TEMPERANCE ITEMS.

Contributed to The Standard.

Five out of every seven columns of Manila newspapers, fresh from the Philippine Islands, advertise saloons and various brands of intoxicating liquors.

Here's one ad: "Soldiers headquarters for old jug whiskey, sauerkraut, Frankfurter, and other American delicacies."

Another ad: "The best beer that comes to the Philippines; made at Tacoma, Wash. Payallu Valley hops and Rocky Mt. Water. Special rates to consumers."

Shame on the United States! If prohibition had never done anything for Kansas it is worth all its cost to give its famous fighting regiment the enviable name it has for temperance.

The police at Hong Kong was doubled the day that regiment was "turned loose" in that city. Never before at such an occasion, but the guard house was filled. This time there was not a single arrest. The largest city of the middle west gave them a banquet on their return. Five kinds of liquors were served. Not a single glass was touched.

Two generals who have won great victories for Great Britain in South Africa, have long taken uncompromising ground on the subject of liquor in the armies.

Lord Kitchener led an army of footsoldiers to victory. Lord Roberts conclusively proved in India that one soldier not allowed to drink liquor was worth two who have access to it. Yet America believes in the expensive necessity of the "canteen."

Announcement. To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrh troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75c. from druggists or by mail. The Liquid form embodies the medical properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character.—Ely Bros., 56 Warren St. N. Y.

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN. "I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says F. P. Moran, a well-known and popular doctor of Petersburg, Va. "I have given it to our children when troubled with bad coughs, also whooping cough, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. It was recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children as it contained no opium or other harmful drugs. Sold at Marshall's drug store."

REMARKABLE CURES OF RHEUMATISM. From the Vincitor, Bathurstfordon, N. C. The editor of the Vincitor has had occasion to test the efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulder from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days, which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts afflicted and realizing instant benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatism in the right joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night, and getting up free from pain. Sold at Marshall's drug store.

A Fleasid Attack. An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, and purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c. per bottle at Fetter's drug store.

BAXTER SHENWELL ARRESTED.

Charged With Obtaining Money Under False Pretense—He Gives Bail. Baxter Shenwell was arrested at Asheville on the 13th on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense. The prosecution is in the East Tennessee National Bank of Knoxville. It seems he placed a $15,000 note with them on which had been placed endorsements of $11,000. The bank advanced the $4,000, and could not realize on it. He took a writ of habeas corpus and asked for a continuance of time to make a defense. He was allowed to give bail for $1,000.

A Strange Case From Wake. Just before Christmas Eugene Penny, a young farmer of Wake county, left his wife and four children and went away with Miss Chamblee, a young lady school teacher of the neighborhood. Before going away Penny sold a part of his land and took the money. Last week the couple returned and each went to their homes—Penny to his wife and children and Miss Chamblee to her parents. The young woman says that she and Penny took a trip through Mexico and California, and she was very much distressed to learn that the gossips had talked about her going away with a married man. She said Mr. Penny treated her like a lady; that she wanted to see the world and he showed it to her. Penny has given out no statement.—Statesville Landmark.

They Deserve No Sympathy. One or two towns in the State are being sued by persons who were arrested, fined or imprisoned, as the case may be, for resisting the compulsory vaccination ordinances. Such people deserve neither damages nor sympathy, and if the truth could be known, it would develop that they made trouble for no other purpose than to work the municipalities for damages. It does not require the aid of law to compel a good citizen to take every precaution possible to prevent the spread of disease, and others should be forced to do it, and upon refusal, deserve no better treatment than any other man who wilfully and knowingly breaks the law. The multiplicity of damage suits, in most cases for trivial causes, is becoming a nuisance in the courts.—Durham Herald.

Better Than 16 to 1. The Record had no notion of getting our neighbors into a controversy over a question of grammar when it spoke of "Rev. Jones," etc. The point that struck our young ministerial friend in Ohio was that the people out there spoke of a preacher just as the generality of negroes do in the South, and he was amused at it. He said nothing about grammar, and he is a graduate of two or three colleges. The Record said nothing about it, but there are a half dozen papers arguing the matter as red hot as if it was a great political issue, while the Charlotte Observer is yelling enough and "cussin' out" this paper for ever breathing the subject. However, the time is better employed in arguing the matter than in talking about 16 to 1, and we can prove it by the Observer.—Greensboro Record.

