FOR ALL WOMEN

Non-venereal of all the pain and discomfort from which women suffer is caused by weakness or derangement of the organs of menstruation. Nearly always when a woman is not well these organs are affected. But when they are strong and healthy a woman is very seldom sick.

McLREE'S Wine of Cardui

Is nature's provision for the regulation of the menstrual function. It cures all "female troubles." It is equally effective for the girl in her teens, the young wife with domestic and maternal cares, and the woman approaching the period known as the "Change of Life." They all need it. They are all benefited by it.

CHARGES UNJUSTAINED

Different kinds of charges brought against the Superintendent of the Chain Gang, but not sustained.

As noted in Thursday's DAILY STANDARD here was an extra session of the county commissioners held on account of the charges of Mr. Will Sides against Superintendent Blackwelder, and also as to a balance of wages claimed to be still due him.

It was quite a long discussion, lasting from about 9 or 10 o'clock in the morning until after 4 o'clock in the evening. As to the charge of Mr. Blackwelder's being drunk, there were witnesses that testified that they had known Mr. Blackwelder and had worked with him on the chain gang, and also some here that happened to be with him on the day that Mr. Sides mentioned, and they also testified that they had never detected anything of that nature.

Other charges of a frivolous nature were brought up for the consideration of the commissioners. Attorney W. G. Means appeared for Mr. Sides and tried to bring out every point he could in Mr. Sides' favor, without, as he said at the start, bringing any charges against Mr. Sides. Attorney Morrison Caldwell was in sitting with the commissioners.

After weighing all the evidence of the different witnesses and attorneys, the commissioners ordered the following entered upon the minutes of the meeting: That after investigation of the charges brought against H. H. Blackwelder by W. C. Sides, they be not sustained, also that the board decides that Blackwelder had sufficient cause to discharge Sides when he did. As to the balance claimed by Sides, it was decided that no more be paid, as he had been paid in full for his work.

Pretty Good For Her.
A young Western lady who wanted something that would keep her stockings up where they belonged, thus addressed the terror-stricken young store clerk: "It is my desire to obtain a pair of circular elastic appendages capable of being contracted and expanded by means of oscillating bunched steel appliances that sprinkle like particles of gold leaf set with Alaska diamonds, and which are utilized for keeping in position the habitation of the lower extremities which innately delicacy forbids me to mention."

Changed the Tune.
A Nash county wife informed her husband the other morning that she was working herself into the grave for the want of a hired girl, and as he went out she leaned back and fell to weeping. The children were making a noise in the hall as he passed and he called out to them: "You must stop that racket! Your mother won't live a week, and when you get a step-mother here next year she won't put up with any such finery." When he came home to dinner his wife met him with a smile and said: "Isn't ours a cozy home, dear, with only your own little family to look after?"—Motor.

North Carolina Ahead.
North Carolina always comes out ahead at the Expositions. A large portion of the exhibit made at the Nashville Exposition by the Southern Railway Company, was secured in North Carolina, and attracted much attention. A gold medal was awarded for minerals and ores. The forestry products won the highest award. Silver and bronze medals were awarded for the display of agricultural products, preserved fruits, cotton goods and mineral waters. The Granite Manufacturing Company and Thos. F. Holt Manufacturing Company, both of Haw River, won medals for cotton goods, as also did the Cannon Manufacturing Company, of Concord. The Glote Furniture Company, High Point, N. C., won a medal for display of furniture. Certificates of merit were given many other North Carolinians.—The Bulletin.

Smallpox in Knoxville.
George Price having returned from Memphis to Knoxville developed a case of smallpox. He was put in a raft house and flatted down the river some distance to isolation. This is from a dispatch to the Atlanta Journal.

M. & S. N. JOHNSTON DEAD.

Harrisburg loses an aged and prominent citizen—Lagrippe the fatal cause.

At 3:30 this Thursday morning, Mr. Nathaniel Johnston, of Harrisburg, passed away in death. The deceased had attained a good ripe age, about 78 years. He had been a farmer all his life and met the duties and labors incident to mortal life with constitutional vigor but that insidious malady, lagrippe, attacked him about a year ago and so enfeebled his frame that he could not survive this second attack.

The funeral services will be conducted at Rocky River church, of which he was a member, Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Johnston leaves to mourn his loss, a second wife and four children, two of whom are young men, yet under the parental roof with their mother. Mr. D. A. Johnston, of Mecklenburg, and the wife of our townsman, Mr. M. C. Walter, are the older members of the family.

Mr. Johnston has long been prominent in the community and will be very much missed.—Daily of 16th.

