EASTER IN WINSTON-SALEM.

This live little city is wide awake today, (Monday), but yesterday was the grand day of all the year in Winston-Salem. At 3 o'clock Orchestra began its annual serenade and continued until five, when it returned to the Moravian church to take part in the annual Easter celebration according to the Moravian custom. The Salem Female Academy and the Davis Military school took an active part in this beautiful Easter service. The marching from the church to the old ancient grave yard, accompanied by two divisions of the Orchestra, playing beautiful Easter music in a responsive style, made the service very attractive.

This annual celebration of Easter is the pride of the Moravian church, as it is the festival of all the church year festivals, because the church would have been nothing without the resurrection of Christ. Bishop Rondthaler conducted the services at the grave yard in his usual impressive manner. The Orchestra and congregation furnished elegant music, this together with the early hour (sunrise) and pleasant morning, made it a real treat to hundreds of people of the Twin city. The graves were magnificently decorated with the very choicest flowers for which Winston-Salem is noted; there being many flower gardens here. It is estimated that there were between 4,000 and 5,000 people on the grounds at 6 o'clock Sunday morning. The electric street cars began running at the early hour of 5 o'clock, so as to be able to accommodate those living in northern and western Winston. The Winston people have caught much of this Easter celebration idea. The Twin city cemetery was nicely dressed up last week, and highly decorated last Saturday evening with the prettiest flowers that could be obtained. These cities of the dead were places of much attraction on Sunday afternoon by hundreds of old and middle aged people, besides thousands of lovers from all parts of the city.

The Sunday school of the M. E. church rendered a beautiful responsive Easter service last night at the centenary church in the presence of a large congregation. Many other appropriate Easter services were held in different parts of the city, showing that these people are very fond of Easter. May the people of Winston-Salem have many such joyous Easter celebrations is the wish of this humble scribe. J. A. O.

SHORT STATE STRIPS.

Jas. McGuire, Jr., book keeper at W A Bailey's distillery, was shot in the right breast by Wm. Jarvis, on the 16th, last Saturday. The wound is reported as serious but not necessarily fatal. McGuire and Jarvis are both employees of the distillery. From the special to the Winston Sentinel we would infer that McGuire brought on the row. He is a graduate of the University and his father is treasurer of Davie county.

From the Raleigh correspondent of the Wilmington Messenger:—One of the delegates to the Republican convention, from Lincoln county, went to the executive office today and said he would like to see Governor Fowle. He did not even know who was Governor. Another one, old and very drunk, went into the police headquarters last night and asked Chief Heartt to show him the way to room 50. He thought he was at the Yarboro House.

The House of Representatives at Washington is Democratic and the members on the Democratic side claim to be the chief exponents of economy. On last Friday (the 15th) the House Committee on Public Buildings presented favorable reports for TWENTY THREE new public buildings and an increase of appropriation on two now in course of construction. Is this Economy?

The amount of sugar consumed by each man, woman and child in the United States, last year is estimated at sixty pounds. We are a sweet set.

A North Carolina Slander Case.

A dispatch from Danville to Sunday's Richmond Dispatch says: For the past several days a most interesting case has been on trial in Superior Court at Yanceville, N. C. W E Hay had been a suitor of Miss Juanita Murray, a handsome young woman of Alamance county. He was rejected, and, it is alleged, grossly slandered her. She brought suit for slander in Alamance county for the purpose of vindicating her character. Subsequently Hay was indicted for the offence under a North Carolina statute which makes slander a misdemeanor. The criminal case was removed to Caswell county for trial and made a great sensation. Eminent counsel was employed on both sides, and the testimony was intensely interesting. The case was given to the jury today and a verdict of guilty was brought in. This was a complete vindication of Miss Murray, and it was agreed that upon the payment of all costs by Hay the suit for slander would be withdrawn. Then, upon motion of Miss Murray's counsel, the court suspended judgment in the criminal case.

When the Republicans Will Act.

North Carolina republicans had a large pow-wow at Raleigh yesterday. It is impossible to ascertain at this time what the alliance will do the 17th of May. After the 18th of May it will not be impossible to tell what the republicans will do. They will know by that time.

An enterprising little fellow accidentally dropped a nickel in one of the cellars on Main street Saturday afternoon and secured it by placing tar on the end of a stick, touching in the money with the tarred end and drawing it out.—Salisbury Herald.

BOTANIC BLOOD BALM

Kennesaw, Ga., Sept. 11th.
B. B. B. Company: My Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in acknowledging the great benefit my wife has derived from your great and wonderful medicine, B. B. B. For two years she was a great sufferer from scrofula, of some blood disease which had lain dormant all her life. We had attention from some of the most skillful physicians in the country, but all to no effect, until we had all despaired of her ever recovering. Her mouth was one solid ulcer, and for two months or more her body was broken out with sores until she lost a beautiful head of hair, also eyelashes and eyebrows; in fact, she seemed to be a complete wreck.
Now comes the great secret which I want the world to know: That three bottles of Blood Balm medicine has done the work which would sound incredible to any one who did not know it to be so. Today my wife is perfectly healthy and clear from any scrofulous taint, and she now has a three-month old babe, also perfectly healthy.
Very respectfully,
H. L. CASSIDY.
