About Smallpox.

As smallpox is not over with by any means, we copy from the Bulletin of the North Carolina Board of Health, the following from the pen of Secretary Dr. Richard Lewis:

Smallpox is one of the most contagious and one of the most lethal of all diseases.

It is now widely scattered over the United States, and is prevailing at twenty points in our own State today. There is danger of a widespread epidemic among our people.

Under these circumstances every eruption appearing after two or three days of headache, backache and fever, or even after merely general bad feeling, especially if most prominent on the face and hands, should be regarded as smallpox, and the proper precautions taken promptly and continued until the patient is seen by a reliable physician.

Be not deceived by false prophets whose popularity by prophesying smooth things and calling it chickenpox. According to one of the highest authorities, with a very few exceptions, chickenpox is confined exclusively to childhood up to the age of twelve, and is rare after ten. So, if the patient is past childhood, it is almost surely smallpox, although it may be a mild attack. But mild cases can cause the severest form in the unvaccinated.

Fortunately, thanks to the genius and courage of the immortal country doctor, Edward Jenner, we have almost sure protection against the disease within the reach of all in vaccination. If properly done it is practically a certain preventative as a previous attack of smallpox itself. In Germany, with its fifty millions of people, in 1871, before vaccination was made compulsory, the number of deaths from smallpox was 145,000, while in 1897, under compulsory vaccination, it was only 116.

When smallpox is present in a community, those who have been vaccinated before should be vaccinated again, as its virtues disappear more or less with time.

There seems to be a prejudice against vaccination on the part of some. This prejudice is due to ignorance of the facts. The effects of vaccination are really serious so sed that it need not be taken into account. With the improved virus from the cow, there is not the slightest danger of transmitting such human diseases as consumption, scrofula or syphilis.

Having this sure preventive right at hand, a pease on the subject of smallpox is utterly inexcusable. Those who are vaccinated—but only those—can laugh at smallpox, and go on with their usual business in confidence.

Whenever smallpox appears in a community it is all-important that the sick person should be separated from the well as soon as possible. No one should visit him, and only his physician and nurse should see him. In fact, when smallpox is prevailing, visits of mere sympathy or curiosity should not be paid to any case of sickness until its nature has been declared by the attending physician.

MRS. McDONALD DEAD.

Concord's oldest inhabitant falls asleep—Lives to See Seven Generations—She Follows Her Husband and Five Children to the Grave—Funeral services at the Home.

Mrs. Caroline McDonald is dead. At 11:12 today (Saturday) the eyes of Mrs. McDonald, who is well known by all here, closed to sleep the sleep of death. While it was not known when, still her death has been expected by her children and many friends, and even she herself realized and wished for it to come. She was conscious that her three score years and ten had passed and that a place beyond awaited her coming.

Mrs. McDonald was born in the city of Philadelphia, Pa., on March 1st, 1812, her maiden name having been Caroline Dungan.

In the year 1834 she was married to Mr. Jno. McDonald in Norristown, Pa. They then went to Valley Forge and from there they moved to Columbia, S. C. In 1838 they again returned to Norristown and two years afterwards, in 1840, they came to this place.

Seventeen years ago her husband preceded her to the grave, and five children have also gone before their mother. She was the mother of twelve children—eight sons and four daughters. Seven are now living. They are Messrs. James McDonald, Robt. E. McDonald, and Edmund McDonald, all of whom live in Charlotte; Mr. John A. McDonald, who is now in a western State; Mrs. D. R. Coleman, of Belleville, Canada, who arrived here some days ago; Miss Mary McDonald and Capt. Chas. McDonald, both of whom have lived with their mother here.

The deceased was a noble woman and had many devoted friends who have always been near to her and who feel that one of their esteemed ones has passed away.

On the first day of last March she reached her 87th birthday which score is reached by no one else in Concord, though her friend, Mrs. Elizabeth Gibson, of this place, was born in April of the same year. Having seen her great grandmother, seven generations have in their order passed before her view. Twenty-two grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren are left behind.

A Woman With a Silver Tongue.

