W. C. T. U. Convention Winds Up Its Session.

The State Convention of the W. C. T. U., just brought to a close last night, is voted the most successful of any ever held.

The attendance of delegates was not only larger, but the interest was greater, while the local attendance was most cheering.

Last night was the contest by the College "Y's" participated in by Miss Halthcock, of Albemarle; Miss Blair, of Guilford College; Miss Rowe, of G. F. College, and Miss Ragan, of High Point.

The latter, Miss Ragan, won the prize, $5.00 worth of books. Each of the others was also presented with a book, though it was not on the program.

Miss Bera Worth, of Wilmington, read a most interesting paper on Scientific Temperance. The delegates then listened to an address from Prof. Crowell, of the High Point Graded School, and a most interesting address it was, after which the convention adjourned.—Greensboro Record of the 6th.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first that it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. I continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. Babcock, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by M. L. Marsh & Co., druggist.

Sunderland School Closed.

The closing exercises of Sunderland were held Wednesday night, and a good number of our people availed themselves of the opportunity of hearing the splendid exercises by the pupils. It is a treat to any one who is interested in school work to attend these exercises and to be taken through the different departments of the school by the teachers who are always most courteous and glad to show the friends of the institution the work done within these doors. This institution always has its maximum number, sixty. Not only intellectual but industrial educations are given these young ladies, preparing them for the paths of life. Most all of the pupils left last Thursday.

RESHAPED AN IDIOT'S HEAD.

Bellevue Surgeons Remove Parts of Child's Skull and Patch It With Celluloid.

Prof. Wolsey, assisted by Drs. Christain, Wilson and Nutt reshaped the skull of an idiot child at Bellevue yesterday in the hope that it develop intelligence. Half a hundred medical men who witnessed the operation believe the result sought for will be obtained. The subject was Lee Freedman, three years old, whose parents live at 416 West Fifty-third street. On April 28th the child was brought to Bellevue by its mother, who told the hospital doctors that it had never shown any signs of intelligence. The doctors have been dieting the child, preparing it for the operation. They concluded that the brain of the child was too large for the skull and that parts of the skull should be removed to ease the brain.

Yesterday Prof. Wolsey made an incision in the scalp at the base of the skull and peeled the scalp as far as the forehead. Two pieces of the skull were then cut out, one on the right side behind the ear being triangular in shape, each side of the triangle measuring three inches. A smaller piece of the skull on the left side was removed. This measured one and three-fourth inches along each side of the triangle. From each opening the doctors removed substances which seemed to have pressed against the brain, and then proceeded to build up the openings in the skull, using strips of celluloid and making of it a lattice work resembling the caning used in chair seats. When this work was done the scalp was sewed back in place, and the child was removed from the operating table to a cot. The doctors said last night that it was getting along nicely.

"This is the first time celluloid has been used in an operation of this kind," said the doctor. "I have heard of cases where thin gold was used in the building up process, but it broke at times. The celluloid will be more effective."—N. Y. Sun of 6th.

The Hornet's Nest Punched.

The hornet nest was punched Wednesday, when Timothy Beardon, a discharged Boston volunteer, was being marched off to the chain gang, hand-cuffed to a negro woman destined for the same task. It was too much for Charlotte gallantry and Beardon's $3.00 fine for drunk and disorderly was quickly paid by men who ran out and intercepted the march. The people were indignant at the scene, though the officer had little other way to convey his prisoners.

Some negro insolence came near bringing the hornets to the stinging point. Beardon has employment and is very grateful, while the officer will know to take some other plan next time.

The Cabarrus Black Boys Organized.

Pursuant to the call of Capt. Edward Hill a meeting was held in the court house Wednesday night and a military company organized at this place. A good number was present and twenty-five names were enrolled that night and numbers, who could not attend, will enlist. The officers elected are the following: Company L—Mr. Edward Hill, captain; E. H. Goodston, first lieutenant; Joe. F. Goodman, second lieutenant. The non-commissioned officers have not yet been appointed. This company will be a part of the First regiment, and will rank first.

Note of Thanks.

Mr. Editor:—Since being discharged from the Sanitarium, we wish through the columns of your paper to tender our sincere and heart-felt thanks to our kind friends and neighbors, everywhere, for their wonderful kindness to our son all through his recent misfortune and affliction.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. H. Will Johnson.

CHANGES TO BE MADE.

The Town Court Room to Be Enlarged—Offices for the Chief of Police and Mayor—The Firemen to Occupy Rooms in the Gibson Building—Cells for Town Prisoners to Be Provided Later.

