Dr. Sanderlin at Huntersville.

Charlotte News.
Dr. George W Sanderlin, State Auditor, delivered his promised address at the commencement exercises of Huntersville High School yesterday. The Third party, however, failed to carry out its contract in tendering Dr. Sanderlin the "office of auditor." Mr. John Springs Davidson was not there. Richard Razor says that after consultation, it was agreed that yesterday was not the proper time to approach Dr. Sanderlin, "but" he added, "we are yet going to do it."

Life in North Carolina.

Some months ago Thomas Gooch discovered gold-bearing quartz in Granville county, near Dabney. He began the work of development at once and has struck gold-bearing quartz twenty feet below the surface which will assay from $15 to $100 per ton.

The quartermaster general will clothe about 300 additional enlisted men in the State Guard this year. Under the new regulation the clothing will be issued without any cost whatever to the men.

Since the Royal Arcanum was organized in Monroe seven of its members have died and their families have received insurance of the aggregate amount of $21,000.

Mr. Elias Carr, democratic nominee for governor, has accepted an invitation to speak at the fair at Red Springs, Robeson county, August 10.

Mr. F P Eller, of Ashe county, a University student, died at Chapel Hill Wednesday morning of blood poison, following an attack of typhoid fever.

Miss Carrie C Coghill, of Henderson, Vance county, is the valedictorian at Westminster (Md.) college this year.

STATE NEWS.

The grandson of E T Williams, of Lincolnton, N. C., who was kidnapped by tramps last March, has been found in Norfolk, Va., so says a dispatch to the New York World.

A prohibition party has been organized in Mecklenburg with R B Alexander president and W E Shaw, secretary and treasurer.

In the examination of applicants for appointment to cadetship at West Point from the ninth district H B Ferguson, of Waynesville, was recommended for the appointment.

In consequence of frequent complaints the Railroad Commissioners a few days since advised a new depot at Newell's, six miles east of Charlotte on the Richmond & Danville road, and received a telegram yesterday stating that the depot would be immediately erected.

State Chronicle: Emory college, Georgia, at its recent commencement conferred the honorary degree of doctor of divinity on the Rev. J T Gibbs, the accomplished presiding elder of the Fayetteville district of the N. C. Conference. Dr. Gibbs was at one time pastor of Edenton Street church of this city and has many friends here who will agree with us in the statement that he merits such honor as has been conferred upon him.

A Murderer Sells His Head.

Baltimore Sun.
Gus Williams, colored, who is to be hung in Savannah, Ga., July 22, for murder, has just concluded an unusual financial transaction. He has sold his head for $15, to be delivered after his death. He will make a will bequeathing his head to the purchaser for the cash in advance, which he desires to use between now and the time he will be hanged. Williams carefully considered the offer for some time, but finally came to the conclusion that $15 is better to him during his life than his head will be after his death. The money will buy him whatever extras he needs and help brighten his short time on earth. The purchaser will use the head for phrenological purposes.

A New Municipality—"Trinity Park," Durham.

Trinity Park, Durham, June 17.—The maps of North Carolina will have to add a new and interesting name to their list of municipalities in the future. Trinity Park is the name of the college town at the west end of Durham, a part of Durham, indeed, yet having a government of its own. There are now a good force of hands at work getting everything in order for the opening of Trinity College in its new home, September 1. The main building, 208x50 feet, three stories, will be passed upon on Wednesday next by the building committee, composed of Col. J W Alspaugh, Winston; J M Odell, Concord; W F Kornegay, Goldsboro; R T Gray, Raleigh; Capt. E J Parish, Durham; J S Carr, Durham; Col. W J Hicks, Raleigh; R B Bassett, contractor, Goldsboro.

The President of Venezuela Resigns.

Washington, June 17.—The department of State this morning was advised by cable from the United States legation at Caracas, of the resignation of the President of Venezuela. The situation remains quiet, little or no excitement prevailing. The muscavide power of the State, for the time being, has been assumed by the Federal council.

Slight Acquaintance With Satan.

Durham Globe.
The devil is pretty smart—he is a cunning scoundrel. He knows how to do it. The robber will first gag his man then go through the pockets. He does this so the man cannot give an alarm. The devil always robs a man before he allows him to see that he has made a wreck of himself by drinking whiskey. He keeps him full of whiskey and causes him to be cheerful and happy while he robs him—and then he furnishes no more whiskey—because the fellow is powerless.

TOO MUCH FOR A WIFE.

This Man Hesitated About Marrying Again Because of the Fee.
"Wydnt ye git ernuther wife, Josiah?" asked Jonah Skinflint of Josiah Nudge the other day as they met by accident in the woods while in pursuit of their favorite calling—hunting. "Tell ye wat, Joner," said Nudge, "I've bin thinkin erbout it monstrously fer er long spell. Let's see. It's bin nigh onter three weeks sence ther ole 'oman dide, haint it?" "Ya-as, summas erbout thar." "Pears ter be forty, though." "Speekt it do, fer ye hed er monty awful good wife."