Mrs. George L. Henry, of this city, has lived a month without trachea or windpipe and minus her vocal organs. All were removed to save her life because of a cancerous growth which would soon have choked her to death. The operation, performed by Dr. F. C. Ard, of this city, is one of the few of its kind known to surgery and one of the fewer in which the patient has survived. Mrs. Henry breathes through a silver tube and cannot utter a sound. With the assistance of other experts, Dr. Ard will attempt to construct an artificial windpipe of silver, with metal rods attached. He believes a contrivance can be made that will not only enable her to make sounds of different tone and pitch but to acquire a form of language which will enable her to communicate her thoughts readily to those about her every day.

Great care will be taken to have the tones resemble as near as possible those of the human voice. The case is arousing great interest among specialists, and some of the most skilled have volunteered valuable assistance.—Plainfield (N. J.) Dispatch.

Doing as Told.

A father, on going into his stable the other day, found his little son striding one of his horses with paper and pencil in his hand. "Way, my boy," he exclaimed, "what are you doing?" "Writing a composition," was the reply. "Well, why don't you write in the house?" asked the father. "Because," answered the little fellow, "the teacher told me to write a composition on a horse and I'm doing it!"—Es.

Mr. Buchanan Makes His Final Settlement.

Ex-Sheriff Buchanan has received his final receipt for taxes of '98 from State Treasurer Worth. The taxes for '98 amounted to $9,346.26. In looking over the tax books we happen to see that $16,500 incomes are taxed in the town of Concord, while there is none in any other precinct of the county.

St. Andrews to Have a Parsonage.

A lot across the street from Mr. M. C. Walter on West Depot street has been purchased from Mr. Chas. Wagoner by St. Andrews Lutheran church. It is the intention of the members of the church to erect a parsonage on the lot this summer.

Wanted on Charge of Larceny.

Mr. J. R. Blanton, of Paeolet, near Gaffney, S. C., spent Thursday night here, having been deputized to come here and get a young man named Murray Crowell. The young man, who is only sixteen years of age, was found, he being employed in the Odell mills. He stands charged with the larceny of twenty-five dollars from a person at Spartansburg about a month ago. He was taken to the place and will stand trial later.

This young man, we learn, is from a good family, and his parents are from Stanley county, though his mother is now staying at Forest Hill. The young man consented to go with the officer and he showed no signs of wanting to escape.

To Help Us With the Weather.

Feeling that there is something loose about the weather business these days, Dr. Fetter has come to the rescue and will put forth all of his exertions to help to amend the awful state of affairs. He intends keeping a close eye on the workings of his new instruments and will let us know when a storm or fair day is coming. He has purchased an aneroid barometer and also a maximum and minimum registering thermometer. These instruments are of first-class make and can be depended upon. He will make observations each day, and when anything special is predicted by it we will let the people know.

How Captain Bob Escaped Death.

Now we see the story in the Daily Reflector that Captain Bob Eyan says that Cervera saved him, his crew and the Iowa by sailing out on the 3rd of July. The story goes that Gen. Shafter had requested that the navy make such demonstration as would divert the fire of the heavy artillery when he would make the assault on Santiago. The Iowa was selected to enter the harbor which Capt. Evans knew full well. He drew a figure something like the letter S descriptive of the channel and pointed to the place where the Iowa would certainly have been destroyed. The forts he knew had the range and it would have been impossible to have survived the fire. He was expecting to go in on the morning of the 4th without a particle of hope of ever coming out alive. Cervera saved him by coming out the day before. It will be remembered that he claimed to have been thankful to the extent of his powers of soul comparing favorably with Captain Phillips. This narrative gives credit to his profession.

Courts the Girl and His Death.

Charles Burge stabbed and killed Gus Tidwell in Macon, Ga., Thursday. It was a shocking case in a public place in busy shopping hours. It grew out of Tidwell's persistent courting Burge's 16-year-old sister, being himself a married man.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs are surely cured by it. Call at P. B. Fetter's drug store and get a trial bottle free. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

MUSIC CURE

For Restless Persons Who Derive No Benefit From Sleep.

