AN IMPORTANT CAPTURE.

A desperate Negro betrays his presence in Charlotte by Whipping His Wife. By the chance arrest yesterday morning of a negro named Bill Massey, Sergeant Jetton and Officer Hunter may have captured a negro who is somewhat of a desperado and for whose arrest the officials of Birmingham, Ala., have offered a large reward. Massey was arrested for cruelly beating his wife. His name is the same as that given by the Birmingham officials, he is the picture of the photograph which they furnish and under his chin and on his right breast are the scars which they describe. The Birmingham officials state in their circular that Massey's father, Henry Massey, lives in this city, on Poplar street. It was discovered yesterday that Massey's father did live there, but recently moved to Fort Mill, S. C. The reward for Will Massey has been outstanding for some time. How long he has been living here is unknown and his presence here might still have been undetected had he not given his wife a beating. Massey is wanted in Birmingham for highway robbery and assault with intent to kill. "He is a known desperado," the circular says, "and will not hesitate to do murder." Massey worked in the coal mines about Birmingham. He was yesterday photographed and locked up to await developments.—Charlotte Observer of 4th.

At Poisoned Cabbage.

Newton, N. C., Sept. 2.—News has reached here of a strange occurrence below Maiden. A family, whose name was not given, had boiled cabbage for dinner. The heads of cabbage had been cut in halves and put on to boil. After dinner the family became sick and finally a doctor was sent for but he could do them no good and they died. The doctor searched for the cause and in the bottom of the pot in which the cabbage had been cooked were found three small green snakes. By some means, been put in the pot with the cabbage and the poison from them had proven fatal.—Raleigh Observer.

No Hazing at Wake Forest.

Dr. Charles E Taylor, president of Wake Forest College, in his opening address delivered his ultimatum that hazing would not be permitted at that institution. He declared that any students who were guilty of indignities to the new students would be immediately expelled and sent home dishonored. Good for Dr. Taylor. If all the colleges will pursue that course rigidly before many decades freshmen going to college will not feel that they have reached a barbarian retreat.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Morgan's Coal Trust.

Plans will culminate next week for the formation of a great coal trust, with J P Morgan at its head. The bituminous mines of four States will be consolidated. They are Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, West Virginia, and it is very probable that the mines of Pennsylvania will join the corporation at a later date. The money invested in this great enterprise will amount to more than $100,000,000.

BEWARE OF GREEN FRUIT.

Avoid substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'. Price 25c and 50c.

STATE NEWS.