In Very Bad Condition.
We do not like to have the name of being a chronic kicker, as we do not think it can be justly applied, but there is need of some work at once on the road near the gate at the cotton platform, where there is a deep hole that is causing a lot of trouble to the people that have shy horses, and besides it is so deep that several bales of cotton have fallen off. We are informed that one bale fell off a few days ago, and came very near coming down on a man. We only ask that the proper persons go and see it and that will be enough.

Feels a Little Smaller.
The postmaster of our neighboring town, Maiden, would like to charter a knuckle to crawl through, A Washington paper says that this seasons postmaster reported to the postoffice department recently that somebody between New Orleans and Maiden was mutilating letters, and enclosed an envelope of a letter mailed at New Orleans to a party at Maiden, to prove the charge. The envelope and letter were punched full of holes. The department informed the postmaster that the letter had been through the yellow fever quarantine, and had been fumigated, and the punching had been done by authority.—Lincoln Journal.

Has Moved to Concord.
Mr. Jas. A. Furr, who has been living in No. 4 township for some time in the past, has moved to the city, and is living at Forest Hill. Mr. Furr is traveling in the interest of the Jamestown nursery, and is their general agent. Mr. Furr is thinking of buying property in Concord and making this his home.

Will Take Her to Goldsboro.
Mr. Nelson Barnhardt will soon take a negro woman named Mary Anderson, of Mecklenburg county, to Goldsboro, her mind being too badly affected to be kept at the county home. She has been in our county several months and Mecklenburg has been paying for her keeping during this time.

Mr. Bryan in Mexico.
President Diaz acceded an audience to Hon. W. J. Bryan Wednesday in Mexico, and in every way bestowed fitting honors on America's popular Statesman. In his address before the Chamber of Deputies Mr. Bryan was especially happy in his allusions to the common interest of Mexico and the United States in the Monroe Doctrine.

The ladies of the Bryan party were delighted with the courtesies of Mrs. Diaz.

Assigned His Pastorate.
Rev. B. F. Davis has tendered his resignation as pastor of Trinity Reformed church in this city, on account of ill health, and at a meeting of the Consistory Wednesday it was adopted and will take effect on the first day of next February. Rev. Davis has also had charge of a mission chapel on West Cornum street.

Concert on the 23rd.
Rev. H. N. Miller, Ph. D., principal of Mount America Seminary, was in our city Thursday in the interest of that popular institution.

He is bent on further improvements on the seminary building to bring it up to more modern equipments. The concert to be given on the evening of the 23rd, inst., by the young ladies has this object in view. Having the advantage of a trainer of high educational merit, no doubt he will be entertained that the concert will be a treat, and the cause is meritorious.

Shoe Factory Starts Up.
The Alliance Shoe Factory at Hillsboro has started up. It is said the capacity is fifty pairs per day, and orders are in on which to run for some time.

FATAL SHOOTING

In Jefferson, Ga.—Terrible consequences of a drunken man.

At Jefferson, Ga., Tuesday night there was a social gathering at the home of R. L. Califf. In the height of the pleasures Shaw Griffin, a young man, came in intoxicated, and was not only disrespectful to the ladies especially, whereupon Mr. Califf remonstrated with him and advised him to leave. Griffin became furious and whipped out a pistol in a most threatening manner. Califf prepared for the worst and ordered him off, when a fusillade began in which both were killed. Califf's three shots entered Griffin's body, but Griffin's four shots, beside killing Califf, fatally wounded his wife and little daughter and killed a young man, Clarence Jones.—Daily of 16th.

Another Gun Accident.
We learn today of a bad accident that occurred last Saturday, Dec. 11, to Mr. John Culp's 15-year old boy, while hunting. His gun, for some reason, burst all to pieces when he went to shoot some game, the breech pin entering his forehead and breaking the skull for a distance of about two inches. No hopes were at first entertained for his life, but now we learn that he will probably recover. No cause is known, and it is said that the gun broke into six different pieces.—Daily of 16th.

Public Office as Public Trust.
The news comes from Raleigh that J. M. Newborne has resigned as commissioner of agriculture, and is to be elected superintendent of the penitentiary, Superintendent Smith, of the penitentiary, succeeding Newborne as commissioner of agriculture. This is public acknowledgment of what the public has all the while known, viz: Smith's incompetency for the position he has been trying to fill. Partial acknowledgment was made of his failure several weeks ago when the directors of the penitentiary took certain important duties attaching to his office out of his hands and assumed them themselves; but they did not avow failure but have been keeping a brave bluff in the claim that the penitentiary operations have been highly successful. Now they let down, and swap Smith out of his office and into another. He is not turned adrift, as unworthy and incompetent servants deserve to be, but, being an administration favorite, is given another office, an important and responsible one, for which he has no more capacity, so far as there are any reasons to judge, than he has for the one which he is about to vacate. It is quite a new proposition in logic, that proved unfitness for one office is demonstration of fitness for another.

