The Woman's Health and Home Journal, price $0.50, with THE STANDARD $1.25, or we will give this journal for a club of two new subscribers to THE STANDARD. These terms imply strictly cash in advance.

THE JEFFERSONIAN.

We give below the salutatory of Charlotte's first newspaper. It is strikingly in line with Democratic contentions of today, while it indicates the environments of 57 years ago. The paper was contributed to the Charlotte library by Mrs. H. Harris.

The present is the first effort that has been made to establish an organ at the birthplace of American independence, through which the doctrines of the Democratic party could be freely promulgated and defended—in which the great principles of liberty and equality, for which the Alexanders, the Polks and their heroic compatriots perilled their all on the 20th of May, 1775, could at all times find an unshrinking advocate. Its success rests chiefly with the Republican party of Mecklenburg, and to them and the Republicans of the surrounding country the appeal is now made for support. The Jeffersonian will assume as its political creed those landmarks of the Republican party, the doctrines set forth in the Kentucky and Virginia Resolutions of 1798, believing, as the undersigned does, that the author of these papers, who bore a conspicuous part in framing our system of government, were best qualified to hand down to posterity a correct exposition of its true spirit—the best judges of what powers were delegated by, and what reserved to, the States.

It will oppose, as dangerous to our free institutions, the spirit of monopoly, which has been stealthily but steadily increasing in the country from the foundation of our government. The most odious feature in this system is that it robs the many, unperceptibly, for a few wealthy individuals with power not only to control the wages of laboring men, but, also, at their pleasure to inflate or depress the commerce and business of the whole country—exciting a spirit of extravagance, which it terminated in pecuniary ruin, and too often the moral degradation of its victims. This system must be thoroughly reformed before we can hope to see settled prosperity smile alike upon all our citizens. To aid in producing this reform will be one of the main objects of the Jeffersonian. It will be against exclusive privileges, or partial legislation, under whatever guise granted by our Legislatures; and, therefore, will oppose the chartering of a United States Bank, internal improvements by the Federal government, a revival of the tariff system, and the new Federal scheme of the general government assuming to pay to foreign money changers the two hundred millions of dollars borrowed by a few States for local purposes.

As a question of vital importance to the South, and one which, from various causes, is every day assuming a more momentous and awful aspect, the Jeffersonian will not fail to keep its readers regularly and accurately advised of the movements of Northern abolitionists. It must be evident to all candid observers that a portion of the party press of the South have hitherto been too silent on this subject. We shall, therefore, without the fear of being denounced as an alarmist, lend our humble aid to assist in awakening the people of the South to due vigilance and a sense of their real danger.

While a portion of the columns of the Jeffersonian will be devoted to political discussion, the great interests of morals, literature, agriculture and mechanic arts shall not be neglected. With the choicest selections on these subjects, and a due quantity of light reading, the editor trusts to render his sheets agreeable and profitable to all classes in society.

Orders for the paper, postage paid, addressed to the Editor of the Jeffersonian, Charlotte, N. C., will be promptly complied with. Postmasters are requested to act as our agents for the paper, in receiving and forwarding the names of subscribers and their subscriptions. The terms of the paper will be found above. JOS. W. HAMPTON, Charlotte, March 5, 1841.

A WORD TO OUR PATRONS.

We deem it not inadvisable and somewhat due to ourselves to address a few words to those who purport our daily columns.

We have yet to hear of a well informed business man say that our town needs or will support comfortably more than one daily paper.

It would be presumptuous of us to claim that THE STANDARD is all that might be desired, but if there are any demands for more than it is our ambition to make it we do not know it and we hardly think a superior has been presented yet. We appreciate most keenly the assurance of good will and favor that often greet us and we would be less than human if our arduous labors were not somewhat lightened by the words of commendation and moral support tendered to us.

For the nearly two years that we have endeavored to fill, to the fullest extent possible, a life of usefulness in our present capacity, we congratulate ourselves that we have made so few enemies and we believe very many friends.

We cannot see that we merit the opposition to which we have been exposed for some time.

By reference to our expense account we find that we were paying our reporter more wages than our entire family expenses, including cost of living, clothing, spending money and all, though the services of two were devoted to the work. Nor do we remember to have ever declined a favor asked. Yet we got the opposition.

We got the disfavor and the opposition from a very few whose friendship we were unable to retain while maintaining our sense of duty and personal privilege.