When an interesting trial is held at the mayor's court in the city hall one fully realizes that there is not ample room for the crowd and it is always "jamming together" of all kinds. It has been decided that the city hall be remodeled now soon.

The mayor's court will be held in the rear part of the hall but all of the first story will be used as the court room with the exception of two offices in front—one on each side as you enter the hall. One office will be occupied by the mayor and the other by the chief of police. An alley will also be provided for the entrance of the hall up-stairs. It is also the intention of the Board to later provide a place for the keeping of prisoners. Probably cells will be placed in the basement and if not they will be built in some way to the building.

Arrangements have already been made for quarters for the firemen, who receive their hall, electric lights, water works, and exemption from town tax from the town. Their main hall for the reels and attachments will be in the Gibson building where the armory of the former military company was, on the ground floor in the rear of Gibson's drug store. The two rooms upstairs over the hall will also be occupied by them.

Play Ball Boys!

Our boys are getting ready for the baseball season and the lovers of this sport can begin to prepare their lungs for their part of the work, for our boys like and of right expect a good amount of cheer from us, and they can bet we'll give it.

Mr. Ernest Graves, of Chapel Hill, arrived Wednesday night and will don the red and blue with our boys for the season. He is not, as our misinformant would have us believe, a pitcher but a catcher. He is stopping with Joe Fisher.

Mr. Dolph Mangum, who is known here already, came Wednesday night also and will, as heretofore, furnish good support to the boys wherever they place him. He will pitch a good part of the time. He is the guest of R. L. Keesler.

The Name of the County Wrong.

At the last Legislature a law was passed that the wills be recorded in alphabetical order in the Clerk's office of each county. The new book for the purpose, printed by a Charleston house, was sent here and was here several days before a serious error was noticed in it. At the top of every page in the book in bold letters should be the name of the county. In this book the word "Cabarrus" appears where it should be "Cabarrus." This book is, of course, worthless to the county and will be returned.

It Shows Well for Our County.

It is the remark of many these days that our farmers are realizing the benefit of improvement on their farms in the county, and one marked reason is the fact that our hardware stores are now disposing of a number of reapers. Last year the Cabarrus farmers purchased over twenty of them and already this year over that number has been placed on the farms of our best farmers, and the clerk of the reaper is now fast taking the place of the cradle through our fields.

It Is the Other Man.

In giving the names of the advisory board of pensions appointed by the county commissioner at this month's meeting, there is an error as to one of the men. It should be Mr. G. Crawford Goodman, of No. 5 township, and not Mr. G. C. Goodman of No. 3 township.

THE COLLEGE QUESTION.

The President of the Board of Trustees Discusses the Question Also—The Synod Only an Advisory Board.

Rock Hill, S. C., June 7th, '99. EDITOR OF DAILY STANDARD:

In your paper of June 6th you assert that you hoped to put to rest the idea that North Carolina College could not be removed by the church. I have never heard it asserted that the church could not remove or build another college—this is not the contention of those who are opposed to the recent action of Synod. Every Lutheran knows that the Synod is purely an advisory body, and has no power to legislate (independent or for the church) unless especially instructed by the church to enact certain measures for her welfare, etc., and in that case the matter must have been discussed by the congregations and the delegates to Synod instructed as to their duty in the premises. Now the removal of N. C. College was not discussed by the church and not a single minister or layman was instructed in the matter. Not only so, but the minister that introduced the resolutions adopted by Synod has retired—has no charge and therefore could not have been instructed. Again, the Synod being purely an advisory body, cannot buy, hold or transfer real estate. She recognizes that and in her constitution she says all such matters shall be managed by boards of trustees. That is all right and proper. This clearly shows that Synod never considered herself supreme or sovereign. She cannot command unless so instructed by the church. The Lutheran church differs from all other denominations in her church government. The power rests with the people. Each congregation is sovereign, and any one or all the congregations in North Carolina can absolve their connection with the N. C. Synod and still be thoroughly Lutheran and not be amenable to anybody. Every minister of Synod knows this is so. Those are some of the reasons why objection is taken at the action of Synod in regard to the college.

Again, I have never seen or heard a single argument why Mt. Pleasant is not a suitable place for the college and I don't believe one can be produced. Are the Alumni deficient in the education? How many of them are ornaments in the church—ministers, and in other professions. They compare favorably with graduates of other colleges on or off the railroad. I learn that it was asserted at Synod that Mt. Pleasant was not in touch with civilization, and if silence gives consent, it was the voice of Synod. If Synod really believes this it is her bounden duty to endeavor to elevate them, and there is no better way than to plant an institution of learning in their midst and support it and teach them civilization. They have always shown a commendable zeal for the church and deserve the care of Synod instead of INSULT.

