Remedy for Balkers.

Main street, in front of the postoffice, was the scene of a balky horse's antics this morning. The horse was hitched to a double wagon and when he decided to come to a standstill he held his ground with a horse's obstinacy. Every known remedy was suggested and tried but no avail. In desperation the owner heeded the advice of an old negro who stood nearby and advised him to put a "stopper" in the horse's ear and tie the ear.

The stopper was accordingly made from the end of a broom handle and rammed in the animal's ear. The ear was tied and at a touch from the whip the horse walked off.

We relate this experience of the man with the balking horse or the benefit of all who may be burdened with that species of the tribe.—Salisbury Sun.

In China.

The Chinaman shakes his own and instead of yours. He keeps out of step when walking with you. He puts his hat on in salutation.

He whittens his boots instead of blackening them. He rides with his heels in his stirrups instead of his toes. His compass points south. His women folk are often seen in trousers, accompanied by men in gowns.

Often he throws away the pit of the melon and eats the seeds. He laughs on receiving bad news (this is to deceive evil spirits). His left hand is the place of honor.

He thinks it polite to ask your age and income. He says west-north instead of north-west, and sixths-four instead of four-sixths.

His favorite present to a parent is a coffin.—Philadelphia Times.

REMEMBERING THE MAINE.

Will Uncle Sam Pay Indemnity Claim? We have passed the climax of an outrage feeling at the blowing up of the Maine and hardly mention it save jocularly in connection with the revenue stamp.

But now again the whole matter must be taken up and sifted to find out who is to blame for the blowing up of the ship as two of the relatives of victims are demanding indemnity. The Spanish treaty claims commission must take up the matter in which the United States is essentially the defendant. First from exposing the lives of these men by subjecting them to Spanish treachery, if such it was, and secondly from assuming all indemnity claims in the treaty with Spain.

Should the claims be denied to these parties it would seem to exculpate Spain from the blame of the matter that precipitated the war.

BICYCLE, MAN AND DOG.

Dog's Head Cut Off Man's Arm Broken in Three Places.

Mr. T. L. Leavy was up town yesterday with his left arm in splints, as the result of a bicycle accident while he was on his way home the previous evening. As he was speeding down South Tryon street a dog ran out in front of him. It was just opposite the Butler property. The dog was after a cat and had neither eye nor ear for the wheelman. As a result he struck the bicycle between wheels. The dog's neck was caught in the chain and carried to the sprocket wheel, where it was cut off as neatly as a gullotine could have done it. That ended the incident for the dog, of course. The wheel was badly wrecked and Mr. Leavy was given a terrific fall, the result being that his arm was broken in three places—two fractures being between the wrist and elbow and one between the elbow and shoulder. The cat escaped.—Charlotte Observer.

Missing Man a Suicide.

A man who had hidden his identity committed suicide at Seattle at Hotel York Tuesday. No papers were about him to reveal who he was if not James Fisher, as registered, but within his coat was a label sewed by a tailor of Cleveland, Ohio, giving the name R. N. Pollock, who is the missing President of a bank there. No doubt seems to exist that he is the missing man.

China Grove Academy Next Year.

Mr. W. A. Weddington and Mr. Frank Wright will conduct the school at China Grove Academy next year. Mr. Weddington comes lately from New London, where he met with much success in teaching and Mr. Wright has been teaching in the China Grove Academy and is therefore familiar with the work. Much success to them and the school.

"No one is at liberty to be a mere thinker and nothing more. He who gains a new idea, or has a fresh insight into an old one, is hereby invested with a new responsibility. He has no right to live exactly as he did before. A duty is laid upon him to bring it into practical operation for his own guidance, and, as far as possible, for the general welfare."

The people of Jacksonville have risen to the occasion and face the situation with a courage that is sublime. Nothing but hope and determination is heard in that city today desolate in its ashes, tomorrow to be ringing with the energy born of real heroism. The whole country will look upon the up building with a pleasure that is as sincere as the tale of the disaster was appalling.—Morning Post.

BRILLIANT SOCIAL EVENT.

Reception at Mrs. D. L. Bost's—Beautiful Floral Decorations.

Concord society was received at Mr. D. L. Bost's beautiful residence on South Union street from 5 until 9 o'clock Thursday evening.

The halls and every room were beautifully decorated with flowers from the conservatory and field and into these lovely decorated rooms fair women received the guests.

