Fallen, Oh How Low.

A Greensboro special of the 17th to the News and Observer tells of a shocking moral sensation some eight or ten miles southeast of that city in which two white sisters of good family standing but of rather questionable purity are feuded in the lowest depths of depraved infatuation with two negro men of families. The older sister went north some time ago and wrote for her paramour, and the other wrote to hers at home that she is in a delicate condition. The note got into the hands of her father, who went for him with a shotgun but the negro escaped. It seems the ugliest case of depraved nature, moral abandonment and prostitution of all that is noble and lovely in the sex that has entered news circles for some time.

Meeting of Cabarrus B and L A.

The fourth annual meeting of the stockholders of the Cabarrus County Building, Loan and Savings Association met in the court house Thursday night. Vice-President Dr. W. C. Houston in the chair. A majority of the stock being represented in person or by proxy the meeting proceeded to the business before it. The secretary and treasurer read his report and answered all in queries showing the condition of the finances to be quite satisfactory. A good degree of enthusiasm was manifested at the successful work of the association. Nearly all the money loaned is now helping families to get home that without the system of a B & L would probably never have gotten them. The profits too, are nearly seven per cent. Vacancies in the board of directors were filled. At the meeting of the director Mr. W. R. Odell was re-elected president and on motion of L. J. Coltrane Mr. J. M. Hendrix was elected secretary and treasurer for the ensuing year.

"The Old Man Drunk Again."

Our exchanges give an account of Joe Monday on a bender in Salisbury, and of his arraignment before the Mayor of Statesville on the charge of drunk and disorderly. Too bad, too bad. Evil-minded people, always glad of a handle to hit the church an clergy, will use this as a text. It is nothing but weakness of the poor fellow powerless to shake himself from the grip of the devil habit. Joe ought to make an election between the two, or quit preaching or drinking. A preacher can do a lot of things and hold his job—drinking is not one of them. He can dodge his debts, swap horses, talk scandal, hound a brother preacher to ruin, worry his wife by flirting with the pretty women; tell jokes that need a Turkish bath—but they mustn't drink.—Morganton Herald.

Singular Accident and Quick Engineer.

Train No. 38 of the A. C. L. as it was nearing the Cape Fear last Saturday had a peculiar accident. Both driving wheels of the big engine suddenly broke off and rolled down the embankment. Engineer Donlon brought the train to a stand still so quickly that little damage was done.

Iowa Bank in Trouble.

The Lemars National Bank at Lemars, Iowa, is in trouble over its shortage of $25,000 or $30,000, embezzled by its vice-president, who has absconded. He wrote back to the cashier, saying: "Dear Frank—I leave tonight for God Almighty knows where. This board of trade business has ruined me. Save me from a penitentiary if you can. I will pay back every cent if I can."

"When the newly made wife hits her husband on the head with a broomstick it is the real sound of the marriage ring."

"There is nothing so kingly as kindness and nothing so royal as truth.—Alice Cary.

If thy morals make thee dreary, depend upon it, they are wrong.—R. L. Stevenson.

TWO ENGINES SWEEP AWAY.

Harried Into a Chasm by a Snow Slide—Train Loaded With Passengers Not Touched. Boulder, Col., April 18.—A terrible accident occurred today, on the Colorado & Northwestern road, near this city. Two big engines attached to a passenger train coming from Ward to Boulder were struck by a huge snow slide and hurled into the chasm below. Four trainmen were killed. They are: Engineers Hannon and Fitzgerald; Fireman Miller and Conductor Blair. The second fireman has not been accounted for and it is believed he is also dead. The bodies have not been recovered. The passenger train left Ward for Boulder, drawn by two engines. When the train reached Boomerville, the engines were uncoupled and started up the hill to back the snow which was deep on the track. A sharp curve occurred near the apex of the mountain and just as the engine started to round the curve a vast avalanche of snow and earth was loosened from above. It came down with terrific force and gained momentum every second. It is said that the train which was heavily loaded with passengers, was not touched by the slide.

Electricity Melts an Axe.

