CONCORD, N. C., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13 1898.

WHOLE NO 496

A NOBLE RESPONSE.

To the Call for Aid for the Soldiers' Home at Raleigh - The Donors to be Congratulated.

We called attention some time ago to the request from the executive committee of the North Carolina Soldiers' Home for voluntary contributions to make up for a lack of sufficient appropriations to reach till the meeting of the next legislature. The request was made through the commanders of the different camps in the State. Commander Caldwell moved promptly in the matter, appointing a committee to wait on those whose hearts were moved in this direction. Mr. P. A. Correll and Mr. W. M. Weddington each took a list. The former turned over to the treasurer $19.45, and the latter $7.20, making a total of $26.65, which the treasurer forwarded on Oct. 3rd.

On this the 7th he received the following:

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 6, 1898.
Mr. J. D. Barrier, Treas. Cabarrus Co.
Camp No. 212, Concord, N. C.
DEAR SIR: Yours of the 5th with donation of $26.65 from Camp No. 212 of Cabarrus county received and would have been acknowledged sooner but for my absence from the city. With very many thanks from the old soldiers, I am

Yours truly,
W. O. STANWELL
Ch'm'n, Et. Com, N. C. S. H.
We are gratified by Messrs. Correll and Weddington to extend to the doers their grateful acknowledgments for the spontaneous way in which their contributions were given to them.

We trust that this is a fair proportion from this camp and that there will be no avoidable suffering among the now dependent heroes of the Gray.

Commander Caldwell joins all on whom the care fell in most hearty congratulations that the response has been really more than we even hoped for at first effort.

A PONY RUNAWAY.

Relieved of the Buggy He Lays the Reins on a Job and is Escaped.

About 11 o'clock Sept. Thomas Kirkman, with his pony and pony buggy stopped in front of Mr. W. J. Hill's store and was having some of the pony's harness repaired. The horse was only partially detached from the buggy. He made some movement by which the awkwardness of the situation got the better of his nerve and he sought other parts with the buggy following it to very unceremonious way, much to his increasing annoyance.

He started the engine of the elm tree in front of Mr. G. W. Brown's leather stand to relieve him of the appendage.

The merry career of the buggy was very suddenly cut short right there, and that right from where suggested a case of jaxacha.

The horse seemed altogether pleased with the situation and as he turned into Church street was quiet as if going to a picnic.

Soon the buggy went to the charge and was as steady as the old time. On seeing a man trotting up with a six foot cane with a notch cut in it about eighteen inches from the end.

A BATTLE WITH THE INDIANS

Four Killed and Five Wounded in the First Battle - May Have Been a Massacre - Trouble Threatened.

A very ugly situation exists in north central Minnesota about Leech Lake. From some real or fancied grievance the Indian tribe known as the Pillagers have become hostile. Gen. Bacon, with the small force of 100 men, crossed over the lake on the 5th. They reconnoitered the surroundings and found no enemy, but as they were getting ready to make coffee for the dinner meal they were fired upon. Quickly they were in fighting trim and the battle raged. Four of the troops were killed and nine wounded.

Many dispatches have come in later bringing less of detail than the fearful suspicion that Gen. Bacon and all his men have fallen victims to a massacre only second to the Custer slaughter.

TWO ACCIDENTS

Near Harrisburg on Wednesday - Mr. Mack Stafford Lost in the Woods - His Hand Nearly Torn in a Cotton Gin.

To the already large number of accidents at Harrisburg, or near there, two more were added on Wednesday, Oct. 5th, when Mr. Mack Stafford and Mr. Leander Query received bad wounds.

Mr. Mack Stafford was gored by his bull on that evening. Mr. Stafford was thrown over the animal's head and against a crib. The bruises are bad and the fish on Mr. Stafford's side was torn, making a gash of eight or nine inches, though fortunately the wound is not deep. Mr. Stafford, for a number of years, has been in bad health, having been paralyzed. He is resting very well at this time.