Smallpox has cost Reidsville $2,005. Charlotte is to have a new fire alarm system. Salem Female College opened with over 200 scholars. A new cotton mill was started up at Smithfield Thursday. Increase in property valuation in Raleigh brought $18,828 into the city treasury. Henderson is to have a new daily paper, which will be known as the Henderson Gleaner. The Washington and Plymouth railroad is within eight miles of Washington and will be ready for operation by December 1. Gen. Julian S Carr addressed 2,000 veterans at Jonesboro Friday. Other prominent men also delivered speeches. After much litigation Greensboro has taken control of the water works system that has heretofore belonged to a private corporation. The price paid for the plant was $75,000. The De Soto Lumber Co., of Asheboro, has been chartered with a capital stock of $100,000. The company will manufacture and deal in lumber, sash, doors, blinds and building material. At Wilson Thursday Judge Timberlake sentenced J Henry Rose, who was convicted of murdering Thomas Farmer, to be hanged October 11th. The prisoner met the verdict with calmness. Fannie King, a young negro woman of Durham, has been arrested for killing her new born babe. She crushed its head with a rock and then carried the body to a new barn nearby. She admitted killing the baby but says it was an accident. At Fayetteville Tuesday John Burns, colored, was tried before the Superior court for murder in the first degree. The jury returned a verdict for murder in the second degree. Judge McNeil sentenced him to ten months in the penitentiary. Mr. Eugene Medford, age 25, of Scotland Neck, and manager of the telephone exchange of that place, committed suicide Wednesday by shooting himself in the right temple with a .32 caliber pistol. Medford had been drinking heavily at times, and this was supposed to be the cause of the rash deed. The most sensational case tried before Judge Timberlake at Wilson so far was the case of the State vs. Forrest Watson, a young girl of 16 years. Miss Taylor is a girl of remarkable beauty and attractiveness and has always had the very best of character. Watson was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. Governor Aycock has offered a reward $400 for the arrest of Lucas Hopkins and $200 for his son Fletcher. They are wanted for killing a young man by the name of Kirby in Haywood county on the 11th of August. All the parties lived near the Tennessee line in Haywood county and the Hopkins' are believed to be hiding in the mountains of Tennessee. Charlotte Officers Wounded. Wednesday morning about 3 o'clock policemen Pitts and Summerrow, of Charlotte, were sitting on the steps of the old colored hospital of that city when a negro man, weighing about 235 pounds, passed. They hailed him but instead of replying he pulled a pistol, whereupon the officers started for him and in the scuffle that ensued Pitts lost his club and the negro secured it and struck him on the head three times and Summerrow twice, the second blow knocking him senseless. Pitts, no longer able to hold the man, let him go. As he ran away he fired five shots at the negro but they did not take effect. The officers secured the negro's pistol, hat and shoes, and are thankful that they got off with their lives. The art in which a woman should excel is in that of appearing always new. Nashville, Tenn., June 12, 1895. Dr. C. J. Moffitt, St. Louis, Mo.—I can truly say that your LEETHINA is the greatest blessing to teething children that the world has ever known. I have used it two years and do not like to be without a box all the time. My baby would hardly have lived through his second summer if I had not used your powder. He is now strong and well and has all his teeth. I never allow an opportunity to pass without recommending LEETHINA to mothers. May God reward you for the good you have done teething babies through this remedy. Respectfully, Mrs. A. G. RUSSELL.

COMPANY REUNION.