The Wilkesboro Chronicle says: "During the thunderstorm up in Union township recently a pine tree in Frank Staley's yard was struck by lightning. The tree was thrown across the end of the house, doing considerable damage. Mr. Staley was badly shocked and was unconscious or awhile. An axe at the root of the tree was melted."

Smallest Baby Yet.

The smallest baby in the world, according to all medical records, was born in this city last Saturday. The mother gave birth to twins and one weighs only 14 1/2 ounces. Photographer Hayes this morning took the baby's picture. It is perfectly formed and seems to be entirely well. However the physicians say that it will be very difficult to raise such a child. The little youngster is about the size of an ordinary piglet. The parents are respected citizens, living in the suburbs.—Raleigh Times.

That Everybody's Magazine is a Periodical to be seriously reckoned with is the opinion of the men who make and sell Monthlies. Many kind things were said of the April issue, but the May number is even better. It is a readable from cover to cover. Admirably written and timely it is most expensive competitors, rather than with the rest of the cent publications. The best artists are engaged on its pictures; the ablest writers contribute its articles and stories.

Burning in the Color Line.

Wilmington, Del., April 16.—William Simpson, colored, was maltreated by a gang of negro tramps near Newport, who attempted to burn him in a bonfire last night. He escaped from them and is now under treatment at the Homeopathic Hospital. Simpson says that he and a white man, whose name he does not know, were on their way to this city to seek work and had to pass the camp of the colored men. One of the latter asked Simpson why he was walking with a white man. While he was explaining one of the crowd struck Simpson on the head. Several of the tramps jumped on Simpson and beat him unmercifully and finally threw him into a bonfire.

Beat Sugar Plant.

A Crown Point Ind., dispatch of the 18th says, The Central Sugar Company has begun the erection of a $500,000 plant for refining beet sugar. The company has a farm of 11,000 acres upon which to raise beets.

Talking Clock.

Mr. J. J. Oakley, an electrician of High Point, has rigged up his clock with a telephone, and instead of striking it calls out the hour thus: "It is 12 o'clock."

It begins to look like the exact amount of Major Martin's stealings will not be known until the earth and sea shall give up their dead.—Durham Herald.

Salisbury Corporation.

The North Main Street Realty Company was incorporated in the Secretary of State's office today, the incorporators being John Whitehead, C. L. Welch, P. H. Thompson, N. B. McCanniss, Chas. B. Jordan and J. S. McCubbins. The principal place of business is Salisbury, Rowan county. The object is the improvement of real estate and the construction of a street car line. The capital stock is $20,000 and not to exceed $50,000.—Raleigh Times of 18th.

MOSQUITOES OUR ENEMY.

The Only Means of Yellow Fever Contagion—They Carry Malaria Too. A very interesting circular has been issued by a special board of investigation of yellow and malarial fevers and approved by Surgeon Gen. Sternberg that brings the matter down to a fine point. The circular says that the mosquito is the great and probably the only disseminator of yellow fever and also of malarial fever. It has been demonstrated that you do not take yellow fever from contact with a case or from clothing, but by being bitten by a mosquito which has fed on a yellow fever patient. The circular says nurses of patients may associate with non-immunes with safety, but that isolation and fumigation should preclude the possibility of conveying infected mosquitoes. It reverses much of the former theory of the disease, but is consistent with the observation that yellow fever gives way to frost and will only spread in low regions where you find mosquitoes. As malarial fever seems entirely due to this little pest; it behooves those troubled with mosquitoes to drain off water in which are wiggletails, if practical, and pour small quantities of kerosene oil on such places as cannot be drained. It is learned, too, that the little pest does not range far from where he is hatched, unless carried off in clothing.

Legislature Not to Blame.

The statement is made, and commented upon, that the special appropriations made by the Legislature for additions to and improvements at several of our State charitable institutions is not available. It is due to state they were not expected to be available until the next assessment and collection of taxes. It was known by all parties that the revenues now available were already disposed of, for maintenance and current expenses until the new revenue and machinery acts went into operation, which is next June. The treasurer nor the administration, nor the Legislature for that matter, are amenable to criticism for the inability to meet these extra appropriations at present.—Morning Post.

Bad Fire at Jacksonville, X. C.

