his step-father, Mr. J. J. Allen, is his bondsmen. Mr. Allen knows nothing of Traylor's whereabouts.—Salisbury World.

The Lynchite's Revelation.

Press. H. Massey, in the Christian Advocate, tells a good one on a Lynchite. Condensed it reads as follows:

Lynchite has a revelation from the Lord that he is to take unto himself, as a spiritual wife, the wife of his neighbor, who, with his wife, are somewhat taken with the doctrine. He goes and tells the woman who thinks she should consult her good, devoted husband. He is sent for and Lynchite tells the revelation he has had. The husband hears meekly and proposes to retire and pray for a revelation too. After some very devout presentation of the situation, he returns, smiling, to the room and informs Lynchite that he has had a revelation that material man can't have a spiritual wife, but must become a spirit himself to obtain a spiritual wife, that it was revealed to him that he should make a spirit of Lynchite, "therefore," said he, "just set still till I can load my shot gun and I will give you an easy transit to the spirit where you can have a spiritual wife." He stepped to the room, put a very heavy charge of powder and shot into his gun and returned to see but a distant glimpse of the departing shadow of Lynchite.

Stop It By Law.

The Salisbury Sun says: "There is a hen on Chestnut Hill that is doing something out of the ordinary, or rather, above the average. She lays two eggs every day and three days in each week the eggs are double ones."

Now does not anybody see that if this breed is allowed to propagate, eggs will soon be selling at 5 cents per dozen.

Pass a law that hens, especially Rowan hens, shall not exceed one egg per day. If that does not stop it, cut that hen's head off.

An Aged Lady Sues.

Miss Emeline Hogan, of Orange county, a maiden lady of some 80 years, committed suicide in Orange county last week by hanging herself to her bed post with an apron string, says the correspondent of the Durham Sun.

October's Health Record.

From the North Carolina Board of Health Bulletin, we notice that Cabarrus county was exempt for the month of October from measles, whooping cough, scarlatina, and diphtheria, though eight cases of typhoid fever and some malarial fever were reported.

Telephones Put In.

The Concord Telephone Company have started their telephones for actual service, having given Misses Nannie and Kate Archibald, the operators of the central office, their instructions Thursday. A few of the phones in residences are not connected yet today (Friday), but Mr. Lester Coltrane, manager of the system informs us that they will all be in working order next week. There are about eighty-five subscribers to it in town, and it also connects with the Riviera Daily and Sunderland Hall.

THE STANDARD has equipped itself with one, and we would ask that the people please phone us the names of their visiting friends, or anything that is of interest to the people.

ANOTHER PLAN PROPOSED.

By Which the Producer of Cotton May Deal Direct With the Manufacturer.

Pioneer Mill's correspondence to Charlotte News:

My plan to remedy the low price of cotton is this: To change the time of paying our debts from October, November and December, 1898, to June, July and August, 1899, which is the end of the manufacturer's year. By this change the South would have a monopoly on her own product, cotton, which the world is bound to have. This world is bound to have this cotton, there is no doubt about that, and under this system the law of supply and demand would rule and fix the price, and not gamblers of Wall Street and Liverpool, as now they do. It would be the manufacturer and the farmer that would fix the price. For instance, the planter could rent a large sample room in every city and town and as he had his cotton ginned he could take his samples to these sample rooms with name and number of sample, and the manufacturer could go to his sample room and select the grade and number of bales he wanted and the price he should afford to pay, and the agent at this room could let the planter know, and he could deliver the same as wanted.

Now, Mr. Editor, this is a Southern movement for self protection, if we of the South do not organize and protect our products and our industries, I will insure you that England, nor our own New England and North in States will not, for their interest is in getting cotton as cheap as they can. If we of the South will organize and protect ourselves, instead of going wild over politics we could become one of the richest parts of this globe, but it will take a co-operation of the farmer, manufacturer, merchants and planters, all to meet together and discuss this or some other plans for self protection.

There are many details to be discussed through the press or at a mass-meeting of the people, if they see fit to call a meeting. I would say there is need of a meeting of this kind, for the reason there seems to be not a very good feeling between the town and country, which will grow wider as long as hard times exist.

S. S. McWHIRTER.

The Largest Ever Built.

It is said that the Southern's three large new locomotives are capable of drawing 500 tons up an 84 foot grade at the rate of 50 miles per hour. Mr. Angus Sinclair, the editor of Locomotive Engineering says they are the largest ever built.