We lost some patronage, that we felt keenly, from real friends who in the plenitude of their generosity rather than a close scrutiny and a searching out of the cause they knew not, they thought it right to divide patronage when in this feeling were shared by most citizens of our town it would lead to financial ruin of one or the other or a discouraging half support that would lead to degeneration, instead of high toned journalism, the thing least to be desired in our town.

To this latter class we think we can appeal for a return to our list.

For all other classes referred to we have no spirit of hatred, and shall place no barriers in the way of the friendship that we feel conscious should never have been withdrawn from us, but we cannot now merit their disdain by servile attitude.

Our ideas of the responsibility of conducting a newspaper as well as of the opportunity to build up or tear down the morals of a community are such as to make us ready to yield the field, though against our preferences and our financial interest, to make room for a higher degree of efficiency in the noble sphere, while we will suffer much loss in the struggle to prevent a retrograde.

There are two conditions under which THE STANDARD does not give editorial opinion, viz: when conclusions cannot be intelligently drawn for lack of knowledge or evidence from all stand points, and when an expression of opinion would do no good and might do harm.

It is a pity that unintelligently formed opinions are ever expressed, and even if well conceived they should be considered in the light of their good or evil effects when uttered.

We present THE STANDARD as a willing and faithful servant to the community that needs a united support in that degree in which it aims to promote unity, good will and prosperity in the sphere of its operations.

TALKING ABOUT OUR NEIGHBOR.

The Special Trade Edition and Supplement to the Concord Times is a thing of beauty and is creditable in every respect.

The source of the editors commendable pride—his well equipped office—excites envy in us to the degree of wishing for one as good without objecting to his having a better if there are any such. Here's our wish, that THE STANDARD of equanimity and the Times of prosperity may ever be but shades of slightly varying tints in the bow of promise that our community shall never be deluged with moral or material adversity.

The Western N. C. R. Insolvent.

The Western North Carolina Railroad is about to go into the hands of a receiver. This is precipitated by the recent verdict of $5,000 to Mrs. Howard and $15,000 to Mrs. James. The corporation seems insolvent.

THE CENTRE OF INTEREST.

Florida to Kick Against Uncle Sam—Three Bodies Recovered—He Probably Said the Thing that Blew Up the Mine—The Underwriter in a Storm—The English Press.

There is a congestion of national, almost international, interest at the centre of our continent. Florida has raised a breeze by serving notice on Admiral Sicard that the State quarantine would be enforced from the first of next month against naval vessels alike with all other sources of danger from yellow fever. This will be very much against the naval operations and will bring conflict between the State and national interests. President McKinley will endeavor to secure a modification of the effects of the Florida law to avert the clash, though it is held that a State's right in the matter is overshadowed by national authority.

The tug Underwriter that left Norfolk Thursday, the 3rd, with the derrick Chief in tow encountered a severe gale off Hatteras and fears are felt for her safety.

Three more bodies were gotten out of the Maine Saturday. Two of them were identified.

The keenest interest is felt in the matter of Spain's buying war vessels. France is considered her money backing. The president and cabinet are not indifferent to the situation.

There is said to be an Englishman who has held to Spanish officials a large number of spines several years ago, some 8 or 10, of which were put in the harbor of Havana. The name of the man is withheld but he offers to come to Washington and testify. He says a peculiarly made cable was attached and that he can identify the smallest kind of piece if he should see it.

As there are no names given and only assurances, every allowance must be made for inaccuracy.

Another fine cruiser, the Almirante Oquendo has arrived at Havana.

A ten-inch breech loading rifle 34 feet long passed through Augusta from the Brooklyn Navy Yard for Pensacola, Fla., Saturday, also two car loads of ammunition.

The English dispatches indicate a friendly feeling for the United States and a belief that war between this country and Spain is inevitable.—Daily of 7th.

SOME NEWS

From Govern Postoffice by a New Standard Correspondent.

ED. STANDARD: As you have no correspondent from Govern I thought I would write a few lines.

Govern is a postoffice located about six miles east of Concord, near the Gold Hill road with Mr. Geo. E. Ritchie postmaster.

Mr. C. M. Goodman has improved the looks of his yard by a new paling. Mr. Luther Cline has also inclosed his yard with nice picket fence.