Now, Mr. Editor, as to the loyalty of the board of trustees. I have been a humble member of that body for over twenty years and I have never seen any disposition on the part of the board to antagonize Synod in any matter whatever up to the present, and when you consider the fact that six members of the board live in Mt. Pleasant and two others in St. John's congregation how can you or any one else be surprised at their taking umbrage at the action and declarations of Synod. They know that Synod had no authority from the church to take steps for the removal of N. C. College; that her action, was an assumption of power unprecedented in the history of the church. The church may endorse the action of Synod but it has to be done yet. When the church speaks on the subject and instructs Synod to set so one will prove disloyal; until that is done there is no legal power on earth to surrender the charter of N. C. College or have it amended by the board of trustees.

In conclusion let me say that Synod may build another college either at Winston, Salisbury or Concord but unless I mistake the sentiment of the friends of N. C. College she will remain where she is and the descendants of the men who founded it will run and support it in the future as they have in the past, without the patronage of Synod.

EVERYTHING LOST.

The Flames Totally Destroyed the House and Household Goods of Brantley Plyler of Our County.

On Wednesday night the flames were found to be playing havoc with the kitchen of Mr. Brantley Plyler, who lives near Misenheimer and Lentz's springs.

It was about 2 o'clock in the night when the family discovered the flames and it was found out too late to save anything, even their own clothes. The dwelling house, an ordinary sized home, kitchen and smoke house, were totally consumed, robbing this man of everything. He has a wife and five children, all of whom are now reduced to poverty. The cause of the fire is not known, but possibly it was caused by a defective flue.

The Sewerage Trouble Over.

It has been a source of much talk, and rightly so too, on account of the imperfection of the sewerage at several places in town. It seems that the principal trouble is the insufficient amount of water in the pipes, making it very offensive to live near the manholes, which are covered but are not air tight. Though the trouble has not been removed the people of those parts of town are at least free now from the offensive odors, as Mayor Means has had the coverings of the manholes lowered and then well covered with dirt. The worst places are on North Main street and Spring street.

It Is Concord's Loss.

Mr. Holland Thompson left Thursday evening for his home at Statesville, where he will spend most of his vacation before attending the next session at the Columbia University, where he has a scholarship on account of receiving a prize.

We regret to lose such men as Mr. Thompson from our midst—one who for three years has been so diligently engaged in the educating of a number of our boys and girls. We hope that the time is not very far off when Concord can again retain him.

Falling Them for Taxes.

A number of the colored people have failed to pay their taxes due the town and some have barely escaped some trouble about the matter. Three were pulled Thursday night. One of them did not have enough money but pawned his watch for the balance due until next morning. Quite a number of them have been arrested in the last while.

Cloudburst and Hail at Thomasville.

From persons coming in on the southbound train we learn that there was an immense cloudburst and hailstorm at Thomasville Thursday night. Crops thereabouts are ruined and the waters have washed the land immensely. What escaped injury from the unloading of the cloud of its torrents of water was ruined by the large amount of hail.

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times the Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. Wilson, Liveryman, Burgetstown, Washington Co., Pa. Suffering humanity should be supplied with every means possible for their relief. I now take great pleasure in recommending them to any person suffering from this terrible malady. I am gratefully yours, M. A. Hoarty, Lexington, Ky." Sold by P. B. Fetzer's Drug Store.

CUT TO THE BONE.

A Young Boy Falls Upon a Piece of Terra Cotta Piping—Fun at the Expense of the Beginners—Personal.

Forest Hill, June 9.—Mr. Sam McLeaster of the Wayne cotton mill came home this morning to spend a few days.

Little Willie Clapp, the 7-year old son of Mr. Ed Clapp, had the misfortune this morning of cutting his leg to the bone, by falling on a broken piece of terra cotta piping.

Some of the weavers in learning new men the art of weaving, seem to have right much fun at the expense of the student. It is the rule to clean looms every Saturday evening and recently a weaver told his student to turn over the loom and go to work on it. He says he made a good pull but she wouldn't move.

A Mill Man Killed at Gastonia.