While pulling cotton seed from the gin that same evening at the cotton gin about two miles from Newell, Mr. Leander Query's hand was caught by the saw. He quickly jerked it away but too late to save his hand from being badly lacerated. It is thought that some of his hand can be saved.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HAS OPENED.

For several days students have been coming by the train and also from the neighborhood hereabout to enter upon the duties of another session of school at the Laura Sun-derland Hall near here. Wednesday was the day on which the school opened and this (Thursday) morning was the time for the beginning of actual work. Already about 45 have been enrolled and still more are to come. The school during this session will be under the principalship of Miss M. Montgomery, her corps of teachers being Misses Harver, Welsh and Stoner, and Miss Bryant as maistris.

MR. BROWN'S WITNESS.

Concord, N. C., Sept. 30th, 1898.
A. B. YOUNG, Esq.
Ch'm. Dem. Ex. Com.
DEAR SIR: Owing to my advanced age and physical infirmities it is impossible for me to accept the nomination of Coroner so flatteringly tendered me by the late Democratic county convention. My personal affairs shall be directed to the success of the Democratic party.

MISS FURGEON NOW IN THE ARMY.

It will be news to a number of her friends and acquaintances to know Miss Annie Furgeon, whose home is at this place, but who for several years has been in the Watts hospital at Durham, is now in the army service in camp at Lexington, Ky. Miss Furgeon seems to be a very fine trained nurse and is working her way upward. She intends or rather hopes to go to Cuba this fall with the regiment. She has been out there nearly two weeks, but has come on duty only in the last few days.

FOR FIGHTING AND REGIMENT.

Two cases were before Reg. Pitts this (Thursday) morning at an early hour. One case was that of a young boy, looking to be about 15 years of age, who was tried for begging at Cannonville. His case amounted to $2.15 besides a fine of a pony. He had the money in his pocket and handed it out.

The other case was that of two young gentlemen who were "scurrying" at the Cannon mills Wednesday night. It seems that there was no weapons used but one of the parties bore several scars. It cost each party between four and five dollars.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM MR. PAGE

Men of Western and Central North Carolina Owe a Duty to Vote and Their Fellow Men to Vote For a White Man's Government.

A special from Salisbury to the Charlotte Observer of Oct. 4th says: The strongest portrayal of conditions existing in eastern North Carolina under negro rule comes from Rev. Jesse H. Page, who has been heard of before in this connection. Mr. W. A. Campbell, of this county, wrote to Mr. Page, inquiring into the authenticity of previous letters written by him. Mr. Page's reply is as follows:

Rockingham, N. C., Sept. 28.

MY DEAR BROTHER: Your favor of the 24th received this morning, and I comply with your request to answer by return mail.

I wrote the letter to H. A. Gilliland, and every word in it is true; also one to Mr. Youst, of Newton, and to Saunders, at Monbo, all of which were published in the papers in your section of the State. Every doubt of the statement made in regard to the deplorable condition of many of the eastern counties under negro rule can have his doubts speedily removed by coming down and seeing with his own eyes. There are 11 negro magistrates in this county, one in my town, and there are other counties that have more than double this number. Negro road overseers, with white men at work under them; negro constables and deputy sheriffs serving writs on white men and white ladies, and sometimes arresting them and bringing them for trial to negro dens before ignorant and vile negro officials; negro school committees, having white teachers, young ladies as well as men, come before them for authority to teach and get their pay.

You ask what I think your duty is in western and central Carolina. I unhesitatingly answer: Vote solidly against every candidate on the Republican, Populist and fusion ticket, for every office, from the lowest to the highest. This is your duty to God and your fellow men.

Sincerely,
JESSE H. PAGE

GLOBE THE "BLIND TIGERS."

Our Contributor Witnesses Their Claw Marks and Calls for Action.