The public school here taught by Mr. A. J. Lippard, will close Wednesday, the 9th. He expects to have a public spelling match one night before that time.

The nice residence of Mr. C. A. Dry, of Concord, just beyond Mr. J. Barringer's, will soon be completed. It will be occupied by Mr. James Blackwelder.

Work at the R. W. Saftir shops has been almost suspended for a week on account of the work to be done at his new mill above Concord.

Mr. J. W. Cress has just finished taking the stamps from another piece of ground. This makes about 10 acres from which he has removed the stamps. He is one of our very best farmers.

It is reported that we are to have another wedding in our neighborhood soon. Guess who?

MARCH.

Minor Sentences.

Judge McIver at the Rowan court Saturday sentenced Mr. J. O. L. Kintz, the man who shot Mr. W. H. H. at the Rowan chain gang, to the penitentiary for five years. The defendant's attorneys asked for a new trial but was refused. A notice of appeal was then given by the counsel. The bond was increased from $500 to $1,000.

Got $1,250 for Libel.

Anna E. Dickson, a lecturer and speaker has gotten a verdict against the New York World for $1,250 in a libel suit for saying that she was insane, and refusing to retract it.

No Foundation for the Report.

A report was spread in our town Sunday that the battleship, Montgomery, had been blown up. The report came from Charlotte and we learn that some railroad man brought it to that place. The matter has been investigated and there is no foundation for the report. It is queer how fast such reports as these can be spread among the people.

Some One has Said that Patriotism consists of love for your own country and not of hatred of some one else's. True as can be!

FUSION WOULD BE A FATAL MISTAKE.

But One Issue Should Be Injected Into the Fight.

It is our careful, deliberate and conscientious opinion that but one issue should be injected into the fight this year and that is the rescue of the State from the hands of those who would despoil her of her good name, her fair heritage and her glorious record in the sisterhood of States. Thinking such things we say them. If others think differently, as many do, we are willing to discuss the matter with them in a spirit of fairness, calmness and moderation. But we are not willing to take abuse at their hands. We are not willing to have thunderbolts of denunciation hurled at us because, forsooth, we do not happen to agree in all things with some reformed renegade who finds it more profitable to return to the party he once abandoned and deceived than it is to remain with whom he once aligned himself.

These may be plain words, but they are expressive of plain facts.

We are opposed to fusion with any thing and on any issue in which the State is concerned. We think it unwise, unnecessary, harmful and destructive of our own interests. As we have said on a previous occasion, the money question is settled so far as North Carolina is concerned and we don't want to fritter away any more of our strength in that direction. It is not likely that any man can obtain a nomination to Congress by any Democratic convention in North Carolina who is not an avowed friend of silver. It is not likely, "not likely," but it may be taken as an assured fact. Hence, it should be considered that free silver is eliminated from this campaign. It cannot gain any votes for us and it may lose us many. We don't want any white metal, or yellow metal, or blue metal or black metal in this campaign. But we want mettlesome mental men who will go into the campaign with their sleeves rolled up, and make an aggressive fight, never ceasing until the set of sun on the day that shall decide all.

As to fusion that is the worst folly of all, and we don't care what the chairman and committee of the State or the national chairman and committee may have to say on the subject. It is undemocratic, un-sound, unsafe and untenable. There lies no power in any committee, or in any convention, to force upon the voters of its party a nominee who is not of that party. Should the State committee of the State convention again adopt a policy of fusion with our opponents on any question of State policy, then we tell them plainly that there are thousands upon thousands of Democrats in North Carolina, good men, true men, solid men, who have never yet voted or worked or acted outside of the party lines who will never bow to the mandate; who will vote for the candidates of their party and no others; who will not be made tools and cats' paws of, and who will not yield one jot or tittle in this respect.—Wilmington Review.

Universities Debate.

The universities of Georgia and North Carolina had an intercollegiate debate at Chapel Hill a few nights ago. The subject was: Resolved, that the United States should annex Hawaii. There were two speakers on each side and the judges rendered a verdict in favor of the negative, which was supported by the North Carolina boys.

A Big Strike Ended.

The large cotton mills of Biddeford Maine, started up today and 8,500 hands that have been on a strike since January 17, went to work at the 10 per cent reduction of wages. This was effected by the assurance of restoration of the prices as soon as the cotton milling justifies it.