Co. H, 8th Regiment Meets at Esq., G E Ritchie's—27 Together Again—Mr. Puryear Talks Field Scenes—Excellent History of Company Read—One of the Best of Reunions. At the invitation of Mr. G E Ritchie 26 members of Co. H, 8th N. C. Regiment of Confederate soldiers met with him at his home in No. 6 on Thursday, the 5th, together with a number of relatives and friends. Capt. Jonas Cook called the meeting to order and the Rev. W R Ketchie led in a devout reuinion prayer. Capt. Cook then called the roll and the following answered: Jomas Cook, George E Ritchie, DH Ridenour, Ruben Fink, Matthias Penning, J R Barnhardt, Dr. P A Barrier, Jno. A Barrier, A G Bost, Geo. W Blackwelder, Wm. H Dry, M A Goodman, Rufus T Honeycutt, Henry T Johnson, Rev. W A Ketchie, Pinkney Ludwig, H H Moore, Jno. H Moore, Simpson Patterson, J L Peck, M C Rinehardt, E Monroe Shoe, Alexander Shoe, Jas. M Schorn, Alexander Safrin, Jno. M Safrin and W A Troutman. Dinner was then announced and the host led his guests to a table in a shady spot in the yard where 32 were seated to partake of a typical rural dinner, and this needs no modification to those who have once enjoyed such dinners. There was every variety produced about a good agricultural home, including the dainties of the cuisine art and, though there were 80 in all that partook of the feast there was an abundance left when all had eaten to the fill. After dinner a social hour was spent by groups in jolly chatting. The meeting was again called to order and Mr. H S Puryear addressed the gathering which consisted of Veterans and their wives and many of the younger generation who sat and listened and strained their mental functions to enter into sympathy with the emotions that bedewed some of the time-beaten faces of the participants of the struggles he depicted. He said in substance: It is no easy task to address worthily the men that made the history and the glory of a Confederate soldier. He could not refuse to respond, though, to the man who here gathered his comrades to enjoy his hospitality. He reminded the men of the history made by the gallant 8th regiment so marked on the days in which he was aid to Gen. Clingman, its detachment to Plymouth, intending to capture Newbern, and its performances at Drewry's Bluff, the most heroic, he thinks, that the world ever saw. The men were halted under fire, the line was re-formed and the charge resumed against the Pennsylvania Bucktails, with repeating rifles, and they were driven and Butler was defeated. He told a story of a young officer so charmingly gallant, who had just captured a colonel and, while telling the speaker, was pierced by two balls and fell dead at his feet. He retraced the crossing of the James river to meet Grant as he approached Richmond, the furnace of fiery shot and shell met on a day when others less gallant allowed the enemy to get into the rear, placing the 8th in a most critical position, through which she came out with the most heroic record. He told the story of one Federal color bearer who would not break, but stood on the field and waved his colors till the line would return, only to break and leave him again. They could not hit that man. He told of Lieut. Holt, who was shot. Men said he was killed but as he rallied he exclaimed, "No, I'll be d-d if I am." He was greeted with a shout and there was new inspiration in the ranks. Wise's Virginia troops gave way in front of Petersburg and made a double task on Clingman's Brigade, by whose gallantry alone Petersburg was saved. This the Petersburg paper admitted. He told of a gallant boy going to his father on the line, who was shot through on the 6th of June, 1864, a most pathetic story. At Fort Harrison the troops marched to an impregnable position with all the gallantry that could be displayed on an easy task. It was a memorable display of true courage. He doubted whether there was a regiment in the service that was called on to do what the 8th regiment was and did it. Others might have done those deeds but the 8th did them. He said he had talked of Clingman's Brigade, of the 8th regiment, but this is but a noble part of the Confederate struggle, the climax of soldiery in the world's history. The south fought not for northern territory or northern blood, but for what she thought to be her right, to be let alone. We thought we lost but we did not. We came home to find heroic women not crushed but strong and hopeful, maintaining all the heroism of victorious soldiers on which to bring victory by a different route from that which we had hoped. The south built its great industrial triumphs upon the results of that war. Slavery would now have been a crushing incubus. We were discouraged, defeated, depressed but not conquered. It was victory above our highest hopes and our most sanguine expectations. At the close of Mr. Puryear's speech Capt. Cook offered the following resolution which was unanimously adopted by a rising vote. "Resolved, by the survivors of Co. H, 8th Regiment N. C. State troops, now present, that Lieut. Geo. E Ritchie is hereby tendered our sincere thanks for the splendid dinner and the very hospitable entertainment given to us by him this day and that we now freely forgive him for urging us to go into many unpleasant places." By request Capt. Cook, then read the history of the company beginning with its formation and tracing it through its major and minor engagements and enumerating the casualties of every engagement, the captures and recaptures of men, as much as twice in a single day, and the deaths by disease, in hospital, at home or in prison. He said he hoped to get some parts perfected yet, but it was more complete than we thought it possible to get up at this late day. The roll shows 158 members of the company of whom 62 are believed to be living. At the close of his reading he called on the host for a speech. Mr. Ritchie confined himself to a few grateful acknowledgments to his comrades for treating his invitation so courteously. He was glad to have them with him and felt it a privilege and an honor to have them under his roof and around his board. He closed with repeating his sincere thanks for their presence. It was the expressed desire to have these reunions perpetuated and a committee was appointed for the purpose consisting of G E Ritchie, J L Peck and J H Moore to provide for the reuinion next year. The Rev. Mr. Ketchie then closed the meeting with the long metre doxology and benediction. With tearful eyes with some and hearts of gladness with all for the comforts of the day there was general hand shaking and tender partings, all vowing it one of the best of all veteran reunions. Mrs. Sampson has written to the navy department expressing the desire of her husband to testify at the court of inquiry. The work of destroying the yacht Independence has begun and from the metal of her hull a commemorative monument will be moulded. Prince Chun, the Chinese representative, has expressed regret and apologized for to Emperor Williams that Baron Van Ketteler was killed in Pekin. Admiral Schley has requested the navy department to have the witnesses summoned in his behalf at Washington as soon as possible. The request has been granted. Railroad Tracks Guarded. The public are not aware of the great expense that the heavy rains have caused the Southern Railroad this summer. They have been compelled to keep a close watch out on the road both night and day so as to warn the train in case a washout should occur. The men who do the inspecting are called track walkers and one road-master has a section to look after, which is six miles long, and on account of the heavy rains all the road masters had to increase their force of hands in order that a closer inspection might be had. On account of this the expenses to the railroad has been very great. Concord Expresses Sympathy. "Therefore be it resolved, That we most sincerely condemn such an act and hope that speedy punishment will be imposed on the would-be assassin. "Resolved, That we acknowledge with great appreciation the unbiased and friendly spirit the President has shown the entire South and we recognize that during his administration the South has made rapid progress in its developments. Her Heart Turned Upside Down by Lightning.