The town of Jacksonville on the Wilmington and Weldon road, says a Wilmington dispatch, was practically wiped out by a fire on Tuesday morning the 17th. There were no means of fighting fire successfully, and $40,000 or $50,000 worth of property went to ashes. The business part of town suffered most, hardly leaving a store. Probably one-fourth of the loss is covered by insurance.

Confederate Veterans are Asked to Assist in Its Correction.

In his effort to secure a correct roster of North Carolina troops in the Civil War, State Auditor Dixon has not only written to the clerks of court of the various counties, but he is now writing letters to Confederate Veterans in the different sections asking them to interest themselves in the matter to the extent of examining the roster, which they will find on file in the clerk's office, and wherever an error is discovered in name or rank of any Confederate soldier from the county, to make a note of said errors on separate sheet of paper, and forward same to the State Auditor's office, in order that action may be taken to correct the record. Dixon adds: "The roster is full of errors, and we owe it to the memory of the brave men who gave their lives to the 'Lost Cause,' as well as those now living who took part in that bloodiest of all wars, that history should tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth."—News and Observer.

Volunteers Coming Home.

A Washington dispatch of the 18th brings the announcement that the government now feels assured of peace in the Philippines and it has ordered Gen. McArthur to reduce his force to 40,000 men and to even muster out of service the Filipino soldiers. The 29th Infantry volunteers are on the way home and arrived in San Francisco on the 19th. Capt. Ed Hill, Fletcher Ford and musician Jay Sims are expected to arrive within a week. A dispatch to this effect was received this morning.

Game to the Last.

A certain Duke, while driving from the station to the park on his estate to inspect a company of artillery, observed a ragged urchin keeping pace with the carriage at his side. His grace, being struck with the cleanliness of the lad, asked him where he was going. The lad replied: "To the park to see the duke and sogers." The Duke, feeling interested, stopped his carriage and opened the door to the lad, saying he could ride to the park with him. The delighted lad, being in ignorance of whom he was, kept his grace interested with the quaint remarks till the park gates were reached. As the carriage entered it was saluted by the company and guns, whereupon his grace said to the lad: "Now, can you show me where the Duke is?" The lad eyed his person all over, then, looking at the Duke, replied, quite seriously: "Well, I dunno, mister, but it's either you or me!"—London Spare Moments.

It Pays to Advertise.

A Reading Pa., special of the 18th to the Raleigh Times gives this romantic story. A romantic wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Elan Sweigert at Ephrata, when her mother, Mrs. Christiana M. Baker, a widow of 50 years, married Edward M. Seaman, aged 90 years, from Apex, North Carolina. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Smith. Some months ago the groom advertised in a marriage journal that he wished to correspond with a middle-aged Al housekeeper, with a view to matrimony. Mrs. Baker read the advertisement and upon answering it, a courtship by correspondence followed. They never saw each other until last Saturday, when they met at the outer Reading Railway depot at Reading. They were mutually pleased and decided at once to marry. They had been engaged conditionally upon the impression made when they met. The couple left for the south on their wedding trip.

Cuban Census.

We are the appreciative recipient of a book received through Hon. T. F. Kluttz, entitled Census of Cuba, the gift of Congress. This is far from a book of dry statistics, but it contains an historical sketch of the island, dating back to 1512, and tracing it briefly to the present. The topographic delineation is interesting and the classification of the people as to race, marriage habits and degrees of education and illiteracy are beautifully diagrammed as well as placed in cold type.

Thirteenth Series Matured.

The thirteenth series of the Concord Perpetual Building and Loan Association matured today (the 20th) and was paid off, amounting to $4,200. "A man never knows until about six months after the wedding just how many of his wife's relatives he did marry."

Mr. Wu to a Young Lady.

Minister Wu knows how to outfit the women, as is evident from what he said to a Charlotte young lady Thursday afternoon at the reception. The fair one asked: "Mr. Wu, are all the men in China as nice as you are?" The shrewd gentleman answered: "I shall answer your question by asking one. Are all the young women of Charlotte as sweet as you are?" At this juncture the curtain fell and the young lady passed on.—Charlotte Observer.