MR. EDITOR: - A few days ago a lady who has three boys in their teens remarked, "our town is floating in whiskey." This is, perhaps, so sweeping an assertion, yet the fact that the sale of intoxicants is alarmingly on the increase, must be admitted by the most casual observer. Why this is true we are not prepared to say, but we believe, since a large majority of our citizens have said by their ballots that the sale of liquor within our corporate limits is illegal, and have placed officers in charge to enforce the law against all offenders, that it is due to lack of vigilance. We have a public sentiment behind our social opinion law to maintain the executive, hence the failure is not with the people at large but with the men who are set to protect us and our children against the temptations to drink and the awful sin of drunkennes.

Recently a countryman so intoxicated that he could scarcely keep his feet in the saddle was a sad sight on our streets. A few days ago another one whooping, hollering and dashing along at breakneck speed, endangered everything in his path.

It is time to call a halt on "blind tigers." Our law will soon fall in to disrepair under conditions as they now exist, and we owe it to ourselves, our children and the fair name of our town to have it enforced.

Concord expects every man to do his duty, and do it now.

Hobson's Work.

Lieutenant Hobson seems one of the busiest of men. The Maria Perera will be sent north next week, it is said. He is now getting the guns and whatever is valuable from the wrecks, when he will turn his whole attention to the Colon, which he fully expects to float independently of opinions to the contrary. He had the keen little satisfaction recently to spy and recover his machine gun which was dropped in the water in his little Merrimac experience.

Now if he should succeed in floating the Colon it will look like everything coming Hobson's way, even the smack from Miss Arnold.

THE OLD HERO TESTIFIES.

Gen. Wheeler Thinks the Management Was Good and Intelligence Could Make It.

That fiery old war-horse, Gen. Wheeler, who had himself carried into the Santiago fight, a soldier, every inch of him, has been before the investigating committee, and has answered intelligently the questions as to the minutiae of alleged criminal neglect or inefficiency in the departments under his eye, embracing Tampa, Santiago and Montauk.

Being asked finally for a general expression of his opinion as to the conduct of the various bureaus of the War Department, he praised the work of all the supply departments, saying they were actuated by zeal and characterized by intelligence. He had found the medical department, from General Sternberg down, to be efficient and anxious to promote the best interests of his department. The same was also true of the ordnance, commissary and other departments.

Gen. H. V. Boynton testified to be favorable equipments and natural adaptation of the Chickamauga camp. From his testimony there seems little room for complaint. The provisions for the health and comfort of the soldiers were wonderfully elaborate.

Congressman, That's Fast!

Quite an amusing and at the same time disgusting incident occurred on the train some days ago between Greenville and Kinston, which was witnessed by a large crowd, and a resident of Concord was among the number.

In the second class car could be seen a white man and a negro sitting on the same seat and each one had a "hot box," caused by drinking so much "hot stuff." After robbing the car of all its ice water, they journeyed to the first class car. Before all of the people in the car the white man was seen to first hand the glass of water to the African. After the latter had finished he filled the glass again and handed it to the white man. Among the crowd in the car at Harry Skinner, a fusionist nominee for Congress, and also newspaper reporter. The reporter, after witnessing the whole affair without any hesitation, turned to Mr. Skinner and said "Congressman, that's fast!" It was a quick shot and all in the car enjoyed and cheered the spokesman. Undoubtedly it was a sharp outburst to the fusionist aspirant.

FROM THE SEAT OF TROUBLE

Fighting with the Indians Set Over.

The trouble with the Indians at Bear Island, Minnesota, is not at all as the fears excited by dispatches Thursday. Gen. Bacon and his force are not massacred, but are holding a defensive position till reinforcements arrive. A battalion of Minnesota volunteers from the Santiago battle waiting to be massacred will probably be the first available reinforcements. Major Wilson and six soldiers have been killed, beside an Indian policeman. The number of Indian casualties is not known. There are only about 100 of the Pillagers, and if no other tribes join them there will be little more than one more battle, in which most of them will have to be killed, as they are like demons to fight.

Patterson-Hobson Marriage.