Mr Jordan's Close Call. Mr. J. M. Jordan, the local reporter for the Durham Sun, is in the Watts hospital suffering from injuries received last Saturday. He attempted to board a moving train and losing his footing was struck and thrown on the track from which he was jerked by the yard conductor, Mr. Glasgow, just as the wheels were ready to crush him. It was a fearfully narrow escape and a sore banging up but it is hoped he will soon be at his post again.

Fruit Crop Prospect. J. Van Lindley, perhaps the best authority in the State on such things, says that up to the present time the prospects for an abundant fruit crop this year are better than for many years past. Ordinarily peach, pear and plum trees are in full bloom by the middle of this month. Now there is barely a sign of swelling bud anywhere.—Greensboro Telegram.

HIS SUFFERINGS CEASE.

Mr. Henry Lefler Dies After Suffering With Blood Poison for Some Time—Leaves a Wife and Seven Children. For several days it was known that death must soon come to Mr. Henry Lefler, who lived out at the Bala cotton mill, for his condition was past the place where aid can be given. Twelve days before he was taken to his bed. His foot pained him and soon blood poison set in. It is thought that a small brass tack in the heel of his shoe was the cause of the trouble.

Four days before his death he had reached his 52nd birthday. He leaves a wife and seven children—five sons and two daughters. Of this number three sons and one daughter are married.

Mr. Lefler was for four years employed as superintendent of the chain gang and afterwards had the position a short while again. About three years ago he moved out to the Bala cotton mill.

The remains were interred at Rocky Ridge Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The funeral will be preached by Rev. J. T. Nelson.

He was shot in old Kentucky, where the aim is always true, and the principle amusement is shooting people through, where the doctors use as medicine for all human ills, a dose or two of bullets instead of giving pills. He was shot in old Kentucky, where the "feuds" grow on the trees, and the bullets from the rifles buzz through the air like bees; where the instruments they play on when they give a dance or lay are their musical revolvers and they "call off" with a pop.—Orange (Va.) Singular Incident. At Mt. Vernon Springs a few days ago a man came near ending his existence in a peculiar manner. He was cleaning out a spring, which is walled with granite, and after dipping the water out, he crawled in to secure a razor and a pocket knife, which had been dropped into the spring by a guest. The opening was barely large enough to admit his body, and when he attempted to back out he found himself imprisoned, head downward. The water began to rise, and realizing his danger he called loudly for help. Several persons came to his assistance, but were unable to extricate him until after he had become unconscious. After working with him for some time he was resuscitated.—Greensboro Correspondence to Charlotte Observer.

Building Lots for the Tuscarora. The Tuscarora cotton mill company at Mt. Pleasant has purchased from Mr. Jas. P. Cook of this place a tract of land near its site consisting of about 14 acres. The consideration was $255. The same company also purchased from Miss Maggie Cook a lot consisting of nearly 13 acres, paying her $840.

Great Grand-mother Spectacles.

In line with the consideration of the historic "Black Boys of Cabarrus," Mr. C. R. White has shown us a pair of spectacles worn by his great grand-mother, the wife of William White, Sr., who was a member of that heroic party. The spectacles are a curiosity. The frames were rather smaller than those now in vogue but there is enough metal in those steel frames with their sliding temples to make a goodly number of the steel frames of today. There are great eye holes in the temples to take a chord that our grand-mothers always used to extend around the back of the head to keep them from dropping off. The weight caused this and gave rise to the fashion of relieving the nose by laying the spectacles just back of the forehead when not in immediate use.

Real Estate Deals in the County. Mr. L. M. Morrison has purchased from Geo. W. Bost 127 acres in No. 1 township for the sum of $1,400. He also purchased from B. Frank Bost for $1,000, about 62 acres. Mr. Morrison has owned this land before and has purchased it again from these gentlemen.