There will probably be a reckoning some day for an administration which takes the people's offices and trades and marts them to under-servers.—Charlotte Observer.

A Negro Murderer Caught.
Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 13.—Sixteen months ago, a few miles from Raleigh, James Bocker, alias Chavasi, a negro, who was the rejected lover of Mahala White, a servant girl employed by Mrs. Tucker, of Raleigh, blew out Mahala's brains. He went to the girl's home one morning and demanded that she marry him. She refused and he blew off the top of her head. He escaped, though all roads were guarded. He was captured. He was arrested at Battimore and Governor Russell today made aquisition for him.—Ex.

Too Brave to Be Shot.
In a battle during the Civil War the Confederates were driving back the Federals, who were in swift retreat, when a Federal officer dropped wounded. One of his men stopped at the risk of his life, and put his arms around the officer to carry him from the field. Fifty Confederate muskets were aimed at the young man who was picking up the officer. But the Confederate captain shouted "H. I. I. don't fire! That fellow is too brave to shoot." And as the Federal officer, he'd up by his private soldier, went limping slowly off the field, the Confederates gave three cheers for the brave private; and just before the two disappeared behind a barn, both the wounded officer and the brave private lifted their caps in gratitude to the Confederate captain.—Christian Herald.

The Limbless Cotton.

We received some time ago a proposition to advertise the Jackson limbless cotton and handle the seed as agent. The commission was fair but only a little more than half what some editor said he was offered. If the limbless cotton is a good thing we want our farmers to have it, but we would rather not see them bite freely, lest there be found some fake. We give the following that seems to us the most comprehensive brief statement that we have seen. Should any of our readers wish to try this cotton we will take pleasure in siding them:

"One of the features of the cotton growers' convention today was the exhibiting of a new variety of cotton, known as the 'African limbless.' In 1893 Adolph Kyle, while wandering over Central Africa, came across a new species of giant cotton in the valley of the upper Congo river. The plant was not under cultivation, but appeared to grow wild on the marsh lands. It differed from other cotton in that many of the stalks were as high as 20 feet, and the bolls were connected directly to the stalk without any intervening limb. Kyle cut off a piece 18 inches long. He placed it in his trunk and finally came here.

"Talking to a group in a hotel Kyle related the above incident and so interested F. W. Jackson, a planter of this State, that the latter asked to see the specimen. Kyle gave it to him, and in the spring of 1894 Jackson planted a large number of the seed, obtaining only 57 perfect stalks in his crop. The soil in which he experimented was very poor, and the stalks only averaged eight feet, with an occasional exception measuring 14 feet. The maximum number of bolls on one stalk was 187, and the ordinary run averaged 57 bolls. The American cotton averages only eight to eleven bolls to the stalk.

"The quality of the new species was found to excel the old greatly. The next year the amount of product was increased slightly, and in 1895 five acres yielded three and a half bales to the acre. From the crop of 1896 there is enough seed to plant 2,500 acres. It is expected that with proper fertilization the seed will produce five bales to the acre.

"The new variety has five 'locks' or divisions to the boll, whereas the old style has only four. The locks in the ordinary variety are only three-quarters of an inch long, while the new kind is one and one-half inches long. While the brand has been endorsed as genuine by Commissioner of Agriculture Nesbitt and others, Col. R. J. Reddin, superintendent of the State Experimental Farm, denounces it as spurious, and says it is simply a variety of a weed that grows in many places and which has been brought to high cultivation. The convention will investigate the cotton tomorrow."—Atlanta, Ga., Special, 14th, to New York Sun.

Shells to Beat the Band.
Happening to drop in at the Fenix Roller Mill this (Thursday) morning, Mr. Giles Crowell showed his new Western cornsheller he has just received. We tested it by actual count and find that it shells 190 pounds in two minutes, which would make at least three bushels and a peck. Counting at this rate of speed, which is nothing more than its average, he can shell nine and one-half bushels per hour, and it is nice and clean and free from any cob.

A Piece of Pension News.
It will be remembered that some days ago we published the different amounts of the pensions that had been sent Register Weddington for distribution and among them was one for $62, which was the largest one. A good many have wondered what it is that draws the highest pension in the county. It is Mr. Sam W. Tarlton, of Mill Hill, who was shot during the war, and who suffers so intensely at times.