Mr. W. G. Patterson, of China Grove, took to himself in marriage, Thursday evening, in Salisbury, Miss Minnie Hoffman, of that city. The happy groom brought his lovely bride to his home the same night. We hasten to congratulate Mr. Patterson on securing one to make his next new residence a home with all its charms.

No Place Too Good For Them.

The New York Tribune gets off the following: "The question is asked whether 'ex-Confederate' organizations shall be asked to participate in a peace demonstration of National veterans. 'Ex-Confederate' that means fellows who used to ride behind 'Joe' Wheeler, doesn't it? Well, then, the question answers itself. Rem for the 'Johnny Reb'! No place where the flag flies is too good for 'Joe' Wheeler, and where he goes his old comrades shall likewise go."

All persons indebted to me will please call upon W. G. Means, Esq., and settle. I have left all accounts and notes in his hands for collection.

GRADED SCHOOL NOTES

As Prepared By Our Superintendent - The Recitation and the School Inspection - Topics at the Teachers' Meeting.

Teacher's meetings are held regularly at four o'clock every Monday evening at the central building. At these meetings topics the most practical and helpful for teachers are discussed.

One of these that was thoroughly discussed was the RECITATION.

The recitation is the teacher's greatest opportunity for effecting the real work of the school. Here it is that the teacher's whole power should be concentrated.

He should not only be master of the subject to be taught but he should also be master of the art of teaching and distinguish well between teaching, testing, drilling, instructing and reciting. Although all of these are included under the one head, "recitation," there is a great difference between any two of them.

The good recitation is stimulating, suggestive, interesting, animated and varied. It is not too long, has a definite object in view, is for the pupil, begins and closes promptly, and aims to master subjects and not pages.

The good teacher will assign lessons carefully, will show pupils how to study, will insist upon correct and concise expression, will question skillfully, will require pupils to stand while reciting, and will review frequently.

She will not talk too much, will use topical methods mostly, will allow "prompting," will illustrate freely, will praise and encourage much, and will scold and find fault but little.

Closely related to the recitation and hardly second in importance is the subject of SCHOOL INCENTIVES.

The word incentive means to arouse to effort; to cause to study.

The good teacher is not only skillful in the use of devices and methods of awakening interest, but he also employs the best incentives for getting work out of his pupils.

He strives to create among his pupils a desire to be useful, a desire for advancement, a desire for competence, a desire to do right because it is right. As soon as possible he seeks to arouse and to the sense of duty. He shows the pleasure of acquiring knowledge, the appreciation of self, of parent and of teacher.

From history, biography and the world around, he cites worthy examples and tries to create in his classes a desire and a longing to do something and be something in the world. The best incentives to study are those that reach all the pupils of the school instead of a few. They are permanent in their effect. They appeal to the higher and better nature of the child, and hence tend to create worthy citizens and noble characters.

The worst incentives are those that appeal to fear and that tend to develop indifference, selfishness, egotism, greed, deceit, cheating, and a disregard for truth and for the rights of others.

While many things may be said in favor of prizes as incentives, still they are not the best incentives.

Prizes are apt to stimulate only a few, to engender a spirit of rivalry, to lead to cheating and lying, to discourage the dull and plodding ones, to make teachers partial and parents fault-finding, to reward talent and success rather than true worth and honest effort, and finally to lead to selfish character.

The real work of the teacher is by means of the recitation to awaken intellect, by means of his moral influence to arouse the sensibilities, and by means of proper incentives to move the will.

This leads us up to the subject for consideration at our next teachers' meeting, "Psychology in Relation to School Work." C. S. COLER

A Strong Fortification

Fortify the body against disease by Tutt's Liver Pills, an absolute cure for sick headache, dyspepsia, sour stomach, malaria, constipation, jaundice, biliousness, and all kindred troubles. "The Fly-Wheel of Life" Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills are the fly-wheel of life. I shall ever be grateful for the accident that brought them to my notice. I feel as if I had a new lease of life. J. Fairleigh, Platte Cannon, Col. Tutt's Liver Pills

ALMOST A BATTLE.