Mr. Will Flow has sold to D. G. Bost a part of the Ephraim Bost lands containing about 110 acres for $338.83. He also sold a part of the lands to W. V. Kriminger containing about 57 acres for $435.17.

A Retailer Captured. For some time the eyes of some of the officers have been resting on a white man named John Tucker. He was thought to be selling whiskey. On Wednesday afternoon Chief Harris and Mr. Will Probst went down about the old fair grounds and brought him back to the mayor's court. He was tried and bound over to court. In default of one to go on his bond for $250 he was taken to jail. He is charged with selling whiskey down at the old fair grounds, inside the incorporate limits.

The Supreme Court Will Meet Soon. During the week beginning the 26th of this month the supreme court will meet to hear cases from this the eighth district. Among the cases to be heard they will be the case of Will Edwards for the killing of Policeman Kerns. The court will either sustain the verdict of the Superior court or a new trial will be granted.

The Statement is Incorrect. The Winston-Salem correspondent to the Charlotte Observer says that Rev. W. A. Lutz, pastor of the Lutheran church there, says the report published in a Salisbury paper to the effect that he is going to Rowan county to take charge of two churches is entirely incorrect. He has not even received a call from those churches.

Rev. J. K. Thompson, who has recently been preaching in Texas, will preach at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow morning and tomorrow night. He will arrive from Charlotte this evening.

Mr. Thompson has just returned from Edinburgh, Scotland, where he devoted his time to study and was also assistant pastor in one of the churches. He has been visiting his father in Mecklenburg county.

ATTACHMENT PAPERS TAKEN OUT.

The Gold Hill Mining Business at Gold Hill Receives a Shock by a Number of Persons Taking Out Attachment Papers for Debts—The Hands Not Paid Since the First of January. Numbers will probably be prepared to hear that attachment papers have been taken out against the Union Copper Mining Co. and the Gold Hill Mining Co. Numbers of persons are numbered among the ones who have accounts and are joining in the effort to collect their debts.

On Thursday night several gentlemen were here and took out attachment papers and Sheriff Peck left today (Friday) for Gold Hill where he serves the papers and will seize the property on the Cabarrus side. Most of the stock and machinery used is on this side of the line. Those who were here Thursday night and took out attachment papers were Chas. A. Smith who has been running a store there for the company, J. H. Swaim the master mechanic, and Messrs. C. M. and Jno. Harris.

As will be seen in the article below some Salisbury companies started the movement. The gentlemen here Thursday night stated that Sheriff Monroe had already been to Gold Hill and had taken charge of the materials in Rowan.

The following appears in the Charlotte Observer: "It was learned from Salisbury last night that the Salisbury Supply Company and the Salisbury Hardware and Furniture Company yesterday took out attachments against the Union Copper Mining Company and Gold Hill Mining Company, of Rowan county, for debt due them for supplies, furnished the mines. Several employees of the mines were in Salisbury yesterday looking after claims due them for services rendered. One of the principal employees of the Union Copper Mining Company was in Charlotte yesterday and gave out information which prepared the Observer for what it learned last night. It is stated that these companies are as much as two months behind with their pay rolls and owe debts to the amount of $75,000 or $100,000. Mr. Walter George Newman is president of both companies and has been operating on a very large scale and spending money with a lavish hand. In addition to his mining interests he has invested in a sanatorium and a newspaper in Salisbury.

A part of the property of one of these companies is in Cabarrus, and creditors were on the southbound train of the Southern Railway last night, getting off at Concord, where they will sue out attachments to-day."

R. B. LACY'S TESTIMONY.

North Carolina's Capital and Labor Harmonize—Children Going out of Factories. The sub-committee of the United States Industrial commission which closed its work in Charlotte Thursday and left for Atlanta Thursday night drew out much interesting testimony. Industrial conditions were found to be quite satisfactory in the Carolinas.

Mr. R. B. Lacy, State Labor Commissioner, gave a report so interesting that we append it herewith copied from the Observer.