A Hog Stolen.
Some person is getting hungry for pork, sure, up in No. 1 township. Some one took one of Mr. Frank Best's hogs Wednesday night. Judging from the appearance of the ground about there, it is thought that the person knocked the hog in the head with a maul, and then after dragging it some distance stuck a knife in its throat. After it had bled sufficiently, they again dragged it some distance, and then nothing more is known. A search warrant was taken out Thursday and served, but nothing was found, though there seems not to be much doubt but that the slayer will be caught.

EIGHT COWS KILLED.

Tuberculosis Among the cattle of the A. & M. College.

The herd of cattle at the Agricultural and Mechanical College is infected with tuberculosis. Eight splendid cows were killed Saturday and four more are being watched and examined to determine whether they are affected with the disease. Prof. Emory, of the experiment station, made a test for tuberculosis of the eight cows that were killed, and after a thorough examination he was satisfied that they were affected. It was decided to kill the animals in order to stamp the disease out, if possible, and this was done. Four others of the herd are now under the watch of experts.

The college herd of cattle is a large one. The cattle are blooded and standard bred, and command prices. Last spring the herd of cattle at the experiment station was affected with tuberculosis and a number of cows had to be killed.

Tuberculosis is in reality consumption. It is incurable, and the only resort to save a herd of cattle is to kill those affected. There have been a number of cases of tuberculosis in the city.—Raleigh Post.

Next Year's Elections.
The elections for 1898 will be more general and of far greater importance than those of this year.

In addition to the choice of a new house of representatives and of legislators in several of the states that will elect senators, the following states will elect governors: Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Idaho, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

These contests will be national in their character, covering as they will every part of the Union.—Greensboro Patriot.

To Save the Klondykers.
Washington, Dec. 16.—The House today passed a bill appropriating $175,000 for the relief of the people who are in the Yukon river country. As passed the sum carried by it is to be expended under the direction of the Secretary of War for the purchase, transportation and distribution of subsistence stores.

It provides that these stores may be sold at prices fixed by the Secretary of War, or donated where the people are unable to pay for them. It empowers him to purchase reindeer and employ drivers, not citizens of the United States, and afterward dispose of the reindeer. Secretary Alger was on the floor during the debate.

Closed Out Their Business.
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Byones, of Chicago, who set up a "ring the case" business in our city yesterday, have pulled up their stakes today (Friday). It was found this morning that that class of shows should pay a tax of forty dollars and rather than do that they have left our town. They went to Charlotte from here.

The Long Distance Line.
The material is on the ground at Raleigh for the extension of the long distance telephone to all the leading towns of North Carolina. The line will be run from Raleigh to Greensboro and then to Davidson in order to tap the long distance line of the large cities, says the Raleigh Post. Later on the line will be extended South and Salisbury will be given connection with the outside world. The B. H. Company will expend $20,000 in establishing telephonic connection between the leading North Carolina towns.

At the Democratic House caucus in Washington Tuesday night Representative Bailey, of Texas, offered resolutions declaring against the retirement of greenbacks and treasury notes; the extension of the privileges of national banks or a reduction of taxes on them; also declaring for the recognition of belligerency between Cuba and Spain and for the enactment of a bankruptcy law. The resolutions were adopted. No positive course was marked out on the Hawaiian question.

A New Bank for Asheville.
The establishment of a new bank in Asheville is soon to be realized. Those interested in the movement say they have had sufficient encouragement to believe that a new banking institution will soon be formed with Mr. J. W. Norwood, a successful Wilmington banker, as its president.

A RUNAWAY.

Horses Became Frightened While Loading Lumber and Took a Long Run.

This (Saturday) morning at a while after 8 o'clock, while the team of Mr. M. J. Cori was at the depot waiting for a load of lumber, they became frightened and ran away. They ran up Depot street, going on through town towards the Five Mile branch. When they were going down the steep hill on this side of the branch, they met Mr. Jim Sapp, who had on a load of wood, and realizing his danger, ran up on the bank. Diving too far over the bank, his load of wood turned up in the road, but no damage was done by the runaway team.

The runaway team still kept going at a break-neck speed until they got to Mr. W. C. Goodman's, just on this side of Cold Water creek, where they met Mr. Caleb Cline's two small boys with a load of wood. The loaded wagon was turned over, one of the mules knocked down, and the wagon broken at several places. Fortunately the boys escaped without injury, having either been knocked off or else jumped just when the two wagons struck.