A Fine Dinner.

The infant celebrating the wedding of Messrs. Jas. Holshouser, of Maiden, who was married Sunday to Miss Cora Boat, and Jas. Holshouser, of Maiden, to Miss Carpenter, of that place, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christenberry Holshouser, the parents of the grooms, today, at their home in this city.

A Suspicious Dinner.

A suspicious dinner was served to those present. A number of the relatives here together with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boat, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Boat, Roy McNairy and sister, Miss Lizzie, took part.—Daily of 7th.

The Press-Visitor says, probably

1,000 prisoners convicted in the Federal courts will be placed in the North Carolina penitentiary soon. It is through the influence of Assistant Attorney Gen. Boyd, that convicts from the Southern districts are to be placed at Raleigh instead of Columbus, Ohio, or Sing Sing, N. Y. The State will receive 25 cents per day for keeping them.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS MEET.

Attending to the County's Business.

The county commissioners assembled at the court house this (Monday) morning. Up to noon nothing had been done except the regular routine business of paying bills that have been incurred during the past month.

Chris Boger, a colored man who has been living in Concord for a long time, on account of being nearly blind, has been admitted to the county home. It is thought that his eyes can probably be improved.

The New Firm.

The Standard welcomes to our city the new firm of H. L. Parks & Co., who have now opened out a new store in our city. Concord is Mr. Park's home, having lived in No. 1 township. For the last several years Mr. Parks has been conducting quite a large business at Gaffney, S. C. Knowing the advantage of advertising, THE STANDARD'S columns will be used by the firm. See their new advertisement and also the nice stock of goods that have arrived.

Not Expected to Live.

Mrs. John Gray, of Young avenue, was again called to Gastonia Monday night by a telegram stating that her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Luke Gray, was not expected to live.

A Little Suspicious.

It seems that some one was getting in his work Monday night, though no damage scarcely has been done to any one. Some one shot through the front door glass in Sappenfield's store Monday night. The ball was found lying on the floor and at the place where it had fallen makes it probable that it glanced into the window and was not shot directly from in front. A deck or two of cards was also found scattered along on the streets in front of several of the stores.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Salisbury Sun, says, under the caption, An Epidemic, that Hancock, of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, talked too much and lost his job. We were under the impression that he was charged with very bad action, while he himself says that the governor removed him because he would not trash Josephus Daniels.

The Washington Post remarks that Sam Jones makes $30,000 a year preaching, and that it is rather high priced soul-saving. We have yet to see what the Post thinks of the man who, behind green blinds, makes $30,000 a year in soul-deceiving. Let us hear less about money made in soul-deceiving and more about it in soul-deceiving. Old-fashioned fairness demands this.—North Carolina Christian Advocate.

CHAIN GANG SUPERINTENDENT

Decided Upon After Quite an Amount of Deliberation.

Nothing of special importance was transacted by the County Commissioners with the exception of the chain gang superintendency except that Chairman W. H. Blume was authorized to draw an order upon the county Treasurer for the amount necessary to pay for the transportation of convicts and guards from Raleigh to Concord. It is hoped that they will get the convicts in a short while.

There were ten applications for Superintendent of the chain gang handed to the Commissioners and two applications for the position of guards. Those who applied for a position as guards were Messrs. Joseph P. Biggers and Deck Dorton.

The following is the list of the applicants for the Superintendent: Jno. R. Cruise, C. P. Cline, A. C. Barnhardt, J. M. Coley, W. Frank Cox, R. H. Patterson, Jno. L. McAnulty, Geo. E. Fisher and a Mr. Mills from Mecklenburg county.

The prices per day were different, one man offering to work for 85 cents per day until he learned the work. After studying over the matter for quite a while, and also taking into consideration the fact that he had had some experience with the work, the position was granted to Mr. Robert H. Patterson, of No. 5 township. His price per day is one dollar with the probability of his wages being raised if his service proves satisfactory.

It is hoped that the sequel will prove the wisdom of the decision.

Mr. Little to be Married.

License has been issued for the marriage of Mr. Olmstead Little, of No. 10 township, to Mrs. Sarah Linker, of Union county. Mr. Little has now reached the age of about 70 years but does not think that he is too old to marry. The ceremony will very probably be conducted by Esq. Sandy Garmon on next Sunday.

RIMER MISREPRESENTED.