Capt. Ryder Heard From.

In regard to the action of the board of county commissioners about the filling in of the railroad crossing, Capt. Ryder has replied promptly, saying that their action shall have attention.

An Old Habit.

Mr. John Moore showed us a ten-dollar bill of Continental money today (Saturday). It was printed in 1778 by James Davis and the reading matter is surrounded with a border. In one corner, in separate border, is the motto: "Union of Hearts the Strength of Interests." The first display line on one side is the words, "Death to Counterfeit." This bill was shown by Mr. Moore's great-grandfather at the close of the Revolutionary war, and Mr. Moore says he is going to keep handing it down in the Moore family. Mr. Moore has been offered ten dollars for it often.

A Miserable Looking Case.

By all odds the most drawn up, crooked and miserable man we have seen for some time came into our office today, for a pull of course. We promptly urged him to apply for admission to his county home, his seeming to us a case eminently fit for the county's care. He promptly withdrew. Now every tender heart has an impulse to aid the afflicted, but such must surely refuse the care offered them, choosing to play upon the charities of the world. We think that more than half the time they have an able-bodied accomplice somewhere awaiting to share the proceeds, unwilling to earn a living as the rest of us have to do.—Daily of 10th.

Street Lights Off.

The electric lights on the streets will be cut off for about two hours in the first period of the night for a short while till the new electric machinery is duly installed. The power is now insufficient for the demand, but will soon be amply strong. The city will be credited for the amount of service lost.

Careful Wife.

"Now Henry, don't forget! The hand round your hat means that you must order that medicine at the drugist's; the string round your finger is for the theatre tickets; the bow on your arm is to remind you to post my letter to mother, and knot in your handkerchief is for that paper of needles, and that bean in your shoe will remind you of the corn plasters. Good bye, dear, and be careful of yourself!"—Exchange.

The Biggest All.

Henry M. Neill, of New Orleans, has revised his estimate of the cotton crop. He now places it at 11,000,000 bales, 500,000 above an estimate sometime ago. This Mr. Neill says, is due to a most favorable late season for maturing the crop which is often blasted.

Good News to Teachers.

The town treasurer says the Graded School teachers will be able to get their wages next week.

COL. J. D. CAMERON DEAD

One of North Carolina's Most Notable Citizens—Veteran Newspaper Man.

Col. John Donald Cameron, the venerable newspaper man, died at his home, the Villa, in Asheville, Thursday morning. Col. Cameron was one of the most conspicuous figures in North Carolina, and was the author of the "Handbook of North Carolina," which was printed mostly for home-seekers at the World's Fair.

Mr. Cameron was once editor of the Hillsboro Recorder, from there he was called to the editorial charge of the Raleigh News, and was also connected with the Asheville Citizen when it made its appearance from weekly to semi-weekly, and then to a daily.

He was possessed of a graceful and fluent, though discriminating style, and was frequently called the "McAnulty of North Carolina journalism."

The funeral was conducted this (Friday) evening, and taken to Hillsboro for burial.

Educators Come Together.

There will be a meeting of the principals and teachers of high schools in Raleigh on the 28th to 30th. Superintendent Mcbane is calling for a meeting of the county superintendents at the same time and place except as to hours of the sessions.

The Durham and Charlotte.

Work on the Durham & Charlotte Railroad is being rapidly pushed forward. The road when completed will be 135 miles in length, connecting the cities mentioned. The right of way is through five counties in the State, and traverses a very extensive pine and hardwood timber district, also deposits of stones and ores. At Durham it will connect with the Norfolk and Western, Seaboard Air Line and Southern. It also crosses the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley road at Gulf, N. C., the Aberdeen & Asheboro branch of the Southern at Pittsboro, N. C., and the Salisbury & Norfolk Railroad in Stanley county. Thus far seventeen miles have been completed and six more are nearly graded. Surveys have been completed from Gulf to Durham, a distance of forty miles, and about 300 men are now engaged in the construction work. Maj. W. A. Guthrie, of Durham, is financial agent and the moving spirit in the new enterprise.—Henderson enterprise.

Too True All About.