Col. Ray Arrives at Manassillo Too Soon and a Stormy Interview Occurs.

An exceedingly interesting incident occurred at Manassillo Friday, when Col. Ray marched into the city to take possession. It seems that after he left Santiago under orders to take possession on the 7th, the Spaniards had gotten the time extended to the 10th, of which Col. Ray was not aware. Col. Parron, the Spanish commander, put up a bold front and a stormy interview occurred. The Spanish bugler called to arms and a fight was on the verge of being enacted. It all blew over, however.

The Americans will occupy the barracks till the 10th, when a formal occupation will take place.

Miss Craig Dead.

A telegram stating that Miss Nannie Craig, of Salisbury, daughter of Hon. Kerr Craig, died this (Saturday) morning. Miss Craig has been in bad health for several months and her death has been fore-cast. She was a most excellent young lady and is known here. She is a niece of Mrs. Jno. Allison and Mrs. A. B. Young, of this place.

A Hot Contest at Atlanta.

One of the hottest contests in the history of Atlanta has just been finished, it having been the mayor's election. The result was the election of Mr. J. G. Woodward, who is an employe of the Atlanta Journal. He won by a large majority. He seems to be a very capable man.

Plucky Mrs. Holt.

Gulfport county has the banner now for a brave woman. The Record says Mrs. Mike Holt, who lives within two miles of Greensboro, returning from a visit Tuesday, found a negro man going through her household effects. She quickly grabbed up a hatchet and made for him. He drew a pistol and threatened to shoot, but that did not check her onset, when he took to flight, receiving a stroke that cut his hat and knocked it off. He had already obtained some booty—a gold bracelet and gold breast pin.

They Struck a Log.

The sewerage force is now at work on Spring street near the corner of Mill and Spring streets. On Friday before striking Spring street a short distance from the dynamo and about twelve feet down in the ground they struck a large log. This is very probably some wood of olden times when Concord was not a town. It is hard to distinguish whether it is oak or walnut.

SEVENTH CORPS TO MOVE.

Gen. Lee Wins Instructions to Jacksonville - The First North Carolina to Have Krag-Jorgensen Rifles.

From the Charlotte Observer we learn that the following order was received at corps headquarters Thursday night from Major General Lee, who is in Washington: "Make preparations to move Seventh Corps to Savannah at once. Let corps quartermaster make transportation arrangements. Corps will encamp around Savannah, and later be moved to Cuba. I will be in Savannah Monday and Tuesday of next week and in Jacksonville the Thursday following. If Torrey's Cavalry is already at St. Augustine it can remain there for the present."

Lieutenant Hirschinger, ordnance officer of the regiment, made requisition Friday for Krag-Jorgensen rifles for the regiment, in compliance with the general order.

GEORGE SAXON SHOT DOWN.

A Brother of Mrs. McKinley Murdered by a Woman, Probably.

Mr. George Saxon, a brother of Mrs. President McKinley, was shot down on the streets of Canton, O., on the 7th. It is believed to be the act of Mrs. Ana C. George, who has been arrested for the crime. There has been a series of litigations in which they were involved and she had made threats.

Wants Two Miles to His Store.

We are glad to learn that Mr. D. C. Farr has so improved that he walked from his home to his store at Forest Hill Friday.

For about four months he had been confined to his bed and his physician thought he could never recover from his prostrate condition. We gladly hope there may yet be many years of enjoyable life for Mr. Farr.

Wishes to See North Carolina.

Wishes to see North Carolina. Gen. Dr. Pitts has just returned from Concord. "One word at a time"

A DARK SCHEME.

Wilmington Negroes Try to Buy Fire Arms From the Odell Hardware Co. - Their Scheme Detected.