Music has long been used by physicians for quieting the nerves of excited patients or raising the spirits of those prone to fits of depression or despondency. In lunatic asylums, especially, musical strains are found to be of great benefit to the inmates. In all these cases the music is played during the waking hours of the patient. According to a new theory, advanced by Dr. J. L. Corning, persons who suffer habitually from mental and physical agony in the morning, who are capable of little exertion before midday, and whose constant complaint is that they derive little or no good from sleep, no matter how prolonged, may experience a decided revival of vigor if subjected to musical vibrations while they are sleeping. Dr. Corning's experience is that harmony is more effective than mere melody in the vibratory plan of treatment, and he believes in the good effect of selections containing the weird and powerful tone combinations of Wagner. He puts a kind of helmet on the patient, to which are led the tubes and air pieces of a phonograph. As soon as the patient lies down the phonograph is started and the music begins. As it is desirable to have the patient in the frame of mind to derive the fullest benefit from the music from the time it is first administered, he should be kept free from all excitement before retiring. In fact, where necessary, Dr. Corning advises that an appropriate hypnotic be administered 15 or 20 minutes before, or his power of attention may be exhausted by causing him to look fixedly at a bright object rapidly revolved and illuminated by a light so screened as to leave everything else in complete obscurity. This can be done by a stereopticon placed behind the head of the bed, the screen being placed at the foot. Like the phonograph, the stereopticon can be set to work automatically and continuously for a given period—Chicago Record.

Gold Hill Again.

Mr. H. E. C. Mr. Staniel Bitten By a Dog.

The Charlotte Observer says that Mr. William Staniel, of Cabarrus county, was badly bitten Wednesday by a dog. The dog sprang upon him, and before he could recover himself had lacerated his arm and wrist badly. Mr. Staniel choked the dog to death. He then went to Charlotte for the madstone. He was painfully hurt.

Comfort for His Fellows.

An up-to-date farmer near Mt. Pleasant offers consolation to the brethren who sit around the fires bemoaning their sad lot with no corn planted and no land prepared for the crops and "hit a rainin'." He says since we jumped into the affairs of the tropical regions we have just had our calendar, viz: June, July, August and April. We are now in its grasp but within about twenty days it will be past and we will begin with April and pull through the season all right.

NO CURE, NO PAY.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for chills and Malaria. It is simply Iron and Quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults refer to it as bitter, nauseating, and so on. Price, 50c.

Dowd, April 6.—The cooing of the dove, the chatter of the martins and the shrill note of the whippoorwill have ceased and the little snow bird has reappeared.

We had the pleasure of attending the picnic at the Falls Monday. Several hundred people were present. The wild, romantic scenery in the vicinity and the ceaseless roar of the Yadin as the waters plunge over the rocks and down the rapids make the Falls a desirable place for a picnic.

Miss Pattie Bell has returned from Montgomery, where she has been visiting her sister.

Mr. Lee Ficker and Miss Cora Cooper, of Albemarle, were married last Wednesday.

A Republican near here says the Democratic party ought to be called the nut-grass party, because all it can't kill it out.

April fools are falling thick and fast in and around these parts and "Cupid's darts are piercing many hearts."

A few days ago the Tebe Saunders gold mine, just over the river in Montgomery county, was sold to a Providence, R. I., company for $6,000. We understand that Mr. H. P. McCarty made the sale.

Arranging a Reception for the Soldiers.

Some days ago it was urged that some steps be taken towards welcoming our soldiers home this month. The matter has been taken in hand by the ladies and committees appointed to prepare a reception for the boys—in other words to have the best the country about here affords for them to eat and let the people be there to make them enjoy themselves to the utmost. More will be made public later as to the occasion.

The Western Bull Fighters Coming.

The advent of the great Mexican bull fighters spent Wednesday here making arrangements for his exhibit here on Friday, the 14th of this month. In the afternoon the female members of the company will engage in a game of baseball. A team will be made up here in our town to oppose the team. The bull fight will be held at night. The occasion will be held at the Miller Park.