Human life is the cheapest thing in South Carolina. The dead man is always in fault. The jurist is organized to acquit. The State is always at a disadvantage in prosecuting those charged with murder. The administration of the law is affected by local and class considerations. We choose our victims. It is the man without influence or money who feels the strong hand of the law. "Public opinion" is with the man who reaches the hip pocket first and gets the drop.

The only hope of the State is in arousing public sentiment to a proper appreciation of the sin of bloodguiltiness.—Charlotte News and Courier.

Wouldn't Spank Him

Father, what does a printer live on? Live on? The same as other folks of course, why do you ask Johnny?

Because you said you hadn't paid anything for your paper, and the printer still sends it to you.

Why not? Because there is no reason to.

No reason? Yes there is, Spank him I tell you and put him to bed.

I shan't do any such thing. What in the world do you want him spanked for?

He is too smart.

Well that comes of your marrying me.

What do you mean?

I mean just this, that boy is smarter than his father, and you cannot deny it. He knows enough to see that no man, printer or no printer, can live on nothing and I should think you would be ashamed of yourself not to know as much.—Moter.

McANULTY MOVES TO CHARLOTTE

An Historic Character from Cabarrus Locates Amid New Surroundings.

Charlotte has gained a distinguished citizen in the person of Prof. John McAnulty, who has been known for twenty years past as the weather prophet of Cabarrus county. The professor lived in a remote corner of the county, near Bethel church, in a house built after the design of a Swiss cottage, and his surroundings were unique in every respect. He first gained a local reputation as the man whose clock always kept correct time, because he would set it by the moon. Prof. McAnulty was also the possessor of a bear skin overcoat, which was the pride of the county, and which was always used in the country schools as an offset to Daniel Boone's coon skin cap. He was great as a weather prophet and never recorded more than 99 out of a possible 100 misses.

Prof. McAnulty and his family, which is a large and interesting one, are now located on North Brevard street, and have jobs at the Alpha Cotton Mills.—Charlotte Observer.

[We are sorry to lose Prof. McAnulty from our county, though we know his Cabarrus love can never decrease. To his fame, it should also be added that Prof. McAnulty is the originator of the wonderful "crooker-mole-rooter." He also has another singularity, and that is he never tastes the first glass of cider, but will not tell you about it until he has done away with it, then he takes another to taste it.]

He Came Back "Fishes."

Town Tax Collector, Jno. K. Patterson, made a trip up to the Odell Mills on a tax collecting tour and came back "fishes," having collected $4,157.91 from the business office of the Odell Manufacturing Company, which included the tax on the different mills, and also the tax of 20¢ mill operatives.

The Sun says that Sheriff Monroe has summoned several Salisbury merchants to answer the charge of selling cigarettes to minors. There is probably the same thing going on in Concord. If the spirit of the law were enforced there would be much less cigarette smoking among our boys. A teacher told us recently that he has boys in school that he can make nothing out of in their studies on account of cigarette smoking. There need be no surprise if trouble arises in Concord to stop this evil.

The New York postoffice has been robbed of a sum that is estimated at $100,000.

Selling Mortgaged Property.

A case was tried before Esquire Pitts this (Saturday) morning, in which Mr. Valentine Cook, of Rowan county, had Mr. Tom Sherrill, of Cabarrus county, indicted for selling mortgaged property. The case was argued considerably by Attorneys M. H. Caldwell and W. G. Means—Caldwell for Cook and Means for Sherrill.

The result was that Mr. Sherrill is bound over until court for trial.

Suffered 20 Years.

MRS. MARY LEWIS, wife of a prominent farmer, and well known by 42 old residents near Belmont, N. Y., writes: "For twenty-seven years I had been a constant sufferer from nervous prostration, and paid large sums of money for doctors and advertised remedies without benefit. Three years ago my condition was alarming; the least noise would startle and unsettle me. I was unable to sleep, had a number of sinking spells and slowly grew worse. I began using Dr. Miller's Restorative Nervine and Nervous Liver Pills. At first the medicine seemed to have no effect, but after taking a few bottles I began to notice a change; I rested better at night, my appetite began to improve and I gradually grew better, until now I am as nearly restored to health as one of my age may expect. God bless Dr. Miller's Restorative Nervine and Nervous Liver Pills."

Dr. Miller's Restorative Nervine and Nervous Liver Pills are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee. First-class bottles of money refunded. Book on diseases of the heart and nerves free. Address: DR. MILLER'S MEDICAL CO., ELIZABETH, ILL.