From the Raleigh News and Observer we notice that negroes at Wilmington, who have been corresponding in regard to buying a quantity of rifles from the Odell Hardware Co., in Greensboro, have been detected in their dark scheme. It is supposed that the negroes are preparing to be armed on election day. One reason to believe there is something dark like this behind is the fact that the negro who was doing the corresponding for the arms is the chairman of the Republican executive committee of that county. In the letter, a face smile of which appears in that paper, he asks for prices of twelve 35-calibre guns with the privilege of 25, sixteen shooters, also twelve 32 and 38-calibre guns.

YELLOW FEVER RAGING.

Mississippi and Louisiana Almost Entirely Stricken.

Mississippi and Louisiana are almost panic stricken with yellow fever. Despite every hope to the contrary the malady it bursts forth and now business in Mississippi especially is almost at a standstill. Many are fleeing to points farther north. Jackson is almost deserted and there will be much suffering among those dependent on their daily labors for a support.

The good side of the situation is that there are few deaths.

Fully Convinced.

One Mr. Samuel Pate, a Republican, from Martin county, having heard and seen so much in the newspapers regarding the condition of Craven county openly announced that he would like to go to Craven county, and if it was half so bad as made out he would stump the county in behalf of the Democratic party. And those stalwart Democrats of Craven, hearing of the announcement made by this Republican, actually paid all of his expense to make Craven a visit, and after he had visited and seen the true condition of things, the Anglo-Saxon blood and conscience was stirred and he exclaimed that he will not only stump the county, but the whole State of good old North Carolina in behalf of the white man and his home. - Part of Mr. Koonce's letter in the Kinston Free Press.

He Was a Regular.

Blair, a regular, said to be of the Seventeenth, was shot through the groin at El Caney July 1st. Two wounded men of the Seventy-first New York fell beside him in worse shape than he. They could not move. He could a little.

A Spanish sharpshooter on their right had the range of them as they lay there, their comrades having pushed on. Although down, the three men were his target.

"Spit!" and one of his bullets cut a lock of hair from Blair's forehead.

"Spit!" again, and one of the New Yorkers winced as his shoulder was cut.

Blair for a time could not locate the fellow, but finally discovered him three hundred yards distant up a tree. He was incautious and displayed himself in taking aim. Blair had his gun beside him, and with one shot brought him down.

Then, wounded in the groin as he was, he crawled nine hundred feet to his enemy to get his canteen of water, and nine hundred feet back, not touching it himself, and pouring it down the throats of the two New Yorkers.

He died holding the drink to the lips of one of them. His only remark as to his journey was:

"I'm a regular. You fellows have homes."

One of the New Yorkers survived to return home and tell the story of this hero's end. - Chicago Times-Herald.

Room Needed for the Afflicted.

Mr. N. M. Barnhardt, keeper of the county home, reports to us that he is crowded to the point of anxiety at that institution. It was confidently expected to get Henrietta Connor in the asylum at Goldsboro, but the application has been returned from the reason that the asylum is full. Mary Luckey was admitted to the home Thursday evening. Mary is very much demoted and fierce and very much needs the advantage of the asylum.

There are five cells and a corridor and he has six occupants. The corridor should be available for its purposes and not for a cell. It is unfortunate and quite a source of solicitude for the afflicted that the asylums and the county home are incapable of meeting the demand.

An attempt was made Thursday to wreck the Southern train between Asheboro and High Point by placing cross-ties and large rocks on the rails at a point near Sophia. The obstruction was discovered by the engineer and the train was stopped before running into the obstruction. The parties who made the attempt are unknown. This is the fourth attempt that has been made to wreck the train on this road within the last year.

A REMEDY FOR THE Effects of Tobacco.

THE excessive use of tobacco, especially by young men is always injurious and undoubtedly shortens life materially. Mr. Ed. C. I was troubled with nervousness, sleeplessness and depression, caused by the use of tobacco and stimulants. I took Dr. Miles' Nervine with marvellously good results, alleviating the distressing, quivering of the nerves, and enabling me to sleep and rest, proving to my mind a very beneficial remedy."