With her heart upside down, Mrs. Charles Conover, wife of a railroad man at Suffern, is apparently as well as ever. Mrs. Conover was sitting on a chair on her piazza during a severe thunderstorm, when she was shocked into unconsciousness for seven hours. After making an examination the village doctor said he found that the shock had turned Mrs. Conover's heart upside down.—Manuel, N. Y., Special, 1st, to Baltimore Sun. August a Wet Month. The month of August, just passed was a record-breaker in the matter of rainfall, which amounted to 11.21 inches. The heaviest rainfall ever before known in August was in 1887, when 10.80 inches of rain fell, and in 1891, when there was 10.42 inches. No other year came anywhere near approaching it. The average temperature during August was 75, or one degree above the average for August during the past fifteen years.—News and Observer. Freight Train Wrecked. Winston-Salem, N. C., Sept. 6.—The outgoing freight from Winston to North Wilkesboro was wreck near Rural Hall this afternoon. Engineer Swift Hooper, Conductor Edward Holding and Flagman Crews sustained slight injuries. The engineer's escape from death is considered almost miraculous. The accident was caused by some unknown party breaking the lock and throwing open a switch. The engine, of course, left the track and ran into an embankment. Lynchers Sentenced to 10 Years in the Pen. Wetumpka, Ala., August 30.—Last night the jury hearing the cases of John Strength and Martin Fuller, charged with having participated in the lynching of Robert White, a negro, returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree and sentenced the defendants to ten years in the penitentiary. The case of John Thomas, the white man with whom Robert White and his brother, Winston, had the difficulty, which resulted in the lynching of Robt. is now on trial. J F Austin Found Guilty. The celebrated case of the State vs. J F Austin was concluded in the Superior court at Salisbury Friday, the defendant being found guilty. His sentence is 18 months in the penitentiary. After the trial the defendant made a statement to the court in the which he severely criticized his counsel for not yielding to him in many matters, also voicing a number of other objections and asked for a new trial. First Cabarrus Cotton. Mr. A W Neal brought in the first Cabarrus bale of new cotton today. It was bought by Mr. D P Dayvault at cents per pound. Prevented a Tragedy. Timely information given Mr. George Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a dreadful tragedy one-aved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free of Peizer's drug store. Cupid is a child—that is to say a minor ever; so that however strongly worded may be his promises, bonds and contracts of lease, he is always at liberty to plead "under age" and be relieved of them. A Pitiable Sight. What is more pitiable than to see a puny, delicate little child absolutely dying from neglect. There are many little ones whose cheeks would grow rosy, whose eyes would grow bright, whose flesh would be plump and pretty if only the worms that are gnawing at their vitals were removed, which is easily effected with Mother's Worm Syrup, so nice to take that children ask for it. Also a cure for tape worm in grown people. Try a 25c. bottle.

Not Much Baking.

Mention has been made of the fact that the "International Council of the World," with headquarters at Seattle, has sent to the Governor official copies of its rewards for lynchers, in the Anson county case of $500. It appears that this society with the imposing name is one composed of negroes, with a boot-black as secretary, and that its means are derived from contributions sent from all parts of the Southern States by credulous darkeys. The most careful inquiry into the status of the society has been made by The Atlanta Constitution, with the above-mentioned result.—Raleigh correspondent to the Charlotte Observer.
