COULD NOT TICKET HIM.

The Charlotte Chronicle, in speaking of a suggestion made in regard to Hon. A. E. Stevenson, of Ill., as a good presidential timber, believes in all right, of words, to that effect.

Any good man outside of New York seems the ticket.

There is no dependence to be put in a New York democracy. It stands all right in State matters, but when it comes to national affairs there is no confidence to be placed in her.

New York has virtually furnished the candidate for democracy ever since the war. What has been the result? Democracy has elected one president, and had it not been for the cry of "Ruin, Romanism and Rebellion" and the presence of Cook, Grover Cleveland may never have occupied the White House.

Democracy cannot afford to eat dirt and pandor to New York in the selection of a candidate just to give New York something to gamble and sell out on.

Westward the democracy should get away from the gambling rills of New York. Democracy is not the gambling party and it should resent any effort to use it for such purposes.

A. E. Stevenson—what say you?

IT IS EXPLAINED.

The following from Hillsboro is in our own chaste way explained:

A western paper looks for peace in the little town as a son of a leading republican has married the daughter of a leading democrat. Look out for a third party.

For explanation by Globe or Concord Standard or some one of your other papers.

The above is ambiguous—we know it is—and we cannot at once tell what it means.

It may mean that the mother-in-law will come in and raise a row—it may mean that the citizens, disagreeing on the question of politics, have decided to throw both old parties aside and organize a new or third party.

Any fool should know that there is no other solution to above business, and we are glad that we have enough good horse sense to answer his question as it should be answered.

Ask us something with a mansard roof on it.

STARTS WELL.

The Standard has to thank some one for a copy of the North Carolina Journal of Education. It is a neat book of 100 pages, edited by Prof. D. L. Ellis.

We see in it the portrait of our good friend, Jno. W. Starnes, now president of the W. N. C. Teachers' Association.

STANDARDISMS.

Professor Wallace contributes an article to the Popular Science Monthly, in which he asserts that our winters will continue to get warmer for the next 9,000 years. Wait and see if the Professor is right.

John Hanson Craig, of Indiana, is coming to the Newbern fair. There will be other visitors there, but John weighs 907 pounds and will be the heaviest man on the ground. An Alabama man is going to bring a 1,568 pound hog to this same fair, but that's a hog.

Ex-Senator Ingalls is sure that Cleveland and Harrison will be the candidates for the presidency.

The endowment of Wake Forest College now reaches $200,000.

Last year a Cumberland county farmer raised 400 bushels of rice.

One of the most glittering frauds of the day is Col. J. B. Simpson, of Dallas, Texas. He sprang up like a mushroom and was at the head of a half dozen business firms in that city. He was well known through the south, in business circles, but he has duped all his creditors and got away with a clean $300,000. "Those that have must lose."

Abraham Lincoln rose to be president. It is said that in early days he was a "rail splitter." If he was now living in this part of North Carolina's moral vineyard and following the vocation of his early manhood he would surely be without a job. All the rails split in Cabarrus during a year wouldn't keep six men busy.

NEWS NOTES.

Justice Davis of the N. C. Supreme Court is in feeble health; he is losing strength rapidly.

Mrs. Alfred M. Haywood, daughter of Governor Holt, has been invited to christen the cruiser Raleigh.

The House Committee on Election of President and Congressmen has agreed upon a bill providing for the election of Senators by the people.

The State has sent to the Orphan Asylum some 1,700 yards of black and white cloth which was used in draping the Capitol in mourning last spring when Governor Fowle and Col. Saunders died.

A Washington correspondent says that Reed's voice sounds like a strong wind in a pine tree—the sigh of a soured man, as it were.—New York World.

Hon. S. B. Alexander's anti-futures bill is an exact text of the anti-lottery bill, save where the phrase "gambling in agriculture products" is used.—Morning Star.

Prince Bismarck has just received a valuable present from the German colony in Burmah. It consists of a centrepiece of solid silver two feet wide and three feet long.

The breakmen on the Mobile and Birmingham rail road struck last Monday for a monthly advance of $10 in wages. The company has filled every place with negroes at the old price $45 per month.

The ways and means committee will present three tariff bills the coming week. This much was determined upon at the meeting of the democratic majority today. Springer free wool bill, the Bryan free binding twine bill and the Turner (of Georgia) bill placing cotton ties, cotton bagging and machinery for manufacturing the same on the free list.

Shocking Accident.

A widow lady named Mrs. Gregory, of Welford, S. C., was engaged in making soap in the old fashioned way in a pot placed in the yard and the fire built under it. In working by the pot, Mrs. Gregory got too near the blaze and her clothing was ignited. Her sister who was near by ran to Mrs. Gregory's assistance and the result was that in a few moments, both ladies were enveloped in flames. Mrs. Gregory died where she fell to the ground. Her sister lived for some hours.

Is now offered for sale in the three drug stores of Concord. It is prepared by herself, though put up in the style of its late proprietors, Abernethy & Williams, whose mistake in its preparation ruined it in their hands.

The Real Hair Restorer is not recommended for —OLD BALDNESS— but is an infallible remedy for

FALLING OUT OF THE HAIR

DANDRUFF,

ITCHINGS AND ERUPTIONS peculiar to the scalp. It is perfectly harmless, cooling, cleansing and refreshing. There are persons in this town who have had one application to completely check the falling hair. For testimonials see circulars.