In the reception hall which was decorated in green were Master Gray Bost, Mesdames R. S. Young, J. W. Cannon and M. L. Brown.

The effect throughout the north parlor was green and white and here Mrs. D. L. Bost with Mesdames J. A. B. Fry, A. J. Yorke, G. L. Patterson, C. B. Miller and W. D. Pemberton entertained the guests.

From this parlor the guests were taken to the dining room which was elaborately and artistically decorated in white and red. Mrs. D. B. Coltrane, Mrs. H. M. Barrow, Misses Janie Ervin and Agnes Moss served the supper.

In the south parlor amid the pink and white colors Mrs. C. J. Harris, Misses Kate Gibson, Kate Means and Kathie Brown received the guests.

The back and side halls were both decorated in pink, and here in their individual and charming style Mrs. M. J. Freeman, Misses Janie Richmond, Cora Lentz, Ellen Gainey, Fannie Hill, Nettie Allen and little Adelaide Barrow carried out their social part of the evening.

Gen. Hampton Decorated With a Cross of Honor.

Columbia, S. C., May 9.—More than 3,000 Confederate soldiers were present at the reunion today. In the afternoon the veterans visited General Wade Hampton's home, and the aged soldier was given a cross of honor, made of metal from a Confederate cannon. The cross was pinned on his breast by his grandchild, Miss McDuffie. As a climax to the scene the soldiers gave the never-to-be-forgotten rebel yell.

Tonight at the opera house General M. C. Butler was given an ovation. Tomorrow the veterans will march in a body to decorate the graves of Confederate dead.—Special to The Observer.

Hall and Lightning in Mooresville.

A Mooresville special of the 10th to the Charlotte Observer says, A severe storm and heavy rain occurred here this afternoon about 2:30 o'clock. At Mount Mourne, three miles south of this place, hail fell to the depth of three inches. Considerable hail also fell here, and the stones were very large. The damage, if any at all, was very slight. The hail-stones resembled minute snowballs. They were soft and therefore harmless. During the storm lightning struck and killed a fine cow belonging to Mr. Pat McNeely. The cow was in the stable.

Try the new remedy for costiveness, Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Every box guaranteed. Price, 25 cents. For sale by M. L. Marsh, druggist.

IS THE REVENUE ACT VALID?

Nothing to be Gained by Raising the Point Says Lieut. Gov. Turner.

A Wilmington special of the 7th to The News and Observer says that the validity of the revenue act, by the last legislature, is disputed and that it is probable that the Supreme court will set it aside. It is said that it did not pass its three readings in the Senate as amended.

The Raleigh correspondent to the Charlotte Observer gives the following version by Lieut. Gov. Turner.

"The bill passed the House and came over to us. It passed the second reading in the Senate by an aye and no vote and then 43 amendments were put on. It passed its third reading also on roll call. It went back to the House. That body refused to concur in the Senate amendments and asked for a committee of conference. This was appointed. It made its report, recommending that the House concur in 36 of the Senate amendments and that the Senate recede from seven of them. The report was adopted. It was my belief that the amendments were so material that they should have passed their readings on rollcall on separate days. I called the attention of some Senator to this matter, but the term was up, it being the day before adjournment, and members anxious to get away, so nothing was done. It may be that the courts will be called on to settle the question, if a formal point is raised. There will be two questions. First, did the bill pass its reading properly, that is, were the amendments not of sufficient moment, material alterations, to make their passage, on roll-call, on three several days necessary under the terms of the constitution? Second, in case this is done, does the bill stand as it passed the House? One side will of course contend that there were no such material alterations as to require the aye and no vote. The courts may hold that it stands as it passed the House, leaving the taxes much higher, as the Senate's amendments were all conservative. So what can the public gain now by an opening of the question? It does not seem to me as if it is to the interest of the public to make a point. I don't believe the failure to pass the roll-call the amendments will destroy the whole bill." It would appear from this to be good policy to let well enough alone.

Jacksonville Treading Hard Paths.

Jacksonville is doubtless doing well in her heroic efforts to get the people in living way again, but the desperate condition of many of her people is becoming more and more apparent. Clerks, book-keepers, collectors and three young physicians, even, are among those clamoring for work as they have lost every thing and there is nothing else for them to do. Clerks and work along such lines will be secured for them if possible.

The relief committee has provided a tent with 25 sewing machines for sewing girls whose positions were burned. They make the garments needed for those who lost everything.