No damage scarcely was done to Mr. Cori's wagon or team, though one of Mr. Cline's mules is badly bruised up and the flesh is torn in several places.

This makes twice that Mr. Sapp has had an encounter with a runaway team, the two not being far apart, having once had a collision with the large horses now belonging to Mr. J. M. Burges, then belonging to Mr. Caleb Swink.

Hydrophobia Death at Guilford College.
David Moore, the 7-year-old son of Mrs. Moore died in great agony Thursday morning at Guilford College.

The child had been bitten by a strange cat three weeks ago. The cat acted strangely in biting the child but little was thought of it till the child took a chill and grew very sick. Dr. Robinson was called in. He pronounced the symptoms those of hydrophobia. The child died in spasms.

The same cat bit Dr. Robinson in the ear and much uneasiness is felt for him.

A special to the Charlotte Observer says six men were bitten by a mad dog in Greensboro Thursday, and that great excitement prevails.

Original Observations.
The swindle factories are always running on fool time.

To be alone is a million fold better than to be in bad company.

Most men are bad because they have not been taught to be good.

The successful man is the one who is always pursued by a pack of snapping dogs.

Ten grains of common sense are worth more for practical purposes than ten bushels of book learning.

Some men are born lucky, some work themselves into fortune, and some die as they live—no account to anybody.

A woman has more worry and trouble over getting one dress made to suit her than a man has over all his clothes in a lifetime.

He who brings a feeling of joy to the heart of a sad being, performs an act that will count much in his favor in the final accounting.—Exchange.

Hanging Day Instead.
Six men expired from crime Friday on the gallows, viz: Wm. Carr, in Kansas City, Mo., for the murder of his own child; Bud Brooks and Grady Reynolds, of Jefferson, Ga., for the murder of M. C. Hunt, of Belton, Ga.; Wm. Johnson, of Covington, Tennessee, for the murder of Val E. Boyd, of Hixville, John Hardie, of Grand, Va.; Virginia, for the murder of George Moore, and had Feard at Carrington, Ala., colored, aged 14 years, for outraging the 8-year-old daughter of Ben Croker.

There is some comfort in the knowledge that not all the criminals escape just punishment.

THE CONCEALED WEAPON LAW.

It Restrains Only the Peaceable—The Violent Disregard It.

King's Weekly, of Greenville, is a paper which has a refreshing fashion of blurring out what it thinks, seemingly without regard to whether the proposition it announces is comfortable to the public or not. The following from a recent issue is a case in point:

"There is right much now being said about abolishing the hip pocket. It is a popular subject viewed from some standpoints, but the average citizen who has to hustle for a living, comes in contact with the world and look out for himself, often finds a necessity for two. Carrying concealed weapons has often resulted in fatal consequences, but it should not be forgotten that much life and property have more often been protected. No man who understands the times now existing among us fails to see justification in carrying concealed weapons. The law against it ought to be repealed. It is, of necessity, violated every day. It places the weak and law-abiding at the mercy of that element who care nothing for the law. And they are many. In these times, it is best that every man be prepared to defend himself at any time."

This is what a great many people are thinking and the idea upon which they are acting without the nerve to say it. There are many good and peaceable citizens who at times feel the need of carrying a gun and carry it, notwithstanding that there is a law against it. If the law restrains any class it is this class, for it is certain that it has no effect upon the lawless—the only class that needs to be deprived of its weapon. To the extent that it restrains the law-abiding, to that extent it places this class at the mercy of those who do not regard the law.

But whether this is true or not it contravenes the very first American principle, the idea upon which all Democratic governments are built, to wit: that the citizen has the right to do as he pleases so long as he does not trench upon the rights of his neighbor. In following out this idea it is to be said that a man has an inherent right, of which the law cannot with justice deprive him, to carry a gun. The law has a right to collar him when he makes improper use of it—not before.—Statesville Landmark.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

Cures a Prominent Attorney.

M. B. C. PHILLIPS, the leading pension attorney of Belfast, N. Y., writes: "I was discharged from the army on account of ill health, and suffered from heart trouble ever since. I frequently had fainting and smothering spells. My form was bent as a man of 50. I constantly wore an overcoat, even in summer, for fear of taking cold. I could not attend to my business. My rest was broken by severe pains about the heart and left shoulder. Three years ago I commenced using Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, notwithstanding I had used so much patent medicine and taken drugs from doctors for years without being helped. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure restored me to health. It is truly a wonderful medicine and it affords me much pleasure to recommend this remedy to everyone."