"Mr. Lacy said that there are no negroes in the factories in this State; the mill that is being built in Concord to experiment with colored labor not having yet been finished. There are 33,757 employees in factories in this State, 14,638 men, 15,111 women, 3,308 children (1,679 girls and 1,629 boys). The comparison between the relative numbers in 1896 was significant, and a healthy sign of a better condition of affairs. In 1896 there were in round numbers 6,000 men, 10,000 women and 6,800 children employed in the factories. Now without any law or unpleasant agitation the number of children employed has fallen to only 3,308, a reduction of 50 per cent, while the men have increased over 100 per cent, and the women over 50 per cent.

The owners and managers of mills in the South have relatives and childhood friends in the factories. Now without any law or unpleasant agitation the number of children employed has fallen to only 3,308, a reduction of 50 per cent, while the men have increased over 100 per cent, and the women over 50 per cent.

Now without any law or unpleasant agitation the number of children employed has fallen to only 3,308, a reduction of 50 per cent, while the men have increased over 100 per cent, and the women over 50 per cent.

He said he had frequently attended barbecues given by mills to employes and that they met as one large family. A number of the help coming from farms where they worked from sun to sun, do not look upon the length of the day as being excessively long. There had never been a strike in the cotton mills that he had heard of and he attributed it to the reason above mentioned. In his opinion North Carolina was very much to be congratulated for both the owners and employes, and the evident good feeling and absence of friction between them. At a great many of the mills the employes had either built, or materially assisted in the building of school houses and churches and took an active part in the Sunday schools and encouraged the day schools. He spoke especially of one of the largest factories where no child under 12 years of age was allowed and those over that age had to sign a book to show that they could write. From his blanks as commissioner he said that as near as he could calculate 15 or 17 per cent of the adults and about 25 or 30 per cent of the children could not read and write. He favored a compulsory educational law.

In answer to questions concerning organized labor, Mr. Lacy said there are ten different organizations, but that there is little or no organization among factory help, this being one of the finest tributes possible to the employes. He thought compulsory arbitration impracticable, because on account of the constitution it would be impossible to force the employe to work against his wishes, and therefore it lacked mutuality. He doubted whether the men would be willing for the change when they understood it.

To Have Charge of the Bala Mill Store. Mr. Ed Freeze, who for a week or two has had charge of the Cannon & Fetter Co. store at the Bala mill will soon return to his position here in the store. Messrs. Ed. Sherrill and Walter White will have charge of the store out there.

CABBAGE MAGGOT AND FEA LOUISE.

How to Detect Them—The Remedy, the Prevention—Tobacco Good for Something. There seems to be an unusual amount of damage this spring by the cabbage maggot, the young form of a small, gray, hairy fly—Anthomyia brassicae. The same insect injures turnips and collards. The damage is first usually noticed in the field by young plants turning yellow or lead color. A swelling is generally found in the stem and within this or further down will be found the very small maggot, usually less than 1/4 inch long. The damage begins in the seed bed, but later there are several successive generations of the fly, which attack the crops in the field. But when half grown the plants do not suffer much, being able to repair the damage. A good remedy is the tobacco decoction, made by boiling for one hour one pound of tobacco stems or leaves in 3 gallons of water. Use hot as a spray. This must be done before the plants are injured, as when they wilt and turn yellow they are ruined. Injured plants should be pulled out and the maggots crushed. Rotation of crops and making seed bed in a new place each year is a very good preventive. As the maggots when full grown descend into the earth about 1/2 inch to undergo transformation to the winged state, frequent stirring the soil close to the plants will do much good. It is useless to attempt to destroy this or any other insect by treating the soil with kailin or any similar substance. These may, however, be desirable as manures.

For the first time within the memory of man the common garden pea was in some places seriously damaged by a small green plant louse. While a similar visitation is not likely to occur this year, truckers and gardeners should watch for it. As soon as the first insect is seen spray plants with tobacco decoction or a dilute solution of fish oil soap 1 lb. to 5 or 6 gallons, or dust the plants with freshly water-slaked, powdery lime. Repeat as often as necessary. The undersigned desired living specimens of this insect for experimenting.

Go More Bird Shooting Now. With Thursday past there can be no more partridges killed now until next November. Numbers were out Thursday to enjoy for the last time this season a good day's hunt. This has been quite a good season and Cabarrus county has had the pleasure of quite a number of northern hunters during the season also.