On Friday morning at Gastonia, Mr. Wm. G. Brown, assistant superintendent at the Gastonia mill, was shot and killed by a man named Craton Medlin. The difficulty arose about the wages of one of Medlin's children. Brown also had a pistol but drew it too late, but fired several shots at his antagonist before he fell himself. Medlin escaped at once but was captured and lodged in jail.

An Apt Reply.

Max O'Reilly replies that while he was teaching in an English school a lady wrote to the head master: "Dear Sir: It is our intention to place our boy under your care, but before we do so we would like to know what the social standard of your school is?" To which the head master replied: "Dear Madam: So long as your boy behaves well and his fees are paid regularly no inquiry will be made about his antecedents."—Ex.

The Problem of Cuba.

That no intelligent man has any faith in Cuban self-government is shown in a curious and convincing way. There are miles and miles of rich land that can be bought today for prices ranging from fifteen cents to $12 an acre, yet nobody ventures to buy it; cheap as most of the land is now, it would be worthless if Cuba were to be handed over to its inhabitants. Americans in Cuba must be thoroughly convinced of this, or they would not neglect such an opportunity. The same is one of the business chances; capital fears the experiment of the Cuban control. The trouble is not in the morals, but in the temperament of the people. They are constitutionally unfit for responsibility. Their faults are those of children. The sentiment is steadily growing among themselves that it would be a good thing to be under permanent American protection.

This is especially true in the provinces of Santiago and Porto Principe, where the people have been in closest contact with the Americans. Every citizen and every dollar we send to Cuba increases the probability of permanent control. The problem is one with two sides, and it will not be solved without giving the Cuban people a fair share in the solution, but it would undoubtedly be to Cuba's best interest if it could at once be put under a government like that proposed for the Philippines.—Chicago Tribune.

Competition Comes Near Causing Trouble.

For several days our townsmen, Henry Ritz and H. A. Graeber, have been earnestly endeavoring to supply the lemonade drinking people and each has well performed his part, but the competition became too strong today (Saturday) when Mr. Ritz constructed a stand near his antagonist and dealt it out at the rates of "five cents for all you can drink and more too if you want it." But the other man would not be outdone but at once took out huckster's license and erected his tub of ice, lemons and sugar, and earnestly requested all to partake of the refreshing beverage, asking nothing of them but to return the dippers.

This went on for a while but too many people began to gather around making it a nuisance and the mayor called the matter to a halt, compelling them to go back to their regular places of business. It furnished amusement at least and showed the determined spirit of the competitors. Both paid the town $1 and the coats for food and boisterous talking.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Cannot Secure Funds to Build High School Will Be Taught at Old Stand.

On or about January 28th a meeting was called in the court house with regard to erecting a new modern school building on the lot known as the Concord Union. There was a committee of citizens appointed at that meeting charged with the duty of raising the necessary funds and of erecting said building, which they were to rent to Rev. J. H. Lippard. This committee secured the contract with the trustees of the property, which was necessary for the consummation of the plan.

On Wednesday, the 7th, this committee called a meeting of the trustees and reported that they were unable to secure the necessary funds for the purpose and asked the trustees to release them from their part of the contract. This was agreed to and thereupon Rev. J. H. Lippard gracefully waived all right and claim which he had to the property by virtue of the contract made by the committee with the trustees.

We are informed that Prof. Jay Lentz will conduct the Concord High School in the building where it has been conducted for the past number of years.

Kicked By a Horse.

On Tuesday, the 6th, Chas. Petrea, a young man of No. 7 township, son of Mr. Morton Petrea, was kicked by a horse while ploughing in the field, just when he was turning the animal to start back across the field.

It was a heavy blow dealt by the animal and the hoof struck the young man in the stomach, and it proved to be the fatal blow, life having ceased Thursday night. The body was interred Friday.

Mr. Petrea was a comparatively young man of about 25 years. A year or two ago he married Miss Fannie Kriminger.

A PLUCKY WOMAN.

She Shoots Her Assailant.

A dispatch from Columbus, Ga., says an unknown negro made an attempt on Sunday to assault Mrs. David Ward, who lives three miles west of Girard. Mrs. Ward defended herself with a pistol and sent two bullets after the frightened wretch. While a posse was scouring the woods to find the negro, leaving Mrs. Ward alone, her husband joining in the chase, the same negro, with remarkable nerve, entered the Ward home again and made the second attempt at assault. This time he tore the clothes from Mrs. Ward, but she managed to secure her pistol and shot the negro four times. Mrs. Ward says she saw the negro fall several times while running from the house. Bloodhounds from Opelika have been telegraphed for. If not already dead from the wounds it is expected the negro will be lynched.