In short the relief committee provide employment if possible in the line in which the applicant can labor to the best advantage and the necessary money outlays are made from contributed funds. The insurance companies have paid in a half million dollars and some contracts are let.

Car loads of clothing and provisions are sent in and this the relief committee uses largely for those who labor.

The contributions in money received for amount to $36,769. The subscriptions amount to $85,000.

The Mastery of Detail.

The young man who is in demand is the one who has mastered every detail, who knows the business from A to Z. Employers are always looking for the man who has sufficient mental grasp to comprehend the entire situation, and industrious and determined enough to carry out a plan minutely, energetically and promptly.

It is intense application, a persistent devotion to business alone, which will give success in this century.—Success for May.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES

Large Crowd Assembles in the Court House to Do Honor to the Living and Dead Confederates.

The exercises at the court house Friday evening were marked with enthusiasm from beginning to end.

The line of march was formed at the graded school and was headed by the Concord band which played a medley march, then in succession came the Sons of the Confederacy, Confederate Veterans, Children of the Confederacy, Daughters of the Confederacy and the graded school children.

At the court house the evening's exercises were opened with prayer by the Rev. Geo. H. Cornelison. Mr. M. H. Caldwell read the roll of Cabarrus Confederate soldiers who were killed or died during the war.

The speaker of the evening was the Rev. J. A. R. Fry, and all paid the closest attention from the very youngest child to the old Confederate as he spoke of the lost cause, and the immortal Lee the gallant Jackson and others. During his speech yells of enthusiasm would sweep across and fill the house. Especially was this so when he spoke of the part North Carolina had taken in this the greatest of wars. His speech was sublime.

Mrs. J. P. Allison in behalf of the Daughters of the Confederacy made a three-minute address most touching and beautiful, producing the grandeur of solemn enthusiasm contemplated in the conception of the thought by which the cross of honor is bestowed as the climax of eulogy by that sex on those they adorn as heroes.

Mr. L. T. Hartsell, the presiding officer of the occasion, called the names of Confederates, and as their names were called they advanced to the front of the court house and the cross of honor was pinned on them by the fair hands of young misses.

The grandest spectacle to the younger generation during the exercises was when the Confederates gave three yells at three different times. Just after this burst of enthusiasm a lull fell over the audience and then with one voice all that were not Confederate soldiers gave a cheer in response to the one just given.

Dr. J. C. Davis pronounced the benediction and all repaired to the monument in the court house yard and decorated it with flowers. Thus closed the memorial exercises.

WILMINGTON'S DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

The Warehouse and Wharf District Ablaze.

A Wilmington dispatch of the 11th says a fire broke out this morning at one o'clock causing a loss of $150,000 as follows:

Atlantic Coast Line Railway Company's buildings and the old Cape Fear and Yadin Valley Wharf $25,000; North State Improvement Company's building and wharf $15,000; S. P. McNair, grocery stock $2,000, three-fourths insured; steam boat Climax $4,000, three-fourths insured; James I. Metts, hay and grain; Roger Moore's Sons & Co., $2,000 fully insured; J. R. Turrentine Company, $5,000, little insurance; C. C. Covington & Co., $15,000 fully insured.

There were other small losses. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Camp 212 U. C. V. Meets.

Camp No. 212 met in the court house at 1.30 o'clock Friday the 10th, Commander H. B. Parks presiding. He explained the object of the meeting to be to arrange for going to the reunion at Memphis.

Major D. A. Caldwell explained the routes and said if as many as 35 would go he could obtain a through car and avoid any changes. He explained that if veterans take the special train from Raleigh Sunday evening it would put them in Memphis Monday night whereas to leave here Monday morning they will reach Memphis Tuesday morning the 25th in time for the opening if not delayed. The consensus was that Monday morning would be preferable.

The fare is 1 cent a mile each way, making about $14. Twenty-six names were obtained among the veterans.

The secretary explained the matter of the crosses of honor and the rules governing them. Dr. S. L. Grier said he was pleased to read that the Children of the Confederacy were being taught the biographical history of Confederates and hoped that the work would be kept up till the men of our camp would be the subjects and offered the following:

Whereas the Daughters of the Confederacy of the county are engaged in the laudable enterprise of perpetuating the heroic deeds of Confederate Soldiers, therefore be it resolved that we the members of Camp No. 212 give to them all the minute and interesting incidents connected therewith possessed by us with the hope that there will grow from it much history that would otherwise be lost.