"Now yer shoutin, shore'n sartin. Afore ther ole 'owan drapped off I never hed ter do onnything ceptin ter kinder oversee ther crap an hunt, but sence she dide I've had ter suck'er'n worm ther terbacker, hoe ther corn an pull weeds outen ther cotton. Tell ye wat, Joner, I'm erferd I'll never git ernuther un 'at'll take her place an complainly. It's true thar 'aza't overly much ter do, but monty few gals thar be 'at it'll not kiek wus'n er yaller steer on tendin five acres o' terbacker, ten acres o' corn an er few acres o' cotton, asides sich little chores as cuttin sprouts, totn corn ter mill, choppin wood'n drawin water fer ther fattenin hogs."

"Them air fax, Josair, 'at I hadn't think erbout, as my ole 'oman allus looks arter ther hog'n hominy part an I sorter manage ter pervide ther game. But I fedge ye'll try ter find er sensible gal wat won't git ber back up at doin sich leetle trifles."

"I danno, Joner. Thar haint many gals in this part."

"Wal, thar's ded oodles on em down ter Poreupine Holler. They're golnation party uns, I'm er tellin yer."

"Is that so?"

"Fax."

"I'll be dadsnapped ef I haint er noshtun ter go down."

"Ye'd orter."

"D'ye reckon enny on em 'uld splice 'ith er feller?"

"I know it! Thar's a hull passel o' gals 'n widders wat 'uld jest nachually jump higher'n shitepoke at ther chance."

"Wa al, I'll go. Say, wat'll er squar cost down thar?"

"Squar Munger costs five dollers, Darby seven an ther parson ten."

"By jux! I'll never pay it."

"W'y?"

"Too steep."

"Tis'."

"I'd holler ef twarn't!"

"I'sposed it war erbout rita."

"Nary time! Say, I've been spliced nine times an never hed ter payer squar more'n seventy-five cents, an they make money at that price, for it don't take 'em more'n er minit, and that's all I'll pay."

"Ye'll not git spliced down thar, then."

"Wa-al, ergin a feller pays seven dollers to ther squar an three fer er coffin when she kicks ther bucket, he's out ten dollers! Gee-whillikins, feller, I'll never cutter at that price."—J. W. Hyder in New York Epoch.

How Hides Are Tanned.

Better leather is made today from hides in from sixty to ninety days than was manufactured in the old way. It should be remembered, however, that hides are tanned in precisely the same manner now they have always been. That is, the same agencies are used for combining it with the gelatine of the hide and for converting it into leather. Modern tanners have simply discovered methods by which the tannic acid is made to penetrate more quickly into the pores of the skin. This is accomplished partly by frequent manipulation of the hides while in the vats and partly by special treatments for keeping the pores of the skin open during the tanning process. It is a fact well known to all tanners that any method or process which will hasten the union of the tannic acid with the hide shortens materially the time necessary to convert it into leather.—New York Advertiser.

He—These masked balls are very dangerous, you know.
She—Dangerous?
He—Yes. Our servant girl was almost killed the other night at the Milkmen's masquerade ball and had to be carried home.
She—You don't say so! How did it happen?
He—She impersonated a pump.—Life.

They poulticed her feet and poulticed her head, and blistered her back till 'twas smarting and red, tried tonics, elixirs, pain-killers and salves, (though grandma declared it was nothing but 'narves.')
And this poor woman thought she must certainly die.
Till "Favorite Prescription" she happened to try. No wonder its praises so loudly they speak, she grew better at once and was well in a week.

The torturing pains and distressing nervousness which accompany, at times, certain forms of "female weakness," yield like magic to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and adapted to the delicate organization of woman. It allays and subdues the nervous symptoms and relieves the pain accompanying functional and organic troubles.

It's a legitimate medicine—an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nerve, and a positive remedy for "female weaknesses" and ailments. All functional disturbances, irregularities, and derangements are cured by it. There's nothing like it in the way it acts—there's nothing like it in the way it's sold. It's guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or the money paid for it is promptly refunded.

Read the guarantee on the wrapper. You lose nothing if it doesn't help you—but it will.

Cannons, Fetzer & Bell.

Now about Segars, before the war I always smoked Henry Clay's but since the old man is dead his boys have let the brands run down and I had to give 'em up entirely. I find the only place I can get a decent Segar is at Fetzer's Drug Store. Did you ever try 'em? well, you just drop in there some time. You won't be disappointed. Fetzer seems to have the knack of getting hold of about all that's worth having in that line, and the fact is you'll get a better Segar there for five cents than nine-tenths of the Segar stores in the country will give you for ten.

And by the way, Fetzer's is the best place in the State for iced drinks, Soda-water, Lemonade, and such stuff, if you ever drink anything as mild as that. I do occasionally. A man WILL get a little behind on water sometimes, you know.