She Deserves a Better Name Than Has Been Given Her.

Much has been said relative to the above place, and many conclusions formed which are incorrect, and all probably, because many have been misinformed, and opinions based upon reports and not on facts.

What Rimer town was before the flood, or even before the Revolutionary war, I would not pretend to say, but I know its modern history is not near as bad as some think. How the report ever got circulated that this town is a hard place I cannot say; but it seems to have been customary for other places to try to palm off some of their bad conduct on Rimer town; and it is an unpleasant thing would occur within a radius of three miles of this place Rimer would have the blame to bear. The writer has known visitors from other places to behave very unbecomingly around our church here, who seemed to think we were able to bear the dispute; but we don't propose to tolerate anything of the kind either around the church or in the town; and we would advise all parties to teach their young people to behave when they are away from home. But it is a great pleasure to say that this bad conduct around the church was in the past, and as we, as a congregation and town, know we can demean ourselves as well as any other place, we do not propose to be censured for every evil that is perpetrated in east Cabarrus. The intent, therefore, of this article, is to correct the error abroad, and to inform everybody concerned that the statement that "Rimer town is a hard place," is incorrect. The writer has been laboring with and for these people for more than seven months, and he finds the citizens of this place and vicinity to be up with those of other places in kindness, hospitality, morality, church work, etc.

Rimer town is a beautiful place, and is of an enterprising character and business capacity.

We have a postoffice, two stores, a black smith shop, cotton gin, saw mill and so on. The phone is spoken of and will probably come to Rimer soon. We also have a free school and neat frame Lutheran church, the outlook of which is very encouraging. The inducements for good moral incomers are strong, and lots can now be had at reasonable prices.

Household Gods.

The ancient Greeks believed that the Penates were the gods who attended to the welfare and prosperity of the family. They were worshipped as household gods in every home. The household god of today is Dr. King's New Discovery. For consumption, coughs, colds and all affections of the throat, chest and lungs it is invaluable. It has been tried for a quarter of a century and is guaranteed to cure, or money returned. No household should be without this good angel. It is pleasant to take and a safe and sure remedy for old and young. Free trial bottles at Fetter's Drug Store, Regular size 50c and $1.

AN OPEN LETTER TO MOTHERS.

WE ARE ASSERTING IN THE COURTS OUR RIGHT TO THE EXCLUSIVE USE OF THE WORD "CASTORIA," AND "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," AS OUR TRADE MARK.

I, DR. SAMUEL PITCHER, of Hyannis, Massachusetts, was the originator of "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," the same that has borne and does now bear the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on every wrapper. This is the original "PITCHER'S CASTORIA," which has been used in the homes of the Mothers of America for over thirty years. LOOK CAREFULLY at the wrapper and see that it is the kind you have always bought and has the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the wrapper. No one has authority from me to use my name except The Centaur Company of which Chas. H. Fletcher is President. March 8, 1897. Samuel Pitcher, M. D.

Preparations for War, But Peace

Reigns Yet. There are again no startling developments in the affairs of Spain, Cuba and ourselves. Spain is said to have bought five ships, and the United States has sent Capt. Brown to Europe on the business of buying ships, with a view to two ships building for Japan.

There is more than the usual activity, we think, in the manufacturing of supplies of ammunition, the drilling of troops, the looking after fortifications, etc.

The House of Representatives at Washington voted 311 to 0 Tuesday for the $50,000,000 appropriation. The House is literally boiling over with war enthusiasm, but the real situation does not warrant any special fears.

A semi-official dispatch from Madrid of the 8th says: "After brief necessities there is a general belief now that peace will not be broken and that the relations between Spain and the United States will continue amicable.

"Political personages assert that the late sensational dispatches are completely wrong in attributing an aggressive tone to the diplomatic relations between the two governments which have not for a single moment lost their friendly character."

Rev. J. A. Linn has resigned the pastorate of the Trinity Lutheran church of this place. The resignation has not yet been accepted by the congregation, but will be acted upon one week from tomorrow. If the members of the church do accept it will be with no small degree of reluctance, for no pastor could be more popular with his people than Mr. Linn. For several years he has worked earnestly for the church and during his pastorate the organization has experienced remarkable growth. His year will not close until the latter part of May. If the church accepts his resignation he will probably move South.—Vermillion [Ohio] Banner.
